MOVEMENT VERY LIGHT

Little Ore Moved From
by D. M. & N.

Indications Point to General Opening During This Month.

The tonnage record for the month of May for the ore haulers over the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway shows a great falling off from the record of May of last year. The figures as given out this morning at 9:30 a. m. for May of this year against 1,353,322 tons for May of 1907.

This is due, in a great measure, to the fact that the ore haulers of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway show a great falling off from the record of May of last year. The figures as given out this morning at 9:30 a. m. for May of this year against 1,353,322 tons for May of 1907.

The tonnage record for the month of May for the ore haulers over the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway shows a great falling off from the record of May of last year. The figures as given out this morning at 9:30 a. m. for May of this year against 1,353,322 tons for May of 1907.

It is expected that the ore record of the present month will compare favorably with the amount of ore hauled during June of last year. It will depend upon the number of loads that will come up, but indications today were that the movement of the ore will be more active from now until the close of navigation. The Missabe is hauling ore cars to the mines and the orders that were received today indicate that the movement of ore will be heavy for a while at least.

PREPARING FOR FALL.

Railroads Calling in Cars to Meet Crop Movement.

It was stated by a local railroad official this morning that the cars of the roads in the West are being called in and that all of the Western roads are preparing to meet heavy fall demand for cars.

All of the cars that have been in need of repairs have been sent to the shops, while most of the cars that were on foreign lines have been recalled. Southern, Great Northern and the Northern Pacific are permitting their cars to leave their lines where they can send foreign cars with shipments that are off the line of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific are being sent to the shops and overhauled and the rolling stock of the two roads is in first-class shape at the present time. The point is a heavy crop and the traffic officials of both of the roads are making preparations to meet the requirements. The lesson of last fall was one that the time, are not likely to forget in some time, and with that object lesson in view, the traffic officials of practically all of the Western roads are placing the equipment of their roads in shape to take care of the wheat movement.

Another Birthday Week.

We celebrate our Eighth Anniversary with a week of attractive offerings all over the store. Come tomorrow. Help us celebrate.

GREAT NORTHERN SHIPMENTS

Ore Records for May Were Far Below Last Year.

The ore tonnage record for the month of May was 1,353,322 tons against 1,353,322 tons for May of 1907. As is the case with the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, the Great Northern's record for the month just past showed a great decrease from the figures of May of last year. The lateness of the ore movement caused the tonnage records of both roads to appear small.

LAUNCHES GO AGROUND

At Least Two Parties Spend Evening on a Sandbar.

Sunday a Fine Day on the River for Boating.

At least two of the many launches which took runs up the St. Louis river yesterday were fooled by the newly formed bars where channels used to be and were stranded for several hours last night on the river.

Not fifty feet from Mr. Cummings and his party another launch was stranded. It was a large covered boat. At 12 o'clock last night they were still working to free their keel from the bar on which it was stuck.

The river was fairly alive with every kind of available small craft yesterday. Every one who could get a boat out was out, and the scene was a most picturesque one.

There were picnic parties on every side. For the first time this season the New-boy and the Mascotte made excursion trips to Fond du Lac, and each carried good crowds.

DR. GRAHAM WILL FILE.

Will be a Candidate for Election to Next Legislature.

Dr. David Graham, as forecasted in The Herald last week, has been prevailed upon by a large number of prominent people of his district to file as a candidate for the legislature from the Port Arthur district. Dr. Graham was elected a member of the legislature four years ago, but refused to run for re-election.

Had Run for Nothing.

WILL MEET IN DULUTH

Imperial Council of Modern Samaritans Will Hold Session Here.

Annual Election of Officers and Discussion of Fraternal Business.

The annual meeting of the Imperial council of the Modern Samaritans will be held Tuesday and Wednesday at the offices of the council in the Lonsdale building, in this city.

The Imperial council is the supreme official body for the fraternal insurance organization, which had its origin in this city several years ago, and whose jurisdiction now embraces Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota and Michigan.

There will be delegates present at the Imperial council session from all of the states mentioned, and the Imperial officers will review the work of the order for the past year and discuss the plans for the coming year.

The business of the annual meeting will also include the election of officers for the coming year, also the election of three members on the executive board, whose terms of office will be three years.

The annual meeting will begin at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The present Imperial officers, all but one of whom are residents of this city, are as follows: Imperial Good Samaritan, John Christie; Past Good Samaritan, George H. Crosby; vice Imperial, John Christie; C. E. Lovett; Imperial scribe, William Hickman; Imperial treasurer, O. F. Collier; general counsel, A. E. McManis; Imperial medical director, Dr. Salter; Imperial auditors, H. J. Achenbach and C. E. Lovett; high priest, C. H. Bombach of St. Paul.

The members of the executive board whose term of office expires at this time are John Christie, C. E. Lovett and William Hickman.

MAY TEST STATE LAW

Commercial Club Committee Considers Point Raised by Herald.

Will Investigate Constitutionality of Gross Earnings Law.

The committee on taxation and assessments, a sub-committee of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club, held a short meeting at noon today and decided to take up the question of testing the constitutionality of the gross earnings tax.

The committee decided to investigate the grounds, on which the recent editorials published in The Herald were based, and, if the investigation is satisfactory, to follow out the course advocated by The Herald.

The supreme court of the United States has held that the Texas gross earnings tax law was unconstitutional, on account of its being a tax, in an indirect way, on interstate commerce, although it aims only to tax the earnings on traffic in that state.

Opponents of the gross earnings tax hold that the constitutionality of the law is in question, and that the investigation is satisfactory, to follow out the course advocated by The Herald.

The meeting today was the first of the committee on taxation and assessments under their system which divides the public affairs committee into sub-committees for the investigation of special subjects. The committee briefly discussed the assessment for paving in Duluth, and at a future meeting the subject will be taken up at greater length.

With the little cabin on his homestead a pile of ashes and his wife and six children homeless, Isaac Niemi, a settler living about seventeen miles from Floodwood, is in the city today trying to raise enough money to keep himself and family from starving until he can rebuild his home.

Niemi's cabin was recently destroyed by fire, and all of his household belongings went with it. He was left homeless and almost penniless.

Niemi applied to Mayor Haven for assistance today, and the mayor, after investigating the case, gave him permission to solicit aid from Duluth people.

Niemi was around the streets today and a number of Duluth men contributed toward a fund to help him out of his temporary difficulties.

assassins, all of whom were long black gowns. Mrs. Steinheil was gagged and bound to a bed by the stranglers.

M. Hannard, chief of detectives, says the crime was not a question of revenge, and that the plot, which undoubtedly had robbery for its object, was perfectly planned, executed and directed by some one familiar with the fact that there was a considerable sum of money in the house derived from the recent sale of M. Steinheil's pictures, but that murder may not have been intended. M. Hannard declines to disclose the nature of the evidence against an Italian arrested Sunday night on the suspicion of being one of the assassins.

The artist neighbors of M. Steinheil think he probably was the victim of a model, as it was his custom to select models during his walks through the city, regardless of their antecedents or morals. This also apparently is the theory of the police, who say that a woman with bad associations, who posed for the artist had become familiar with the house probably applied for criminal companions of the opportunity to loot the residence. An entrance was easily effected through a gate in the garden wall used by the models. The bodies of M. Steinheil and Mrs. Jay were removed to the morgue today and an autopsy will be held tomorrow.

EXPERIENCES OF PIONEER

On Journey from New York to West Were Exciting.

Thrills in Early Life of Joseph Austrian, Now Dead.

Chicago, June 1.—The life story of Joseph Austrian, who died last week at Atlantic City of a stroke of apoplexy, is one which is replete with hairbreadth escapes. This pioneer walked with a pack on his back from New York city to Eagle River, Mich., through wildernesses filled with wild animals and roving bands of Indians, and there began the foundation of a large fortune.

Mr. Austrian was born in a Bavarian village, and at the age of 17 decided to come to America. Accompanied by his brother-in-law, Henry Leopold, who was a few years older, he took passage on a sailing vessel bound for New York city.

After a voyage of sixty days on the ocean the vessel reached New York, and immediately upon landing the two boys made preparations for their perilous journey westward.

This was in 1850, and even seasoned veterans of the forest and frontier hesitated about starting on such a journey. The youths were told of the dangers and warned that they probably would not live to reach the far West, but neither was daunted by the prospect of danger. They walked every foot of the way, and faced the dangers without flinching.

Days Without Food.
For months Austrian and his companion toiled through the wilderness. Sometimes they were half starved and were forced to go for days without food. Bears and other wild animals were constantly lying in wait and not a day passed but that death was close at hand. The journey was made in winter and most of the traveling was done on snow shoes.

With their rifles the boys supplied themselves with scant food, as they could not carry much with them. The unbroken path was dangerous even for a man lightly burdened. On one occasion a small pinch of tea, which Austrian had in his coat pocket, was their only food for two days. Just as they were about to give up in despair, one of them killed a bear and death by starvation in the wilderness was averted.

Bears were not always the victims of the boys' rifles. Sometimes they were forced to flee before these beasts and it was only by quick and nimble tree climbing that they escaped from bruin.

SUPERIOR NEWS

Matters Before the Council.

Besides the regular routine business to come before the council at the next meeting there are several matters of importance. One of these is the proposed ordinance giving the mayor power to appoint a secretary to the board of public works, also sewer and sidewalk inspectors. Under the present ordinance the board makes the appointments and the mayor concurs in the action. It is proposed to give the mayor the power to appoint a secretary to the board of public works, also sewer and sidewalk inspectors. Under the present ordinance the board makes the appointments and the mayor concurs in the action.

H. A. Juncos Gets Appointment.
H. A. Juncos has been appointed chief weighmaster of the Wisconsin grain and warehouse commission, to succeed L. P. Nelson who resigned Saturday. Mr. Juncos will assume his duties at once as Mr. Nelson will go West to engage in other business. Mr. Juncos is well known in Superior where he has been for several years engaged in the railroad business. Mr. Nelson has been a very efficient official and his resignation was accepted with regret by the commission.

Mayor Will Make Appointments.
The terms of two members of the Superior board of education will expire June 15. The retiring officers are Louis Williams in the Sixth ward and S. D. Preston in the Third ward. It is said that Commissioner O. G. Olson of the Fifth ward contemplates moving away from the city soon, in which event there will be a third vacancy to be filled. The names of D. H. Long and J. C. Donnelly have been mentioned as possible successors to Mr. Williams. It is probable that Mr. Preston will be reappointed by Mayor Crumpton.

Large List of Cases.
The circuit court of Superior, which convened today for the June term, has the largest number of jury cases in any calendar that it has ever had in any one term.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The young woman who was standing on the corner Saturday evening awaiting a street car was rather attractive looking—quite attractive looking in fact. She was thinking about the weather, maybe and a rich color dyed her cheeks. Her eyes sparkled when her lids were lifted from them so you could see, but most of the time she kept them cast down while she marked the pattern in the pavement with her umbrella. Her hair which had been newly scalloped in honor of Memorial day was straight and stringy and as she thought of the weather and her disarranged plans she became more angry and even better looking. It was at the corner of First avenue west and Superior street that she awaited a west bound car. The hour was 9 p. m.

The young man wasn't looking either. He was waiting on the corner to see what would turn up. Nothing did, and so instead of departing with the opportunities for departure were at their best, he stood around and then as nothing turned up according to record he set out to start something.

He saw the girl. She looked home, he thought, and she had certainly been at that corner long enough to have her choice of almost any car in the city if she wanted to take it. Just then the girl glanced up. Before she glanced down again, however, she looked straight at the young man. He was elated. He adjusted his tie. She had probably been looking at him right along, he thought. He began along the pavement and said "Good evening."

The pink in the girl's cheeks grew deeper. She glanced at him casually and then down again at the pictures she was drawing on the pavement. He was drawing on the pavement, he declared. How deceiving is woman!

"Pretty bad weather we've been having," he said.

Then this young woman, who was angry at the weather, maybe, and who had been waiting for a car, and out of whose hair the scallop had entirely disappeared, and whose Memorial day had simply been spoiled—lifted the umbrella and placed it with force and precision along the side of his head.

"There," she said. "And began drawing pictures on the pavement again."

"Ouch," said the young man, and then decided to do something. He stepped away from there. Then it was that one of three gallant young men, who had witnessed the affair thus far, decided that it was time to come to the aid of beauty in distress. Beauty wasn't greatly agitated, apparently, but anyhow it's man's duty to come to a woman's aid, so he had learned, and he started. When the matter had gone far enough, his friends separated him from the villain of the piece, who by this time had also accumulated a fine grouch against the weather.

Meantime Beauty was heard to mutter to herself, "If he only hadn't mentioned the weather and the pictures, I would have been a great deal more gracious of the glances of approval, and the subdued cheers (she still had the umbrella, and the boys, who were much better to cheer in a subdued manner), she hailed a car, for which she had been waiting many weary minutes."

BIENNIAL MEETING.

Duluth Will Have One Delegate at Club Meeting.

Duluth women are at it making up their minds to attend the biennial meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which will convene at Boston, June 15. A yet another delegate from this city is announced. Mrs. J. L. Washburn, who is a general federation secretary, will attend the meeting. Several other local club women, who will go East later in the summer, are also expected to attend. The biennial meetings, but as yet they have been so crowded with the business of the year that they have not been able to attend. It is the aim of the program committee not to present abstract themes, but to give clear reports of work already done and specific plans for the future. The biennial is not the display of fine attire, it is not the exploit individuals. It is the coming together of earnest women from every part of the country, for one week, will forget local and sectional desires in the problems which concern the physical, intellectual and spiritual welfare of the nation.

THE BOAT CLUB.

Large Parties of Guests at Main and Branch Houses.

The Boat club members and their friends availed themselves of the first day of almost summer, and both the main house and the Spirit Lake branch were the scenes of much quiet enjoyment yesterday. The day was the first that induced the members to turn out in large numbers, although a few enthusiasts have been visiting the Spirit Lake house for several weeks. From this time on it is certain that the week-end parties will tax the capacity of the branch house. Fifty guests were entertained at the main house yesterday afternoon and evening and several informal dinner parties were entertained at the noon hour. Among those registered at the branch during the day were Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Anderson, with five guests; Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Spier, Miss Mollie Wyman, Miss Edna Gargill, Miss Ethel Farmer, Miss Carlotta Jenkins, Miss Mildred Lee, Miss Coffin, Miss Edith Beckinger, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Messer, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Handy, A. E. Petty, Prescott Wyman, O. K. Sellers, Fred Farmer, J. F. McKenna, G. A. Burns, E. Walker, J. Plotnick, H. J. Daugherty, C. B. Stewart, Frank Libby, George Van Bruen and Clarence Getty.

Household Hints.

Ink is one of the most troublesome of stains, if it is left to dry in the fabric. If washed out in clear, cold water, or in milk while fresh, it can often be entirely removed. Stylographic or strained ink possesses no heavy particle to hang in the cloth, and may be readily taken out in this way. Where ink has become dried and proves obstinate, it should be soaked in sweet milk until the milk becomes sour, then left in it for two or three days, changing the sour milk as often as necessary. Kerosene is said to remove ink stains, even after they have been washed with soap. Pour the oil on the spot and rub with the hands, trying again if ineffectual. The second attempt will be quite apt to remove the stain entirely. An ink stain on linen is removed by dipping the spot in pure melted tallow, then washing in cold water. Ink and tallow will mix together and form a soft mass of long standing it is often necessary to use oxalic acid. The spot should be moistened with soft water, then the powdered oxalic applied. When the stain disappears rinse thoroughly, as this is a powerful agent, and will injure the fabric if left in it.

SIMPLE REMEDY.

To Improve American Manners Improve Your Own.

In Henry James' series, "The Manners of American Women," published in the Bazar last year, the distinction between the manners of the two countries is very clearly shown. The episode is quite possible, as any one knows who has studied the manners of the two countries, and who has seen the happy groups in the drawing rooms of friends. The hostess looks over and beyond each guest she meets, and every reader knew it. That good manners have perished among us is not only a sad thing, but a tragedy, for on our public streets and in our shops, but in our drawing rooms as well. One of our keen American observers, illustrating our condition by telling the story of the young man who wandered about at an afternoon tea, remarking to every one he met, "How charming!"

One heard him. His fellow guests could not help but notice his "How charming!" or, "So delightful!" and passed on to an equally edifying interchange of speech with each other.

often necessary to use oxalic acid. The spot should be moistened with soft water, then the powdered oxalic applied. When the stain disappears rinse thoroughly, as this is a powerful agent, and will injure the fabric if left in it.

Now that summer is coming—the season of washing and cleaning of light fabrics—such precautions as possible must be taken to prevent their getting out of shape, for what is harder to properly clean than plaited material, whether it be in skirts, jabots or blouses? Always haste the plait down before sending to the laundry. The same rule applies to washable cravats, which must be basted down the middle to keep the outer covering and the lining in proper position.

When washing a skirt the plaits should be fastened into place and a second basting run around the whole hem, so that the edge will be even when ironed. These stitches are left in until the skirt is entirely finished and ready to wear, otherwise the precaution will be ineffectual.

Spots in light dresses may generally be removed by laying on them a paste made of fuller's earth and salt and cologne. Let it dry, and then brush it off. A second application may be necessary.

When a decanter or water bottle becomes audibly loud from long use, rinse it with water, pour it out, and then put a handful of rough salt into the bottle and give it a good shaking. Soon the salt will become brown and sandy looking, and the glass clear. Rinse the bottle well with cold water, and polish it with a cloth.

Raw potato juice is capital cleaner. It will remove stains from the hands, from woolen materials, and from oil paintings. To clean the last, the right medium is a mixture of sawdust and water, and then to rub it out gently over the picture, taking off another slice whenever the potato juice is used.

Save old paraffin from jellies and the like, melt and mould in patty pans and it will be useful for smoothing the frons.

Faded artificial flowers may be renovated by the use of aniline ink, which slightly stiffens the petals as well as colors them. The ink must be diluted with water, and the flowers dipped in as many times as may be needed and dried after each dipping (till the right shade is obtained). The ordinary red ink gives a pretty shrimp pink, "excellent" for ranunculus, chrysanthemums. They should be shaken occasionally when drying, to keep the petals soft and fluffy looking. Common purple ink may be used with good effect on violets that have become faded.

Fine plumes can be kept from moths if placed in glass jars and securely fastened. If white ones, they may be diluted with water, and the flowers dipped in as many times as may be needed and dried after each dipping (till the right shade is obtained). The ordinary red ink gives a pretty shrimp pink, "excellent" for ranunculus, chrysanthemums. They should be shaken occasionally when drying, to keep the petals soft and fluffy looking. Wash dishes used in preparing foods for a meal while the foods are cooking and thus learn to get dish-washing done.

Old jelly gets insipid. It can be made like new by heating; add a little water and sugar.

LAST WEEK OF SCHOOL

Lower Classmen Are Hard at Work With Examinations.

This is Commencement Week in Duluth Public Schools.

This is the last week of school, and teachers are hard at work with the final examinations.

The high school seniors—the exclusive, superior seniors—finished their examinations Friday and are all through with public school worries except for the graduation functions, but for the rest of the pupils, these are days of much worry and ink-stained fingers.

The high school juniors, sophomores, freshmen and all the grammar grade youngsters are taking their final examinations today, tomorrow and Wednesday. The rest of the week will be devoted to a final "cleaning up" of the school year and the closing exercises.

Central high school is to be a place of glad festivity, beginning tomorrow evening, when the seniors of the school will give their class exercises. This will be carried out to all the old time high school traditions.

Wednesday night will be dedicated to the grammar graduates of the East end schools. They all of the eighth grade pupils of final school, who passed the examinations held this week, will receive their diplomas and exercises that are fitting and proper for boys and girls who are about to become full-fledged high school students.

The same sort of a program will be carried out Wednesday evening, when the pupils of the West end schools, and their friends, will assemble in the assembly room of the big westside high school, to say farewell to the grammar graduates and to receive the little sheepskins which entitle them to admittance to the high school next fall. For both of these eighth grade exercises, elaborate programs have been arranged.

Commencement week is so far as the public schools are concerned, will conclude Friday evening when the seniors gave their final say and receive the diplomas they are to carry with them into college, to farther pursue knowledge, or into business, to catch the elusive dollar.

The commencement

Stout Women Need Not Have Bad Figures! Wear "Reduso!"

A stout woman need not have a stout figure. Excessive flesh is largely a matter of flabbiness, and a good carriage and proper breathing will do much to overcome this. The W. B. Reduso is the lightest, strongest, simplest corset ever made for a stout woman.

It forces her to stand straight, to draw in her abdomen, to take the good deep long breaths that exercise the muscles of the abdomen and makes the soft flesh firmer, at the same time deepening the chest and squaring the shoulders.

The Reduso is so planned that the hips are graded into a longer and more slender proportion, and the lower back is flattened just as much as the abdomen.

50c $1.00 AND $1.50 CORSETS, 50c. A small lot—discontinued styles—possibly just what you are looking for—choice 50c.

ANNIVERSARY SPECIAL—75c, 85c and $1.00 Silks for 59c

well, and the Republican party is demoralized and shaken. The appropriation for the next fiscal year, however, the enormous sum of $1,000,000,000, as against aggregate estimates by departments of $1,077,449,283. Mr. Fitzgerald quoted the estimated revenues for the fiscal year 1910, (treasury figures) as $853,123,011, "and," he declared, "we shall demonstrate later that this estimate is in all probability at least $100,000,000 too large, and that not more than $750,000,000 is likely to be realized."

"Never but once in our history," he said, "did the expenditures of the government reach the thousand million mark. For the fiscal year 1907, when the country was in the throes of a bitter, bloody and expensive war, the expenditures aggregated the enormous total of $1,300,000,000, of which sum $1,000,000,000 was for the maintenance of the army."

Administration Criticized. Training his fire upon the administration, Mr. Fitzgerald continued: "After a war with Spain, under the presidency of Theodore Roosevelt, the cost of maintaining the government for the four following years was 10 per cent greater than during the same years when the war was waged. Evidently, Mr. Speaker, some things are expensive and some are not."

Making a further comparison, Mr. Fitzgerald said: "Under Cleveland the per capita appropriation was $1.35; for four years was $1.35; for the navy $1.54; for fortification $0.20; the average per capita for the three years for each service $3.50."

"Under Roosevelt, his second administration, the per capita appropriation on the army was $3.94, more than two and one-half times the amount under Cleveland; for the navy, $4.51, more than three times the amount under Cleveland; for fortifications, 32 cents, more than 30 per cent increase over Cleveland, and the average per capita cost for the three services under Roosevelt is $5.94, two and one-fourth times as great as under Cleveland."

After entering into a more detailed set of comparisons at large, comparing figures from Great Britain's fiscal records, Mr. Fitzgerald continued: "Surely these significant facts have permeated the recesses of the White House, nor found even a temporary lodgment in the active brain of the president. No other conclusion can satisfactorily be reported, for upon no other theory is it conceivable that the administration would have submitted estimates as have been repeatedly pointed out during the session, at least $125,000,000 in excess of the revenues expected to be received from the country."

Mr. Fitzgerald continued: "The country has been afflicted with a panic, the business and industrial depression is growing rather than lessening. Yet in the plethora of proposals to congress from the executive there has not been a single warning to safeguard the interests of the people by resolutely repelling all attempts to raid the treasury. Indeed, when the history of this session is impartially and truthfully written, as it will be some day, the wonder of the big stick will be pictured in heroic size at the head of those who, openly encouraging or secretly abetting him, have successfully ripped the people's strong box."

STATEMENT BY TAWNEY

For the next fiscal year were more than $100,000,000 in excess of appropriations made for the same purpose. The last session of the fifty-ninth congress, and that the demands for the service, but were supported mainly by official recommendations to congress. The approval of the press of the country, and they considered largely of increased compensations to the civil and military branches of the public service."

Grand Aggregate $1,008,804,891. He stated the total appropriations to revenues of the government, estimated by $801,685,070. He said the total to congress by the secretary of the treasury are placed at $875,123,011; that in addition to the authorized expenditures of $801,685,070 for the operation of the government during the next fiscal year, appropriations are also made as follows: In deficiency acts, exclusive of $2,402,720 for public buildings, authorized at this session, $4,252,223; for reclamation of the sinking fund, $5,000,000; for redemption of bank notes, $2,000,000; for construction of the Panama Canal (bonds to be issued) $2,000,000; for miscellaneous and special objects $1,000,000, including $250,000 for the relief of storm and flood sufferers in Southern states and $100,000 for the payments of claims of the Roman Catholic church in the Philippines. He said: "making a grand aggregate for next fiscal year of $1,008,804,891."

Mr. Tawney said that the estimates submitted to congress as a basis for the appropriations made amounted to $1,077,449,283, or an excess of $75,804,392 over the total appropriations of this session, and an excess of $15,551,112 over all the appropriations made at the last session. A subtraction of the totals of estimates and appropriations, he said, showed that a subtraction of the totals of estimates for the ordinary operating expenses of the government, $1,077,449,283. The grand total of appropriations at this session exceeded those of last session by $8,500,000.

Mr. Tawney submitted the following table of major appropriations enacted at the present session:

Major Appropriations. For agriculture, $1,077,449,283; army, $5,500,000; diplomatic and consular, $3,577,403; District of Columbia, $3,117,000; fortifications, $3,117,000; Indians, $2,333,189; legislative, executive and judicial, $2,333,189; military academy, $2,333,189; navy, $2,333,189; pensions, $2,333,189; postoffice, $2,333,189; sundry civil, $2,333,189; deficiency, $2,333,189; miscellaneous, $2,333,189; permanent, $2,333,189. Grand total, $1,008,804,891.

In a further table of comparison Mr. Tawney showed the differences between major appropriations of the last session and the present session as follows: Agricultural, $2,333,189; army, $5,500,000; diplomatic and consular, $3,577,403; fortifications, $3,117,000; Indians, $2,333,189; legislative, executive and judicial, $2,333,189; military academy, $2,333,189; navy, $2,333,189; pensions, $2,333,189; postoffice, $2,333,189; sundry civil, $2,333,189; deficiency, $2,333,189; miscellaneous, $2,333,189; permanent, $2,333,189. Total increase, $8,500,000.

Comparisons Made. In a census table submitted to Chairman Tawney's report there are given comparisons showing the relations of expenditures for the maintenance of government to the aggregate wealth of the nation. The report shows that the expenditures for the maintenance of government for a long series of years. This table shows that the aggregate expenditures for all expenditures for all classes as distinguished from mere tax levies, for states, counties, cities and minor civil divisions, including schools, amounted to $20,000,000, or a total expenditure of $20,000,000 for the year in which the next census is taken. This figure is in excess of the expenditures for the maintenance of the national government, but that the expenditures for the maintenance of state and local governments of all kinds have shown decided tendency to increase in proportion to each $100 of national wealth, thus reflecting the general tendency of the nation to make more liberal expenditures for the maintenance of various classes of government.

BONDS WELL RECEIVED. London, June 1.—The issue of the national railway of Mexico's 4½ per cent bonds was offered simultaneously today in London and New York. The issue was exceedingly well received here. There were heavy applications for the bonds and the dealings in the market were at a premium of 1½ to 1½ per cent.

CEREAL PLANT BURNS. Peterboro, Ont., June 1.—The plant of the Peterboro Cereal company was gutted by fire late yesterday. The loss is $20,000.

F. W. PARSONS IS CALLED

Well Known Duluth Business Man Dies of Typhoid Fever.

Had Recently Returned From Trip Abroad; Funeral Held.

Frederick W. Parsons, 46 years of age, died Saturday at St. Luke's hospital, of typhoid fever. He has been a resident of Duluth for more than twenty years and is well known in both social and business circles. The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. John W. Powell officiating. The body was taken to Buffalo for interment.

The funeral services were very largely attended, and the flowers that had been sent in fairly buried the casket. Mr. Parsons has been connected with the Marshall-Wells company ever since its organization, and his pall bearers were selected from among heads of departments of the establishment. They were as follows: M. A. Dunning, E. A.

F. W. PARSONS.

Meyer, J. W. Walker, H. J. Kremer, Thomas McNaught and R. A. Webster. After the services the remains were escorted to the Omaha station. Charles Parsons, brother of the deceased and a resident of Duluth, will accompany the body to Buffalo.

Mr. Parsons was secretary and assistant treasurer of the Marshall-Wells company at the time of his death. He resided only a short time ago from a trip to Italy, France, the British Isles and other European countries in company with Senator E. B. Hawkins and James Smith. His illness first became apparent on the boat on the return trip, just after he arrived home he became afflicted with typhoid fever, and was taken to St. Luke's hospital. It was thought he would recover, but Saturday morning there was a turn for the worse and he died a few hours later.

MANY MEN MEET AT THE Y. M. C. A.

First Mass Meeting in New Building is a Success.

The men's mass meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon, the first one in the new building, was largely attended and was addressed by E. W. Peck, state secretary of the association.

His subject was "Life's Question Mark," and he said in part: "What is your life? Is it a service for self alone? Then it will be a failure. The motives of a man determine his character, not his reputation. Be sure your sin will find you out. You cannot escape. Character only counts. Follow the lusts of the flesh and you are doomed!"

"Is it a service for humanity alone? This sounds well, but a man can serve humanity only as he serves his God. The infidel talks well, but never stood the test and never can. In time of great trial he caves! The moralist is inconsistent. He takes the codes from

THE CHANGE WAS WELCOMED

Sunday Crowds Thronged Parks to Get Benefit of Fine Weather.

All Duluth bled with delight the change in weather Saturday evening, and yesterday the people needed no special invitation to get them out of doors, or to the parks and popular outing places. The parks were thronged from morning until late in the afternoon and many lunch baskets and fish poles were in evidence, although the wind was a little cool and the water is still too high for good fishing.

The change from the cold wet dismal weather of the week past was so great, however, that people did not mind the wind yesterday if it was a little chilly for comfort. The sun was welcome after about seven days' heavy cloudy weather.

The parks seemed about as well patronized in one part of the city as the other, and to take care of the traffic, the street railway company had a largely increased service during the afternoon. Some of the new cars received last week being put in service.

Yesterday was also the opening day of the steamboat excursion season and both the Newsboat and the Massette carried large crowds up the St. Louis river to Fond du Lac.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Thomas H. Chamberlain, for many years city electrician, and a prominent clubman of Mobile, Ala., was shot and killed Saturday by an unknown negro, who later was shot and killed by officers. Former President Grover Cleveland, who has been ill at a hotel at Lakewood, N. J., left Sunday for his home at Princeton.

The jury at Iola, Kan., in the case of Samuel Whitlow, charged with murdering May Sapp, Sept. 27, 1907, brought in a verdict of not guilty Sunday.

Vice president and Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks left Washington at 3:40 p. m. Sunday for Indianapolis. They will remain at their home there indefinitely. The governorship of Georgia will be decided on Thursday, June 4, when the count complete Governor Hoke Smith will know whether he succeeds himself for two years from Jan. 1, 1909 or whether Joseph N. Brown, formerly railroad commissioner, will take the gubernatorial chair.

While driving a car on the boulevard north of Lowell, Mass., Barney Oldfield of Toledo, Ohio, the automobile racer, suffered his first road accident Sunday night, the car being overturned and Mrs. Oldfield badly injured, while another occupant, Joseph O'Brien of Boston, suffered an ankle fracture.

While speeding in a racing automobile on the race track at Decatur, Ill., Sunday afternoon, Joseph Sewell, a local professional automobilist lost control of the machine which he was driving. Sewell will die of injuries. The car was demolished. Two thousand persons witnessed the accident.

The race riot which occurred March 14 at Providence, Ky., had a sequel early Sunday morning in the lynching of Jake McDowell, a negro, who had confessed to being one of a party of negroes who killed one traveling man and wounded another.

LAWS CONSTITUTIONAL.

Provisions for Voting for Senators Upheld in North Dakota.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 1.—State's Attorney J. B. Whiteman yesterday gave it out as his opinion that the laws passed by the state legislature in regard to voting for United States senators, at the June and November elections, and the pledging of members of the legislature to vote for the candidate receiving the highest number of votes in November, in case no candidate receives 40 per cent of the vote in the June primaries and is nominated then, are constitutional. The state's attorney pointed out that the Constitution of the United States is granative, and that the state restrictive. In the state constitution there is nothing which would restrict the passage of such laws as have been passed by the legislature in regard to the people expressing their choice for United States senator. The legislature has an absolute right, in the opinion of Mr. Whiteman, to allow the people to express their choice for a United States senator, and in requiring a pledge from the candidate for the United States senator recommended by the majority of the people, there is nothing unconstitutional.

The United States Constitution contains nothing that interferes with such state laws. State's Attorney Whiteman is confident that in case a question is raised after the June primaries, in order to keep the senatorial candidates off the official ballot in November, the courts will hold that the names must go on.

TO EXTERMINATE RATS.

Grand Forks to Start Warfare on Pesky Rodents.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grand Forks will inaugurate an organized warfare on rats. It is not many years ago that rats were an unknown quantity in the city, but since their advent they have been apparently multiplying at a very rapid rate and have become a most unwelcome pest, doing an amount of damage, which in the aggregate reaches many thousands of dollars annually. The statement was made at a recent meeting of the Commercial club that a recent meeting of the Commercial club that rats had destroyed $200 worth of property during a year for one wholesale firm in the city. A committee was appointed by the Commercial club to investigate the matter and to prevent the damage by them. The committee has determined to at once make an effort to rid the city of the pest and will secure the services of a rat expert in accomplishing their destructive work.

LEAVE FOR NORWAY.

Two Grand Marais Men Have Departed on a Long Journey.

Grand Marais, Minn., May 28.—(Special Correspondence.)—Rev. C. G. Eldnaes and Andrew Larson left today on the America for Duluth, starting on their trip to Norway. On June 4 they will sail from New York on the F. C. Tellegen of the Scandinavian-American line. They will visit relatives in their respective native places and expect to make a general tour of Norway, returning to Grand Marais about Sept. 1. Rev. Mr. Eldnaes' parishioners have been generous in their expressions of Godspeed to him. On Tuesday, at the Maple Hill church, the people gathered in large numbers to pay their respects to their departing pastor, August 3.

GIRL FATALITY BURNED.

Oakes, N. D., June 1.—Harriet, the 14-year-old daughter of C. W. Fuller, agent of the Northern railway, was fatally burned here. While alone in the house, her clothing caught fire while she was lighting an alcohol lamp. The terrified child ran to a neighbor's house with her clothing ablaze. The blaze was extinguished by ready hands, but had already done its work and she died at the hospital three hours later.

"The Talk of the Town"

Johnson being the moving spirit of the affair. An appropriate and pleasing program of music, song and speeches was carried out and refreshments were served. The session of the evening, August 1, Johnson, N. J. Bray and Rev. Eldnaes spoke. A nice-sized purse was presented to the pastor. The people also presented him with a purse recently.

At a special service at the church Wednesday evening, Mr. Eldnaes preached a parting sermon to his congregation.

CUTS HIMSELF WITH AN AX WHILE FELLING TREE.

Aurora, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Turk, a laborer on the St. Louis-Aurora road, met with a regular but serious accident Saturday afternoon that will lay him up for some weeks. While chopping wood with a double-bit ax he fell on his back, his wrist, very nearly severing the forearm. He was taken to the hospital here and is getting along finely.

AT STOUT TRAINING SCHOOL.

Menomonee, Wis., June 1.—Last week was commencement week at the Stout Training school, the exercises terminating Friday night. The exhibit of work done by the students has been remarkably good and has attracted crowds of visitors, many from out of town. Work on the new dormitory is being pushed and the management of the schools anticipate an attendance next year nearly double that of the present year, which has been the largest in the history of the schools.

WRECKED SALOON; IS BOUND OVER

William Isaacson Who Did Carrie Nation Stunt Is Held.

Ontonagon, Mich., June 1.—(Special to The Herald).—William Isaacson, who did a Carrie Nation stunt in James H. Heard's saloon, has been held to the circuit court in $500, after a preliminary hearing. The conclusion to be drawn from the trouble is that Isaacson had a grudge against Frank Nyquist, the bartender, and he went to the saloon looking for trouble. It was brought out that when he first entered the saloon he scattered a pack of cards on the floor, broke the rounds of a chair, then tossed the chair up in one corner of the room, and afterwards gave the bartender three lumps on the head with his fist.

At this stage of the row, Nyquist struck Isaacson upon the head with a bottle, flooring him. Isaacson then began to hurl spitballs at Nyquist, smashing the bar fixtures and doing other damage, and finally wrecked the stove. This in substance was the testimony of several witnesses.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 1.—Nothing of the splendor and dignity befitting an occasion of that sort in Roman Catholicism was lacking in this city, yesterday afternoon, when the impressive ceremonies incident upon the laying of the cornerstone of the new pro-cathedral were carried out to the minutest detail, before a vast concourse of people, which extended for blocks around the reviewing stand.

For over an hour and a half devout paraders from the two cities as well as scores of communities in the state, filed past the reviewing stand, 30,000 strong. Following the rites at the laying of the cornerstone, the multitude of people surged in almost impenetrable density about the speaker's platform and the reviewing stand, including both those seated in the stand and thousands who packed the streets. It is probable that fully 20,000 persons attended the ceremonies.

The actual rites attendant upon the laying of the cornerstone were performed by Mgr. Duvaude F. Falconio, apostolic delegate. The opening address of the afternoon was made by Archbishop John Ireland, followed by Governor John A. Johnson, representing the state; J. J. Hill, Mayor J. C. Haynes, representing the city of Minneapolis; P. A. Grosse, who spoke for the laity of the city, and W. P. Devereaux, representing the cathedral executive committee.

An Immense Throng.
Long before the approach of the parade, the group of paraders was announced by the firing of a salute from artillery. Hennepin avenue, decorated in the yellow and white colors of the papacy, was almost blocked immediately in front of the reviewing stand, so large was the crowd. It was with difficulty that the reviewing stand was kept a passage way open. Had it not been for the Red Cross automobiles, which were sent into service to force the crowd of people back, the police would have been almost powerless. So compact was the mass of people that emergency calls were frequent upon the detachments of Red Cross squads, women and children being almost suffocated by the crowd pressing on them from all sides.

A few minutes before the arrival of the parade, the group of paraders was escorted to the reviewing stand from the nearby St. Margaret's academy. Guided by cross bearers and the police, the procession moved to the places of honor where Mgr. Falconio vested himself in the robes of his office. The assemblage of prelates was impressive. All wore the elaborate robes of their rank, the rich hennepin of the papacy contrasting with the black dress and lace surplices of the priests.

Over an hour and a half the paraders filed past eight and twelve abreast, the columns brightened by the gorgeous banners of the various parades and societies, and the standard of the church. At intervals brilliant bands of color were added to the spectacle by detachments of uniformed Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Order of Foresters. The most unique features of the parade was the float of the cathedral parish of St. Paul. This was a log cabin truly, and it was the "First Cathedral" erected in St. Paul in 1841.

Most Impressive Ceremonies.
A wooden cross, twelve feet high, marked the exact spot where the altar to the edifice will stand.

When Mgr. Falconio and his attendants, wearing the vestments of the solemnity of blessing the holy water was gone through with. Then the officiant, Paul, this was a log cabin truly, and it was the "First Cathedral" erected in St. Paul in 1841.

Following this came the blessing of the small cornerstone, the real cornerstone, by Mgr. Falconio. It was first sprinkled with holy water and then three small crosses were traced on each of the six faces by the officiant.

The prelates and laity then knelt in prayer, the major altars being recalled by the assembled clergy. A benediction followed and the block was swung into position.

WELLS' SHORTAGE REDUCED.
Cogswell Man Got Away With Less Than Reported.

Fargo, N. D., June 1.—(Special to The Herald).—F. P. Wells, representative at Cogswell, N. D., for the real estate firm of Adams & Friesse of Lisbon, N. D., did not get away with as large an amount of the firm's money as first reported, later advices having reduced the shortage from $40,000 to $15,000. Cashier H. K. Adams of the First National Bank of Lisbon, and a member of the firm of Adams & Friesse, in speaking of the matter while here Saturday said:

"The apparent shortage in the account of F. P. Wells, our agent at Cogswell, will not exceed $15,000. That sum will cover every item which is due us. Our firm will not lose anything as we have attached all of the real and personal property including assets in one of the local banks at Cogswell. Mr. Wells has been in our employ for several years and that while he was our trusted agent, he was not clothed with all the powers which have been reported."

Besides being agent for the Adams & Friesse company, Wells was president of the Sargent County State Bank at Cogswell; also he was president of the Cogswell Lumber and Impitment Co.

CLOQUET PAYS HONOR TO DEAD

Memorial Day Exercises Surpassed Any Former Attempts Here.

Cloquet, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald).—Memorial day was observed in Cloquet in a way that surpassed any similar attempt in past years in this city. A company of the Sons of Veterans of Duluth, arrived on the morning train, accompanied by a file and drum corps. They marched to the Episcopal church, where Memorial day services were held. The Rev. C. C. Cole officiating and addressing the congregation and visitors on patriotism and Memorial day.

The parade to the cemeteries in the afternoon was a most impressive one. It was led by a regiment of school children, carrying bouquets of flowers. Next in line came the file and drum corps, followed in turn by the Duluth and Cloquet companies of Sons of Veterans.

The actual rites attendant upon the laying of the cornerstone were performed by Mgr. Duvaude F. Falconio, apostolic delegate. The opening address of the afternoon was made by Archbishop John Ireland, followed by Governor John A. Johnson, representing the state; J. J. Hill, Mayor J. C. ## WOMAN'S SLAYER HAS BEEN TAKEN

Man Who Shed Blood in Church, Once in Asylum.

Fond du Lac, Wis., June 1.—Grant Poole, who shot and killed Mrs. E. H. Graef, yesterday as he came from his place of confinement, was captured last night by a farmer named Morgan near the village of Ladoga, eight miles from Oakfield. Poole was turned over to officers and was at once brought to this city and landed in jail early today.

Poole has been madly in love with the daughter of the dead woman, and his attentions toward her have not been countenanced by the family of the young woman.

Five years ago Poole tried to commit suicide by shooting himself, but was prevented. He was arrested and sent to the state hospital at Oakfield. He was at that institution for three years and was then paroled. He went home and since then he has worked on his father's farm. He was a visitor to the village every night, remaining there with relatives.

Miss Orvis was employed in the bank of Oakfield, and Poole hung about that institution a great deal, seeking to draw her attention to himself. His victim was 50 years old and a banker. She was the daughter of a banker. Graef, the daughter, is 21. The Orvis family is prominent in the county, and the village and highly respected.

EXTENSION HELD UP.

Houghton County Railway Company Has Been Enjoined.

Calumet, Mich., June 1.—Upon the application of the Calumet & Lac la Poudre & Traction company, restraining order has been issued by Judge Loyal E. Knappsen of the United States court at Grand Rapids restraining the Houghton County Street Railway company from building any part of its extension, now under construction from Wolverine to Mohawk, on lands under condemnation by the Calumet & Lac la Poudre & Traction company.

This order is effective until June 5, when a hearing will be held in Grand Rapids on the question whether or not an injunction shall be issued to further restrain the Houghton County Street Railway company from building on any of the lands under condemnation.

DULUTH MAN ON FISHING.

O. L. Baynes Tells Milwaukee Listeners About the Sport.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 1.—(Special to The Herald).—There should be good fishing in the rivers and creeks of upper Wisconsin, according to O. L. Baynes of Duluth, who was telling of some of the anglers' sport in the state at the Milwaukee fishing and game show and fish laws in all the Northwestern states, there were several no diminution of wild sport for years to come. He has been in Montana and Wyoming and several seasons past, and contrary to the general impression there are more elk and deer

In these states today than there have ever been since the white man wrested them from the Indian. Thousands of elk are now in the Big Horn mountains of Wyoming, where the eye of the government sees that they are properly safeguarded during the closed season. The same careful scrutiny by the state, together with the scientific propagation of fish is doing much to restock Northwestern streams that had been well whittled out hitherto.

CONDEMNED NAGS ARE FIRED BACK

North Dakota Officials Claim Canada Is Returning Diseased Horses.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 1.—A state quarantine of affairs among horses along the Canadian border was revealed by a visit of Dr. W. F. Crowe, state veterinarian of North Dakota; Dr. McCauley, federal inspector of the bureau of animal industry, and Dr. E. J. Davidson of Grand Forks, who have returned to Grand Forks. They went there to look up complaints in regard to the sale of diseased horses that had been rejected by the Canadian authorities. The horses had been rejected because they had failed to stand the usual test.

The investigation by the three officials resulted in their ascertaining that the Canadian government will not admit any horses other than those of emigrants or persons who plan to sell the animals, without what is known as the macton test.

Emigrants reaching the line and not aware of the fact usually find themselves in hard circumstances as they are held up until the animals are macton tested and should they react, many of them do, they are condemned and branded on the foot with the brand "E. T." As the settlers cannot get their horses into Canada they are stranded at the line. They usually dispose of the horses for whatever price they can get. The horses are diseased and quite a number of unscrupulous dealers in this class of stock have become rather numerous.

Three horses were killed by the officials and sufficient evidence has been secured by State Veterinarian Crowe and Federal Inspector McCauley to point to the guilt of certain dealers. The officials do not propose to make Northern North Dakota the dumping ground for diseased horses.

TWO MINES SHIPPING.

Corrigan-McKinney Properties at Crystal Falls Start Ore.

Crystal Falls, Mich., June 1.—(Special to The Herald).—Orders were received Friday evening to start shipping ore from the Corrigan-McKinney return mines of the Corrigan-McKinney company, and cars were placed under the pockets Saturday morning. Only ten cars per day will be shipped from each of the mines.

Small at each property this amount will suffice to keep things going for a time. The mines are not yet being received, but it is thought that cars will be placed there very soon.

THE SAND NUISANCE

Interstate Traction Company Also Blames Government for Trouble.

Claimed That Even Gravel Beaches Are Being Covered.

Supt. Johnson of the Interstate Traction company appeared before the board of public works this morning and expressed the opinion that the government was responsible, in a large degree, for the sand nuisance on Park Point. He says the dumping of sand in the lake, near the Point, is changing the whole character of the strip of land and that the sand is washed ashore and then blown about by the winds, burying trees, sidewalks, car lines, etc. "That there is some truth in this is shown by the fact that between the life-saving station and the Duluth canal, where there has always been a hard gravel beach, the gravel is being coming covered with heaps of sand," declared Mr. Johnson. "This sand is washed from the lake, where it has been dumped by the government scows. After it piles up on the beach, it becomes dry, and is blown freely about by the wind. There are places where the sand drifts are fifteen feet in depth. Scores of trees are being killed by this sand that is being blown about the sidewalks and the car line is being buried."

Mr. Johnson agreed with members of the board of public works that it is a problem difficult of solution to decide just what steps to take to do away with the nuisance. He does not think the building of fences or walls a practical solution. He favors the planting of special kind of a grass along the beach to help hold the sand in position.

Attention!
I wish to announce to my friends and to the public in general that I am not going into the feed business at No. 29 West First street, as I have told all my friends and the public that I expected to be located there on June 1. The party with whom I was dealing has pointed me in our transaction. Will announce my location later.

JOSEPH POIRIER.

DEER SEEN NEAR LESTER PARK

Animals Wander Into the Suburbs of the City.

During the last week two deer have been seen near Lester park.

About a week ago some Lakeside boys saw a young fawn just beyond Lester park, and yesterday the young son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. German saw a doe on the farm of James Gaines just beyond Lester park. The animal was not frightened at the approach of the boys and appeared much more interested in a small herd of cattle than in the boy. He was able to approach within a few feet of the animal before it trotted off.

INVENTION HOLDS GOOD

Though No Use Had Been Made of Patented Device.

Washington, June 1.—The important question whether infringement of a patent can be stopped by injunction when the original patentee has failed to make use of his device was involved in the case of the Continental Paper Bag company of Maine versus the Eastern Paper Bag company of Massachusetts. The suit was decided by the supreme court of the United States today. The Eastern company, which asked for an injunction from making paper bags with an machine made in accordance with a patent owned by the Eastern company and the order was issued, notwithstanding the fact that the Eastern company had made no use of the patent. The case was appealed to the United States circuit court of appeals for the first circuit and the decision of the trial was upheld. The decision of the supreme court, sustaining the two lower courts was handed down by Justice McKenna.

ANDERSON IN TROUBLE

Pike Lake Violation May Cost Him Local License.

Much Saloon Business Will Come Before Council Meeting.

The fact that Louis Anderson was found guilty in municipal court of selling liquor in violation of law at Pike Lake may prevent a renewal of his license for a saloon which he owns at No. 10 Lake avenue south. The matter of his renewal will come up tonight at the council meeting, and it is understood that it will be turned down because of the clause in the charter which says that no renewal shall be granted a person convicted of a violation of the law within one year from date of application. Anderson was fined $50 for selling liquor on Sunday at Pike Lake.

Some of the aldermen thought that the fact of the violation of the law being outside the city limits would prevent any action being taken against Anderson anywhere in the state. It is applied just as well as if it had occurred in the city, provided the saloons in question were owned by the same person.

Several other saloon matters are being brought up at the meeting tonight, and the session promises to be a warm one. Rather an odd circumstance in connection with the Louisa saloon license, which comes up for renewal tonight, is that Mr. Lanigan was convicted of a violation of the law on May 30, 1907, just two days more than a year before the time his license comes up for renewal. This fact will make the renewal possible.

The Trevillion saloon license amendment calling for a change in the city charter which would make it possible for a saloonkeeper to evade the one-year clause, will come up tonight. It is withdrawn. It is said Alderman Trevillion is considering its withdrawal, and that it may not come up for final action at the hands of the city fathers.

The Carpenter Bros' license, which was so prominently before the public a year ago, and which figured in a recent political campaign, will also be up for renewal tonight. It is understood that the residents of Onoda, where the saloon is located, will be on hand to put up a fight against its renewal.

Alfred Hogan's measure calling for licensing chauffeurs in Duluth will be considered. Mayor Haven's garbage ordinance will come up, and it is believed will be passed. Final action, probably of a favorable nature, will be taken toward furnishing Proctor with supply of water from the city water plant.

COPPER STOCKS CLOSE HIGHER

Share Market Has a Good Bulge During the Day.

Copper stocks were going up during all of the session of the market today and the close was considerably higher than Friday's. The Amalgamated report had not a little to do with the bulge.

Amalgamated opened at $65, advanced to $67.25 and closed at $67.25 bid. North Butte opened at $64.75, declined to $64, rallied to $66 and closed at $65.75 bid and $66 asked.

Greenwich opened at $9.50, declined to $9.37 1/2, rallied to $9.57 1/2 and closed at $9.57 1/2 bid and $9.75 asked. Butte opened at $23.50, advanced to $23.87 1/2 and closed at $23.75 bid and $24 asked.

Superior opened at $10.62 1/2, bid and $11.00 asked, sold at $11.00 and closed at $11.00. Denn-Arozon at $2.75 and $2.87 1/2 and closed at $2.75 bid and $2.87 1/2 asked; Globe at $5.37 1/2 and closed at $5.75 bid and $6 asked, and Butte at $11.25 and closed at $11.25 and $11.25 asked.

Red Warrior sold at $1.25 and $1.37 1/2 and closed at $1.37 1/2 bid and $1.50 asked. Mowitza advanced from 94 cents to $1 and closed at 95 cents bid and $1 asked.

Black Mountain sold at $4.37 1/2 and closed at $4.37 1/2 bid and $4.50 asked. Walker's copper letter in Saturday's Boston Commercial said:

"Copper is a shade weaker, Lake is offered at 13 cents, and electrolytic is 12 1/2 cents per pound. It is understood that there have been sales recently at these prices, and also that electrolytic has been sold in 1,000,000-pound lots at 12 1/2 cents. As it was brought about by a sudden loss of confidence, resulting from accompanying the severe break in stock market prices.

Whether this decline in prices forecasts a further recession in business activity is not yet known. That business improvement has begun is true beyond question. It may be expected that the resumption will be characterized by the usual fluctuations, and at times the outlook will be exceedingly unpromising. Money is easy, however, and unless suits to disrupt existing railroad combinations are brought by the government, as is now threatened, confidence in securities will surely return, and the needs of large railroad and industrial corporations will be financed. This will result in increased employment of labor and a renewal of business activity. It is the financing of proposed extensions and new equipment for these large enterprises which will make a good demand for copper. Every successful bond flotation is a bull point on the metal market.

BIG SUMS FOR TAXES

Steel Corporation Pays Nearly $1,000,000 to the County.

The Independent Mining Companies Are Also Paying Up.

Col. W. C. Greene, copper magnate of Canada, Mexico and the United States, Spalding today that conditions in both Arizona and Mexico were considerably improved over those which prevailed two or three months ago.

"Conditions are looking much brighter than a month ago," said Col. Greene. "There is a greater amount of American capital going into the mines of Arizona and Mexico and operations are progressing very rapidly. The financial outlook is better than it was two or three months ago, and of course this has had its effect on the mining operations. Mining is going on very rapidly and capital is being attracted by the mineral properties of both Arizona and Mexico."

Col. Greene is accompanied to Duluth by Dr. W. J. Galbraith. Mr. Greene has been in poor health for some time, but under the care of Dr. Galbraith has improved greatly and has almost completely recovered his health.

Greene was the promoter of the old Greene Consolidated Copper company, which was later merged with other mining properties under the name of the Greene-Cananea Copper company. Col. Greene is president of the directors of the present company, of which Thomas F. Cole is president.

Col. Greene will remain in Duluth a day or two.

The financial outlook is better than it was two or three months ago, and of course this has had its effect on the mining operations. Mining is going on very rapidly and capital is being attracted by the mineral properties of both Arizona and Mexico."

Col. Greene is accompanied to Duluth by Dr. W. J. Galbraith. Mr. Greene has been in poor health for some time, but under the care of Dr. Galbraith has improved greatly and has almost completely recovered his health.

Greene was the promoter of the old Greene Consolidated Copper company, which was later merged with other mining properties under the name of the Greene-Cananea Copper company. Col. Greene is president of the directors of the present company, of which Thomas F. Cole is president.

Col. Greene will remain in Duluth a day or two.

Washington, June 1.—That the Roman Catholic church is entitled to exercise complete ownership of the church buildings, occupied by that denomination in the city of Ponce, Porto Rico, was held today by the supreme court of the United States, in the case of the municipality of Ponce vs. the Roman Catholic church in Porto Rico, which was decided in favor of the church. It appeared from the record that the buildings had been constructed by the municipality, and that notwithstanding that it had been kept in repair by the parishioners, they were inventoried as city property. In order to obtain from the city an acknowledgment of its ownership, the church brought suit in the supreme court of Porto Rico, and there obtained a verdict enjoining the city from setting up any claim whatever to the buildings. The city appealed to the supreme court of the United States, with the result that the judgment of the lower court was affirmed. The opinion was by Chief Justice Fuller.

Philadelphia, June 1.—Rear Admiral Jackson McDermott of the United States navy, retired, died at his home in this city Sunday aged 74 years. Death was due to heart disease.

Paris, June 1.—The duchess de Brissac, who was Mathilde d'Oze, a sister of Duke of Orleans, died today at the age of 113 for some months past. The duchess of Brissac was born in Paris in 1875.

Montreal, June 1.—Dr. Louis Prochette, the French-Canadian poet and known as a leading literary and a personal friend of Victor Hugo, died today after a brief illness.

TWO MORE DAYS.
Y. M. C. A. Will be Open for Inspection Tuesday and Wednesday.

On account of the bad weather last week a great many people who would have visited the new Y. M. C. A. building were unable to do so. For this reason the building will be open to the public for inspection Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and evening of this week.

NEW ORPHANAGE.
Plans for Building Near Woodland Accepted by Committee.

Plans for the new St. James' orphanage, to be built near the end of the Woodland street car line by the Duluth diocese of the Catholic church, have been accepted by the building committee and the work of excavation will begin some time this week.

The new institution is to replace the present orphanage at Twentieth avenue west and Third street. There are eighty-two children now under the charge of the sisters, and the quarters have become so cramped that more room will be necessary in a very short time.

The diocese owns forty acres of where the new orphanage will be constructed, giving the spacious grounds needed for the institution. The orphanage will be in three buildings and will accommodate 200 children. It will cost about $120,000, which amount will be raised by subscription in the diocese.

GOOD WORK IN ZENITH

High School Publication Is Received From the Printers.

Book is Rich in Pictures and Cleverly Written Articles.

The Zenith, the annual publication of the Duluth Central high school, was issued today, and about 500 copies have already been sold. In typography, arrangement, composition and ideas, it is a decidedly fine piece of work and reflects credit on the student staff.

The Zenith is dedicated to Miss Agnes Wells of the high school faculty. It is published weekly in the form of a paper cover and is rich in fine half-tones of the different athletic teams of the school, clubs and classes. Pictures of the graduates are scattered through the book.

Hal Brown was editor-in-chief and Carl Shapiro business manager of this year's venture. Gladys Tyler, Yvonne Roberts were staff artists and Howard Munley, treasurer. The association editors were Santa Eda, Della Smith, Mildred Washburn, Katharine Denfeld, Fred Cole, Ralph Pines, John Jensen, Myrna Crasswell and Phil Poirier.

Run through the "ad" section is a series of photographic cuts accompanied by cleverly written matter in the form of the diary of a sight-seer. Carl Shapiro's story of the class play, written in newsworthy parlance, is one of the hits of the publication. The drawings by the staff artists are in good taste and show some bright ideas.

The sophomore class, which won the championship in the high school basketball league, today received the banner emblematic of the title, the presentation being made by Secretary Norman D. McLeod of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A.

The interclass track meet, twice postponed, will be held Thursday if the weather permits. The track at the driving park is in pretty poor shape, but a couple of days of sunshine will make it firm and hard, and the boys still have hopes of pulling off the meet.

The junior class examinations will be held tomorrow and the annual junior-senior dancing party will be held Thursday evening.

Washington, June 1.—Among other nominations not confirmed by the senate, made by the president today, were those of forty-two postmasters and the following:

Z. Lewis Dalby, Indian Inspector; Newton Dwight Purdy, United States district judge for the district of Minnesota; Nathaniel H. Alexander, register of the general land office at Montgomery, Ala.

PURDY APPOINTED.

Washington, June 1.—Bridges crossing Silver Bow creek, within the limits of Butte, are threatened by the floods, and street car tracks on the flats south of the city are under water.

The rainfall during May amounted to seven inches, exceeding all records. The Yellowstone river also is on the rampage, trains being forty-four to forty-eight hours late on the Northern Pacific.

DREW RAZOR IN QUARREL

Bloody Battle is Waged on West Michigan Street.

Four Men Wounded in Fight Over Glass of Beer.

Three men were badly wounded with a razor wielded by Gaetano Farao, and Farao himself was badly bruised and beaten, in a fight on Michigan street, near Eleventh avenue west, Saturday night. The offender has not yet been captured by the police. Henry Marcotte of 1121 Michigan street, Francis Curcio and Edmund Flida were the wounded men. The first is at St. Luke's hospital and the others are under a physician's care.

Marcotte was slashed up from head to foot, and blood seemed to be flowing from a dozen cuts. Several of the cuts are quite deep, but the physicians do not think any of them will prove serious. Curcio has a deep gash just above his heart, which might have been fatal if it had been a little deeper. Flida was struck in the cheek by the razor's edge.

According to Charles W. Kelly, a witness of the affair, Marcotte was an innocent sufferer.

"The trouble was between Farao and a man named Walter Gravelle," said Kelly this morning. "About a week ago Farao had some beer and refused to give Gravelle a drink. Gravelle passed it off as a joke, but Saturday he had some beer in his possession and Farao asked for a drink. Gravelle minded him of the occurrence of a week ago and told him he couldn't have any. That started the trouble. Farao pushed his open hand against Gravelle's face. Gravelle hit back, and Farao drew a razor.

"Marcotte was coming up behind and he said 'What do you know about that? He's got a razor.' Farao turned and slashed at him.

"In a minute there were a dozen people mixed in the fight. I reached for the razor, but got only a piece of the handle. They finally got it away from Farao, but his two fingers were almost cut off in the struggle. He was also badly beaten up, and was probably hurt much worse than Marcotte."

Farao was assisted from the scene by some friends, and the police have not yet located him.

GOV. WARNER'S VISIT.

Michigan Executive to be Royally Entertained in Copper Country.

Hancock, Mich., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city is all in readiness for the visit tomorrow of Governor Warner, his wife and his staff, who are coming here from Ironwood and Bessemer, where they are today. They are expected to arrive in Houghton tomorrow morning. They are coming for the purpose of visiting the Copper country and to attend the annual ball of the naval reserves tomorrow night. Arrangements for the ball have been practically completed, and the affair promises to be the most notable event ever held in the Copper country. The music by the C. & H. orchestra will be a particularly enjoyable feature, and the decorations will be unusually elaborate, including various electrical devices appropriate of the naval nature of the occasion, and flags and signal streamers of the Yantic and the division.

PEARY READY FOR DASH TO THE POLE.

New York, June 1.—Confident of his ability to carry the stars and stripes to the north pole, Commander Robert F. Peary, who has planted the American flag nearer the coveted northern goal than any other living man, is in New York, making active preparations for another Arctic dash. The steamer Roosevelt, which carried him and his party on his last northward journey, has been overhauled.

Peary's present plans contemplate his departure from New York about July 1, but lack of sufficient funds to finance the expedition may postpone the start. Unless $25,000 is forthcoming by the first of July, the project will have to be abandoned.

KILLED IN RUNAWAY.

Hingham, Wis., June 1.—In a desperate attempt to save himself from a runaway, Miss Miller, aged 17, of Batavia, Wis., leaped from a huge, which was being pulled at a breakneck speed by a frightened pair of horses, and fractured her skull and broke her neck. Death was instantaneous. The unfortunate girl was accompanied by her sister, who also jumped, and seriously injured herself, her face being badly scratched, and her shoulder bruised.

THOUSANDS OF MEN RETURNING TO WORK.

Birmingham, Ala., June 1.—With the resumption of mines, furnaces and other industries this week, 8,000 men who have been idle for practically so far several months got ready to work. Twenty-five hundred returned today in mines and coke furnaces, and the others will follow as the United States Steel corporation will begin its work in the iron territory a general resumption of work in the near future. Thousands of work in the near future.

TO CHANGE TIME OF ASKING QUESTIONS.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 1.—Owing to the extreme nervousness and mental confusion that attends a baptismal immersion and the incapacity of the mind to answer the propounded questions properly, the German Baptist Brethren conference, which is in session here, has decided to change the time of asking questions from the baptismal service to a separate service to be held on the following day.

SHERIFF RETURNS WITHOUT PRISONER.

Lafayette, Ind., June 1.—With the return today of Sheriff Snitzer from Vernon, Tex., where he went to investigate the alleged confession of a man named Trenton, who wrote to Prosecutor Smith that he had been in accomplice with Mrs. Guinness in several of her murders, the details of the sequel to that confession will become known. The sheriff is not bringing Trenton back with him, but the reason that it is claimed the confession does not hold good, having been made by the prisoner in order to escape a forgery charge in Texas.

MAY WAS VERY WET.

New York, June 1.—May went out with a record for wetness, the total being 9.10 inches, unequalled in any May since the weather bureau was established, thirty-eight years ago.

ALASKA'S GOLD OUTPUT.

Seattle, June 1.—The Post-Intelligencer after receiving reports from all points in the north, estimates the gold output for the coming season in Alaska at $20,000,000.

BOILER TUBE EXPLODES.

Cherbourg, June 1.—A boiler tube in the engine room of the American line steamer St. Louis exploded while the vessel was entering the roadstead here this morning. Three firemen were seriously injured.

DURSTON IN DOCK.

Several Boats are Waiting for Attention at Shipyards.

The new steamer E. F. Durston, which was launched at the Superior shipyards a week ago Saturday, will be put into No. 2 drydock this week and the finishing touches put on. She will be ready for her trial trip within a week or ten days.

The Peterson and Niko, two lumber carriers, which will be put in the drydock for a time this year, are now being repaired at the drydocks. There are three or four other boats waiting to go into No. 2 dock for general repairs.

Runs Into Tug.

Sheboygan, June 1.—The large steamer Thompson, leaving port Saturday, swung her bow into the tugboat Elsie, abeam, stowing in the side of the tug and doing other damage estimated at $500 all told.

MARINE NEWS*PITTSBURG BOATS MOVE

Gradual Increase in Ore Shipments Expected This Month.

Railroads to Increase Shipments From Mines to Docks.

The Pittsburgh Steamship company is to about a gradual increase in putting its boats into commission, according to the impression of the local officers of the company. The entire fleet will not be sent out with a rush, but a few of the big carriers will be put in commission from time to time, and it will probably be a month before they are all running.

The captains of the remaining four Pittsburgh boats, which wintered in the local harbor, have been ordered to report and the boats will be inspected immediately. They will then be sent down the lake with the fleet. The same plan is being carried out in regard to some of the boats, which wintered in lower lake ports, by the end of this week, a good sized fleet will be in commission.

Shipments will continue regularly from the Duluth and Northern docks from now on, it is expected, though their volume will be nothing like normal season. The Duluth and Northern has ordered extra crews to report this week, and the shipments from the mines to the docks will be increased to about 10,000 tons a week. The Duluth & Iron Range will move about 55,000 tons a week to the docks at Duluth. The range will move more than 35 per cent of its capacity, but there will be sufficient ore at the docks to keep as many boats busy as the Pittsburgh people will have in commission.

There is nothing in sight for the Duluth boats except what are the Great Northern ships from the Alton docks, where 12,000 tons are being placed each week. The shipments from the Duluth and Iron Range docks will be no more than normal for the Pittsburgh boats, and independent boats look elsewhere for their cargoes, for a time, at least.

The new crop of grain movement will be in sight. There is nothing but gloom in sight. The intenseness of the season, the poor outlook in the range and other forces, combine to make the season one of the most difficult in the history of the Duluth and Iron Range. The grain movement is now over un-

INCREASE AT GARY.

Lake Michigan Ports Will Not Suffer Heavily This Year.

Cleveland, June 1.—The slump in the ore trade will, of course, be felt the most at Lake Erie ports, and there will be no great rush at any of the docks at this end of the route this season. Shipments to Lake Michigan ports will not be as heavy as in 1907, but the decrease in that district will not be nearly as great as it was in 1907.

Shipments to Indiana harbor will be heavier than they were in 1907 and it is expected that about 1,000,000 tons will be received at Gary. This will in a large measure offset the decrease in shipments to Lake Michigan ports. The other Lake Michigan ports, the steamer Alva loading at Gary, Duluth, Wisconsin, for the Troquois Furnace company at South Chicago.

Big Ice Breaker Needs New Plates on Sides.

The tug James Whalen, Port Arthur's great ice breaker, arrived in port this morning and proceeded to the Superior shipyards, where the damage incurred in smashing ice this spring in the Canadian harbor, will be repaired.

Breaking ice isn't a snap for a tug, even if it is of the Whalen's strong construction. The plates on the sides have been pretty badly used, although the strong steel bow is in good shape. The tug will probably be ten days before the work on the Whalen will be completed. Stronger plates will be put in the sides so as to overcome the slight weakness, which was shown this spring. A new towing machine will also be installed, and when the boat returns to Port Arthur, it will be in better condition than ever for the year's work.

WRANGLER TOO LONELY.

South Dakota Girls Did Not Like Positions in Far North.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A year spent at Wrangel, Alaska, a remote village built on a narrow island, absolutely devoid of civic environment, and inhabited largely by Alaska Indians, has been the experiences of the Misses Marcella and Blanche Volin, young teachers, who are in Minneapolis on their way home to Volin, S. D., to spend the summer. Although delighted with the knowledge and experience they gained, they are back to stay, for they are convinced that they would not care to spend another such twelve months.

Wrangel, they say, is a place of about 1,200 inhabitants, reached only by a circuitous route through straits and narrows, and once reached is the most forlorn spot in the world, according to the young women.

NEW WATERWORKS PLAN TO BE OFFERED CITY OF MINOT.

OLD MEN NEARLY DROWN.

Ernest Keerbs and John Schoeneberger Have Close Calls.

Perham, Minn., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ernest Keerbs and John Schoeneberger, two of the old and esteemed residents of Perham, had a narrow escape from death by drowning in McDonald lake last week.

Mr. Keerbs is 72 years old and Mr. Schoeneberger is 67, but they both feel about twenty years younger, and on Tuesday they decided to enjoy a day's fishing. They drove out to McDonald lake and made a fine catch. When the were ready to come home, Mr. Keerbs stood up in the boat to catch and fell head first into the lake. The water was sixteen feet deep, but he came up beside the boat and caught hold of it. He did not only enter the boat, for fear of upsetting it, but hung on to the end while Mr. Schoeneberger paddled the boat a distance of about 300 feet. It was certainly a close call for the old sports and their friends are congratulating them on being still in the land of the living.

be confirmed by the various associations.

Mr. Wheeler will incorporate in his ordinance a provision that the city may take over the plant at any time after its completion, subject to the bonds which shall not be more than the initial cost of the plant. A hydrant rental sufficient in amount to cover the interest on the bonds at 6 per cent and enough to require the bonds in a period of years will be charged, so that in the event that the city takes over the plant, whatever profit there is, will go to the city.

The plant is to be along the line of that outlined by H. G. Loken of Grand Forks, who proposed a mechanical filter. The entire cost of the plant is estimated at $150,000, but in no case shall it exceed $100,000. The hydrant rental on this basis will amount to something like $100 a year for each of the first 12 hydrants, but additional hydrants being based on the cost of putting them in, will be much lower, probably in the vicinity of $25 each.

GRAND FORKS COLLEGE TO GRADUATE EIGHT STUDENTS.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The closing exercises at Grand Forks college will be held from June 14 to 16. Sunday, June 14, Rev. R. J. Wisnos of Hickson, N. D., will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the First Lutheran church. Monday, the 15th, will occur the annual musical recital under the direction of Miss Laura Simonson. The commencement exercises proper will occur Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 in the college chapel. Prof. Knute Gjerstad, Ph. D., of Luther college will deliver the annual commencement oration.

On the evening of the 16th the college faculty will tender a reception to the public. If the weather permits refreshments will be served on the campus.

The school will graduate this year one of the strongest classes it has sent out. The following constitute the class:

Academic—Lars L. Hyde, Odd V. Oppheim, Hans A. Schol, Mabel Vaa-

Normal—Dagney Berg, Mabel Vaa-

Commercial—Cora Erickson, Lewis E. Ophelm.

LUMBERMEN TO CONFER.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers to Meet in Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 1.—A conference between wholesale and retail lumber dealers will be held in this city June 15 and 16 to consider the establishment of closer relations between the two branches of the trade, and if possible to adopt a code of ethics to be confirmed by the various associations.

There are several questions in controversy between the manufacturers and retail dealers, but no matter most productive of trouble is the practice of cancelling orders.

Ordinary trade features result in disputes to a minimum the adoption of a set of rules has been proposed. M. B. Nelson of Kansas City has drafted a "code of ethics" which is expected to form the basis for the coming conference.

In this code it is proposed that disputes may be amicably adjusted by reference to permanent boards of arbitration located at such points as may be necessary. Each of such boards is to be composed of two members, one selected by the wholesaler and the other by the retailer. In the event that the two are unable to agree they are to appoint a third arbitrator to act with them in securing an adjustment.

Representatives of seventy-one wholesale and retail associations covering the entire United States, will be present at the conference. The conference will follow the meeting of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, which will be held here June 15-18. On June 15 Governor Johnson of Minnesota will be a personal speaker at a banquet of the delegates.

CHEAP MEDICAL COLLEGES.

To be Attacked at Meeting of American Medical Association.

Chicago, June 1.—The annual convention of the American Medical Association opened here today with about 7,000 delegates in attendance. The first session was devoted to business, and work of a legislative character.

It was announced before the convention opened that the committee on education will present a report sharply attacking the cheap medical colleges of the country. The committee has prepared statistics by which all American medical colleges are grouped under three heads, and action will be urged against colleges whose graduates score more than 20 per cent of failures in their practice.

The first classification groups together those colleges whose graduates have averaged less than 10 per cent of failures, the second those whose alumni have averaged between 10 and 20 per cent of failures, and third those whose graduates have shown more than 20 per cent of failures.

Tomorrow the first meeting for scientific discussion will be held.

MEETING OF MILLERS.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 1.—The annual convention of the National Association of Millers of America will assemble in this city today and will continue in session all week. About 50 millers from all parts of the country are expected to attend the conference. The leaders include millers and second millers.

The convention will consider the terminal grading of grain and the most efficient methods of milling.

Eli Mattich Claims Killing of Donjonovich Was Accidental.

David Mattich Testifies That Decedent Also Had Revolver.

The state has rested its case in the murder trial of Eli Mattich, who is accused of killing Rodi Donjonovich at the Croxton mine several weeks ago, and this morning the defense began the introduction of evidence.

Rodl Donjonovich was purely accidental. He claims that while he was attempting to hit Donjonovich with the butt of his revolver the weapon was accidentally discharged and the bullet struck Donjonovich near the base of the spine, producing a wound that resulted in the latter's death.

David Mattich, who is also under indictment for the murder of Donjonovich, was the first witness called this morning. He testified that Donjonovich had a revolver in his hand when the trouble occurred in the boarding house, in fact, that all three men, EH Mattich, Donjonovich and himself were armed.

tempted to push Donjonovich from the the room when the trouble started, but Donjonovich seized him by the vest and pushed him out into the hall. The witness claimed that he heard Eli Mattich tell Donjonovich to throw away his revolver and that just as he, the witness, broke Donjonovich's hold, he heard a shot fired.

The case may not reach the jury until some time tomorrow.

SCIENTIFIC

Occupies Attention of
General Meeting.

Annual Session of American Medical Association Has Begun.

Chicago, June 2.—The first general meeting of the American Medical Association for scientific discussion was held here today. Tonight a second general meeting will be held, while the afternoon was given over largely to department meetings. At the early session today addresses of welcome were made by Governor Deneen, Health Commissioner Evans of Chicago and Dr. Henry D. Favill, president of the Chicago Medical Society. The address of Dr. Herbert L. Burrill of Boston, the president-elect, was the chief feature of the program.

Dr. Burrill's address was "A New Duty of the Medical Profession; the Education of the Public in Scientific Medicine." He said in part: "Until recently medicine has observed a silence as to its position and accomplishment that has made it unique among its sister sciences. A veil of mystery has surrounded it. Born, as medicine was, of fear, nurtured by superstition, it went through the centuries as if it had grasped the torch of science which is beginning to illuminate its way. The art of the practitioner has not progressed so rapidly as the science of medicine. Fortunately, experimental pharmacology has been at last to give us the truth, for by its findings we now

First Test of Primary
Law in That State
Being Made.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 2.—Iowa's primary law has its first trial today. In its outcome is involved the question of who shall be the Republican senator in the United States congress from this state to succeed William B. Allison. There is also involved the nomination of candidates for a dozen state offices, for electors of the state legislature, county and township places. Both sides of the senatorial contest claim victory. The Cummins claims are more expansive than the Allison claims. While the Cummins forces insist that the majority of the governor will not be less than 25,000, the management of the Allison campaign places the majority claimed for Allison at about 19,000. Each of the three candidates for the Republican nomination for governor is sanguine of the primary. It is not anticipated by Republicans that any of the nominations will have to be made by the convention. There are three candidates for governor, three for lieutenant governor and three for state railroad commissioner.

Sixty Physicians and

New York, June 2.—Physicians and representatives of fifty hospitals, charitable and municipal organizations, nurseries and diet kitchens banded themselves together at a meeting held at the department of health to co-operate with Health Commissioner Livingston in a campaign against mortality among infants this summer. Every agency known to medical and sanitary science will be employed to reduce the death rate in the next four months. Heretofore each hospital, charitable organization, diet kitchen and health department has been working by itself. The result was that the work could not be carried on systematically and there was a vast deal of unavoidable and unintentional working at cross purposes. According to the plan adopted, each borough will be divided into districts so that there can be no overlapping of territory. As many milk depots, physicians and nurses as needed will be supplied to each district. It was further decided to issue a card of instructions to mothers, which it is said, will be radically different from anything of the sort ever before sent out. The cards will be distributed by thousands. Besides giving explicit instructions on the feeding, clothing, bathing and

New York, June 2.—Fire, starting in the basement of Mrs. Mary Moore's boarding house in West Thirtieth street, early today, completely cut off the escape of Mrs. Moore's twenty boarders, and when the firemen came on, a young woman had thrown herself from the roof to the pavement, and was dead, several others were severely burned and the upper windows, front and rear, were crowded with men and women begging to be saved. The dead woman is Miss Mary Beltraine, who occupied a hall room on the top floor. Mrs. Mary Hagerthy, who was burned about the hands, face and body and overcome by smoke, is in a critical condition. The fire started in a coal bin in the cellar. As the first fire company galloped up, Miss Beltraine, in her night clothing, appeared on the roof and plunged

REVEAL ASSASSIN

Photograph of Lens Shows Features of Slayer as Clue.

Chicago, June 2.—Will the eye of a murdered human being photograph its murderer? Will the human retina retain the imprint of the murderer's countenance and reflect it after death into the detective's camera to point the finger of guilt at an unsuspected criminal? Science has said yes and no. At Alton, Ill., where a woman was murdered, the authorities are prepared to take issue with the scientists who have said "No." They have a remarkable photograph from the eye of the slain victim, which reveals clearly the visage of a bearded man with a bald head. Coroner Streper of Alton applied the photographic eye test in the case of a woman whose body was found in the Mississippi river, last Thursday. When the body was recovered it was apparent that death had ensued only a few hours before. There was no clue to the woman's identity, and every indication pointed to murder. Coroner Streper removed the crystalline lens of the woman's right eye and mounted it on a dark background. When he had completed the task the photographer was summoned into a specially prepared room and the eye lens was exposed to the camera. The negative of the picture taken was developed as speedily as possible, and both photographer and coroner were startled at the result. On the plate they could plainly trace the miniature face and head of a man. A print was made soon afterward and a human face, bearded, stood out in the picture of the eye. Coroner Streper supplied detectives with copies of the photograph and sent them to look for a man whose face corresponds with the picture taken from the retina of the dead woman's eyes.

QUESTIONS

Methodist Conference Ad-

Undiscussed.

Amusements and Time
Not Taken Up.

Baltimore, June 2.—The Methodist Episcopal general conference, during the last day of its sessions, did many things, but it will doubtless be much discussed for the things it did not do. Of these two have been looked forward to as of much importance. The amusements and the matter of a time-limit on pastorates. Neither was permitted to come before the conference for discussion. Hence the much talked of Paragraph 248 stands as it has been, without the elimination of "dancing" and the other word suggested in the Episcopal address, and pastors may be returned to their charges year after year. Reports and other business were rushed through the conference at both morning and afternoon sessions, with the greatest dispatch. There was little discussion of most of the questions. Hereafter, the conference decided, Methodist Episcopal bishops will be relieved of the duty of passing upon charges of heresy, which may be laid against professors in the theological seminaries. These complaints, if they come to the bishops, will in the future be turned over to the annual conference, of which the accused is a member, if he be a minister, and if layman, to the annual conference of the church to which he belongs. Change in Probation. A report received carefully considered before it finally was adopted was one doing away with the six months' probation system. Under the new rule, persons may be received into the church as soon as they are recommended by the official board, or by the class leaders and stewards' meeting.

Buffalo, June 2.—The American and Canadian sections of the International waterways commission began an important joint session here today. This was done under the terms of the new treaty, which calls for a revision of the boundary line between the United States and Canada."

St. Louis, June 2.—June is to be a month of frequent storm periods, according to the prediction of Rev. Ira R. Hicks, the St. Louis weather prophet. The periods, according to Rev. Mr. Hicks, will occur from June 4 to 9, 12 to 14, 15 to 19, 22 to 24 and the 27 to July 2. "The reactionary storm of the last May period will disappear in the east about June 1," says the Hicks prophecy, "leaving behind the two or three days of fair, cooler weather. Waterbury, Conn., June 2.—Congressman George L. Incorporated in the statement is a letter which declares that two weeks before the report of the committee denouncing Mr. Lilley was made, Mr. Lilley expressed regret that for Lilley and endeavored to effect an agreement whereby the matter under investigation by the committee might be compromised. The letter in which this allegation is made is signed "E. W. Reisinger, M. The letter adds that when the proposition of a compromise was carried to Mr. Lilley by Dr. E. W. Reisinger, the congressman replied that he would rather die than withdraw

SAYS SLEEP IS

Edison Conducts Test
Limiting Men to Four Hours Slumber.

New York, June 2.—After all, sleep is only a habit; there is nothing to prove that men really need it. Thomas A. Edison said yesterday. "Men first learned to sleep because when darkness came they had nothing else to do. Through the ages their descendants, doing likewise, made sleep a custom—a matter of course. But if men had always lived in a land of perpetual light and sunshine, I don't suppose we would sleep at all." The inventor backed up the idea by telling of a practical test. It was not his own ability to live with little sleep. As is well known, Mr. Edison limits himself to four or five hours' sleep in the twenty-four. Nor was it the case of his wife, which he mentioned incidentally. Mrs. Edison, he said, sleeps only five hours in a night, and the result seems to agree with her. The test he described involved nearly one hundred men of average physique in the laboratory. "The test was made," Mr. Edison said, "while I was experimenting with my assistants at Menlo Park. I limited each man to four hours' sleep in the twenty-four. They kept it up for two years. It did not seem to hurt them. "Were they aided by special diet or treatment to make up for the loss of sleep?" was asked. "No, except there were four meals a day, instead of three. We had breakfast, dinner and supper in the daytime, as usual, and an extra supper at midnight. There was nothing peculiar about the food. The meal consisted of the meats, vegetables, bread and the rest that ordinary people eat."

LABOR WINS
A VICTORY

In Decision of Montana
Supreme Court Dissolving Injunction.

Had Been Restrained
From Interfering With Fruit Firm.

Helena, Mont., June 2.—The supreme court of Montana yesterday handed down a decision dissolving an injunction issued by the district court of Yellowstone county, restraining the Montana Federation of Labor and others from interfering with the business of Lindsay & Co., a wholesale fruit firm of Helena, which maintains a branch house in Billings.

The opinion of the supreme court was unanimous and is regarded by labor leaders as a notable victory for, they declare, it will mark the end of anti-boycott injunctions in Montana, so far as the state courts are concerned.

The Federation of Labor had spread broadcast a circular declaring the fruit firm "unfair," and urging all union labor sympathizers to withhold from Lindsay & Co. their patronage. The district court of Yellowstone county enjoined the federation from interfering with the business of the firm, whereupon an appeal was taken to the supreme court.

The supreme court holds that the injunction could not be justified by any possible statement of facts, and that it is not unlawful for labor unions to withdraw their patronage from the firm, as it had no property right in its trade.

The opinion further declares that if an individual, acting alone, has a certain right, he does not lose that right merely by acting with others having similar rights as individuals. The opinion concludes with the statement that labor unions may not be enjoined from instituting and continuing a boycott, so long as the means employed to make it effective are not in themselves illegal.

a New Loan May be Issued.

Rate of Discount Shows
ful There.

St. Petersburg, June 2.—According to the Russ. Finance Minister Kokovsov has sent a letter to the cabinet proposing the immediate issue of an internal loan of $100,000,000, to be fifty million to the deficit in the budget for 1908, $8,000,000 to famine relief, and $30,000,000 to the ministers of war and marine, principally for the augmentation of munitions of war and military stores. This new loan, the minister says, is advisable before the ratification of the budget, which provides for a number of large credits to be immediately available and which threaten to deplete the treasury stock of cash. The approval of the duma would have to be obtained. It has not yet been decided whether the loan is to be realized through a bank syndicate, or by popular subscription. The recent reduction in the rate of discount shows that money is fairly plentiful in Russia. The arguments brought forward by M. Kokovsov are strengthened by the showing of the stock market. Government securities have risen steadily for several months past, and are now higher than they ever have been since the war. Russian imperial bonds, which in July of 1907 were quoted at 80, are now 78%; the previous high price was 77%. In October 1906, fives are now quoted at 88.

MORE MEN ARE NEEDED

Shortage of Eligibles for Police and Fire Departments.

Civil Service Examinations Will be Held Next Monday.

Civil service examinations for applicants to positions on the police and fire department forces will be held in the city council chamber at the city hall next Monday. Only about half the desired number of applications for jobs as firemen have been made. The police force is faring better, twenty-one applicants having put in an appearance. Thursday will be the last day for filing applications.

There is a shortage in both the police and fire departments just now. The list of eligibles has been exhausted, and applicants for jobs who have not yet taken the examinations, but who will be on hand next Monday, are serving as substitutes. There are many more of these cases in the fire department than with the police. As soon as the men pass the examinations they will be given permanent positions, with substantial increases in salary.

The civil service board thought little difficult would be experienced in getting a long list of applicants, in view of the fact that jobs are not very plentiful just now. Spring work is opening up, however, and the prospect that there will be more openings henceforth in many lines of work. This may be holding some men back who otherwise might decide to try their luck with the civil service.

The fire department has been short on its list of eligibles for some time past. Fifteen applicants for examinations have appeared so far, when at least thirty are needed. Unless more appear between now and Thursday, the board will have to employ heroic measures to fill out the list. The job of fireman evidently doesn't appear so attractive as other lines of employment open to the class of men who usually are to be found in positions of this kind.

BUSINESS IS REORGANIZED

Waite Hat Company Replaces the Blake & Waite Company.

On June 1 the Waite Hat company began business as successors to the Blake & Waite company, wholesale hat and cap dealers. The Blake & Waite company has for several months been reducing its stock of merchandise with this change in mind. In order that the new concern may start with an entirely new stock of goods, arrangements have been made whereby the remainder of the Blake & Waite company's stock of merchandise will be disposed of by the Waite Hat company and F. A. Patrick & Co. working together. As soon as the remainder of the merchandise is disposed of, and the accounts collected, the Blake & Waite company will cease existence. The obligations of the Blake & Waite company are being paid in full.

The officers of the Blake & Waite company are: George S. Sline, president; F. A. Patrick, vice president; A. M. Marshall, treasurer, and Daniel Waite, secretary. These gentlemen, with W. H. Blake, form the directory of the company and are the principal stockholders. Daniel Waite is the president and manager of the new corporation, and it is understood that he is the principal owner.

The Waite Hat company starts with an entirely new stock of goods. They will occupy the building formerly occupied by the Blake & Waite company.

MAY A MONTH OF HEAVY RAINS

Excessive Precipitation Recorded With Average Temperature.

The monthly meteorological summary, issued by Observer H. W. Richardson of the United States weather bureau, shows an average temperature for the month of May 2, with 25 degrees, and a precipitation of 4.8 inches. The highest temperature was 81 degrees, and the lowest was 34 degrees. The highest precipitation was 1.2 inches, and the lowest was 0.1 inches.

The prevailing direction of the wind was northeast and the total movement was 11,794 miles, with an average velocity of 18.8 miles. The maximum velocity was 28 miles per hour from the northeast, May 20. There were eight clear days in the month, ten partly cloudy and thirteen cloudy. On thirteen days, 10 inch or more precipitation occurred. The total precipitation for the month was 4.8 inches, which is 1.2 inches above the normal for the month for thirty-eight years, which was 3.4 inches.

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR MILITIA

Duluth and Range Companies Will Leave June 14.

The Great Northern will provide a special train to haul the Duluth and range militia companies from Duluth to the Twin Cities, when they go to Lake City this month for their summer camp. The special will leave Duluth the night of June 14.

Companies A, C and E from Duluth will require six coaches and three baggage cars, and Company F from Eveleth and Company M from Hibbing will require a baggage car and two coaches. They will come to Duluth, and all the cars will here be made up into a single train of four baggage cars and eight coaches. There will also be the Third regiment band from Duluth.

ROOSEVELT LETTER NOT TO BE PUBLISHED.

Washington, June 2.—Because President Roosevelt's latest declaration that "no friend of mine" will continue efforts to renominiate the president, written to one of West Virginia's delegates to the Chicago convention, for the specific purpose of heading off what appeared to be a united effort among certain delegates from that state to revive the Roosevelt sentiment, has secured the purpose for which it was written, the general publication of the letter is regarded as not expedient or desirable. More than this, the president's friends, echoing his sentiments, say that the president has expressed himself to the country on this subject in terms which admit of no uncertainty. For this reason, it is explained, that no publicity will be given the letter to the president's personal friend in West Virginia. That the massive has accomplished the purpose for which it was written is said to be the fact.

RESULTS ARE STILL IN DOUBT

Returns From the Contest in Oregon Slow in Coming in.

Portland, Or., June 2.—Complete returns from yesterday's election in Multnomah county from twenty-seven precincts gave C. C. Chapman, Republican, a lead of twenty-seven over Chamberlain, Democrat. These figures apparently upset estimates showing Chamberlain's victory. When the count indicated his plurality in Multnomah county to be about 1,000.

Returns from interior points are coming in slowly and show the candidates running a close race with "statement No. 1," which a large number of candidates for the legislature have announced allegiance, and which carries with it a promise of the legislature to elect, to vote for the candidate for United States senator, who receives the largest popular vote at the polls in a regular election. In other words, the regular house of representatives is chosen by the people and is confirmed by the legislature.

There is a hard fought issue in twenty-nine counties, and while the tally clerk cannot give figures of a definite character, the indications are that a large majority of the counties are in favor of the Republican ticket. Women suffrage has probably been decided. No final count can be made at this time on other initiative and referendum issues.

SENSATIONAL DEVELOPMENTS

May be Possible in the Killing of Artist Steinheil.

Paris, June 2.—In spite of the affirmations of the police, the sensational affair belongs in the category of vulgar crimes, all the amateur detectives of Paris are advancing fantastic theories to account for the strangling to death of Adolphe Steinheil and Madame Japy, his mother-in-law, in St. Germain street last Sunday morning, and many of the Parisian newspapers are pandering to the French love of romantic sensationalism by persisting in their intimations that the crime is shrouded in deep mystery. They emphasize particularly the conduct of the man servant Coulaud in not descending from his quarters at the top of the house when he heard unfamiliar sounds below him and the failure to discover the foot prints of the assassins outside the house, although the ground was soft from recent rains.

The absence of any evidence of a struggle, the strange postures in which the bodies were found, Madame Steinheil's insignificant injuries and her retention of her consciousness, this fact emphasizes the belief that the perpetrators of the deed were professional criminals. There were no evidences of the use of chloroform or any other anaesthetic.

MAY VETO AMENDMENT

Mayor Expected to Use Prerogative on Saloon Ordinance.

Aldermen Tessman and Shartel Explain the Change Made.

Mayor Haven, it is believed, will veto Alderman Trevillion's amendment to the liquor ordinance, adopted at the meeting of the council last night, by a vote of 9 to 7. The mayor would not commit himself this morning when asked regarding the matter.

"My decision will be announced when the proper time arrives," said Mayor Haven. "I do not care to say either yes or no to the proposition just now."

It seems to be a forgone conclusion that he will veto the measure, however.

Aldermen Tessman and Shartel, this morning, claimed that the issue had not been presented in a proper light. "We have never opposed law enforcement," said Mr. Shartel. "I do not think, however, that a man should be fined, and also have his business taken away, for one violation of the law. The fine should be sufficient. If he makes a practice of violating the law, that is different. Often a bartender will enter a saloon on Sunday to get a drink for himself or his friends, and against the order of the proprietor. It would not be fair to make that proprietor lose his property on that account, although he can fine for it."

"The council does not lose its right to revoke a license by this amendment," said Mr. Tessman. "It gives the council the right to pass on such cases for itself. The old council that drafted this ordinance had no right to be the hand of all future councils. The amendment makes the ordinance conform exactly with the state law, which is that no license shall be granted to any person who has, within one year, knowingly violated any law or ordinance relating to the sale of liquor, or to the conduct or drinking places, or any of the conditions of his license."

"The ordinance formerly read that no license should be granted to any person or persons in whose place of business any violation of the law relating to the sale of intoxicating liquors shall have occurred within one year, or who had been applicant or employee thereof shall have been convicted."

Wireless Telegraphy Success.

The success and growth of the wireless telegraphy system marks another step in the progress of science. Less than a score of years ago the idea was a mere dream. Now it is a reality. Successful stations in commission. The success and growth of the great modern system of wireless telegraphy has been due to its ability to cure the defects of the old system. It is quick, it is reliable, it is economical, it is safe, it is convenient, it is efficient. It is the only system that can be used in any weather, in any season, in any part of the world. It is the only system that can be used in any part of the world. It is the only system that can be used in any part of the world.

GETS THIRTY DAYS.

Maud Chitty Suspected of Having Robbed Phillip White.

Maud Chitty appeared in municipal court this morning on the charge of being a common prostitute. She has been arrested several times. In the present instance, Phillip White claimed she had robbed him of $70 in a Bowery lodging house, but the witness stand, this morning, he testified that he was drunk at the time, and was not positive the woman had robbed him. She was sentenced to thirty days in jail, with an alternative of a $25 fine.

BURGLARS IN CELLAR.

Tramps Get Large Supply of Edibles From M. Jacob.

Last night burglars entered the cellar of the residence of M. Jacob, eighth avenue west and Huntington street, and stole a large quantity of food and other articles.

They carried away half a case of beer, several gallons of wine, a brick of butter, a quantity of cheese, preserves, potatoes, bread, cakes and jellies of several kinds. The cellar window had been left open over night. The work is thought to have been done by tramps.

PRICE OF STEEL BARS IS CUT $4 PER TON.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 2.—A cut of $4 a ton in bar steel went into effect today. A rumor that such a cut was authorized at a meeting of a committee of the bar steel manufacturers in New York yesterday, was confirmed by John B. Scott, manager of the Carnegie Steel company here, today. The new price goes into effect at once, but will effect only manufacturers' stock. The cut is based upon the Pittsburgh rate of $1.50 per hundred pounds. The new price is $1.40 per hundred.

THE JUNE WHITE SALE NOW IN PROGRESS.

They lost everything. Father and daughter walk to neighbors scantily clad. Deer River, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—News from the Bigfork country is that the store and dwelling of Frank L. Vance was burned to the ground a few days ago, the fire starting late at night either from a bolt of lightning or from a defective chimney. The loss was between $3,000 and $10,000. The flames were discovered at 11 o'clock, after all were in bed, and they had gained such headway that saving the building was impossible. There were four men working at the place and all began at once to save goods from the store and lodge. After carrying the stock and household furniture to the neighbors, the men turned up including the piano and the family's clothing. Mr. Vance had to get to Wirt in his bare feet, and his daughter in her night clothes.

ALARM OF FIRE CAUSES THE DEATH OF AN ACTOR.

Cleveland, June 2.—Eugene Jepson, aged 50, of New York, leading man in a vaudeville sketch at Keith's theater, dropped dead of heart disease in his dressing room yesterday afternoon when an alarm of fire sounded. No one was injured among the audience, while the orchestra continued playing, while the orchestra continued playing, while the orchestra continued playing.

Three men drowned near Mason city, Iowa. Mason City, Iowa, June 2.—Three men were drowned in this vicinity yesterday, one, B. W. Morton, while trying to swim Lime river on a horse, and two, Edward and William Maurer, while rocking the boat.

B. W. Morton met his death while trying to catch a stray horse. The animal crossed Lime river, and Morton mounted his horse and started after it. In midstream he became entangled in the harness, and while he was trying to loosen himself, a kick from his horse stunned him and he was dropped. All the bodies were recovered.

ASHLAND SALOON SCANDAL ENDS IN CUSHMAN'S FINE.

Ashland, Wis., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The scandal over the Hoo Hoo saloon which resulted in the arrest of S. M. Cushman, the proprietor, several months ago after a sensational campaign against vice, and his subsequent indictment came to a speedy termination yesterday when his case was brought to trial before Judge Belden, who came from Racine to preside. The county attorney nolleed the indictment on the charge of being an disorderly housekeeper and Cushman was allowed to plead guilty to a fine for being an inmate of such a place. He was let off with a fine of $100 and the payment of $140.00 to the city. He is now running a saloon at Nashville, Tenn.

DIES IN THE ROAD.

Frazee, Minn., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some children returning along the road from school in Hight of Land township came across the body of John Eggers, a well known old time citizen, lying dead. Mr. Eggers had started from his home for the corner field when he was overcome with heart failure.

FIND SKELETON NEAR ALLONEZ.

A skeleton, supposed to be that of George Stipson, was found yesterday near the scale house at the Allonez ore docks by two brothers named Carlson, who live in a shack a short distance from the scale house. Stipson disappeared about two years ago and was last seen going in the direction where the body was found. Previous to his disappearance Stipson is said to have acted in an irrational manner. An examination of the skeleton disclosed that the skull had been fractured. The authorities will investigate the matter.

Keenan Will Stand Trial.

WEST END NEWS IS REFUSED MORE ROOMS A LICENSE PROPOSED

Council Decides That Majestic Theater is Undesirable Resort.

Complaints Made That Young Girls Spent Night There.

The Majestic theater license was turned down by the council last evening. There was quite an argument over the application for the renewal of the license. Opposition had sprung up on the ground that the place was a resort for tough characters of both sexes. Alderman Trevillion said the license should be renewed.

"I have known Mr. Goldfish for a good many years," he declared. "In all that time I have learned nothing about him that is not perfectly fair and honorable. He is an honest, decent man, trying to make his living in an honest, decent way, and the same has held true of him ever since he has been in Duluth. He formerly resided on Lake avenue, and I know well. Merely because his name happens to be Goldfish there are some people who would like to see him forced out of business. It is not just or right. There is no reason for their stand."

"The complaint is made that disorderly youths hang about in front of the place, making remarks at people as they pass by. The same holds true of any of the downtown theaters, I dare say. The management is not responsible for the men who happen to be standing in front of the building. This is liable to occur anywhere."

Alderman McKnight was opposed to renewing the license to the present management.

"I am willing to vote for renewal of the license if a different management, capable of running the place, as it should be run, is put in," he said. "So far as I am able to learn, there are no objections because of the class of pictures shown in the theater. I understand they are just as decent as those shown in any of the downtown houses. The trouble is that the place is a hangout for young toughs. Rowdies loaf around the place and they have gotten beyond the control of the management. All the tough sports of the West end of both sexes congregate there. The question of nationality does not enter into the matter at all, as Mr. Trevillion has hinted it might. There is no racial prejudice, or any other kind of prejudice, connected with the question. It is simply that the theater is made a resort for toughs."

Alderman Moore said West end parents had gone to him again and again with complaints against the place, asking that it be closed. He said there was one girl in the refractory because of her actions at the theater. She stayed in the place all night with several men, he declared, and was found there the next morning.

"The people in the West end have a right to hear and consider the question of this kind," concluded Mr. Moore.

Alderman Moore said it was a question of morals, and that this was of more importance than property interests. It was the tough sports of the majority of the aldermen favored refusing the license renewal, and when the matter was put to a vote the council, 10-4, refused to turn down the application.

The new school is to go up on the site of the old one and will be built this summer.

Residents of the Horace Mann district feel that they are entitled to an eight-room building and that the board would be entirely justified in erecting it. They are very anxious to get the new school, as the building in use now is looked upon as rather dangerous. It is an old building and was moved to its present location from another part of the city.

The board of education has decided to replace the present frame Horace Mann school with a new, modern brick structure, but the question of the size has not been determined yet. It probably will be settled at the meeting of the board of education Friday evening.

At first the board thought of erecting a twelve-room building, but at the next meeting it was decided that one containing six rooms, with provisions for enlarging it when that became necessary, would be ample. But now the committee on buildings and grounds, of the board, is convinced that an eight-room building could be erected almost as cheaply and is unnecessary. They can be put down as soon as the board of education meets.

A six-room school would require quite as elaborate a heating plant and the cost of maintaining it would be as great, as for a school containing two more rooms.

Residents of the Horace Mann district feel that they are entitled to an eight-room building and that the board would be entirely justified in erecting it. They are very anxious to get the new school, as the building in use now is looked upon as rather dangerous. It is an old building and was moved to its present location from another part of the city.

CLAIMS PURSE WAS SNATCHED

Mrs. Victor Carlson Makes Complaint to the Police.

Mrs. Victor Carlson of Albion complained to the police about 9 o'clock last evening that she had had her pocket book snatched from her on Superior street, between Lake avenue and First avenue west.

She claimed that her pocket book contained $21 in cash, as well as several papers of value. Whether the man who snatched her purse, was black or white, she was not able to say, for he had his hat pulled down over his eyes and had made his get-away so quickly between two buildings in the lower side of the street, that she was unable to get a good look at him, she claims.

Mrs. Carlson declares that she came to Duluth yesterday morning to obtain doctor's advice and drugs for her small son who is ill at home. She claimed that she had been expecting her purse to be snatched from her by the medicine or to see a doctor.

The police are unable to believe the woman's story, as they say they know her well, and claim that her purse is a real estate fund by the name of Dr. Buckley, for the recreation of the city. At the time when she says that she was relieved of her purse, the streets were too quiet and there was such disturbance to have occurred without having been noticed.

necessity for fresh air for babies, the card will give the location of the milk depots in each district, the recreation centers, recreation piers, hospitals and all other agencies for the assistance of the mother.

The campaign of education is to begin at once. More than eighty nurses will be employed, who will have every home in the city where there has been a birth since April 1, and begin instructing the mothers in their methods of child care.

The nurses in each district will learn to know the mothers and keep in such close touch with them that the moment a baby becomes ill, they will be ready to give the best treatment known for its recovery.

The number of births in New York each summer is about 25,000, so that eighty nurses will have their hands full.

know what really follows when a drug is given.

At present I believe that physicians are too conventional in their methods of treating disease. They have not paid sufficient attention to the alleviation of the suffering that accompanies some of the incurable maladies.

Need Co-operation of Public.

"We must not be blind to the fact that our scope of action is limited. Problems depends in great measure on the co-operation of the public. We must have intelligent co-operation to make our work as effective as may be.

Dr. Durrell advocated that in educating the public in sanitation, those in the community who are in positions of responsibility should be first educated. He also urged that extensive publicity be given in all questions of hygiene.

The medical profession, and many of the public, are afraid of the press. Whether this position on the part of the public is justified or not need not be discussed. I never had occasion to appeal to the press for assistance and co-operation in any public measure without receiving hearty but, at times to my mind, indiscreet assistance. Newspapers will publish what they think the public wants to know, but not what we think the public ought to know. They assume, quite properly, the right of decision. The greater power that we can have to diffuse information is the power of the press. Let us be frank with it and I believe that it will almost invariably be honest with us."

DRESS-MAKERS

The nervous strain through which dressmakers have to pass at certain seasons of the year seems almost beyond endurance, and frequently brings on nervous prostration, fainting spells, dizziness, sleeplessness and a general breaking down of the feminine system, until life seems altogether miserable.

For all overworked women there is one tried and true remedy.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

restores the feminine system to a strong, healthy, normal condition.

Mrs. Ella Griffin, of Park St. Canton, N. Y., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was troubled for three years with female weakness, backache, pains in my side, and headaches. I was most miserable and discouraged, for doctors gave me no relief. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought back my health and made me feel better than ever before."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

TWO MORE AWARDS ARE ACCEPTED

Mrs. Barker and A. D. Thomson Execute Deeds to County.

Warrants were drawn on the county treasurer yesterday for $50,462.49, in favor of Mrs. Ellen Barker, and $23,223.44, in favor of A. D. Thomson, in exchange for warranty deeds to the respective properties sought by the county, under condemnation proceedings for courthouse properties. The Barker property, to which the county now holds an absolute deed, is described as lots 31 and 32, block 23, Third division, and the Thomson property is described as lots 35 and 37, same block.

The county has now acquired warranty deeds to all the properties but that of Alexander McDougall, who has given notice of an appeal from the award of the appraisers, and the A. M. Miller property on the upper side of Second street, between Fourth and Fifth avenues west. It is expected that the deed to the Miller property will be executed to the county when Mrs. Miller returns from her trip in Europe.

The work of wrecking the buildings on the site acquired by the county is progressing rapidly, and it is expected that excavation work for the foundations will begin about the middle of this month.

MUST WEAR PLAIN CLOTHES.

Fond du Lac, Wis., June 2.—The pupils in the eighth grade at Washington school must wear their ordinary clothes on the closing day of school if they wish to receive diplomas on that day. Miss Minnie S. Perkins, assistant principal of the school, informed her pupils that vanity and education did not go together, and if any of them put on their Sunday suits or dresses they will be obliged to call at her back door on the following morning to get a certificate.

GOVERNORS' CONFERENCE

Was Not Politics Uppermost in Minds of Majority?

Mrs. John A. Logan Thinks That Much Good May Result.

By Mrs. John A. Logan.

Washington, June 2.—The American people are drifting into a disposition to centralize power. During the year 1908 there has been a continuous succession of conventions and conferences held in the city of Washington.

It is curious to note the fruitfulness of men's minds for bringing persons of importance together, ostensibly to confer on great national affairs but which, when properly analyzed, are a sort of preliminary conference on political affairs. They seem to feel that they cannot commit themselves to the candidacy of any person for the various elective offices which involves in the coming campaign until they have met in Washington and conferred together. No president in the past has been so important to address all kinds of organizations of men and women on subjects that surely the president of the United States has no time to consider. One would think that President Roosevelt would be supremely wearied with the effort to force upon him the consideration of all these various schemes that are really the outgrowth of the ambitions of some individual, and with the development of which the president should not be asked to interest himself, as there are greater and more important problems that should occupy the time and strength of the president of the United States.

The result of these conferences to discuss plans for the conservation of the natural resources of the United States, brought together probably the ablest minds in the nation, but the question arises as to whether politics was not foremost in the minds of the majority of them.

Congress is not always wise, but we must admit that there are prerogatives that belong exclusively to congress, and I should be sorry to feel that there were not able men in congress who appreciate the extravagance and wastefulness of the nation, and that they are conscientious enough to take such steps as practical to carry out such measures as would tend to greater economy and wiser use of our agricultural, mineral and other resources.

Every congress has had before it important legislation in the interest of river, harbor and canal improvements, and many millions have been expended through appropriation by congress for the protection and improvement of our waterways.

Congressional committees on mines and mining, on agriculture and the various sources of wealth have from time to time, seriously considered these interests, and while they may not always have acted with the wisdom and far-sightedness that probably they should, at the same time one would not like to be considered disloyal because suggesting that the probabilities are there can be but few new suggestions made by the present members of the conference, and that, in summing up the results, more will have been accomplished from a political standpoint than from providing ways and means for inaugurating the economy which is set forth in the call for the conference.

Perhaps this wrong impression in regard to the conference, but one cannot fail to discover the genuine political acumen behind the movement. All should hope that some wise men may suggest something new and valuable that may be utilized in the next congress, but I cannot help feeling that if the conference had been postponed until after the election, very many more would have been accomplished and fewer distractions would have interrupted the deliberations of this body.

I have in mind a great conference of governors that did very much during the Civil war toward solving the momentous questions of slavery, and that, in summing up the results, more will have been accomplished from a political standpoint than from providing ways and means for inaugurating the economy which is set forth in the call for the conference.

However, this first conference of recent times may be the beginning of a movement that will eventually result in great benefit to the nation. If the governors of all the states assemble at least once every four years, there may result a gradual centralizing of effort and an aim in a general direction which would mean much.

While states in different parts of the country require individual regulation by important national questions are of paramount interest to all. Uniform laws are needed to solve many important questions and when the governors have the opportunity of talking over these questions, they have taken a step in the right direction.

There will, of course, always be more or less of politics connected with such a gathering. There are politics in every assembly of statesmen. With politics relegated to secondary position, and the questions previously agreed upon for consideration of primary importance, the conference of governors will be a success. It will stir up an interest in every state of the Union and that interest will live until results are obtained.

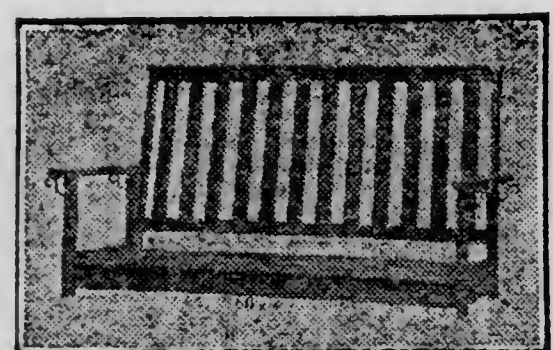

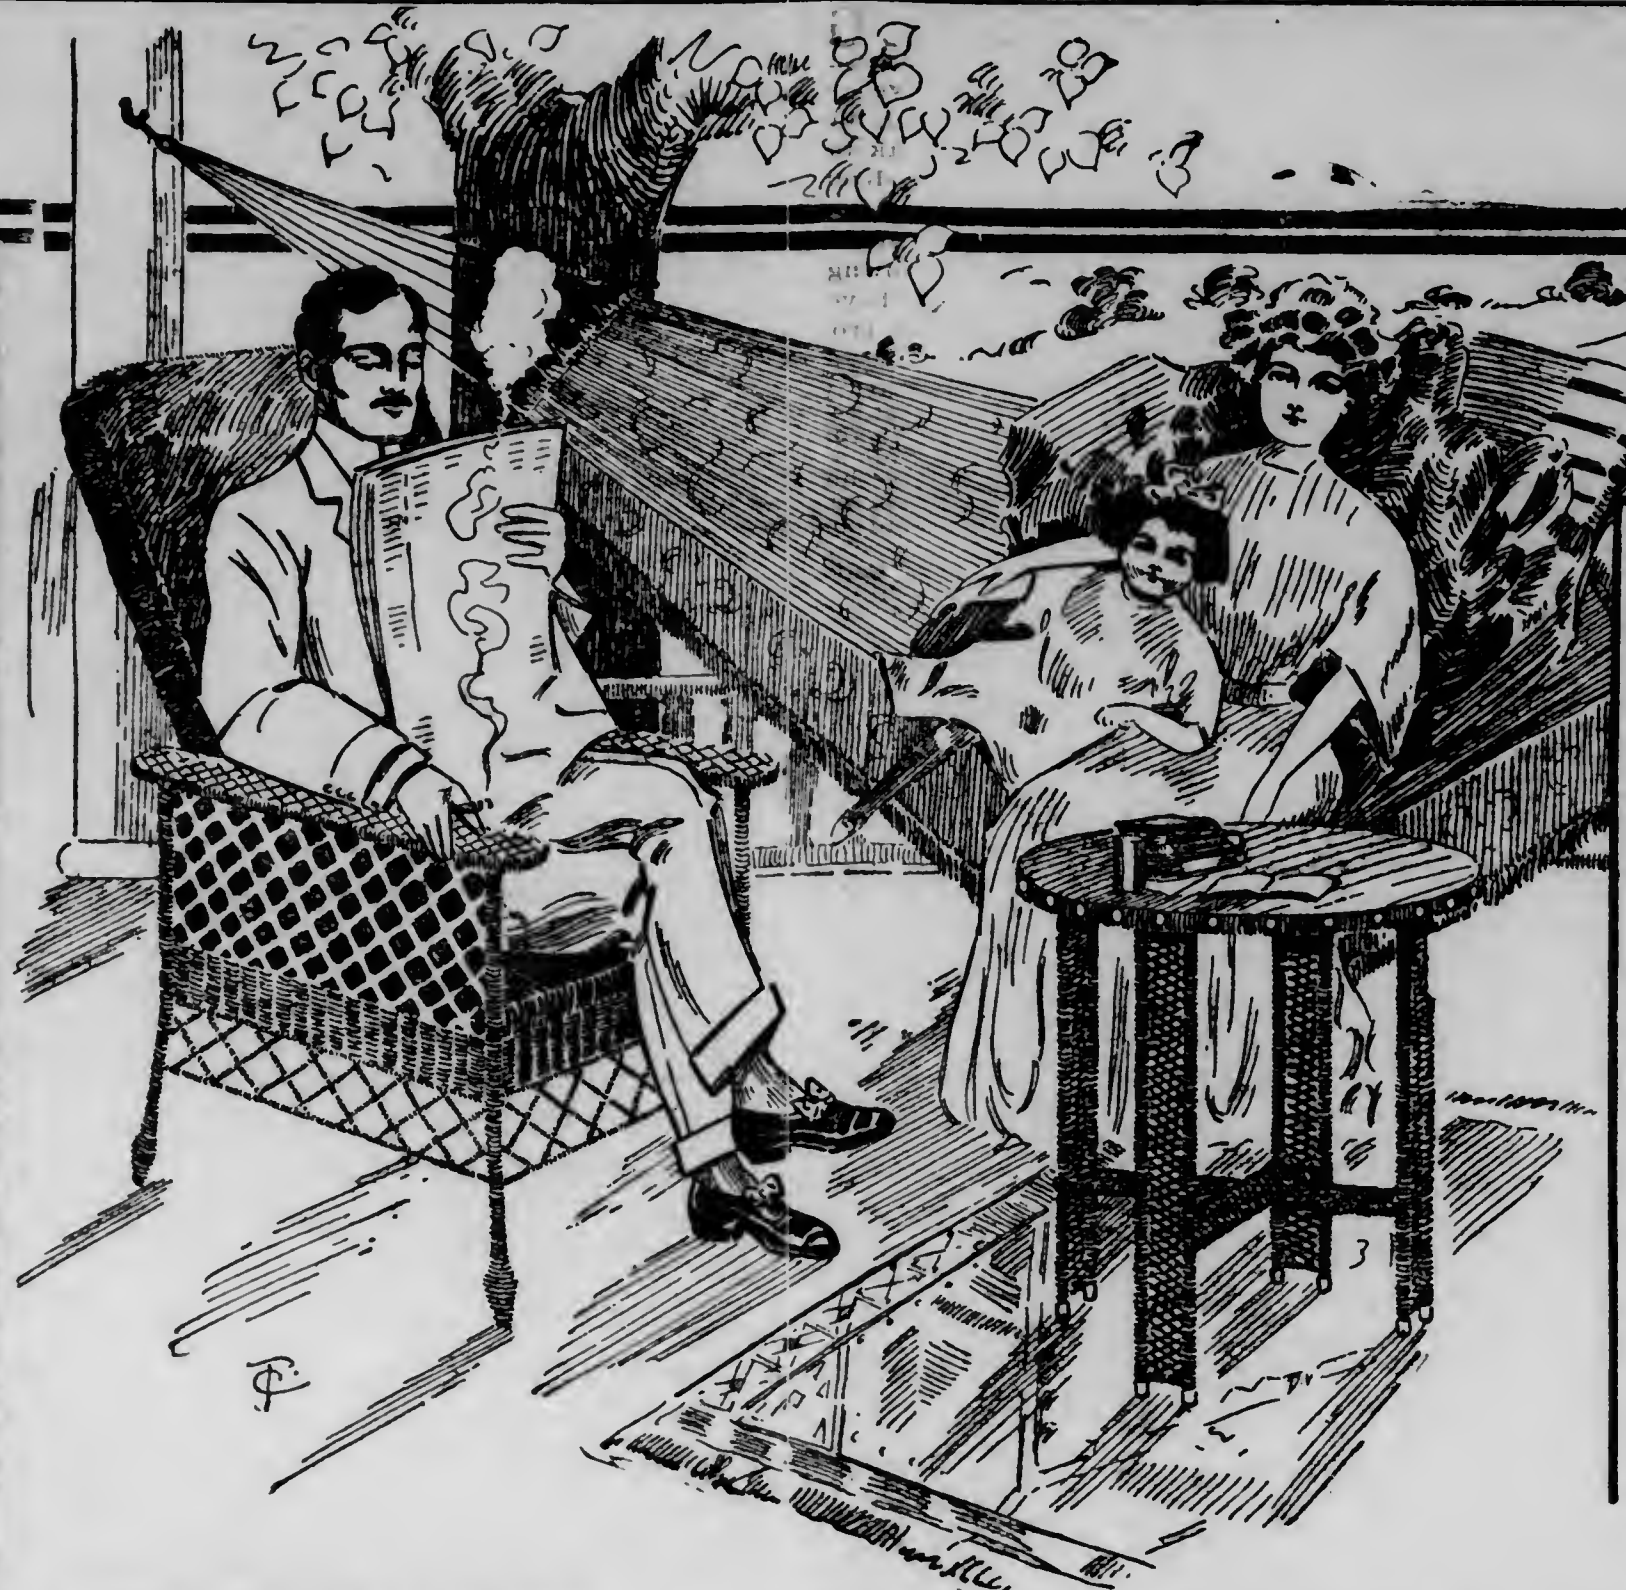

The social season is on the wane. The season of congress has ended and Washington will become quiet.

There has been great social activity throughout this season. The season has been one of gaiety. There has been little discussion of the families of statesmen as last year, or the year before. This is presidential year and there will be plenty of excitement until after election. There will be conferences, plenty of formal dinners, and general activity until the next president is selected.

Ordinarily, the end of the congressional season quite insensitively Washington because of the abrupt change from activity to dullness. Fortunately the arrival of a presidential year breaks up this monotony.

FATHER WREAKS VENGEANCE
Dresses Down Circus Man Who Enticed Away His Daughter.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., June 2.—After traveling forty miles on foot in search of his daughter, William Offner of Ladysmith, found her at Chetek, and learning that one of the employees of a circus, which was exhibiting there, had enticed her from her home, he started out to enforce the unwritten law. Offner found his man at the tent and he then proceeded to belabor him with his fist until officers interfered. Burroughs, the alleged enticer, was arrested and taken to Ladysmith for trial. Offner was released by the Chetek officers as sentiment was in his favor.

BABY BOY HAD ITCHING HUMOR

Which Broke Out in Different Places —Nothing Would Help Him—
Mother Almost in Despair—Skin Quickly Healed Without Scar and Trouble Has Never Returned

SINCE USING CUTICURA MOTHER GIVES IT PRAISE

"Several months ago, my little boy, now two and a half years old, began to break out with itching sores. I began to doctor him, and as soon as I got them healed up, they would break out in another place. I was almost in despair. I could not get anything that would help him. One evening I read a testimonial from a lady who had cured her little boy with Cuticura. I began to use the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and after using them three times, the sores commenced to heal. He is now well, and not a scar is left on his body. They have never returned nor left him with bad blood, as one could think of. Cuticura Remedies are the best I have ever tried, and they are surely great. I shall always have them in the house, and shall highly recommend them to any one who is suffering likewise. I cannot give them too much praise. Mrs. William Gedding, 1027 Washington St., Attica, Ind., July 22, 1907."

ITCHING TORMENTS

From little patches of eczema, tetter, milk crust, psoriasis, etc., on the skin, scalp, or hands of infants, children, or adults are instantly relieved and speedily cured, in the majority of cases, by warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, assisted, when necessary, by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent. Cuticura Remedies are guaranteed absolutely pure.

Cuticura Soap (25c) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c) to Purify the Blood. Each bottle has full directions for use. Sold everywhere. Cuticura Remedies are guaranteed absolutely pure.

MENAGARIE NOW OPEN FOR SEASON

Deer and Moose Come From Woods to Sport About City.

According to all the reports deer must be numerous about the city this summer. Early this morning the crew on a Lake-side car saw a deer near Superior street just west of the A. J. Threlkeld house. The animal was within about 100 feet of the animal before it turned and ran into the brush.

A deer and fawn were reported to have been seen at 104th Park, within the past few days and, yesterday, a moose was said to have invaded the backyard of James Drevitt, at 1215 East Sixth street. The animal is said to have become entangled in the barbed wire fence and Mr. Drevitt had to cut the wire to release it. The animal was shot, but returned to the vicinity shortly afterward. When driven away it disappeared in the direction of Chester creek.

All that is needed now is a good bear story from the East. The Eastern papers will have numerous comments about the wilds of Duluth.

SENATOR GORE HOPES TO RECOVER EYESIGHT.

Washington, June 2.—In the hope that he may recover his eyesight, Thomas P. Gore, the blind senator from Oklahoma, entered upon a course of treatment at the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat hospital in this city under the care of Dr. William Holland Wilmer. Senator Gore lost his sight in childhood but slight hope is held out by the physicians as to the benefit to be derived at this late day.

CURED TO STAY CURED

How a Duluth Citizen Found Complete Freedom From Kidney Troubles.

If you suffer from backache—From urinary disorders—From any disease of the kidneys, Be cured to stay cured. Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.

Duluth people testify:

Here's one case of it: L. P. Schneider, butcher at McAuley's Washington market, and living at 210 West Fourteenth avenue, Duluth, Minn., says: "A statement I made in 1898, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, and which has been published in the local papers, very mildly expresses my opinion of that remedy. After suffering for a long time with pain through the back and loins, which made it almost impossible for me to stoop and lift anything without torture, and after using various medical cures and treatments without effect, Doan's Kidney Pills cured me, and the lapse of six years has proved that the cure has been permanent. I suffered the worst tortures of kidney trouble. Often the pain felt as if a sharp knife were piercing me. At night, although tired out, I could not rest or lie in one position without becoming sore all over. The kidney secretions were irregular and contained a heavy sediment. Since I found this sure cure I have time after time advised others to use Doan's Kidney Pills, and I never miss an opportunity to speak well of them."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-McBirney Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ANTI LID FORCES WIN VICTORY IN THE COUNCIL

Saloon Keepers Not Responsible for Acts of Bartenders.

Amendment to Liquor Ordinance Carried by Two Vote.

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Adopted Alderman Trevillion's amendment to the liquor ordinance.

Turned down license of Majestic theater in the West end, on the ground that it is a hang-out for tough characters.

Voted that all telegraph and telephone wires be put underground as new street improvements are being made, obviating the necessity of tearing up pavements later on.

Received request from water and light department asking for estimate of the cost of a water system from the present westerly terminus to Twenty-fifth avenue west, to supply the district below the boulevard.

Decided not to establish new grade on Piedmont avenue until street car company signs written agreement to build line this year.

Cited Reinhardt Kunnmann, convicted of selling liquor on Sunday, to appear before the council and show cause why his license should not be revoked.

Alderman Trevillion's amendment to the liquor ordinance, thought to have been designed to afford the saloon-keeper better protection in case of violation of the law, passed the council last night by a vote of nine to seven, after one of the most heated sessions ever held in the council chamber.

Supporters of the measure were roared until the holdists were tired of talking, but they did not waver in their stand in the least.

Those voting against the amendment were: Cromwell, Moore, McKnight, Kennedy, Moe, Olson and President Getchell.

Those voting for the amendment were: Tessman, Shartel, Filatrault, Foubister, Hogan, Jordan, Mueller, Ribenack and Trevillion.

There were some exciting scenes during the debate on the measure. The holdists had about concluded that it would not be introduced at all, but when it did come up, the aldermen opposed to it were on their feet in a instant, entering a vigorous protest.

Alderman Tessman arose and supported it. He said the object of the measure was to make the city ordinance exactly like the state law. Later on Alderman McKnight quoted the law to show that Alderman Tessman's idea was mistaken ones.

Mr. McKnight seemed to have the law at his fingers' tips, and every time the supporters of the amendment had something to say about it, he was on his feet with a quotation.

It was argued by the anti-lid men that under the present ordinance the council could not grant a license for a saloon in the many places where a man who had been convicted of a violation of the law had his place of business within a period of one year after conviction had been secured. Alderman McKnight read the state law to the council to prove that this was not the case at all, and an instance was cited where a license would have to be granted a man who recently purchased a saloon whose former owner had been convicted only a short time ago.

Mr. Tessman contended that if a bartender should sell liquor without the proprietor knowing anything about it, a conviction would mean that the place would have to be closed. Alderman McKnight declared that the adoption of the amendment would mean the bartender would have to be the victim whenever an arrest for violation of law was made. He said every department in the city is working to enforce the law except the council, and that it was up to the council to do its share.

"The supporters of this measure," he declared, "are unfair." He said, "I do not remember, and there is not a man in this council who does remember, when this body made a saloon man suffer unjustly. There is not a single case on record where any injustice was ever done. The amendment ought not to become a law if the council does pass it."

Flimsy Argument.

"If you gentlemen are trying to climb over the fence with the excuse that you are trying to make the ordinance like the state law, you are appearing in a very silly light," said Alderman McKnight. "It is not true that the measure would make the ordinance agree with the state law. There are other motives than this, and the people of the city know it."

"To show you how wrong you are in contending that under the violation of the law, under present conditions, a building would be closed to saloons for a period of one year, I will cite the case of a saloon located right across the street from the city hall. The proprietor was convicted of violating the law three times within a period of one year, and next week application will be made before the council for a license for another man.

"The saloon man who violated the law is out of business, having sold to another party, and there is nothing that can prevent him from leasing another license to the second party if it is shown that he is a reputable person, with nothing in particular against him. You are just trying to pull the wool over the eyes of some of the aldermen, and over the eyes of the people, who are a little bit confused by the measure."

At this point Alderman Tessman arose and said it was not fair to hold the proprietor of a saloon responsible for the action of his bartender who neglects his duty. Alderman McKnight responded to this by saying that if a bartender on a street car ran over a pedestrian while running his car recklessly, it was not the motorman that was sued, but the company.

Alderman Trevillion, who fathered the measure, showed considerable hesitancy in taking the floor in support of it, although asked to explain its objects by members of the opposition. When he did get to his feet he remarked that he did not think there was any harm in the amendment.

"The reason for this measure is simply to fling back into the teeth of the people the command they gave at the last election," declared Alderman McKnight. "It is absolutely meaningless."

Alderman Shartel asked him why he was fighting it if it was absolutely meaningless.

"Because of the dare and spirit of the thing," he responded. "I am glad to see that the lead in this fight, in the council is taken by those who were foremost in the fight against law enforcement at the last election."

Alderman Shartel protested several times that this question had been fought out on all sides and asked that the measure be voted on without further delay. He was not successful, however, as Moore that he had generally been on the side of the opposition. Mr. Shartel responded rather hotly that as long as he had been in the council he had held no prejudice against any one and had never voted for any measure that would injure any one—saloonkeeper or not.

"By adopting this amendment you make it impossible to enforce the law," said Alderman Cromwell. "The proprietor can so fishing over his head that he can tender run the saloon, and Monday morning he will be in the city hall, and the town and the bartender disgraced orders."

"Everything that comes up in this council must be for the benefit of some people," said Mr. Moe. "Who is to be benefited by this measure? It certainly is not the people. Then it must be the saloon interests."

The talk ran along in this line for over an hour, but it was evident from the first that supporters of the amendment had no more to say. They were a hopeless fight from first to last, and it was argued that the opposition could not swing any more votes into their line than they had in the first place.

A resolution was adopted, directing the legal department to compel the telephone and electric companies who are complying with the ordinance relating to underground wires to do so at once, in an effort to free the city of poles, the council has adopted the policy of causing the wires to be placed underground along thoroughfares as street improvements in the way of grading and paving are being made, thus obviating the necessity of tearing up the street later on to lay underground conduits.

The question arose, as the result of a complaint on the part of the Zenith telephone company that it could not afford to place its wires underground on Twenty-fifth avenue east. The company claimed that if forced to lay underground wires it would have to increase the rate for telephones, both business and private, and further stated that it had made money during the nine years it has been in business here.

Alderman Moore expressed impatience at the stand of the Zenith company, and said they had been a cog in the wheel in the progress in the direction of underground conduits for the last year or two, hanging back even after the Duluth company and the electric company had expressed a willingness to do as requested, but the Zenith company had wilfully disregarded orders in this regard. He believed it no more than reasonable that the underground conduits should be provided for when the street was being improved. He declared that the Zenith negotiations from the council, except when absolutely forced to do so.

A petition from Mayor Haven and others was received, urging the council to take whatever steps possible this year towards securing an easy grade roadway from the center of the city, and towards the farming districts back of the city, a proposition given considerable publicity in the past.

A protest was made by petition against granting a saloon license at 11 East Superior street, signed by 21 business men in the block.

A petition was received asking that Second alley be paved from Lake avenue to Fourth avenue west.

Reinhardt Kunnmann, who was convicted last week of selling liquor without a license, was called to appear and show cause why his license should not be revoked. McKnight also reported, but action was deferred, as his license comes up for renewal in two weeks and action will then be taken.

In his report relative to the proposed street car extension up Piedmont avenue, City Attorney William Peterson announced that he had been authorized to go ahead with the work of establishing a new grade suited to car line construction until the company had signed an agreement, showing just when they would build the extension, and that the existing circumstances the company could not be compelled to build until such an agreement is signed.

The water and light department was requested to make an estimate of the cost of a water system from the present westerly terminus to Twenty-fifth avenue west, to supply water for the district below the boulevard.

TORNADO PASSES OVER KANSAS, DOING DAMAGE.

Salina, Kan., June 2.—A tornado passed within half a mile of Hoxie, in Sheridan county, near here, doing damage to property, and killing many livestock. The storm was a mile wide and was in the form of a long, low, black cloud, two miles long. Farms, fences and trees in its path were carried away. Following the wind, hail fell over a large territory adjoining Salina, laying waste thousands of acres of wheat and other crops. Southwestern Kansas, from Salina west to Colorado and south to Oklahoma, is experiencing one of the heaviest rains in the history of the state. Forty-eight hours of heavy rain has been falling.

Nutty—Mealy—Whole

Please learn what a difference there is between home-baked beans and Van Camp's.

But don't deem it your fault, for it isn't.

We have spent 47 years in learning how to perfect this dish. This is our specialty—our one claim to supremacy. We bake tens of millions of cans every year.

No wonder we best know how.

Then we have the facilities, and you lack them all. So the difference isn't all in the skill.

Beans, to be digestible, must be factory cooked.

The heat of your oven is far from sufficient. It can't break up the food granules so the digestive juices can get to them. So home-baked beans are hard to digest, even for the strongest stomach.

Our ovens are heated to 245 degrees.

That's more than twice the heat that gets to the center of your baking dish. We apply that fierce heat for 90 minutes, and the result is our beans are digestible.

That is a very important fact.

Then we bake in live steam—not in dry heat. And we do our baking after the cans are sealed.

That's why our beans are all baked alike. No beans are crisped, no skins are broken. They are baked until they are mealy, yet they are nutty because they are whole.

Perhaps the one thing missed most in home-baked beans is that delicious, nutty flavor. Nobody likes beans mushy; everybody wants them whole.

Then we bake the beans, the tomato sauce and the pork all together, and get our delicious blend. To bake the tomato sauce into the beans is a very different thing from adding it afterwards.

Van Camp's come to you, fresh and savory, ready for instant serving. No work and no waiting. A dozen cans in the house mean a dozen meals all cooked. And such delicious meals! After all your work, your home-baked beans are never half so good.

Van Camp's PORK AND BEANS

SAUCE

Once let your folks taste Van Camp's beans and they'll frown if you serve them others. That nutty flavor, that tang and zest, are missing in minor brands. Please learn how good beans can be. Then we shall not need to say again, "Insist on Van Camp's."

84% Nutriment

Beans are Nature's choicest food—23 per cent nitrogenous; 84 per cent nutritive.

Like meat in their food value, but not like it in cost. See how many you get for 10 cents.

They should be a daily dish—not an occasional. They are appetizing and hearty; all people like them.

Perhaps you serve beans once a week now, because they are hard to prepare. Or because your people like other things better when beans are not rightly cooked.

'Twill be different when you serve Van Camp's.

You will serve them for breakfast—in croquettes or with ham. You'll serve them for luncheons—steaming hot. You'll serve them for dinners—in salad.

You will hardly be able to serve them too often, for people don't tire of Van Camp's.

We Pay $2.50

We use only the whitest and plumpest Michigan beans. They are picked out by hand from the choicest part of the crop. And we pay $2.50 per bushel. The beans we refuse sell as low as 30 cents.

We use only sound, vine-ripened tomatoes.

Cheap sauce is made from tomatoes picked green, and ripened in shipment. Or of scraps from a canning factory.

We could buy such sauce ready-made for exactly one-fifth what we spend to make ours. But it would lack that richness, that sparkling zest, which Nature gives to Van Camp's.

No wonder that some brands sell cheaper than ours, yet pay your grocer more profit.

But the best beans are cheap enough. They are even most economical. For you will eat more beans, in place of meat, when you serve Van Camp's.

Prices: 10, 15 and 20 cents per can

Badly Sprained Ankle Cured.

Three years ago our daughter sprained her ankle and had been suffering terribly for days and nights and did not sleep a minute. Mr. Stallings, of Butler, Tenn., told us of Chamberlain's Pain-Expeller. We went to the store that night and got a bottle of it. It was in its path when we were walking and she went to sleep and had a good night's rest. The next morning she was much better, and in a short time could walk around and had no more trouble with her ankle.—E. M. Brumitt, Hampton, Tenn. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by all druggists.

INSPECTION OF OVERHEAD SIGNS

Municipal Bulletin Says Duluth is Taking Proper Steps.

The Municipal Bulletin, a magazine designed largely to interest municipal officers, contractors, etc., expresses the opinion that Duluth is taking a step in the right direction, but only one step, in directing a general inspection of overhead street signs and ordering all the unsafe ones to be taken down.

"This will be an improvement, certainly, but the real improvement would be to remove all overhanging signs and leave the street unobstructed by such affairs at all," says the Bulletin. "It is hardly consistent in the municipalities to compel the telephone and telegraph companies to go to great expense in doing away with overhead wires, and then permit the hanging out of signs, which afford a considerable obstruction and differ from the telephone poles and wires in the matter of degree only, not in essence. Duluth is not alone in this. The fact, if there is a real exception to the general rule of permitting such overhanging signs among Western cities, it has been keeping its light hidden, and should spread to the present time."

Some of the city authorities agree with the views expressed in the Bulletin in the effect that all overhanging signs are a nuisance, and that they should be done away with. Some steps in this direction may be taken during the year, although no concerted movement is under way up to the present time.

It is argued that the signs are not only an obstruction and something of a nuisance because of their general unsightliness, but they are more or less dangerous, no matter how carefully the inspection may be at best, the supports are none too solid, especially when one considers the heavy winds that occasionally sweep through the streets of Duluth.

A sign may apparently be all right and pass the inspection of an efficient man, and yet in a high windstorm the supports may be torn from the building, and the heavy piece of iron, wood and glass be dashed to the sidewalk below.

NO DAMAGES FOR HUDNACK

Superior Man Loses Suit Against Railway Companies.

A verdict in favor of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific railroad companies was returned yesterday afternoon in the personal injury case of Frank Hudnack, who sought to recover $50,000 for injuries which he had been received in being struck by a train near the Webster Chair factory last November. The case was submitted to the jury at noon, after several days' trial and the verdict was returned late in the afternoon.

Hudnack was represented by J. De-

LaMotte and the railway companies by John A. Murphy and Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell.

SUPERIOR COUPLE TRAVEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Enroute to the Land of Midnight Sun.

Eau Claire, Wis., June 2.—(Special to The Herald).—Dr. and Mrs. Mason of Superior are in the city en route to New York, where they will embark for Norway, to spend some months in travel.

By previous arrangement, Dr. and Mrs. Mason will meet with a number of other Norwegians from this section of the United States, who are to visit the country this summer, at the Grand hotel at Christiania, Norway, on July 4, and there the entire aggregation of Norwegian-Americans will conduct a most elaborate and brilliant celebration of the hundred and thirty-second anniversary of the Declaration of Independence of the United States. The staid old Norwegians of the fatherland will be given a genuine taste of the manner which the Fourth of July is celebrated in this country, and it will probably prove a revelation to them.

WOULD SHOW ANIMOSITY

Eli Matich Seeks to Show Bad Feeling of Donjonovich.

Claims Montenegrin Witnesses Did Not See Shooting.

An attempt was made by the defense in the murder trial of Eli Matich this morning to introduce testimony tending to show that Rodi Donjonovich, the Montenegrin, who was shot and killed by Matich, carried a revolver, which he showed to a friend, and made statements concerning his animosity toward the accused.

Up to this point the defense had not succeeded in introducing all the testimony that it hoped along this line, a break in the evidence occurring to give Capt. C. C. Teare, attorney for Matich, time to look up and present his authorities.

The witness, by whom the defense attempted to prove the possession of a revolver by Donjonovich and his alleged animosity toward Matich, was an Austrian by the name of Jentovich, who is said to have remained at the Donjonovich boarding house the night previous to the tragedy.

Jentovich testified that Donjonovich had a revolver; that he, the witness, had the revolver in his hand and examined it the evening before the shooting. Jentovich testified that the revolver, known as the defendant's exhibit No. 1, was similar in size and appearance to the revolver that Donjonovich had the night in question.

By another witness the defense attempted to prove this morning that the Montenegrin witnesses who claimed to have seen the shooting of Donjonovich by Matich were so situated as to have witnessed the affair. This testimony was given to offset, as much as possible, the testimony of the Montenegrins who claimed that Matich shot Donjonovich as he was running away from danger.

Sharp passages between the county attorney and Capt. Teare for the defendant, together with the slow work due to the interpretation of the answers of the witnesses all tended to make the morning progress of the trial very slow.

The defendant is said to have one more witness, who came down from the range this morning, after which the state expects to introduce some testimony in rebuttal. The present indications are that the trial will be completed by tomorrow.

YLONEN TRIAL NOT FINISHED

Plaintiff Asks Damages for Injury to His Hand.

The damage case of Victor Ylonen against the Virginia Lumber company is still on trial in Judge Cant's room and is not likely to reach the jury today. Ylonen, whose hand was crippled by a saw in the lumber company's mill at Virginia, demands $15,000 damages. He alleges that the saw was left unguarded until after his accident. According to the testimony Ylonen had his fingers caught in some of the machinery and in jerking his hand away he brought it in contact with the saw, the artery, veins and cords being severed at the wrist, making the hand useless.

The trial is hotly contested, John R. Heino and Theodore Hollister appearing for Ylonen and E. C. Kennedy and Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell for the defense.

THE GIRL GRADUATE.

The Degree She Works Hardest For is M. M.

Next to the June bride, the fairest flower of spring is the sweetest graduate, says the Baltimore Sun. She buds and blooms in every section of the country and sheds the perfume of violet water and sachet powder over all the land. While the low-manned college youths are crowding all the big words in the dictionary into ponderous theses, settling all the problems of mankind and taking to the woods to roar out their orations, the girl is very sensibly spending her time at the dressmaker's and settling the really important problem of "What shall I wear?" She realizes perfectly well that nobody cares whether the essay is on "The Pleasures of Home" or "The Rights of American Womanhood." She knows they will pay very little attention to her essay; but if she is a dream of ribbons and chiffon they will pay considerable attention to her. The essay is as insignificant a part of the ceremony as the production of a fashionable wedding gown.

The girl herself is the thing. What is the finest product of America? Society Lady insists it is a rattle; Carnegie stands for libraries; Mrs. Hettie Green considers it ready good health is impossible. Foley's Kidney Cure makes sound kidneys and will positively cure all forms of kidney and bladder disease. It strengthens the whole system. Sold at all druggists.

GATHER AT CHICAGO.
Meeting of American Medical Society Being Held There.

The annual convention of the American Medical association is being held at Chicago and will continue in session for four days. About twenty local physicians, accompanied by their wives, left Duluth yesterday for Chicago.

Although this year none of the Duluth doctors are scheduled to read papers at the meeting, they will take an active part in the deliberations of the association.

The annual gathering is a big event, and prominent men from all over the world are present. There will be a number of clinics at the different medical societies and hospitals.

RAILROADS TOURISTS ARE MOVING

The Season for Summer Travel is Now Open.

Low Rates Between Duluth and Coast Increase Receipts.

The local summer tourist season opened yesterday. Quite a number of Duluth people took advantage of the $5 round trip rate between here and the Pacific coast. Among those who left for the coast yesterday were Miss Francis B. Light, Miss Grace Spurbuck, H. L. Sheppard, W. L. Yale and wife, Miss Eva Mather, J. M. Starr and William Norton.

The rate is in effect from both ends of the Northern Pacific and it is expected that the summer tourist travel to Duluth will start soon. The coast travel has been heavy for the past two weeks, but most of the travel has been from Eastern points to the coast. It is expected that within the next week the first of the Pacific coast tourists will reach here.

Local officials report that the passenger business has shown considerable improvement during the past week. The heavy travel to the Pacific coast has done much to increase passenger receipts.

The Great Northern and the Northern Pacific report heavy coast travel, while the local passenger officials say the roads with Duluth connections report heavier passenger traffic than they had for some time.

It has been the case for the past five or six months. In fact passenger officials are inclined to look at the railroad situation with a more optimistic view than they did a month ago.

A Duluth official stated this morning that both the freight and passenger business had shown an improvement during the past two weeks, and that the receipts for the two weeks ending last Saturday would show a good increase over the receipts of the two preceding weeks.

The office carries with it a salary of $2,500 a year with traveling expenses. William Ryan withdrew from the race.

Harry Murray of San Luis Potosi, Mex., will be elected first grand assistant engineer to succeed R. W. Botterell of Ottawa, Ont., Can. The informal ballot showed Mr. Murray to be so far in the lead.

ILLINOIS ROADS ATTEMPT TO STOP ORDER OF INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

Chicago, June 2.—The Illinois Central and the Chicago & Alton railroads today filed applications in the United States circuit court for writs of injunction restraining the interstate commerce commission from putting into force an order recently issued directing the railroad to adopt a new system of rates for coal and coke.

The order which the railroads seek to have set aside becomes effective July 1 and directs that in distributing coal cars to mines along their lines the railroad companies shall take into account all cars carried on the roads, including foreign railways, and, based on private fuel cars and fuel cars used for the private service of the railroads.

The interstate commerce commission held that the failure of the roads to take into account all cars in distributing coal cars to mines along their lines the railroad companies shall take into account all cars carried on the roads, including foreign railways, and, based on private fuel cars and fuel cars used for the private service of the railroads.

The action of the commission followed a complaint that body brought by the Illinois Coal-lessee companies. It strengthens the order in which it was charged that certain mines obtained the use of all classes of cars, while the defendant was compelled to be content with what cars were available.

It is a mistake to allow railroads to become chronic as the pain can always be relieved, and in most cases a remedy can be found. The relief from pain which affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes sleep and rest possible. Even in cases of long standing this "Pain-Ex-Relief" has been found on account of the relief which it affords. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by all druggists.

that they know McCray Refrigerators are the best refrigerators built, but that they are so high priced that they cannot afford to buy one. That is a mistaken idea, however, as McCray Refrigerators are built in all sizes, and many of them are quite moderate in price. ## AN EVANGELIST ROASTS CLERGY

Billy Sunday Shocks Presbyterians in Address at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, June 2.—Rev. Billy Sunday, the evangelist, delivered an address to the Presbyterian ministers of Pittsburgh yesterday.

His words caused consternation among the preachers, some of whom left the First Presbyterian church, their dignity stung, but most of them remained to the end.

Rev. Mr. Sunday, who is a former professional baseball player, has been conducting a revival at Sharon, near here, and came to Pittsburgh to speak on "Why Some Ministers Fail."

The evangelist said many of the ministers of the present day were "rotten eating molasses," who were continually springing their own "rotten molasses" on the people.

He asserted that few ministers today are anything but "rotten," and that many of them are "rotten" because they are controlled by "riches and not by the Bible. Many of you are graters, pure and simple. You know this, too. There are some of you preaching today that should be carrying a bull on their backs."

"What we do want is to tear down the seminaries and stand the professors on their heads in mud puddles. A seminary and its teachings are of no more use to preaching than a crane's legs are to a setting hen."

"I am not an osteopath. I am a sur-

MANY CONTESTS.

Republican National Committee Has Strenuous Task Before It.

Chicago, June 2.—According to the statements of Chairman Harry New of the Republican national committee, that body is likely to have a strenuous work ahead of it in the consideration of the contests that have been brought before it for settlement before the Republican national convention is called to order. Chairman New said yesterday:

"There are 220 contested seats and we estimate that it is going to require 14 hours to hear and consider the evidence in all of these cases. Of course, there is a possibility that some of the contests will not be brought before the committee, but the chances are at present that the majority of them will come before the national committee. The national committee plans to commence the hearing of these contests at 11 o'clock Friday morning, and it will be compelled to sit every afternoon and evening and even then it will not be able to finish its work before the morning of the convention. This is not a particularly bright outlook for the committee on credentials, but it is the best we can do as matters stand at present."

METHODS IRREGULAR

Special Examiner Comments on Management of Town of Lakewood.

The Officers Drew Town
Funds and Voted Illegal
Disbursements.

According to the report that has been made by the public examiner's office relative to the transaction of the business of the town of Lakewood, in this county, there has been some gross irregularities in the management of the town affairs in past years. Money has been paid out, it is claimed, in manner not warranted by law, and the officers of the town have been acting contrary to law in performing contract work for the town while acting in their official capacity. The report, which was made by J. N. Gayner, a special examiner sent here by the public examiner, at the request of the county board, does not, it is said, intimate any criminal intent on the part of the officials involved, but rather ignorance or a misunderstanding of the law, or carelessness as to the methods pursued. The aggregate amount of money which it is alleged has been illegally expended totals quite a sum and it is likely that the town officials will make an attempt to refund it. If no such attempt is made it is probable that steps will be taken to have the officers removed for malfeasance in office.

The examination of the books and accounts of the town is right in line with the examination that has been made of the condition of affairs in other towns and school districts in the county and state, where gross irregularities have been found to exist in the management of affairs, particularly the disbursement of town funds.

Mr. Gayner's report, which goes into detail, covering the town records since the town was organized, is quite lengthy. It comprises three exhibits, the receipts and disbursements, the notes on town clerk's records and comments.

Mr. Gayner says that a large number of bills are missing for 1902 and 1903, especially those covering road work, where some of them received any consideration at the same time, part for supervisor work and part for road work, the larger bill is not verified at all, and says that this is not intentional, but due to a misunderstanding of the intent of the law. The bills of 1902 are said to be a notable exception, as scarcely any of them received any consideration as to either verification or that of filing.

Town orders, numbered from 1 to 90, inclusive, are missing. The treasurer's receipts have been checked and found correct, and it will be verified in the records of the county auditor.

The supervisors reported May 3, 1902, that they had no record to show that money was turned into the treasury.

The examiner states that the frequent visits made to the city of Duluth by the town officers, who strictly within the pale of the law, are scarcely anything short of bad faith.

Mr. Gayner says that the present treasurer and town clerk are anxious to follow the letter of the law strictly.

The total receipts of the town since Aug. 4, 1902, have been $7,428.40, and the disbursements have been $6,700, leaving a balance of $728.40 in the hands of the treasurer, Christ Hendrickson.

The report shows that since the town was organized in 1902, members of the town board have performed work for the town and had been paid for the same out of town funds, but the town board voted straight salaries to justices of the peace and constables, who under the law are always paid by fee. The report also shows that the treasurer has not only been paid a salary, but a certain percentage on the receipts and disbursements of town funds.

W. M. Jamieson was the first town clerk. The first supervisors were David Jamieson, J. Perrault and Albert Anderson, and David J. McDowell was the first treasurer. The report shows that the above named officials did road work for the town and were paid out of the town treasury. Mr. McDowell was succeeded as treasurer in 1903, by James Mohan.

The examiner says that Mr. Mohan, as treasurer, collected an overcharge of $26.72 in percentages and that $23.54 should be refunded as the excess amount paid on a considerable and the justice of the peace in 1904.

The examiner finds that Mr. Jamieson, as treasurer, should refund $12.64 for the year 1905, and that $50 paid out illegally to constables and Redness.

Swelling.
Inflammation.
Watery blisters.
Crusty formation.
And all the time itching, annoying and, at times, almost unendurable itching.

This is eczema, the most common and most difficult to cure of all skin diseases, because of its tendency to become chronic and spread.

You can stop the itching at once, by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment, and just as certainly heal up the raw, flaming sores by use of this great healing ointment if you are persistent in treatment.

Marvelous success in the cure of eczema is what has made Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment standard the world over as the most soothing and healing of ointments. 50 cents a box. All druggists, or Dr. A. W. James Robbins, Sidney, Town of Co. North Dakota, writes:

"I had a most distressing case of eczema and suffered dreadfully from the itching. Nothing I used had any influence on it. After using a few applications of Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment I obtained relief. My skin was completely cured. I consider the cure a remarkable one as the case was very stubborn."

JUSTICE OF PEACE IN 1907 SHOULD BE RETURNED TO THE TREASURY.

Another irregularity shown by the report was the awarding of a contract for road work, payment to be made when the work was completed. The records show that the order was drawn for payment the day following the execution of the contract.

NEW CURRENCY LAW Will be Put Into Active Effect by Treasury Officials.

Washington, June 2.—Treasury officials are making active preparation to carry into effect the new currency law, enacted in the closing hours of congress. Assistant Secretary Coolidge conferred yesterday with Director Delph of the bureau of engraving and printing and W. W. Eldridge of the office of controller of the currency, and the statement was authorized that the actual work of putting the new notes would be begun within the next few days. The new notes will be identical with the national bank notes now in use, except that the legend at the top of the face of the note, "Secured by bonds of the United States, or other securities," will be changed to "Secured by bonds of the United States or other securities."

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC TO BEGIN BALASTING JULY 1.

Fort William, Ont., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The work of ballasting the Grand Trunk Pacific railway will be commenced the first week in July, when 2,000 or more men will be required by the company. This will give work to a large number of the unemployed, as no skilled labor will be needed, only pick and shovel men being in demand. The work will last until the season closes in the fall.

On the branch from this city to Superior Junction the grading has been completed, and the steel has been laid 125 miles west of here. The ballasting will require a lot of time and a great deal of work.

BIG LOGGING CONCERN.

United Logging Company Has Begun Operations in Delta County.

Stephenson, Mich., June 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capitalized at $100,000, the United Logging company has been organized by Delta county men. The officers are: President, I. N. Bushong, Gladstone; vice president, J. P. Bushong, Gladstone; secretary and treasurer, T. M. Judson, Escanaba.

The new company has taken over all the logging contracts which existed between the Escanaba Woodware company at the time that corporation went into the hands of a receiver, and the following named concerns: Escanaba Manufacturing company; Kimberly-Clark company; Neenah; Northwestern Co-operative & Lumber company; Gladstone; Menasha Woodware company; Menasha, and the Mason & Donaldson company, Rhineland.

POLICIES OF ROOSEVELT

Will be Strongly Indorsed in the Republican National Platform.

Series of Conferences Between Taft and Other Leaders Begin.

Washington, June 2.—There will be no lukewarm indorsement of President Roosevelt and his policies in the Republican national platform, if the wishes of Secretary Taft and his friends have potency in the framing of that document. This much was made known yesterday after the first of a series of conferences to be held with the secretary of war on the subject of the platform.

Should the Chicago convention adopt this sort of platform and nominate Secretary Taft, it is predicted in authoritative quarters that his letter of speech of acceptance will contain a pledge to carry out the Roosevelt policies already inaugurated and earnestly strive for those not enacted, which will have a ring similar to that pronounced by President Roosevelt on taking the oath of office over the body of the dead McKinley.

Wade Ellis, attorney general of Ohio, who has prospects of being the Ohio member of the resolutions committee, and who was largely responsible for the conceded victory of the Ohio Republican platform, is here for a thorough understanding with the secretary of war. He was with Mr. Taft at his offices late last night. Another conference is to be held today when it is not unlikely the result will be brought to the attention of President Roosevelt.

Secretary Taft has made no secret of his position on the tariff. He is for revision at a special session of the sixty-first congress, to be called immediately after the inauguration, March 4, 1909. His ideas as to what the tariff should be also are public property. The schedules should be drawn as near as possible to cover the difference between the less cost of production of a given article in foreign countries and the cost to produce that article in the United States. This he regards as "protection" in its true and fair sense.

Schedules which are fixed at a rate higher than this difference, he believes, are not only unnecessary as means of protection, but are, in fact, a cause of their temptation, to capitalists to form monopolies and trusts in this country for the control of the market in that particular product. From this information the prediction is declared to be a safe one that the tariff plank to be presented to the

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

BRANDT IS DRIVEN OUTSweeney Throws Catcher
Voss Out and Pitcher
Ascends.Winnipeg Wins Third Game of Series by Bunching in Sixth.

Umpire Sweeney may not have been responsible for the loss of the game yesterday, but he certainly had a hand in sending some people home dissatisfied. When he threw "Doc" Voss out of the proceedings in the sixth, he slipped his hand through the aperture and ripped out a large size chunk of interest. Darby O'Brien never caught a game in his life and Manager Williams doesn't put up the least pretense of being a second baseman. With a patched up lineup and his catcher gone, Brandt took to the air line, and by the time Williams recovered his equilibrium sufficiently after the sudden ascent to change engineers, Winnipeg had copied three runs and stowed the game safely away by a score of 3 to 2.

Everything had gone swimmingly up to the sixth. The Sox showed all kinds of life and Brandt was in a fair way to redeem himself for Sunday's humiliation at the hands of Eddie Herr's men in red. Two scratchy singles and one shifty one coming at together in the third had put one man across for the Maroons, but Ness had poked one out for three stations in the first and Koeppling had batted one against the fence in the fifth, each of the clouds sent through the air and were one run to the good and the fans saw streaks of light in the Eastern sky.

Then Sweeney worked off his grouches and spoiled the whole show. He was pretty badly noticed in the early innings. He called a few things the fans didn't like, and finally grasping the prerogative of the baseball bug, Day began to kid him. His business league temper got the better of him and he began to talk to the grandstand. The crowd came there after that and by the time the sixth came around, he was ready to slap it to somebody on the first provocation.

Henderson, the first an up in the sixth took one in the salta. While Metzger was batting, he called a few things the fans didn't like, and finally grasping the prerogative of the baseball bug, Day began to kid him. His business league temper got the better of him and he began to talk to the grandstand. The crowd came there after that and by the time the sixth came around, he was ready to slap it to somebody on the first provocation.

The row had worked up Brandt's nervousness and he passed Metzger. Without confidence in his catcher, he could do nothing but stick them in the hole, and the Peggars clouted. After King and Loukas had singled, and Day hit for two sacks, Brandt was sent to the bench and Murray took his place, retiring the side without a run. The game went along well enough after that, but Sweeney had done his work well. The team was disgraced and didn't play the kind of ball it did in the first five innings. Murray pitched good ball, pulling him in and out of holes in the seventh and eighth. The Peggars pounded in another in the ninth, but they didn't need it. Sawyer had the cringing Sox right where he wanted them and there wasn't a hit to be had.

Up to the sixth the game was fast in fielding and close enough to be interesting. The Duluth infield worked finely. Baker and Koeppling pulling off a few half-raising stunts. The two opportune hits that scored Duluth's runs had inspired the fans with hope, but Sawyer settled toward the last and

Smith Is Hit Hard.

Philadelphia, June 2.—The Philadelphia American League club won yesterday's game in the second inning when six runs were scored on four hits, two passes and a wild pitch and an error by Delahanty.

Cass, who relieved Smith in the third, held the home team down, but Washington could not make any headway on a bases pitching. Score: R. H. E.

Batteries—Smith, Cates and Street; Plank and Powers. Umpire—Connolly.

Chesbro Blanks Boston.

New York, June 2.—A new York club out the Boston Americans 2 to 0 yesterday.

Chesbro pitched a fine game and the local fans gave him energetic support.

Ball was particularly in evidence, having four put-outs and five assists. Score: R. H. E.

Six Pitchers Used.

St. Louis, June 2.—In a game replete with hits and errors, the Cardinals of St. Louis by a score of 9 to 6, each team had three pitchers.

With the bases full in the sixth inning, Patsy hit Donahue, betting in a run. Bayless was sent in to relieve Smith and he could easily send home a lead the locals could not overcome. Score: R. H. E.

St. Louis.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0—6

Cleveland Shatters Husky.

Detroit, June 2.—Cleveland's hitting was of itself enough to decide yesterday's result. Six men consecutively found Smith's arm in the fifth, four of them for extra bases.

The wretched support, its errors of judgment being specially numerous and costly. The teams will play two games today. Score: R. H. E.

SAYS JOHNSON IS ONLY DEMOCRAT WHO CAN WIN IN RACE FOR PRESIDENT

Believes He Would Poll Million More Votes Than Bryan.

Thinks He Stands Good Chance to Get the Nomination.

Secretary of Anti-Trust League Talks of Governor's Strength.

FROM THE HERALD
WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Johnson of Minnesota could poll over 1,000,000 more votes than Bryan as head of the Democratic national ticket," said H. B. Martin, national secretary of the Anti-Trust league. "If I were Bryan's closest friend, his closest political adviser," continued Mr. Martin, "I would tell him to go to Denver with a speech in his pocket to nominate Johnson. If he did this, he would demonstrate his regard for the party, instead of his advancement, and he would make Johnson president. Johnson is the only Democrat who can carry the country next November."

"There are 150,000 members in our league, and Johnson more than any other man, stands for the principles and policies we advocate. So long as Roosevelt is in the White House and Bryan goes through the country patting Roosevelt on the back and commending him, we will be threatened with a centralization of power alien to Democratic principles. We need a president as democratic, as wise, and as brilliant as Johnson. His powers as a vote-getter rest on three things: his personal popularity, his friendliness to organized labor, and his achievements while governor. He is the greatest governor in the United States today, and he stands a good chance to get the nomination, for many Democrats who have studied the situation are in favor of his selection."

MAY NOT BE INSTRUCTED

The Democratic Delegates
From Louisiana May Not Be Bound.

Baton Rouge, La., June 3.—The Democratic state convention met here today to choose delegates-at-large to the national convention. Simultaneously delegates will be chosen from the seven congressional districts to the Denver convention. Events preceding the convention make it appear that W. J. Bryan will be endorsed by resolution, but there is some doubt as to whether the Louisiana delegation will go to Denver instructed for his candidacy. Several Democratic leaders have declared themselves in favor of an unrestricted delegation, although they have not permitted that they will make a fight for such a delegation. Two delegations from Gaddo Parish, where there is a contest, will claim the right to be seated at today's convention. Incidentally both delegations have favored the candidacy of Mr. Bryan. N. C. Blanchard, former governor, is a member of one of the delegations.

POSTAGE REDUCED

Letters Will be Carried to England for 2 Cents an Ounce.

Agreement With England
Will Go Into Effect
Oct. 1.

Washington, June 3.—Postmaster General Meyer announced today that an agreement had been reached with the British government providing for a letter postage of 2 cents an ounce between the United States and Great Britain and Ireland to become operative Oct. 1, 1908. He stated further that the British postmaster general, Sydney Buxton, was making a like announcement to the house of commons today. The matter of a "penny postage" as it is called in England has been under consideration for some time and as far back as last July President Roosevelt approved Mr. Meyer's course in urging a restricted union with England. On Oct. 1, 1907, the Universal Postage Union, which governs the international (Continued on page 14, third column.)

SIR ROBERT G. REID, Noted Engineer and Capitalist, Who Is Dead at Montreal.

ROBERT REID PASSES AWAY

Noted Engineer and Capitalist is Dead at Montreal.

Montreal, June 3.—Sir Robert Gillespie Reid, railroad builder and capitalist, died here today. He was a native of Scotland, and went in 1855 to Australia, where he engaged in mining and public works. Six years later he came to America, taking up active work as a railway and bridge builder. One of his first undertakings was the construction of the International bridge across the Niagara river, near Buffalo. Later he was in charge of the building of the bridges between Montreal and Quebec, on the Montreal, Quebec and Ottawa railway, now a part of the Canadian Pacific system. In the United States he contracted for and built the Colorado river bridge, at Austin, Tex., in 1880, and all the iron and masonry bridges on the first 250 miles of the Southern Pacific railway, west from San Antonio. The International railway bridge across the Rio Grande was another of his undertakings. He also built the Delaware water gap bridge, north of Lake Superior, which included a tunnel 450 feet in length, through solid granite. He also built the Lachine bridge, three-quarters of a mile long, across the St. Lawrence.

Sir Robert also was largely interested in Newfoundland coal land developments. He has been called the "greatest benefactor of Newfoundland."

The American Favorites

London, June 3.—A rank outsider, Signorinetta, owned by E. Ginistrelli, and quoted in the betting at 100 to 1 against, today defeated all the American, British and French cracks and captured the derby stakes, valued at 6,500 sovereigns, and the greatest prize of the turf world. The Italian horse simply cantered home from the hot favorites by two lengths. A neck only divided the second horse, the duke of Portland's Primer, and the third, Barclay Walker's Langwm. Mercutio led to the mile post, when August Belmont's Norman III drew to the front. The American horse, however, going down the hill was overhauled by Mount Pleasant, ridden by Lorne, an American jockey. Lorne held the lead, with Signorinetta, Primer and Langwm, ridden by Major, another American jockey, in close attendance until the quarter-mile home, when Signorinetta, (Continued on page 14, fifth column.)

JURORS ARE POORLY PAID

Judge to Ask Governor
propriation.

New York, June 3.—It is announced that the Supreme Court Justice Lambert, who is trying the case of William B. Hears against Mayor McChesney, in which the votes cast in the last mayoral election are being counted, has addressed a communication to Governor Hughes, asking him to recommend to the special session of the legislature that a special appropriation be made under which the jurors who are hearing the case may be allowed extra compensation for their duties. It has been learned that one of the jurors lost his employment since the opening of the trial nine weeks ago, and that another business man has seriously suffered from neglect for so long a period. It is said that from $5 to $10 a day for each juror was the compensation suggested to the governor.

BRYAN TALKS ON RAILROADS

Addresses a Large Audience at North Platte, Nebraska.

North Platte, Neb., June 3.—William J. Bryan began the last day of his Nebraska tour at North Platte, where he spoke for an hour, directing his remarks particularly to the railroads. North Platte is a railroad town and Mr. Bryan's audience was made up largely of that class of men. "I do not believe railroad managers have a right to threaten a reduction in wages of employees," he said, "in order to coerce them into the circulation of petitions to prevent the enactment of legislation affecting railroad interests. I have been surprised that in considering such petitions I have been unable to learn of an instance where these officials have suggested a reduction of their own salaries as well as those of the ordinary employee. I have often thought there would be no occasion for even a threat to reduce the wages of an employee if payment of dividends might be withheld from every form of watered stock."

PRESIDENT IN DANGER

Thrown From Horse Into Creek While Out Riding.

Animal Came Over Backward While Ascending Bank of Stream.

Washington, June 3.—President Roosevelt late yesterday afternoon had an exceedingly narrow escape from a serious accident while horseback riding in Rock Creek park. The president was riding a new horse, a young animal. The party rode down through a cut in a bank, forded a creek and were ascending the bank on the other side. The president's horse reared and stood up straight on its hind legs and then went backward into the creek with the president. Feeling that he was going backward the president slipped from the saddle and as luck would have it, fell into the creek close behind the horse, which landed on its back.

The fall from the horse's back to the stream bed was a distance of more than ten feet. The stream was about two feet deep with an exceedingly rocky bed. Neither the president nor the horse received the slightest injury. The president was dressed in khaki and the fact that he got thoroughly wet did not become apparent to those who saw him after the accident.

BADLY BURNED SAVING FRIENDS

St. Paul Man Acts the Part of a Hero in Gas Works.

St. Paul, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rather than see three of his fellow workmen blown to atoms, John McGrothy, 26 years old, 473 Partidge street, proved himself a hero today. He thrust his right arm into a huge flame and turned off escaping gas. As a result he is now at Bethesda hospital in a serious condition. His arm is almost burned to a crisp and his side is literally cooked. McGrothy is employed at a gas compressing works at 56 East Third street. Today he was working at a bench when a gas stop on a nearby wall fell to the floor. There was a whizzing sound of escaping gas. Immediately in front of the gas pipe a flame used for heating metal was burning. Workmen saw the danger of an explosion and shouted to McGrothy. Quick as a flash he ran to the wall and sticking his arm in the flame turned off the gas by means of a safetycock. His clothes became ignited and he fell to the floor wrapped in flames. They were extinguished by workmen and the Margaret street police summoned. Dr. Robert Burns is attending McGrothy and says his condition is critical. McGrothy is single.

House Military Committee for Years.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 3.—According to returns received this morning, Senator W. B. Allison is nominated United States senator by a majority of fully 12,000 over Governor A. B. Cummins.

Reports from all over the state point to a large majority for Allison. Counties, which two years ago went for Governor Cummins, this year returned a majority for Allison.

Seven congressional districts give Allison his majority. He carried practically every county in the First and Second districts. In the Third district he lost Hardin county, and in the Fifth Cummins secured a majority in three of the counties. The returns are coming in slow. About one half of the precincts of the state had reported by 8 o'clock this morning.

T. F. Carroll, Republican, was nominated for governor by a majority of over 15,000. For lieutenant governor, George Clark of Dallas county is in the lead with indications that he will be named.

The rest of the state ticket has not been reported save in a few isolated instances, but the indications are for the nomination of the following:

John L. Bleckley, Iowa county, for auditor; N. S. Ketchum, Marshall county, railroad commissioner; J. F. Juges, superintendent of public instruction.

Notable victories throughout the state for congressional honors are reported as follows: J. P. Connor, over Frank P. Woods, in the Tenth; E. H. Hubbard, over D. Bales, in the Eleventh; Elsworth Hominger, over Speaker Nate Kendall, in the Sixth; Charles Piggett, over B. E. Sweet, in the Third.

The story of Dendola's life in Russia and subsequent nomadic existence in America was yesterday told the police by two of his countrymen. Dendola's body was found floating in the river last Friday. An ugly gash was on the left side of his face. Three other cuts, which might have been made from a knife, were on his back.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Entombed in a massive brick vault for six hours Tuesday afternoon, Nick Susong, janitor of the building at 34 Central avenue, Nicollet Island, Minneapolis, was released after his rescuers had cut their way through a four foot brick wall. Susong's trying experience was the result of a little "monkeying" on the part of himself and several companions. They had been testing the combination of an old vault in the storehouse occupied by the Popcorn Delicacy company, and had been successful in closing and re-opening the door several times. Thinking they had mastered the intricacies of the lock they decided to make a final test, and Susong was delegated to step into the vault and be (Continued on page 14, third column.)

BODY FOUND IN MILL SLIP

Mystery of Duncan McGinnis' Disappearance Solved by Discovery.

Body Bloating Beyond Recognition, After Two Weeks in Water.

The body of Duncan McGinnis, a millwright, was found by some longshoremen, floating at the foot of the slip near the Red Cliff mill this morning at about 7 o'clock.

McGinnis, who was employed at the mill, disappeared on May 26, and had not been seen since that time. On that evening he had gone to the end of the dock to see some friends who were there in a boat. That was the last time he was seen alive.

Some of his friends expressed the idea that he had gone West. His wife, who with their two children, lives at Red Cliff, Wis., was notified of the strange disappearance of her husband and search has been made for him since then.

McGinnis had been employed at the West Duluth mill about a month, though he had worked for several years for the company at the mills at Red Cliff.

It is thought that he walked off the dock in the darkness or tried to take a short cut across the slip on the logs and fell into the water. At that time of night, there was no one on the docks, to hear him, if he had shouted for help and he perished in the icy waters, probably unable, in the pitch darkness, to find in which direction to swim.

The body was taken this morning to M. J. Filiault's undertaking rooms and the wife notified by the mill owners. She will arrive in Duluth this evening.

when arrangements will be made for the funeral.
After having been in the water for nearly two weeks the body was bloated almost past recognition. It was identified as that of McGinnis by his clothes.

Crossing in Bad Condition.
There have been many complaints by automobilists and drivers about the Central avenue crossing of the Northern Pacific railroad. Several tracks cross the avenue there, and between each pair of tracks there is a hollow, the drivers of motor cars and teams say is very disagreeable to cross even at low speed.

West Duluth Briefs.

George Carpenter of Grand Marais, Mich., stopped over yesterday in West Duluth on his way to Seattle.
Earl Helzer leaves today for Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Downing of Mountain Iron, are visiting friends in West Duluth. They are on their way to Butte, Mont.

Miss Grace Burch, Tuesday evening, became the bride of Edward R. Galvin of Colorado at the residence of Rev. J. A. Lumley, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church.

Watch repairing. Hurst, West Duluth.

Followed within a few moments. Holmberg promised his wife he would do better in the future and she was in a very forgiving state of mind. They were publicly married about ten years ago to a stove offered by the Douglas County Fair association to the couple that would get married at the fair held at that time.

Old Resident Passes Away.
Charles Catotte, one of the pioneer residents of Old Superior, died at his home on the East end of the city, at 6 o'clock, June 2. He had been ill for some time with cancer of the stomach.

Lenroot for Congress.
I. L. Lenroot has started his campaign for representative to congress from the Eleventh district by opening up his headquarters at Superior, although the primaries will not come off until September. Mr. Lenroot will make speeches and carry on his campaign throughout the district from now until then. John Jenkins represents the opposition for congress.

Ordinances Are Laid Over.
Mayor Crumpton was absent from the council meeting last evening and Alderman Chadwick presided. The session was held on the discussion of the proposed ordinance, the ordinance giving the mayor appointive power as regards the secretary of the board of public works.

As the question at issue did not involve the license fee of hawkers and peddlers, the mayor vetoed the ordinance directing the building of a sidewalk on Harrison street, between Cumming and Main avenues, and carrying on his campaign throughout the district from now until then. John Jenkins represents the opposition for congress.

It Is Said That
When a house is being painted, paths of water should be placed in the rooms. A handful of hay plunged into the water helps to get rid of the smell. For a wholesome table beverage there is nothing quite as good as golden grain belt beer. It is brewed from the best of nature's products in a better way than other beer and should be served daily with meals to insure perfect health. RANGE GOT BARGAINS

Meat Prices Were Lower Than in Duluth.

Some Interesting Testimony Given in the District Court.

According to the testimony introduced this morning in the case of the state against John Arco, accused of stealing a quarter of beef from a Great Northern car at Chisholm, March 17 last, the wholesale price on beef were lower in Chisholm than they were in Duluth on the same date, although the supply of beef for the Chisholm market was shipped from the branch packing houses in Duluth.

Axel Anderson, a local meat dealer testified that March 17 last cows sold at

TOMORROW

Tailored Suits at $10

An extraordinary offering for Thursday, which embraces about 25 suits in all. Narrowing down the lines brings this number of suits to the final pricing. Suits which have been selling earlier in the season at $22.50 and $25.00, some as high as $42.50 and $45.00. They will be picked up early in the day. Be on hand early if you want one.

$25.00 for $40.00 and $42.50 Suits
$29.50 for $48.50 and $55.00 Suits

Reductions on many of our best lines will lend added interest to Thursday's selling—one hundred of our nobbiest suits are offered for tomorrow, at a very notable saving in cost. Alterations, if any, will be charged for at cost.

THE JUNE WHITE SALE

is passing all previous records, possibly this is on account of the generous assortments which are the most extensive we've ever shown. Read these opportunities for tomorrow:

Irish Linens, 36 inches wide, in checks and plaid effects—popular for tailor made waists, usual price $1.00; tomorrow, 75c yard.

Imported Irish Dimities and English Madras cloths, plaids, checks, stripes and small figure designs—35c values; tomorrow, 25c yard.

Fine Damask Pattern Cloths, pure Irish bleach flax, regular $3.75 values at $3.00; 24½x24½ Napkins to match, $4.25 dozen.

A 72-inch full bleached Damask, regular $1.25 value, tomorrow, $1.00 yard; 24-inch Napkins to match, $3.75 the dozen.

36-inch plain Satin Damask, full bleached, hem-stitched Tea Cloths—$3.00 value, tomorrow, $2.39.

SUMMER MILLINERY

For tomorrow we offer a special showing of the latest creations in early Summer Hats—dainty Linerie Hats, Charlotte Corday effects, trimmed Panamas, yachting, Outing and vacation models—a truly delightful display combined with remarkably low prices. See them on our third floor.

"The Talk of The Town"

A HARD HIT.
Martin W. Littleton, the eminent New York lawyer, is noted for his trenchant wit.

"At the beginning of his career," said an Albany judge the other day, "Littleton had an elderly, prosy, long-winded lawyer for an opponent in an assault case."

"The elderly lawyer, in his concluding address, spoke for six hours—an interminable, foggy, stupid speech. Then Littleton rose. He smiled slightly, looked at judge and jury, and said: 'Your honor, I will follow the example of my learned friend who has just concluded, and submit the case without argument.'"

Hot Coffee and Biscuits
Will be served at the practical demonstration of the new Perfection Blue Flame Oil stove at French & Bassett's Friday and Saturday afternoons and Saturday evening.

GORDON IS HELD ON ARSON CHARGE

Flaxton, N. D., Hotelman, Alleged to Have Fired
Two Hotels.

Flaxton, N. D., June 3.—Charged with attempting to burn a hotel in which twenty people were sleeping, Alfred Gordon was bound over to the district court here.

Gordon, who owns the Pioneer hotel, is charged with attempting to burn the hotel, on the night of May 3. At that time there were twenty people sleeping in the hotel, and one of them, the cook, was nearly suffocated. It is alleged that Gordon poured kerosene on the back of the kitchen door and set fire to it. Quite a blaze had developed before the fire was discovered, and a candle snuffed out. The cook was unconscious when found, and if the discovery had been a few minutes later there would have been several fatalities. The theory is that the occupant would rent his hotel. Later an attempt was made to burn the Pioneer hotel, and Gordon is charged with setting fire to it also.

A bottle of kerosene and a candle snuffed out. The fire in the Pioneer was discovered in time to put it out before serious damage was done. There was a mortgage of $300 past due on the hotel, and there was $1,250 insurance on it. The theory of the state is that after failing to burn the Pioneer hotel, Gordon then set fire to his own hotel so as to get the insurance. This is considered evidence substantiating the charge of the state. Gordon will appear before the district court yesterday.

TWO BROTHERS SUFFOCATED.
Disobeyed Their Father, and Paid Penalty With Lives.

Madison, N. D., June 3.—Herman and George Pichler were suffocated by foul gas in a well near here. In the absence of their father, who had ordered them to get a windlass ready to clean a well, they decided that a windlass was unnecessary and started to work by using a rope.

Herman, aged 13 years, sent George, aged 11, down into the well to gather up some debris. George found the conditions unfavorable for work and called upon Herman to pull him up. Herman proceeded to pull in the rope and had George about half way up when he lost his hold and fell back into the well. Herman became excited and went down the rope in a desperate effort to rescue his brother.

George was dead and Herman nearly so when they were found. The latter soon died.

YOUTH ADMITS KILLING HIS YOUNG COMPANION.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 3.—Earl Nelson, aged 15 years, entered a plea of guilty in district court yesterday to a charge of manslaughter in the second degree and was sentenced to the reform school for one year.

WOMAN'S NARROW ESCAPE.
Horses Frightened by Automobile,
She is Thrown Out.

East Grand Forks, Minn., June 3.—As Ole Norgard, a farmer living north of East Grand Forks, was driving into East Grand Forks, his horse, frightened by an automobile, made a sudden dash to run away. One wheel of the wagon struck the rear of a milk wagon just ahead. Mrs. Edward Sullivan, residing on North Third street, who was just driving into the city, were thrown violently to the pavement and Mrs. Sullivan had a very narrow escape from being crushed by the heavy farm wagon of Mr. Norgard.

EDITOR TO LEAD PARADE.

Great Doings in East Grand Forks

July 4.

East Grand Forks, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Great headway has been made in the big Fourth of July celebration which will be held in East Grand Forks. The committee have finally all been appointed and are at work on their various tasks. About $200 has already been subscribed by the business men for the big doing parade. The industrial parade will represent every line of business in the city. The Picketts will play one of the fastest baseball teams that can be brought to that city. Prof. Finley of Grand Forks will probably direct the talented musicians that will be secured for the occasion. Sports of all kinds will be the feature of the day and the program. A bowery will probably be built and open air dancing can be indulged in.

SENIORS' EXERCISES

Class Night at High School is Brilliant Success.

Playlets, Addresses and Songs Make a Big Hit.

Members of the senior class at the Central high school held their last frolic there last evening, when the class day exercises took place.

Friday evening they will receive their diplomas, but that occasion will be a sober, serious affair, while last night's exercises were in a lighter vein.

There were humorous class histories and prophecies; class songs with derisive interpolations by the juniors; playlets written and enacted by the students; and musical numbers by several members of the class.

The spacious high school auditorium was crowded with the fellow-students of the graduates and their friends and relatives, and the program the seniors gave had much interest for everyone present.

Two playlets written by girls of the graduating class were the feature of the evening's entertainment.

"The Expelling of the Pikes" is a dramatization by Miss Santa Erd, of a magazine story, and it was presented in a lively fashion last evening. The dialogue was clever and the plot consistent.

In her character of the village gossip, Miss Erd made a distinct hit. Her make-up was good and not once did she step out of the character of the village gossip.

Miss Edna Park as Mollie Carroll, mistress of the new country house, was also a hit. Her make-up was good and not once did she step out of the character of the village gossip.

MARINE NEWS

INCREASING THE FLEET

Steel Corporation Putting Boats in Commission Very Gradually.

Allovez Docks to Furnish Most Cargoes for Wild Boats.

Two more of the Pittsburgh Steamship company's fleet went into commission at Cleveland yesterday and will be sent to the Lakes to take ore. Gradual additions will be made to the fleet during the month of June and it is expected that by July 1 all of the boats of the line will be in commission, running ore from the Misissee and Two Harbors docks.

There is nothing to indicate an improvement in the situation, as far as the boats of the independent fleet are concerned. The 30,000 tons of ore to be moved from the head of the Lakes by wild boats will furnish cargoes for no more than two months and no start will be made until the first of July at least. Coal cargoes will be in returning light and with no profit in carrying them, there is no reason to expect that they will be in the market for long.

RHODES BADLY DAMAGED.

Forty-Seven Plates to be Replaced on Boat That Went Ashore.

Cleveland, June 2.—The steamer Joshua Rhodes, which was ashore in Hammond's Bay, is in bad shape. She has forty-seven plates damaged and will take three weeks to make repairs.

BURNED STEAMER TOWED IN.

City of Glasgow Taken to Sturgeon Bay From Green Bay.

Sturgeon Bay, June 2.—The burned steamer City of Glasgow was brought here from Green Bay Monday night, after the wrecking expedition had lain behind Long Tail Point a couple of days for shelter.

COAL CHARTERS MADE.

No Great Increase in Forwarding Before July.

Duluth, June 2.—There was some chartering yesterday, but the boats taken were far out of the way points at private terms. The following were placed: McIntosh, William Blake, Port Huron. The action of the independent vessel owners at Cleveland, Monday, means no great increase in forwarding before July.

DOWN CARGOES SCARCE.

Losses Entailed by Return of Steamers to Lower Lakes Light. Cleveland, June 2.—The coal trade is the only branch of business that shows any life, and down cargoes are as scarce as ever. A steel steamer that took coal to the head of Lake Superior at 20 cents, and came back light, lost money.

TIONESTA HERE FRIDAY.

Anchor Line Boat Makes Special Trip for Minnesota Millers.

The Anchor Line passenger boat Tionesta will arrive in port Friday morning on her first trip of the season, a special trip for the benefit of the Minnesota members of the National Millers' association, which will hold its convention in Detroit next week.

The Minneapolis and St. Paul delegates will arrive in Duluth Monday morning and the Tionesta will leave Sunday night. Although the trip is made especially for the millers, the boat is doing a general business both ways, carrying passengers and freight. The first scheduled trip of an Anchor line passenger boat will also be made by the Tionesta, which will leave Buffalo, Tuesday, June 16, arriving in Duluth June 21. The Tionesta will leave Buffalo about June 20, and the Japan will follow July 1. After that time, the boats will follow their regular schedule.

MUCH GRAIN UNSOLD.

All Lines in Market, But No Grain to be Shipped. Chicago, June 2.—All the lines were in the market for small lots of grain, but full cargoes were not to be had. There is no telling when the corn accumulated during the recent corner will begin to move. There is a large amount of unsold grain now in the East and it must be disposed of before much more will be shipped.

THREE BARRELS OF INJECTION FLUID TO CURE

Frederick Sterns of Springfield, Minn.

Special to The Herald:

With unusual interest we mention the cure of Frederick Sterns, a prominent citizen living at Springfield, Minn., who has been suffering with cancer, was cured by Dr. Rea with three injections of fluid. By his famous hypodermic injection fluid, it took three barrels of twenty drops each, enough to fill a hypodermic syringe full three times, of this injection fluid to cure him. Mr. Sterns will be pleased, of course, to correspond with any who are afflicted and in need of this wonderful treatment.

Incidents are rare and far between where doctors cure cancer. As a rule, physicians are content to sit down and wait for patients to come to them. Some wait until they are 40, some 50, some 70, and some a lifetime. This has not been the policy of Dr. Rea. A man who has been in practice for twenty years, treating exclusively diseases of a chronic nature, and diseases that have been treated without success in the ordinary way. Dr. Rea has had the experience of the best medical assistance that the world can produce. Patients who treat with him can treat fully convinced that he will deal with them honestly, that his system is based on a knowledge of science, and not upon theories of the country. Dr. Rea is giving credit to those to whom credit belongs, and if a cross-section of the world could be given to him, he would be a good cure. If he is convinced by reason of his experience as such, give it credit, give it praise, and give it wide circulation.

Mr. Henry Wischardt, Sleepy Eye, Minn., cured of a very serious ailment of the rectum, and speaks in the highest praise of Dr. Rea. He was cured of his ailments after other treatment, cure remedies, and other doctors had failed. Mr. Wischardt was afflicted for six years. Had tried all kinds of advertised remedies, cures, and many doctors, and they were unable to do him any good, or give him any relief. When he came to Dr. Rea, he refused. Last summer he was unable to do much work, and was scarcely able to stand on his feet. The least work played him out.

William Scheel, Alexandria, Minn., cured of protruding piles of fourteen years' standing. Cured by the injection method.

Mrs. John Block, Holdingsford, Minn. Cured of varicose veins and sore legs.

Mrs. John Gmelmer, Long Prairie, Minn. Cured of chronic ulcerated sore legs.

Albert Ziska, Le Sueur Center, Minn. Cured of cancer of the nose by the hypodermic injection method.

Mr. Ziska has recommended many patients and every time he goes to Le Sueur. These patients, of course, come by reason of having been recommended by others. This is true throughout the entire practice of Dr. Rea.

Stella Crabtree, Detroit, Minn., has been treated with Dr. Rea for several months. Had a very serious ailment. She writes that she is thankful. That she doesn't need any more medicine now.

William Olson, Clear Lake, S. D., cured of blindness. Had been in the sanitarium at Hudson, Wis. Doctors there after treating him, so he said, pronounced him incurable and sent him home. Went to Dr. Rea and was completely cured in a short time.

S. M. Moore, Gustafson, N. D., writes: "Dr. Rea, you cured my son over a year ago. I have another sick boy, and want you to doctor him."

Wm. Reid, Little Falls, Minn., cured of cancer of the lip in one treatment.

Mrs. George Kosanke, St. Cloud, Minn., cured of cancer of the womb.

Miss Martha Murphy, St. Cloud, Minn., says: "Dr. Rea saved my life by curing me of chronic ulcerated stomach."

Miss Emma Geving, McIntosh, Minn., writes: "Dr. Rea, you are curing me of consumption. My cough is all gone."

Dr. Rea devotes his time and interest in the practice of his profession exclusively to the treatment of diseases of men, diseases of women, chronic diseases, nervous diseases and lung diseases.

Special to The Herald: Dr. Rea announces the date of his next visit to Superior, at Superior hotel, Friday, June 5th, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Duluth, Minn., at St. Louis hotel, Saturday, June 6th, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

This is the first year of Dr. Rea's continued visits to the Lake Cities. In that time he has established a practice and reputation for himself that is far-reaching. His special system of treating chronic diseases has been a surprise to those many so-called incurable cases that are found in the practice of medicine.

Dr. Rea's consultations and examinations are to those interested, $1.00.

VAN BUREN'S NEPHEW DEAD.
To End, Plays Part of Gentleman in Lodging House.

Albany, N. Y., June 3.—Martin Van Buren, nephew of President Van Buren, died in a cheap lodging house in Green street at the age of 82 years and was buried in the soldiers' plot of a rural cemetery. Known only to a few comrades, who had served with him in the Civil war, and to a few business acquaintances, Van Buren led a quiet and secluded life, barely managing to exist.

In his youth Van Buren spent many days in the White House with his uncle's president. His father, who died in 1856, was one of the wealthiest and best known physicians in this city. From the small remains of a once large fortune he had purchased a stone to mark the grave of the son.

Van Buren, dressed in the relics of his former affluence, played to the end the part of an aristocratic gentleman. About seven years ago, when the old man drifted to the almshouse and asked assistance, he said he had been driven from his home and that his sister had been made a communist by the loss of her estate. He left him and asked how he could have another committee of his person appointed. After getting in communication with his sister, Catherine, of Charlotte, N. C., Van Buren was appointed by Judge Herick guardian of the old man.

"I do not remember the name of this sister," said Commissioner Cantine today, "for whether she is living or dead. The father, Dr. Van Buren, left an estate valued at $50,000. I understand that the son went through the larger part of his share before his sister took charge. Week after week since Judge Herick's order, he has come to me for his little allowance. He told me little of his history, but often made remarks which showed his antipathy to his sister. There is but a small part of his fortune left, and that is deposited with the New York Life & Trust company. An endeavor will now be made to see if the old man has any relatives or heirs."

FATHER BUI IS HONORED

Vicar General of Duluth
Diocese Celebrates
Golden Jubilee.

Pioneer Slavonic Priest is Entertained at Joliet, Ill.

Joliet, Ill., June 3.—Yesterday was a day of rare occurrence in the history of local Slavonians—as on that day they entertained two bishops, two monsignors and over fifty priests, all of their own nationality.

The occasion for this gathering was in honor of the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Joseph F. Bui, D. D., vicar general of Duluth, Minn., diocese, a pioneer Slavonic priest and a well-known Indian missionary throughout the Northwest. He yesterday celebrated his fiftieth anniversary of priesthood in St. Joseph's church, where he celebrated mass at 11 a. m. He is now 53 years of age and has been fifty years in service in various missions—chiefly among the Indians and has built about twenty churches.

Still Hale and Hearty.
Though his labors in the priesthood have been long and an untiring zeal and strong energy, he is today a hale and hearty priest, possessed of extraordinary talents. He speaks and writes fluently English, French, German, Spanish, several Indian dialects and Slavonic languages. He is an unassuming man of sincere piety and earnestness.

Many years ago, Mgr. Bui openly recognized in him a splendid type and lustre of a true and able priest and therefore tried several times to elevate him to the dignity of bishop, but he steadfastly refused. However, ten years ago he was again approached by the holy father who did not wish to pass his life without the reward of some dignity at least in honor.

So, in 1898 he consented—though reluctantly—and was created a monsignor, an honor "second in rank after the bishop." Whilst all his years of sacerdotal labors have been mostly among the Indians, he also ministered to several other nationalities and is today still in charge of a parish at Joliet, Ill.

A Teacher of Patriotism.
Bui, as he has always been, in his many duties though he never labored amongst his native people, he has not forgotten them. Being himself a Slavonic, he imbued with the true patriotism of this, his adopted country, and possessed of the highest American ideals, he interested himself in the welfare of his countrymen in teaching them the ways and means to honest American integrity and progressiveness.

With this end in view he commenced to publish the first Slavonic, a weekly Catholic paper, in 1891 known as "Amerikanski Slavonic." By this means he became more closely united to the Slavonic people scattered throughout the United States and was thereby enabled to give them valuable and valuable advice. This publication was conducted by him for three years.

Feeling the weight of age and care, with much yet to be done, his only other desire was to see his countrymen organized into one Catholic benevolent union. Before relieving him, he made an earnest appeal to that end with a remarkable result, for in April, 1894 he saw the beginning of the Slavonic Catholic union (K. S. K. J.), spring forth in this country and others followed so that today there is not a state in which several branches of this union may not be found solidly established.

Joliet, being first and foremost in the organization, has been chosen as a permanent home of the supreme offices. With it is also connected the original "Amerikanski Slavonic" paper, transferred from Minnesota, and is now published by the "Slavonic American" Printing company of this city, since 1904, under the able direction of the Rev. F. S. Sustersic.

GEN. U. S. GRANT NOT A DRUNKARD

Dr. Walter Kempster Corrects Assertion of Secretary Taft.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 3.—The real reason why Gen. U. S. Grant left the army in 1864 was made known yesterday by Dr. Walter Kempster of this city. In referring to the resignation of Grant given by Secretary of War Taft on Memorial day, speaking in the Grant tomb, Secretary Taft had over-estimated all obstacles, and referring to his resignation from the army in 1864 said it was due to a weakness for strong drink.

"I know this was not correct," said Dr. Kempster. "I know it from conversations I have had with Grant's brother officers—men who served in his regiment at the time of his resignation. The fact is that after Grant left West Point he did drink occasionally but not to excess. The commander of his regiment at that time was a man of the most intemperate type. On one occasion Gen. Grant had taken a drink with some brother officers, not enough to intoxicate. Word came to the colonel who sent for Grant. Under the colonel's orders, Grant wrote out his resignation, undated. This resignation was given to the colonel with a letter which Grant was also required to write, declaring that if he ever took another drink the colonel was authorized to forward his resignation to Washington."

"Some years later, Grant was present at the marriage of a brother officer. Punch was served. Grant, with others took a cup of punch, only one cup. The next day he was called before his colonel, who recalled the matter of the resignation."

"Captain," said the colonel, "you authorized me to forward your resignation to Washington if you ever took another drink, did you not?"

"I did sir," was Grant's response.

Interesting Magazine
Article.

"The largest individual land dealer on the continent and 'The American Investor of Canada.' Thus is A. D. Davidson of Duluth spoken of in an interesting article in the June number of The World Today. In this article, Herbert Vanderhoof, the author, classes Mr. Davidson among the 'modern wizards' of this continent."

The "modern wizards" referred to are those who, by their tireless energy, are conquering the Canadian prairies, the mountains, and the forests. Mr. Davidson's name is linked with such names as William MacKenzie, president of the Canadian Northern railway, "which has grown a mile a day for eleven years," William Whyte, vice president of the Canadian Pacific railway, and Charles M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway system.

It tells of how Col. A. D. Davidson, the colonizer, had already arranged for the selling the land along the line of the Canadian Northern, before the track was laid on the branch from Etoimani northwest preparatory to pushing on to Fort Churchill and Hudson Bay.

DIGGING LESS DIRT.
Washington, June 3.—A falling off of over a half million cubic yards in excavation on the isthmian canal for May, as compared with April, is shown in a dispatch received at the canal commission yesterday from Engineer Goethals. The decrease is attributed mainly to great rainfall. The May excavation was but 2,703,923 cubic yards.

SENATOR PLATT SUED.
Law Firm Wants Reimbursement for Money Paid for Wife's Debts.

New York, June 3.—A suit was brought in the supreme court yesterday against United States Senator Thomas C. Platt by a law firm to recover $2,471, which the plaintiff claimed it had paid for debts contracted by Mrs. Lillian Janeway Platt shortly before her separation agreement with Senator Platt in 1906. The plaintiff alleges that Senator Platt was to pay all the bills incurred by his wife prior to their separation. Between the commencement of the negotiations and the date of the separation Mrs. Platt ran up other bills, which she insisted the senator should pay, in addition to giving her a sum of $25,000, which she agreed to accept in lieu of a permanent income.

Frank H. Platt, Senator Platt's son, was a witness for his father and testified that Mrs. Platt was to be given $25,000, of which she received $25,000 down, and was to be paid $10,000 a year for five years. He said he thought the reason she got $25,000 as a first payment was to enable her to pay her outstanding debts. Justice Ford directed the jury to return a sealed verdict.

DULUTH MAN INVENTS.
A. W. Snow Secures a Patent for a Grading Machine.

Washington, June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following patents were issued by the patent office last week to Minnesota people: L. M. Anderson, Crookston, Minn., pneumatic stacker; T. F. Bowes, Minneapolis, Minn., envelope sealing machine; R. Braun, Glen Ullin, N. D., gear connection; W. M. Chhill, Winona, Minn., animal shears; C. J. Daniel, Shelburne, Minn., garment supporter; P. M. Greer, Winona, Minn., game; A. Knox, Alpena, S. D., gas engine; G. A. Peers, Hutchinson, Minn., stock car partition; H. Peterson, O. Minneapolis, Minn., bicycle machine; P. S. Severin, Crookston, Minn., loading machine; A. W. Snow, Duluth, Minn., grading machine; J. W. Taylor, Minneapolis, Minn., garment supporter; W. R. Van Slyke, Eveleth, Minn., typewriter platen.

"You took a drink last night, did you not?"

"I did, sir."

Grant's resignation was sent to Washington, and he took his medicine, like a man. The incident caused great feeling in the regiment, and his fellow officers pledged themselves to do anything they could for Grant, if the opportunity ever presented itself.

"At the outbreak of the Civil war, when Grant was acting as a clerk in the mustering office of the Illinois troops, he was recognized by the regular officer detailed to muster in the troops, but whom, however, Grant did not recognize as a former fellow officer. When the occasion came to fill the colonelship of a regiment, this officer secured a colonel's commission for Grant, telling Governor Yates of Grant's regular army record. Not until this officer presented the commission to Grant did Grant learn of the pledge of his former brother officers."

"The officer who secured that commission for Grant was Maj. Gen. W. H. Emory, and he told me the whole story. I knew Gen. Grant well, but I knew Gen. Sheridan better, and Gen. Sheridan has a reputation as an over-estimator of Grant's retirement from the army."

PROHIBITION CONVENTION

To Nominate Candidates
Minnesota.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first party to enter the field with its nominees for state offices and presidential electors will be the Prohibition party, which will hold its state convention in Minneapolis on Monday and Tuesday, June 8 and 9. While it is not likely that the party is highly hopeful of electing its ticket, there is no scarcity of men who are willing to lead the hosts of the drys to battle. Among those whose names gossip connects with the nomination for governor are Dr. George D. Haggard of Minneapolis, Clarence Wedge of Albert Lea, T. J. Anderson of Red Lake and Charles M. Way of Minneapolis.

The convention will also elect a campaign committee to manage the affairs of the canvass, and thirty-five delegates and an equal number of alternates to the national convention to be held in Chicago on July 16.

Rumor has it that the state committee will name E. E. Lohbeck, Prohibition legislator from Douglas county, as temporary chairman, and that he will make the keynote speech upon his introduction to the convention. Mr. Lohbeck has a reputation as an orator, and has had some experiences out of which he can speak with authority. The address of welcome to the delegates will be delivered by ex-Mayor James Gray and ex-Senator John H. Johnson.

The campaign will be a legislative campaign, and promises to be one of our standards by the thousands, on our legislative proposition. In the past we have changed more votes than any other organization, partisan or non-partisan, big or little. The tally sheet showed an increase of 2,000 in our legislative strength, and we have the old party politicians scared almost as badly as the brewers, and they are both falling good. But we will be in the game till the knee blows, and will play straight ball."

JEWISH PEOPLE WILL CELEBRATE

Feast of Weeks Will be Observed in Duluth.

The Feast of Weeks, the pentecostal period, will be observed Friday and Saturday in the Jewish houses of worship in the city.

In the Jewish faith, these days commemorate the giving of the commandments at Mount Sinai. They mark the beginning of the law and are days of rejoicing, although marked by no elaborate services.

In the orthodox congregation, two days of the Feast of Weeks are observed, while in the reformed congregations, just Friday is considered as the real festival day. The regular weekly services in the synagogues and temples of both branches of the Jewish faith will have a special significance and the auditors will be decked with flowers and other products of the fields.

One feature of the week at the Reformed temple will be the confirmation of six children Sunday morning.

A. D. DAVIDSON AS "MODERN WIZARD"

Duluth Man is Subject of Interesting Magazine
Article.

"The largest individual land dealer on the continent and 'The American Investor of Canada.' Thus is A. D. Davidson of Duluth spoken of in an interesting article in the June number of The World Today. In this article, Herbert Vanderhoof, the author, classes Mr. Davidson among the 'modern wizards' of this continent."

The "modern wizards" referred to are those who, by their tireless energy, are conquering the Canadian prairies, the mountains, and the forests. Mr. Davidson's name is linked with such names as William MacKenzie, president of the Canadian Northern railway, "which has grown a mile a day for eleven years," William Whyte, vice president of the Canadian Pacific railway, and Charles M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway system.

It tells of how Col. A. D. Davidson, the colonizer, had already arranged for the selling the land along the line of the Canadian Northern, before the track was laid on the branch from Etoimani northwest preparatory to pushing on to Fort Churchill and Hudson Bay.

DIGGING LESS DIRT.
Washington, June 3.—A falling off of over a half million cubic yards in excavation on the isthmian canal for May, as compared with April, is shown in a dispatch received at the canal commission yesterday from Engineer Goethals. The decrease is attributed mainly to great rainfall. The May excavation was but 2,703,923 cubic yards.

SENATOR PLATT SUED.
Law Firm Wants Reimbursement for Money Paid for Wife's Debts.

New York, June 3.—A suit was brought in the supreme court yesterday against United States Senator Thomas C. Platt by a law firm to recover $2,471, which the plaintiff claimed it had paid for debts contracted by Mrs. Lillian Janeway Platt shortly before her separation agreement with Senator Platt in 1906. The plaintiff alleges that Senator Platt was to pay all the bills incurred by his wife prior to their separation. Between the commencement of the negotiations and the date of the separation Mrs. Platt ran up other bills, which she insisted the senator should pay, in addition to giving her a sum of $25,000, which she agreed to accept in lieu of a permanent income.

Frank H. Platt, Senator Platt's son, was a witness for his father and testified that Mrs. Platt was to be given $25,000, of which she received $25,000 down, and was to be paid $10,000 a year for five years. He said he thought the reason she got $25,000 as a first payment was to enable her to pay her outstanding debts. Justice Ford directed the jury to return a sealed verdict.

RACIAL QUESTION

Discussed by the United Presbyterians at Pittsburg Conference.

Pittsburg, June 3.—The general assembly of the United Presbyterian church became involved in an animated discussion of the racial question while considering the report of the board of Freedmen's mission, presented by Rev. J. W. Witherspoon, corresponding secretary of the board.

"We want no 'Jim Crow' churches in the North," said Rev. Dr. D. S. Little.

"What we do want is the church of Jesus Christ. The white and black attend our public schools together, then why should they not attend God's house together?"

This remark was called out by a resolution providing that colored members of United Presbyterian churches in the North shall be placed under the care of the presbyteries in which they reside, and that their churches be taken over by the board of education of home missions, the same as dependent white congregations.

Dr. Carson, the moderator, explained that the intent of the resolution was to shepherd the colored churches of the North as churches, rather than as individual members. Dr. Carson said he understood the colored people of the North prefer this plan. The resolution was adopted.

DIABOLO IS THE CRAZE

The Fad Takes Firm Hold of Duluth Children.

Even Baseball is Being Neglected in Its Favor.

The diabolo craze has struck Duluth with a vengeance. Tops, marbles and skipping ropes are abandoned entirely, and even baseball is being neglected for the fascinating importation from France.

The old little game, if game it may be called, was played to a certain extent in the homes of the city during the winter months, principally among the older people, but during the last week or two the boys and girls have become affected with the fever, and now they may be seen at all hours of the day and in all parts of town, tossing the spool-shaped pieces of wood into the air by means of a string attached to two little wooden handles, and trying to catch them on the string again.

The stores have had a remarkable sale of diabolo during the last two or three weeks, and despite the fact that the game is sold in a score or more of places the supply has been exhausted more than once, and the merchants have had to send in a hurry call for more. Once the game is introduced into one of the school buildings, it goes like wildfire, and every boy and girl who can afford the purchase, invest in a diabolo outfit before the end of the week.

The game is so simple to look at that one cannot see the interest in it until a trial is made. Then, like the famous pie-in-the-face puzzle, it is not so easy as it looks. The game is made of different grades, the kind that most of the school boys buy is a somewhat inferior article, of cheap construction, and its successful operation is not so easy as the case with the better class of diabolo sticks. The blocks are lighter in the cheaper class and not so carefully constructed, so it requires an expert to balance them properly on the string.

Most of the boys are experts, however, all the more attractive to them, and the difficult part of the game makes it should get hold of a first-class outfit after they had been using the cheaper grades for two or three weeks, they would surprise their elders with their feats.

SHORTS' VERSION OF DUKE'S DEATH
Says He Was Kneeling in Prayer When Fatal Stroke Came.

New York, June 3.—On his return from Paris yesterday, Theodore P. Shorts, president of the Interior Metropolitan company, declared that the reports that the death of his son-in-law, the Duke de Chauvins, was due to indulgence in opium were unfounded. Mr. Shorts said that the duke's death was caused by heart disease, and that he was not addicted to the use of drugs.

"The duke and my daughter were kneeling at their bedside in prayer," said Mr. Shorts. "When the fatal stroke came upon him that carried him off before medical aid could be summoned. The memory of the duke has been grossly maligned, and outrageous reports were printed about the manner and cause of his death. The facts are these:

"On the afternoon of the day on which he died, the duke and my daughter were out riding. They dined together and then retired to their apartment early.

"They were kneeling close together and the duke held one arm about his wife's shoulders. Suddenly he lurched forward and then collapsed senseless at my daughter's feet. He was a big man and she a slight girl, but she lifted him bodily on her arms and carried him to his room. He was dead before any thing could be done for him.

"Upon my arrival in Paris I found my daughter in an alarming condition. Until two weeks ago we feared that her reason had been lost and would never return. It is just two weeks ago Sunday when the turn for the better came. My wife and one of my daughters will remain with the duchess throughout the summer."

OPERATIVE MILLERS ARE MEETING IN MINNEAPOLIS.
Minneapolis, Minn., June 3.—With 200 membership present, delegates to the thirteenth annual convention of the International Association of Operative Millers of America met in session at the West Hotel. Mayor James Chasney turned over the keys of the city, made the members welcome and placed himself foremost in the hearts of the visiting millers as persona grata.

President Lewis made his annual address and Secretary-Treasurer J. F. Mueller reported the society in a prosperous condition for the year.

Unique Wedding Gift Received by Rich Wisconsin Bride.

Appleton, Wis., June 3.—The marriage of Miss Barbara Jane McNaughton, daughter of John McNaughton, the millionaire paper manufacturer, and Prof. Judson G. Rosebush, a member of the faculty of Lawrence university, was solemnized last night. President Samuel Plantz of the university officiating.

Among the unique gifts received by the bride is a handsome, bound volume containing six chapters of the romance of the keys of the city, the best known literary work of the bride's father.

The gift of the bride's father, Mr. Rosebush, is a graduate of Alfred and Harvard universities, and holds fellowships at Cornell, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin universities.

John Weingart of Cotton Makes Unpleasant Discovery.
Cotton, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Returning to his home near here from a neighbor's last Thursday, John E. Weingart was horrified to find his home in flames. The house had caught fire from an unknown source during his absence and was completely destroyed. He estimates the loss at about $2,000.

EDNA GOODRICH NOT TO WED.

Her Engagement to J. H. MacMillan of Nevada Declared Off.

San Francisco, June 3.—The wedding of Miss Edna Goodrich, the actress, to J. Harry MacMillan, a wealthy Nevada, will not take place on June 10, as was announced. Something has happened.

"Their marriage may never take place," said Mrs. Goodrich, Edna's mother.

"My business won't let me," said Mr. MacMillan. The former actress wouldn't say further.

MacMillan had come down to San Francisco on the same train with Edna Goodrich. The latter had come all the way from Europe.

RURAL CARRIER SCORES CONGRESS FOR INACTIVITY.
Cambridge, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The rural mail carriers of Isanti county held their annual meeting here yesterday.

Charles Patso, scored congress for their inactivity and for not doing the right thing by rural carriers as to salaries.

W. H. Dunbar, past state president, spoke at length on the work of the association and of its great benefit to that body.

Louis Lidstrom spoke on the good work that is before them. County Sup't. of Schools C. G. Benson also addressed the gathering.

Six new members joined the association. The following were elected delegates to the state convention to be held at Red Wing June 12 and 13: Louis Lidstrom, R. E. Hoesdrecht, Robert Anderson, alternates, H. Isackson, O. T. Swanson and Miss Alma Dunbar.

The next annual meeting will be held at Isanti. A banquet was given at the Arlington hotel by the Cambridge carriers to the visitors and the women.

Delegates to American Federation of Labor, Frank Morrison, Chicago; Max S. Hayes, Cleveland; Hughes Stevenson, Toronto; and T. W. McCullough, Omaha; trustees Union Printers' home, Anna C. Wilson, Washington, D. C.; L. C. Shepherd, Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Thomas McCafferty, Colorado Springs, Colo.

MUST PAY FULL DUTY ON $340,000 NECKLACE.
New York, June 3.—Customs duties of 60 per cent must be paid on the $340,000 pearl necklace imported from France by Mrs. William B. Leeds, under a decision rendered by Judge Lacombe, in the United States court, yesterday.

The decision sustained the ruling made by the collector of the port, which subsequently was set aside by the board of general appraisers. It was the result of an appeal taken by the government from the finding of the general board. After the necklace was purchased in Paris the pearls were separated and brought to this country as individual gems, in the belief that they would be admitted upon the payment of 10 per cent duty, which the law provides for individual pearls.

The collector of the port ruled that as the pearls had been used as a necklace, and are intended to be used in that form again, the full duty of 60 per cent should be levied.

FARMER IS MISSING.
Park Rapids, Minn., June 3.—Fred Weaver, aged 23 years, is missing since Friday afternoon, and efforts to locate him have been in vain. He came to town from his farm and made some purchases, leaving his horse and buggy at a livery. On his failure to return home, his father began a search, but no trace of him can be found. It is thought that he may have fallen in the mill pond, or be a victim of foul play.

COUNTY BOARD WILL MEET

June Session Will Occur at Courthouse Next Friday.

The June meeting of the board of county commissioners will be held at the courthouse Friday morning. The finance committee will meet Thursday to audit the bills before the board meeting.

So far as known at the present time there are no matters of special importance, outside the usual routine business of the board, to come before the meeting. Quite a number of road hearings have been set for Friday, and it is likely that a number of new county roads will be authorized.

The board disposed of the courthouses appropriation matter at a special meeting held last month, by raising the amount of the appropriation from $70,000 to $100,000. It is not thought likely that there will be any matters in connection with the new courthouses to be brought before the board at the Friday meeting.

The courthouse commission will have a meeting Thursday afternoon.

CANNOT FIX BOOK PRICE.
Supreme Court Holds Right is Not Contained in Copyright.

Washington, June 3.—The supreme court decided an important copyright case, that of the Bobbs-Merrill company of Indianapolis vs. R. H. Macy & Co., and Isador and N. Straus of New York, the finding being in favor of the Bobbs-Merrill company.

In this case the court dealt with the dealer of a copyrighted book by a retail price fixed by the publishers was an infringement of the copyright.

The Bobbs-Merrill company published a novel and stipulated in a printed notice that it should not be sold for less than $1 a copy. Macy & Co. sold the work for 90 cents and suit was brought in the federal court of the United States for the northern district of New York, but the bill was dismissed.

The suit was based on the theory that the right to dispose of a copyrighted work gives the owner authority to place restrictions on its sale.

"The Talk of The Town"

JOHN DE MARS IS ACQUITTED

The State Fails to Prove Sunday Sale of Liquor.

John DeMars, the 15-year-old boy who was arrested Monday on the charge of selling liquor on Sunday, was acquitted in police court yesterday.

He was defended by Attorney Hans B. Haroldson, who succeeded in getting his client off on a technical point.

It was claimed that young DeMars sold beer in his uncle's saloon, on Garfield avenue, last Sunday. Two police spies claimed they had purchased the beer, but on cross-examination they were unable to swear it was malt beer, and a motion by Attorney Haroldson to dismiss the case was granted.

ACCIDENT ON PERE MARQUETTE.
Detroit, Mich., June 3.—Westbound passenger train No. 5, on the Pere Marquette railroad, ran into an open switch at Mulleten, forty-five miles east of Grand Rapids, yesterday, and the locomotive and baggage car were partly overturned. The smoker, coach and parlor car were derailed, but remained upright. Engineer Ives had two ribs broken. Roadmaster Meyers, who was riding in the cab, had his head severely cut and bruised. Two passengers were slightly injured.

MERRITT MAKES BIG INVESTMENT
Former Duluthian Buys Business Corner in Los Angeles.

Hulet C. Merritt, a former Duluthian, now a resident of Pasadena, Cal., has completed the purchase of a prominent corner at the intersection of Broadway and Eighth streets, Los Angeles, for $250,000. The sale was made on the basis of $500 per front foot, the property having a frontage of sixty-five feet on Broadway by 115 feet on Eighth street. It is claimed that an offer a year ago of $4,000 a front foot was refused and that the only inducement held out by Mr. Merritt was the agreement to erect on the lot a modern building as high as the city ordinance will permit.

Commenting on the purchase the Los Angeles Daily Times says that Mr. Merritt is a millionaire many times over, that he was one of the principal organizers of the United States Steel corporation and is a director in many other large corporations.

These rugs are of the best make—Bigelow, Lowell, Hartford. They are values you will find only at this great store. Others ask you $42.50 and $45.00 for the same kind of rugs. Our price of $32.50 shows the values you will find here—our carpet department in particular.

Discontinued Patterns—All Worsteds Wilton Rugs 9x12 $29.50

At the price we offer these fine all worsteds rugs, you simply can't afford not to have one. They are wonderful values. Other stores get $39.50 for the same rugs. Why not save $10 by buying here?

Napoleon Bed $18.50

Beautifully finished, dull mahogany with roll head and foot, a full sized mahogany Napoleon bed—one of the finest values ever offered, and you couldn't duplicate it elsewhere for less than $35.00.

Colonial Dresser $32.00

Colonial Chiffonier $28.00

These handsome Colonial pieces are in dull mahogany, with fine French plate mirrors, Colonial glass knobs and large panelled sides. They are exact Colonial reproductions and at the price offered are splendid values. Regularly, the dresser would sell for $45 in ordinary stores. Our price is $32.00. The Chiffonier is an exact match—only $28.00.

SOO ROAD GRANTED THE RIGHT TO ENTER THE CITY

Allowed to Condemn Right of Way on Rice's Point.

Will Cross Other Railroads in Twenty-Seven Places.

The Soo road won a complete victory in the courts this afternoon over the Northern Pacific, Northwestern and Great Northern roads, and as a result the Soo is granted the right to enter Duluth and to cross the tracks of the other three roads at twenty-seven places.

Judge Cant filed two orders in the district court this afternoon. One allows the Soo road the right to cross the other three roads in twenty-seven places and the other allows the road to condemn the right of way along Rice's point.

The first meeting of the appraisers will be held June 8 in the office of H. B. Probert, who was the attorney for the Duluth & Thunder Bay road.

The defendants in the case were the Northern Pacific railway, Northwestern railway, Eastern Railway of Minnesota, Duluth Terminal company, Algonquin & Co., Peavy Duluth Terminal company, Capital Elevator company, Consolidated elevator company, Great Northern company, Farmers' Loan & Trust company, Mercantile & Trust company, John Frost and John G. Massie.

The case was heard before Judge Cant last October, and the decision handed down in the case was a complete victory for the Soo road, allowing it to enter the city as it asked to do. The court stipulated that the plaintiff should make the crossings so that they shall cause the smallest possible inconvenience and expense to the other roads, and yet observe all safety requirements.

and "Women in Music" will be the subject under discussion.

For Tinting the Lid. John Hallen was arrested last night by Patrolman Berry for selling intoxicants after hours. Hallen has a saloon at 184 West Superior street, and it is claimed a gang of men was in his place at 11:45 p.m., drinking beer. His hearing was set for this afternoon. He was released under $50 bail.

Shoes Were Stolen. Robert Zuther, an employee in a repair shop on Fourth avenue west, a little above Superior street, was arrested yesterday while trying to sell half dozen pairs of shoes to a second-hand dealer. It is claimed the footwear was stolen. His hearing was set for this afternoon.

A Small Fire. Fire broke out this morning on the second floor of the Messing block, Fourth avenue west and Superior street, but the fire department extinguished the blaze before any serious damage was done. The property loss was very small.

W. C. T. U. Meeting. The W. C. T. U. will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. P. L. West, 60 East Fourth street. Mrs. David Adams will be the leader.

Rice's point. William Getty, George R. Laybourn and John A. Stephenson were appointed appraisers to determine the value of the lands taken by the road.

The court in its order stated that all the allegations made by the Duluth & Thunder Bay Railroad company, the company under which name the Soo road is seeking to acquire the right of way, are true, and that public interests demand that the road be allowed to enter the city.

The first meeting of the appraisers will be held June 8 in the office of H. B. Probert, who was the attorney for the Duluth & Thunder Bay road.

The defendants in the case were the Northern Pacific railway, Northwestern railway, Eastern Railway of Minnesota, Duluth Terminal company, Algonquin & Co., Peavy Duluth Terminal company, Capital Elevator company, Consolidated elevator company, Great Northern company, Farmers' Loan & Trust company, Mercantile & Trust company, John Frost and John G. Massie.

The case was heard before Judge Cant last October, and the decision handed down in the case was a complete victory for the Soo road, allowing it to enter the city as it asked to do. The court stipulated that the plaintiff should make the crossings so that they shall cause the smallest possible inconvenience and expense to the other roads, and yet observe all safety requirements.

Open Publicity

Insures a fair, square and honest deal. It characterizes the policy of Dr. Pierce as relates to the composition of his time-proven and most popular medicines. Their ingredients are on each bottle-wrapper, attested under oath and printed in plain English. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments and sold by druggists, the makers of which publish on each bottle-wrapper what the medicine contains.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contains no alcohol, opium, narcotics or other harmful or habit-forming drugs, as will be seen from its published ingredients. It contains only such native medicinal roots as are miraculously recommended by leading medical writers and practitioners of all the several schools of practice, for the cure of woman's delicate and peculiar ailments. It is safe for women to take in any condition of the system, as it assists Nature in restoring the healthful action of all the organs disordered by disease.

Nature's own cure. In fact, "Favorite Prescription" is Nature's own cure for the many derangements and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is advised for no other disease.

If you are a weak, tired, nervous, over-worked, broken-down, pain-racked woman, either young, or old, or middle-aged, suffering from frequent headaches, backaches, dizziness or fainting spells, gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps see imaginary specks of light, spots floating before the eyes, have dragging-down or heavy feeling in lower abdomen, or pelvic region, with, perhaps, pelvic catarrh, or other symptoms of functional or organic affections of the distinctly feminine organs, then you will make no mistake if you resort to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The most advanced medical science knows no better agents for the cure of all such diseases than are happily and harmoniously combined in this widely-famed "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce.

You can't afford to accept any nostrum of unknown composition and of questionable merit as a substitute for this professionally endorsed and time-tested remedy or known composition, simply that some unprincipled dealer may make a little larger profit. Don't expect it to perform miracles, but give it a fair, persevering trial and it is not likely to disappoint you. It won't dissolve tumors—"no medicine will." It will cure a larger percentage of all curable ailments which especially afflict womanhood than any other medicine sold by druggists for that purpose.

As to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery it has a very large range of application, yet it is by no means recommended as a "Cure-All." It possesses marvelous alternative, or blood-cleansing, properties which are at the same time a most invigorating tonic, or strength-giver. It exerts a specific, cleansing, soothing and healing effect upon all the lining mucous membranes of the system; hence, its great curative value in all catarrhal affections, no matter where located.

In Chronic Nasal Catarrh, it is well to cleanse the passages two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid, while persisting in the use of the "Golden Medical Discovery."

WILL NOT BE HANGED

Eli Mattich is Convicted of Manslaughter Only.

The Maximum Penalty is Fifteen Years in Prison.

Eli Mattich, the slayer of Roll Donjonovich, was convicted yesterday afternoon of manslaughter in the first degree. The maximum penalty is fifteen years imprisonment in the state penitentiary. Mattich was indicted for murder in the first degree. He shot Donjonovich in a boarding house near the Croton mine, at Chisholm, the morning of April 3 last. Donjonovich was not killed outright, but died in the hospital at Hibbing a few days following the shooting. Eli Mattich and David Mattich were both indicted for the murder of Donjonovich. David Mattich will be tried later in the present term of court.

The state claimed that the shooting of Donjonovich was a premeditated affair, that Eli Mattich and David Mattich had armed themselves with the purpose of "fixing" C. Teare, who defended Eli Mattich. The defense claimed that the shooting was entirely accidental, that while Eli was pounding Donjonovich with his revolver the bullet was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking the victim near the base of the spine.

The defense further claimed that Donjonovich was armed and that he entered the boarding house for the purpose of "fixing" C. Teare. The testimony of the state's witnesses and that of the witnesses for the defense was conflicting. The defense claimed that Donjonovich had his hands over his head and was running away when he was shot. Mattich and his witnesses claimed that the state's witnesses were outside the building and could not have seen the shooting affair at all. The testimony was taken through interpreters and the trial was necessarily a long drawn-out affair.

POSTAGE REDUCED

Postal transactions of the various civilized nations have reduced the rate of letter postage from 5 cents an ounce to 6 cents for the first ounce and 3 cents for each additional ounce which is the present rate between the United States and Great Britain with which we have direct steamship communication, and is also the rate between the United States and countries with which we do not have direct steamship communication, but on many to which we have to pay an additional charge of countries through which it passes in transit. Under the articles of the Universal Union, however, any two states can form a restricted union. Examples of such states are those now existing which permit a 2 cents an ounce letter rate between the United States and Cuba, the United States and Panama and the United States and Canada.

Postmaster General Meyer believes this reduction in the rates of postage to the United Kingdom ultimately will result in an increase in revenues, because it has always been found that a reduction of the letter rate resulted in a corresponding increase in the volume of mail.

Manufacturers, he says, are increasing the sales in England and must rely to a great extent upon the mails for orders and increase of trade. Further, the English speaking citizens, particularly those in the United States, will endeavor to keep up correspondence with their relatives and friends in the old country at domestic rates.

locked up, his friends promising to release him by exercising their skill on the lock.

Accordingly he entered the vault, and the massive door swung to, leaving him in darkness. Then the volunteer bank cashiers set to work to demonstrate their ability to release him. But the lock refused to work, and although they labored for some time it was in vain.

At first Susan thought the "boys" were trying to scare him, so he rested on the boxes and small barrels in the vault and took matters easily.

Having failed, after repeated trials to successfully manipulate the lock, Susan's companion, Sergeant P. Mouscau and Patrolmen Easton and Chamberlain, searched the vault for more than an hour before a large enough aperture was made to permit the release of the victim.

FREE FROM ROWDYISM

High School Boys Celebrate Class Night in Harmless Manner.

Bonfire on Campus is Planned for Friday Night.

The high school students worked off their superfluous spirits last evening in a very harmless manner, and little or no rowdiness marked the parade which always follows the class night exercises.

The boys locked arms at the high school and marched down to Superior street yelling and cheering. They "zig-zagged" back and forth across the street and marched through the streets of the city.

Tonight and tomorrow night the grade school pupils will have their closing exercises, and they are generally followed by an attempt to break up the party of the high school students. Last year this took a rather disorderly form, and tonight the police were on hand to see that the boys do not carry their celebration to extremes.

NEW DULUTH COUPLE CELEBRATE SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

MR. WILLIAM MILLEN. MRS. WILLIAM MILLEN. Mr. and Mrs. William Millen of New Duluth, Who Last Friday Evening Celebrated Their Twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary.

HUNDRED TO ONE HORSE WINS HISTORIC DERBY

The only filly in the race, came on with a rush and romped home the easiest of winners. Mountain Apple was 100 to 1 against, on Primer 40 to 1 against, and Llangwyl, 100 to 1 against.

London, June 3.—Lured by the fact that at least half the horses that are to run at Epsom Downs in the historic derby today are considered possible winners, the largest crowd has been seen in many years assembled at Epsom Downs. Special trains from distant points in the province brought thousands of persons early in the day, while over one hundred special trains left the various terminals in London, crammed to saturation, for the famous race course.

The "procession" by road made its debut during the night, and by sunrise the motley throng was stretched out for miles along the thoroughfares leading to Epsom. The early starters were joined a few hours later by fashionable racers in coaches and motor cars.

A feature of the day was the unusual preponderance of women, whose light summer costumes gave a brightness to the road procession which has been noticeably lacking of recent years.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra, the prince and princess of Wales, the duke and duchess of Connaught, and other members of the royal members went down by the train.

Many Americans Present.

The numerous American contingent included Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, August Belmont and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont; Commander John H. Gibbons, the naval attaché at London, and Mrs. Gibbons; Capt. Sydney A. Cloman, the military attaché, and Mrs. Cloman; Miss Phillips, Gen. Leonard Wood and Mrs. Wood; Col. George Andrews and Mrs. Richard Croker.

The derby is made particularly interesting from the American point of view by the fact that for the first time in the history of the race Norman III, an American colt, owned by August Belmont of New York, by Octagon-Nineveh, is the favorite, while William II, by Ede-Saf Saf, also occupied a very good position in the betting. The derby has been won in all three times by Americans—by Mr. Croker in 1907, by Pierre Lorillard in 1881 with Irony, in 1901, with the English horse Volodyovski, leased for the year from Lady Meux.

CHARGED WITH ABDUCTION.

SEARCH IS REWARDED.

Body of Alex Kittson, Sportsman's Friend, is Found.

Cass Lake, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—After searching the lake for seven days in an effort to find the presumed dead body of Alex Kittson, who with Joe North embarked on the lake about five weeks ago, a searching party yesterday found the body on the northeast point of Star Island. The body of North was found about a week ago near the mouth of Turtle river. The boat was found in the vicinity of Cedar Island. Every effort was made to find Kittson's body. At one time there were twelve launchers searching the lake.

The finding of Kittson's body has rewarded sportsmen of the fact that they have lost an admirable friend. Kittson was known as the sportsman's friend. There was not a corner in this section of the lake that he had not been with. Residing around here for the past fifteen or twenty years he familiarized himself with every part of the woods. Whenever a party of hunters desired game, they always consulted Alex.

As a token of love and respect for their dead friend, the sportsmen of the community have taken it upon themselves to hold a funeral for him. The dead man often took pride in stating that he was a sportsman's friend. Alex Kittson, of St. Paul, but reports from St. Paul indicate that there was no relation between the two families.

BOILERMAKERS IN SESSION.

International Brotherhood of America Gathers in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The International Brotherhood of Boilermakers Helpers and Ironship Builders of America opened its annual convention Tuesday in the senate chamber of the old capitol. About 250 delegates were present. The morning session was given over to the address of welcome by W. S. Williams, state labor commissioner, to the response by Henry James of the local association, and to an address by Alexander Garfield of the Retail Clerks' Association of St. Paul. The reports of the committee on credentials was heard and approved.

BANKERS' TRIAL ON SIX COUNTS

Ladysmith Men Facing United States Court at Eau Claire.

Eau Claire, Wis., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The trial began today of John A. Corbett, Gideon E. Newman and Leroy E. McGill, the Ladysmith bankers, who are alleged to have violated the banking act.

Hon. Walter C. Owen, special assistant to the United States attorney, general, William G. Wheeler, United States attorney, and Henry H. Morgan, assistant United States attorney, are here to carry on the prosecution. Besides Attorney Barnes the defendants will be represented by Attorney T. J. Connors of Chilpewa Falls.

The defendants are charged with making false entries in a report of the controller of the currency, aiding and abetting the same. John A. Corbett, who was the cashier of the Ladysmith First National bank of Ladysmith, is charged with making the report with the alleged false entries, and G. E. Newman and L. E. McGill, president and vice president respectively of the same institution are charged with abetting and aiding in the making of the false entries. There are six counts against the defendants in the indictment returned by the grand jury.

The Shirt Waist.

There is absolutely no question of the continued popularity of the lingerie waist. In these, both long and short sleeves are used, but three-quarter length sleeves are decidedly the smartest. These sleeves are usually cut with a medium amount of fullness and are trimmed a great deal—tucked and frilled and made fuss with ruffles of lace and embroidery.

One of the most novel ideas in shirt waists is the introduction of striped patterns, both the broken stripes and the half-line effects, have been recently brought out. Very chic and Parisian looking indeed are waists of striped handkerchief linen in narrow lines of pink, blue, lavender and yellow appearing on white grounds. A single color being used on the white. The fronts of these new waists are very elaborate. They are tucked and made rather full, and trimmed down the closing with a single deep frill arranged in jabot effect, or they show a center box pleat with a frill on each side. In the so-called Marie Antoinette effect. The sleeves are also trimmed with ruffles or frills, and many of them have turn back cuffs trimmed with deep plaited frills that extend up over the fullness of the sleeves.

The summer models in tailored shirt waists are most smart and attractive. Tucks, box pleats and side pleats are all made good use of in these waists, and some models are even shown with vests or chemise effects. In the strictly tailored shirt waists, those models that button in front, with the regulation box pleat, are most in favor. They are always finished with full length sleeves, with starched cuffs and embroidered or plain starched linen collars.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

Last year the art and manual training departments of the Central High school held a most successful exhibit at the school during commencement week and so much interest was shown in the matter that Miss Carey of the art department and George L. Brace of the manual training department decided to again have a showing of the work for the year. Specimens of the work done in the classes have been gathered together in the art room of the school and during the remaining days and evenings of this week the rooms will be open to the guests at the school for the various class day and commencement exercises. The parents of the grade graduates are especially invited to view this exhibit. The work in design is especially fine. There is also much interest in the work of the manual training department, and the dining room table and set of chairs, which were made by boys from the Freshmen class, attracts much attention.

HOME WEDDING.

Miss Clifford Becomes Bride of W. R. Holton.

A pretty wedding took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Clifford of 1317 East First street, when their daughter, Miss Ida May Clifford, became the bride of William Rossman Holton of Superior. The rooms were prettily decorated in palms and ferns and potted plants. At 8 o'clock the wedding music was played by Miss Fulton. There were no attendants and the wedding service was read by Rev. J. W. Powell, Jr., of the London Methodist church. The bride wore a gown of cream tulle and silk, made in the empire mode and trimmed in lace and net. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Only the immediate friends and relatives were present for the ceremony. A large reception followed and during the receiving hours, from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock, a large number of guests called in the dining room. Mrs. W. K. Graham and Mrs. Robert McKinley presided, and at the punch Miss Helen McKinley presided. Mr. Holton and his bride will be at home, after July 15, at 1430 North Sixteenth street, Superior.

POLITE IN PUBLIC.

Woman Seems to Be Improving in Her Manners.

In the American Magazine "The Interpreter" talks about the manners of women. A part of the discussion follows: "The manners of women are better—public particularly.

Do you remember the comedy of riding in the old Pullman car when the woman's washroom could be locked? The early rider would bolt herself in and make leisurely toilet, while a rapidly increasing crowd of angry, half-clad women packed the end of the car, venting their impatience by jostling, pounding on the door, appealing to the authorities. I have seen this selfish occupation of a toilet room carried so far that the train officials were obliged to eject the selfish one, and I have been told by good authority that the nuisance became so great that it led to the substitution of the open room. But the open room did not end the trouble. If you could not be kept out you could be made most comfortable by those who preceded you, by the woman spreading the contents of a large suit case over three-quarters of the room and crumpling because she did not have the remaining fourth; by the woman who left the wash stand sprinkled with powder, bowl unclean, and soiled towels heaped everywhere; by the woman who crowded and crowded and crowded and crowded.

"But I see and hear less, much less, of all this. In a recent trip to the continent there were eighty women in my car, and one of them confided to me toward the end of the trip that there had not been a morning when they did not put themselves out to button one another's waists."

THE ART SCHOOL.

Miss Carey is Appointed Assistant in Design.

A meeting of the board of managers of the Duluth Art school was held this morning at the clubhouse of the library. Miss Gertrude Carey, head of the art department of the high school, has been engaged for the summer term.

as special assistant for design, as applied to the handicrafts. The matter of securing the entertainment of living pictures, which was recently presented at Minneapolis by the leading society women of that city, was discussed, although no definite arrangement was decided upon. The entertainment, which was presented at Minneapolis for the benefit of the Fresh Air Fund, was a most successful and beautiful affair. The participants were posed by artists in copies of some of the famous paintings of the American and European galleries. The board decided, this morning, that if Mrs. Robert Morris Seymour would be able to take charge of the entertainment for its local presentation, that the Duluth school would be glad to stand as sponsor. The matter will probably be decided within the next week.

The summer term of the art school will open July 1. C. C. Rosenkrantz is the director, and Miss Carey assistant in handicrafts and design, and Miss Jessie Case, assistant in the children's classes. Applications for the work are now being received at the school and at the library.

Home Contributions.
The contributions to the Children's Home for the month of April are reported as follows by Mrs. J. N. McKinley, secretary of the home board: Mrs. A. D. Davidson, 1 barrel flour; Mrs. d'Aumont, $1.

Victor Hunt, 1 doz. boxes marshmallows.

Wedding Reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Campbell have issued invitations for the wedding reception of their daughter, Miss Jessie Cecelia Campbell, to Frank Eben Church, to take place at their home, 402 East Third street, Wednesday evening, June 17. The wedding service will be read at 8 o'clock before the immediate celebration will follow from 8:30 to 10 o'clock.

Mrs. S. E. Atkins and Miss Margaret Enslin, who are at a tea at the home of Mrs. Atkins, on South Fourteenth avenue, east, in compliment to Miss Campbell.

Church Meetings.

Star Circle of the Pilgrim Congregational church, this afternoon, with Mrs. Denham of 219 East Third street.

Circle 4 of the same church will meet Friday afternoon of this week with Mrs. Allen of Twelfth avenue east.

Informal Afternoons.

Miss Zeina Kaiser entertained at an informal afternoon at her home, 115 East Third street, this afternoon. Miss Mary Richards, Miss Edith Stewart will be hostess Saturday afternoon in compliment to Miss Richards.

Personal Mention.

Miss Edna Monaghan of 424 East First street has returned from St. Paul to spend the summer in the city.

Mrs. A. S. Wilson of Hunter's Park has returned from Minneapolis.

Mrs. Charles J. Allen of Fargo is the guest of her brothers at the McKay hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Swift will leave Sunday for the East. They will attend the commencement exercises at Smith college of which their daughter, Miss Frances Swift is a graduate of this year. They will visit in the west before their return, when they will be accompanied by Miss Swift and Miss Helen Swift who is attending school at Burnham.

Mrs. Bertha Magoffin, Jr., of Deerwood is the guest of her mother, Mrs. F. Mondschine of Sixth avenue west, during the week.

Mrs. M. Nides of Hibbing is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Polinsky, during commencement week.

Dancing Classes.

The dancing classes for the children and the young society girls, which have been organized, promise to be among the most interesting of the summer pastimes. During the week the meetings are held in the ballroom of Mrs. John Pantan's home. The young girls meet Tuesday afternoons, and upon Wednesday afternoon the children's class is held. A cotillion will probably be given at the end of the season as a climax to the interesting weeks of pleasure.

Household Hints.

No wonder you need a carpet every few years if you insist on using the sweeper instead of the broom. Certainly it is more convenient, but it is not so thorough in its work, and each time the carpet is swept you will find a double handful of lint taken off the carpet. The sweeper is too useful to abolish, but the broom is too reliable to leave alone. Sweep a room with short, even strokes, and take up the accumulation of dust with the sweeper. The only proper way to clean a velvet rug is a laborious one, but it is reliable. Get a good clothes brush and sweep the floor with the pile of the carpet. It removes every particle of dust which a sweeper fails to remove and a broom cannot. A swept carpet, like a polished floor, looks best if dusted. The clean cloth must be dipped in water containing ammonia or turpentine. It not only brightens colors, but insures a sticky against moths. The small white brooms are dependable for removing without scratching dust from the corners of polished wood floors.

Enamel platters with handy handles are now made to hold several dishes of food in the range to keep them warm. The warm platter is carried to the table. They can be purchased in large or small sizes. They are also convenient for carrying warm foods to an invalid. Like all new kitchen articles, they are made attractive looking.

Special Demonstration!

This week, Friday and Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening, will be devoted to a practical demonstration of the New Perfection Blue Flame Oil Stove. Biscuits will be baked and coffee served to all who come.

This is of particular interest to all ladies who appreciate a quick cooking, odorless stove. The New Perfection Blue Flame is a wonder. We want you to see it in operation—ask questions about it—see how easily it is to operate.

In housecleaning times it is often difficult to handle mattresses and get them out into the open air for a thorough beating. One housekeeper has overcome this difficulty by sawing strips of canvas belting, about six inches long, to each side of the mattress to serve as handles. With these two women can carry the heaviest mattress with comparative ease.

The Sheath-Skirt.

In London just at present, and likewise in Paris, the sheath-skirt exhibitions have shocked the modesty of those not in the fashion. Until the come it fast. Has trembled and make beneath the awful blow.

Just how this latest garment compares with peekaboo! And clockwork for expanding. Our erstwhile narrow views widened on the day. Because up till today, no sheath-skirt's operating. Along the Great White Way.

They say—but this is gossip!—That sheath-skirts fit so tight. That lovely woman—gracious! This really isn't right! That lovely woman's figure—Oh, say, this really isn't right! Not fit for publication. So pray cut out this bit.

But let it be whatever it may be, when it hits this little old New York! We'll see the fit of it. By heck, we're out for progress. And London and Paris. Ain't in it with the country. In having things to see.

We have the true ambition. In all we undertake. And we will go one better. On anything they make. Just will; the sheath-skirt's coming. And when it strikes this shore, We'll make that foreign garment. Look like a clothing country.

To Broil Meat.

Broiling means to burn or sear and is applied to the hottest form of cooking known, in which the food is brought into direct contact with the fire, burning being avoided by frequent turning. This quick cooking in the air, which circulates freely about it, gives a delicious flavor unlike that obtained by any other method.

Only those parts of meat which are tender as well as juicy are suitable for broiling.

To Broil Steak—Trim off any excess of fat and wet with a damp cloth. Rub the broiler with a bit of fat. Arrange the thickest part of the steak toward the back of the broiler. At first hold close to the coals. Turn every ten seconds until both sides are well seared, then turn each half minute.

Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts

are as natural as the fruits from which they are made.

For rapid cooking. They are found in the loin and round of beef and the loin and ribs of lamb and mutton. Young poultry, fish, small game and birds may be broiled whole because thin in composition with the size, but meat should be cut in slices not over about an inch and a half in thickness, that the interior may be cooked before the outside has become dry and burned.

In broiling the fire should be the first consideration; it should be almost bright red and should be near the top of the firebox. A bed of hard wood coals, charcoal or coke is better than coal as there is less flame, therefore less danger of smoking the meat; a shovelful of either of the latter may be added to a coal fire with the desired result.

Broiled meat may be smoked from two causes—the coal flame condensing on the cool surface of the meat will deposit a film of coal tar while the fat flame will cover the meat with a thin layer of burned fat.

In turning or lifting the meat if a fork is stuck into it the juices will flow out and be wasted; if necessary to use the fork it should be stuck in the fat. When sufficiently cooked the meat will be slightly puffy in the center and if pressed with the blade of a knife it will feel firm but not hard. When it should be pink and juicy; if purple it is still raw; if dry and brown it is over-cooked. In winter, or when the meat has been taken from the ice immediately before cooking, a little longer time must be allowed in which to attain the proper temperature.

RESINOL SOAP

Will do more for your complexion than any amount of cold cream and "beauty-preparations." The reason is that RESINOL SOAP is at once a Skin-Cleanser, Healer and Nutrient. It first thoroughly removes all dirt and foreign matter, then antiseptically heals every little cut and abrasion, and finally feeds and nourishes the skin as nothing else can. This is largely owing to the fact that instead of containing harmful alkalies—as many toilet soaps do—it is medicated with "RESINOL," the great skin-specific. Add to this the refreshing and comforting effects of the pure vegetable oils used, and you can understand why it is—as thousands have testified—that the best aid to a good complexion is

GOVERNOR HOKE SMITH OF GEORGIA HAVING FIGHT OF HIS LIFE AT PRIMARIES

His Return to Capitol
Next Year Depends on Outcome.

Former Railroad Commissioner Brown is His Opponent.

Every Democrat in State is Lined Up in the Fight.

Atlanta, Ga., June 4.—Today in every county ballots are being cast in the Democratic primary to decide whether Governor Hoke Smith shall return to the state capital after the first of next January, or whether Former Railroad Commissioner Joseph M. Brown will win his fight and become the choice of the people for governor.

Other contests have sunk into insignificance. The Smith-Brown contest is a political fight, with a personal side, which has lined up every Democrat in Georgia.

The election itself does not occur until fall, but as none of the parties outside the Democratic places a state ticket in the field, the Democratic primary decides the election.

United States Senator Clay will be returned without opposition.

The weather throughout Georgia today was ideal for a heavy vote, following the heaviest registration ever made in the state. Both sides are confident.

WILL ADVOCATE TARIFF REVISION

Taft Men Preparing Platform for the Chicago Convention.

Washington, June 4.—National Committee for Minnesota F. B. Kellogg is here attending the conference at the Taft headquarters and at the White House, where the platform of the Republican national convention is being considered. Mr. Kellogg will not be on the committee on resolutions, as he prefers to retain his position as national committee member, but he was invited to the conference by Secretary Taft.

The platform of the Taft forces will be a reiteration of President Roosevelt's policies and his messages to congress. In addition, it will declare strongly for tariff revision at an extra session, to be called immediately after March 4 next, providing the Republican party wins at the polls. Mr. Ellis, author of the tariff plank of the Ohio platform, will be a member of the committee on resolutions, and is expected to lead the fight against the "standpat" who will, doubtless, show vigorous opposition for a declaration that will disapprove of "excessive duties." This proposition is so different from the principle involved in McKinley and the Dingley tariff laws that it is not expected such rampant "standpaters" as Delafield, Payne and others will tamely submit to an innovation. It is the promise of a genuine revision of the tariff, the first the party has made in years, and the advocates of high protection who will be introduced in that committee will oppose the pledge for an over throw of the existing order of things. Secretary Taft and his friends expect to have their tariff plank adopted.

HOLD-UP MAN KILLS FRISCO POLICEMAN.

San Francisco, June 4.—Policeman W. H. Hines was shot and killed early today by a hold-up man named John O. Young. Young entered the hall, drew a revolver and covered the bartender, who promptly ran for the door and escaped. Policeman Hines, who was standing near the door, fired at Young, but he was not hit and fired at close range. Young was captured and is now in the city prison.

JURY CANNOT AGREE IN CASE OF MRS. NEELY.

Allan, Mich., June 4.—After having been out since 5:30 yesterday afternoon, the jury in the case of Mrs. Mabel Neely, charged with manslaughter through neglect, resulting in the death from pneumonia of her 23-year-old child, Walter, on Jan. 4, while under treatment by members of a mental healing sect, announced today that it could not agree. Judge Faulkner thereupon discharged them.

TO REMAIN AT CLEVELAND.

Columbus, Ohio, June 4.—By a vote of 2 to 1 the international convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers yesterday afternoon voted to remain at the general headquarters at Cleveland for the next biennial period, beginning 1910. The contest narrowed down at the close to Cleveland and Chicago.

TO PUT ON DOUBLE SERVICE.

Seattle, June 4.—In connection with the rate war now on the Canadian Pacific will put a double service out of Seattle to Victoria and Vancouver commencing June 15. This feature of the rate war will give the Pacific the best service they have ever had.

ROBBERS GET $10,000.

Tulsa, Okla., June 4.—Robbers cracked the safe of the bank of Fairland, Okla., thirty miles east of here, early today, and escaped with $10,000. The robbery was committed by three men who escaped on horseback. Posses are in pursuit.

TO DEDICATE OLD CANNON

Exercises of Historic Nature at Mackinac Island, July 17.

Vice President Fairbanks and Other Notables to be Present.

Manistique, Mich., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Once manned from the walls of Fort Sumpter, an obelisk cannon is to be dedicated at Mackinac Island on July 17, next, as a memorial commemorative of a little-known incident of the war of 1812. The ceremonies will be appropriate to the occasion and will be carried out under auspices of the Mackinac Island State Park commission. Vice President Fairbanks, who is an occasional summer visitor to the island, has been asked to deliver the principal address, and it is expected that along with him there will be present the majority of Michigan's congressional delegation and state officials.

DEMOCRATS OF IDAHO Split Over the Mormon Question at State Convention.

Twin Falls, Idaho, June 4.—The Democratic party of Idaho is hopelessly split on the Mormon question. Amid the wildest scenes ever witnessed at a convention in this state, two conventions were held yesterday afternoon in the same hall. Both claimed to be regular and a bitter contest before the national convention is expected. At one time during the proceedings yesterday afternoon physical encounters were imminent and one looked as if there might be bloodshed.

The anti-Mormon faction, led by Senator Dubois, seemed to have a majority of the delegates. The other faction elected twelve delegates, one from each of the seven judicial districts and five from the state at large, each entitled to half a vote at the national convention, provided the delegation is voted.

DAY ONCE MORE ON GRILL.

Attacked in Magazine by Officer of Own Institution.

Chicago, June 4.—Chancellor James R. Day of Syracuse university once more is on the grill. He is attacked in this time by an officer of his own institution. That the fiery castigator of President Roosevelt is a menace to the educational credit of his school, that he has been guilty of dishonesty and mismanagement in his administration, and that his actions call for a thorough investigation by the Methodist general conference, are the charges made in the current issue of Science by Prof. William Kent, dean of the college of applied science at Syracuse.

UNKNOWN DONOR GIVES BEREA COLLEGE $50,000.

Lexington, Ky., June 4.—President William Goodell Frost, during commencement exercises at Berea college yesterday announced that a contribution of $50,000 had been made to the Berea college school fund by an unknown Eastern giver. The money was donated on condition that $1 for every dollar given by the Eastern party must be duplicated by subscription secured in Kentucky until the amount reaches $250,000. When this is done, the $50,000 necessary will have been raised and the matter of locating and building the school will be taken up. Two hundred and ninety thousand dollars have already been raised. The $50,000 contribution was pledged through James H. Coffield, librarian of Columbia university, New York city.

HUNDREDS OF DIVERS Lose Lives in Typhoon on Pearl Fishery Grounds.

The disaster to the fleet of pearling luggers occurred near Thursday island, a typhoon striking the fleet just as it was starting for the pearling grounds, scattering the vessels, completely wrecking some and driving others ashore. About twenty Australian pearlers were lost. Other victims were Malays, Manila men, Japanese and Kanakas. Survivors reported harrowing experiences, some being picked up in the last stages of exhaustion after having cut away their masts and clinging to the wrecked hulks, while sharks waited, waiting for exhausted men to drop from the wreckage. Many were rescued by the steamer Parro, sent from Broome as a relief steamer. The bodies of some of the victims were eaten by sharks. The beach near Broome presented a terrible sight, covered with wreckage and bodies.

Bodies of Many of the Victims Eaten by Sharks.

Victoria, B. C., June 4.—The Canadian-Australian liner Nanuka has arrived here bringing news of the destruction of the pearling fleet in a typhoon off West Australia, involving the loss of forty luggers and 270 lives, twenty being whites.

WHAT WOULD NELSON SAY?

The Question That is Bothering
Purdy in Judgeship Affair.

Washington, June 4.—At the White House yesterday afternoon a question was made that the president might not take up the question of a recess appointment for M. E. Purdy for several days. He will dispose of it, in all probability, before the end of the present week. Before anything is done, Mr. Purdy will be consulted. Many of his friends have advised him that a recess appointment might anger Senator Nelson, and thus make confirmation out of the question. This is the opinion of a good friend of Purdy as Senator Knox. Mr. Purdy himself has been inclined to take this view of the case. It is this condition of uncertainty as to what effect a recess appointment may have on Senator Nelson that is causing delay in disposing of the case.

NO DANGER OF INSURRECTION.
New York, June 4.—Augustine Arango, Panama minister to the United States, who is now in New York after his escape from Panama, says that there is no danger that an insurrection will follow the coming presidential election on the isthmus, as seemed to be feared in some quarters.

ture With Cord Around Her Neck.

All Indications Point to a Hard Struggle With Murderer.

Suspicion Points to Former Husband, Recently Divorced.

Milwaukee, June 4.—An Evening Wisconsin special from Appleton, Wis., says: The lifeless body of Mrs. Minnie Grunert was found in a sitting posture in a closet at her home last night. A small cord circling her neck and attached to a hat rack had apparently caused strangulation. District Attorney Rooney today, after hearing some of the details surrounding the mysterious death of the woman, is of the opinion that Mrs. Grunert was murdered.

"Her face is bruised, scratched and swollen and her hands show every sign of a struggle," said Mr. Rooney. "Certainly she could not have inflicted these injuries herself, after affixing the cord to her neck, and she would not have done so."

Twelve Talked of for Republican Vice-Presidential Nomination.

Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota One of Those Considered.

Washington, June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Republican party is well fixed for presidential timber, but now, upon the eve of the Chicago convention the names of running mates to the nominee are coming in thick and fast. There is persistent talk of again running Charles W. Fairbanks, despite the fact that his friends assert it is at the head of the ticket for him or nothing. There are twelve aspirants for the vice presidential nomination now being put forward by political viscerators in Washington. These names follow: Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana, Secretary of the Treasury George Bruce Cortelyou of New York, Senator Jonathan P. Doolittle of Iowa, Representative James S. Sherman of New York, Representative J. Stuart Passet of Elmira, N. Y., Former Lieutenant Governor T. L. Woodruff of New York, Governor C. Gould, Jr. of Massachusetts, Governor John F. Fort of New Jersey, Frank B. Kellogg, Minnesota member of the national committee, John Hays Hammond of Massachusetts, noted civil engineer, Franklin Murphy of New Jersey, former governor of the state, George A. Knight, national committee man from California.

WHOLESALE WORK OF ROBBER GANG

Make Numerous Hold-Ups at Rawhide and Get Away.

Reno, Nev., June 4.—A dispatch to the Journal from Rawhide, Nev., says: A gang of eight men and two women, in a series of hold-ups, coupled with an attempt at arson, yesterday robbed the Rawhide hotel of $50,000. The occupants against the wall, held up two men in a tent, held up and held a stage driver, robbed a drug store, held up three men, and attempted to burn the hotel. They escaped to the hills with $400. The sheriff, with a posse, aided by the state police, is in pursuit.

MURDERED STRANGER

Insane Youth Shoots Down Chicago Man in Minneapolis.

Police Unable to Establish Identity of the Maniac.

Minneapolis, June 4.—The police have not yet been able to establish the identity of the 20-year-old maniac, who calmly walked up to A. P. Camden of Chicago at a late hour last night and shot him dead. A search of the prisoner's effects shows that he received mail under the name of "James Montague," but the police are satisfied that this was a pseudonym taken over from flash fiction. In the boy's trunk was found a complete feminine outfit, the collar being already atached to the shirt waist as if the disguise had been carefully prepared to don at short notice. A woman's wig was part of the disguise.

Among the boy's effects was a letter from Lyle, Minn., addressed him as "Dear Brother," and signed "Bobby Hermann." Careful inquiry at Lyle fails to indicate that any James Montague or Bobby Hermann is known there. Miss May Camden, Hotel Buckleham, St. Paul, has identified the body of Montague's victim as that of her brother A. P. Camden of Chicago. He was in Minneapolis attending the convention of the Fraternity of Operative Millers. He formerly resided in St. Paul and was superintendent of con-

POSITION WAS REFUSED GRANT

Wanted to be County Engineer at St. Louis in 1859.

St. Louis, June 4.—A document was uncovered in the office of City Register Regan yesterday which shows that Gen. U. S. Grant, in 1859, applied to the city of St. Louis for a position as county engineer and was refused the place.

That Gen. Grant did not get the position which he asked for is shown by the failure of his name to appear in the county roster of that date. At that time the position of county engineer was poorly paid, and its principal duties dealt with the construction of county bridges and similar work. The paper was discovered by Deputy City Register J. W. McCuskey, while he was searching through old records for an old St. Louis county document. The paper was unmarked, except by a pencil note on the back stating that it was the "application of U. S. Grant, 1859." It was a recommendation, written by J. J. Reynolds, a West Point graduate and chum of Grant's. Reynolds was then professor of engineering and mechanics at Washington university. The paper was attested by S. M. Frost, who explained that he also had been a chum of Grant at West Point, and had served eight years with him in the army.

The Would-be Assassin
Fires Two Bullets
at Him.

Victim Fortunately Escapes With Slight Wound in Hand.

The Body of Emile
Zola is Placed in Pantheon.

Paris, June 4.—The canonization today of Emile Zola at the Pantheon was marred by a dastardly, though unsuccessful attempt upon the life of Maj.
Alfred Dreyfus. Paris was thrown into a state of panic, for it was at first thought that the president of the republic had been shot down. The major was wounded in the hand, and his assailant is a prisoner.

Emile Zola, who died in September, 1902, was ten years ago twice condemned to a year's imprisonment for addressing to Felix Faure, then president of France, the famous letter
"J'Accuse," in which he laid bare the conspiracy in the general army staff against Maj. Dreyfus. Today his dust was interred with national honors in the Pantheon, the French temple of fame, with impressive ceremonies. The proposal to give Zola glorious burial, made first in 1906, aroused in France all the dormant animosities that came out during the Dreyfus trials, and the transfer of his ashes, although duly voted by the chamber and the senate, had to be twice postponed because of the state of public opinion. Disorders and rioting were expected today and the authorities found it expedient to take measures for the preservation of peace.

The opposition to removing the remains of Zola to the Pantheon arises from the fact that he is thus honored

WAS UNABLE TO SHUT OFF GAS

Minneapolis Man Nearly Asphyxiated in Room
at Hotel.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Low born of the Lynde-dale hotel, Camden Place, was nearly asphyxiated in his room on his inability to rise to his feet and adjust the gas stop after he had turned on the gas preparatory to lighting it. He has been confined to his room with illness for two weeks, and in his feeble condition. It was while he was alone in his room that he made the effort to light the gas. He arose from his bed and succeeded in turning on the gas, and he did so he was overcome with weakness and staggered and fell across the bed. He had several futile efforts to get upon his feet, but his calls for help were not heard by any one in the house. With gas continually pouring into the room, condition he was soon overcome.

The odor of the gas was detected by an employee of the hotel, who soon located its source. He broke into the room and dragged Bern into the fresh air. He was rushed to the city hospital where he is now in a serious condition.

COMMITTEE WILL NOT ACT

On Tariff Revision During the Recess of Congress.

Washington, June 4.—The fact that Chairman Payne of the house committee on ways and means, which is to inquire into the subject of tariff revision, does not intend to call his committee together during the recess of congress is attributed to a desire not to encourage tariff revisionists.

"All that will be done," said Mr.
Payne yesterday, "is that the executive departments, notably the treasury department, will be asked to collect certain data in regard to the tariff schedules, and have the information ready in time for the next regular session of congress."

The administration program now, it is asserted, is that Secretary Taft in the event of his nomination and election, shall convene a special session of the Sixty-first congress immediately after his inauguration to take up the subject of tariff revision. In the event that a Democrat is elected next fall, President Roosevelt will call congress together for tariff revision next November.

HEARST STILL GAINS IN BALLOT RECOUNT.

New York, June 4.—The recount of the ballots in the disputed mayoralty election of 1905 proceeded with expedition yesterday before Justice Lambert in the supreme court and twenty-nine ballot boxes were opened, which show a gain of sixteen votes for William A. Hearst. The recount was begun and the total gain for Hearst is 12. Early yesterday Hearst made large gains which were materially reduced by the recount late in the day.

WEATHER—Partly cloudy with probably showers or thunder storms to night and Friday.

AMENDMENT GETS BIG WORKLESS

Mayor Haven Says It Stirs Up Fuss Over Nothing.

He Will Probably Veto Action of the Council.

"The Trevillion amendment to the liquor ordinance is clearly an attempt to evade the state law, instead of an agreement with the state law. It is a superfluous provision. If adopted it would be in conflict with the state law, and any interested person could see to it that the latter were enforced, instead of the ordinance.

"Why such an amendment should have been introduced is beyond me. It merely kicks up a big fuss over nothing, for no one would be benefited, even if I didn't veto the proposition. I haven't signed the amendment yet. If any one can point to a single good reason why it should be signed, then my signature will be forthcoming. My decision on the matter will not be made public until the council meeting next Monday night."

Mayor H. D. Haven made the above statement this morning, when asked whether or not he was going to veto the Trevillion amendment, which passed the council last Monday night, after a hot fight. The following section of the revised laws of Minnesota, passed by the 1906 legislature, has an important bearing on the case:

"1906. Sale by Employer. Any sale of liquor or any other public drinking place by any clerk, barkeeper or other employee authorized to sell liquor in such place, shall be deemed the act of the employer, as well as that of the person actually making the sale; to all the penalties provided by law for such sale, equally with the person actually making the same."

According to this provision, the proprietor of the saloon is equally involved with the bartender or other individual selling liquor in violation of law, whether the proprietor is on the premises at the time or not, or whether the sale is made with the proprietor's knowledge or not. Also, under this provision it seems that the action brought in municipal court against proprietors of the saloons, for such employment shall be liable to all the penalties provided by law for such sale, equally with the person actually making the same."

Section 1530, of the same statute, provides that "No license shall be issued for the sale of liquor in any place where such sale is forbidden. Any license issued in violation of this section, or to any person who, within one year next preceding the issue thereof, has been convicted of violating any law or ordinance regarding the sale of liquor, or the conduct of drinking places, shall be void, and all sales thereunder illegal."

The conference is said to have developed the fact that Montgomery had a mania for buying stocks of oil and is the owner of 4,000 shares of securities, representing companies whose properties are scattered about the Pacific coast, from South America to Alaska.

MANAHA IN NEBRASKA TO CONFER WITH BRYAN.

Lincoln, Neb., June 4.—W. J. Bryan returned to Lincoln today after his speaking tour in Western Nebraska covering seven days. He said he was not ready to say anything about the charge that a large amount of eastern money had been spent in Nebraska in the campaign of 1904 in the interest of the Democrats.

JOHN HAYS HAMMOND QUILTS GUGGENHEIMS.

New York, June 4.—John Hays Hammond, the mining engineer, who recently announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for vice president, has severed his connection with the Guggenheim Exploration company, according to a statement from his attorney, Charles W. Trueslow, published here today. Mr. Trueslow said in his announcement that Mr. Hammond now feels free to make an aggressive campaign for the vice presidential nomination.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Alumni association banquet of the law college of the University of Minnesota will be held at Donnell's June 10. The chief address will be delivered by Milton D. Purdy. The subject of the address will be "The Regulation and Control of Industrial Combinations and Monopolies by the Government."

CANDIDATE IS SUED.

Fargo, N. D., June 4.—A peculiar suit was brought in Fargo yesterday against John Morgan, candidate for constable. He is charged by Helen Stensrud with defamation of character and ordinarily the action would have been a civil process, but under the North Dakota law, enacted three years ago, the suit has been made a criminal action.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ELECTION.

Fargo, N. D., June 4.—At the annual election of officers of the Fargo Commercial club, Tuesday night, the following were chosen: President, R. S. Lewis; vice president, W. D. Stewart; secretary, A. M. Yoder; treasurer, W. C. Macfadden.

AMENDMENT GETS BIG WORKLESS

Mayor Haven Says It Stirs Up Fuss Over Nothing.

He Will Probably Veto Action of the Council.

"The Trevillion amendment to the liquor ordinance is clearly an attempt to evade the state law, instead of an agreement with the state law. It is a superfluous provision. If adopted it would be in conflict with the state law, and any interested person could see to it that the latter were enforced, instead of the ordinance.

"Why such an amendment should have been introduced is beyond me. It merely kicks up a big fuss over nothing, for no one would be benefited, even if I didn't veto the proposition. I haven't signed the amendment yet. If any one can point to a single good reason why it should be signed, then my signature will be forthcoming. My decision on the matter will not be made public until the council meeting next Monday night."

OFFICERS ARE NAMED

The Imperial Council of Modern Samaritans Elects Its Chiefs.

Will Extend the Order in Minnesota During the Year.

Officers were elected today at the closing session of the Imperial Council of the Modern Samaritans, which has been meeting here this week.

The official board of the council is practically the same as last year, and is as follows: Imperial good samaritan, John Christie; Imperial vice samaritan, C. E. Lovett; Imperial past samaritan, George H. Crosby; Imperial marshal, W. A. Hicken; Imperial treasurer, O. F. Collier; Imperial medical director, Dr. W. H. Smith; Imperial auditor, H. J. Achenbach and C. E. Lovett; Imperial chief messenger, M. A. Hanna; Imperial junior messenger, Charles M. Johnson; Imperial marshal, Soren Magnusson; Imperial centurion, August Hostmark; Imperial watchman, L. G. Hodge.

C. E. Lovett, John Christie and W. A. Hicken were re-elected to the executive board for a term of three years.

As the board will meet about for a discussion of the extension of the order, it was practically decided to secure a chief organizer, whose duty it will be to visit the different councils of the order, to instruct the new lodges in the secret work of the order, and to generally conduct the organization and welfare of the councils.

The selection of the members of the Imperial council seemed to be that such of the order will be made in Minnesota during the coming year. This was decided by the council, which felt that there is still plenty of room in its home state for the order to grow in. Other states will not be neglected, but most attention will be paid to Minnesota. There are several sections in Western Minnesota which have not been touched by the order.

Resolutions were adopted thanking the friends of the council for the entertainment provided, and courtesies extended during the stay of the members in the city.

Members of the council attended a dinner at the Commercial club last evening, at which they attended the performance at the Lyceum theater. George H. Crosby delivered an address to the visiting Samaritans, at the dinner and others who spoke were Judge J. H. McManus, who gave a brief history of the order.

Resolutions were adopted yesterday to give the Beneficent degree of the order, which will be made in Minnesota during the coming year. This was decided by the council, which felt that there is still plenty of room in its home state for the order to grow in. Other states will not be neglected, but most attention will be paid to Minnesota. There are several sections in Western Minnesota which have not been touched by the order.

HUGE BOILER BEING MOVED

Heavy Load Will Test Strength of Duluth Bridges.

A boiler weighing 18,573 pounds, considered by the Gosselin Steam Boiler Works to be the new Sacred Heart academy near Woodland, furnished the People's Moving company with a transportation problem this morning.

The immense boiler could be moved to the academy by the use of the heavy rollers and the ten horses hitched to it, and it was necessary to unhitch the animals and rest them from the work. The horses will be unhitched and the boiler will be moved slowly.

It was feared by the moving people that some of the bridges to be crossed would not support the weight of the boiler and the ten horses, but up to 1 o'clock no trouble had been experienced. There was a considerable distance yet to be traveled, however, and it was feared that one of the bridges would go down under the load, despite the care of the men in charge of the work.

WISCONSIN ELKS END CONVENTION.

Racine, Wis., June 4.—The seventh annual state convention of the E. P. O. E. came to a successful close this morning after Portage, Wis., was selected as the next convention city, officers elected and resolutions of the convention passed. The list of officers elected are as follows:

President, J. M. Kehlor, Kenosha; first vice president, W. J. Teckmeyer, Madison; second vice president, William P. Fahl, Baraboo; third vice president, M. E. Walker, Racine; secretary, H. A. Munderson, Portage; treasurer, P. A. Labadie, Oshkosh; chaplain, Rev. Edward Barr, Milwaukee.

After ten minutes' deliberation, shortly before noon today, the jury in the burglary case against John Keenan, brought in a verdict of guilty. Keenan's sentence will probably not be imposed until after the other cases on the docket are out of the way.

Keenan on the morning of April 8, together with Mickey Dillon, Thomas Clancy and John Devine, is said to have entered Larson's saloon in Duluth and stolen a large quantity of liquor. The evidence all through the case was strong against Keenan. Ole Smeeland, a woodsman who slept in a shed of the Larson saloon that night, testified that he had seen the four of them enter the saloon. Sgt. Osborne, Police Officer Keenan and Lieut. Scott testified to arresting the quartet in Dillon's apartments a short time after the burglary. Two other officers stated on the stand that they had seen Keenan with Devine and Dillon on their way to Dillon's place after robbery. Other testimony showed that particles of the asbestos, similar to that which lined the Larson saloon, were found on the soles of the men's shoes. Bottles of liquor which corresponded to those taken from Larson's saloon were introduced as having been located in Dillon's saloon.

No Agent is Selected.

The Superior Humane society held a meeting at Hotel Superior last evening for the purpose of electing an agent. The committee that had the matter in hand reported that several persons have been considered but that a little more time is required before a decision is reached. Three cases of cruelty were reported and will be investigated. Ticket for membership will be placed on sale today.

Salooneer Contributes.

Herman Malchow, a South Superior salooneer lifted the lid at his place two weeks ago Sunday and the lifting cost him a fine of $9 in the municipal court yesterday. His arrest was brought about by the Civic league, members of which secured the evidence against the liquor dealer. As this was Malchow's first known offense the minimum penalty was imposed.

Evidence Circumstantial.

The trial of John Govin, charged with the murder of Alexander Sevela of Brule, was begun in the circuit court today. The state must rely on circumstantial evidence in the prosecution of Govin as there were no others present at the time of the killing. Govin was a result in Sevela's death at Govin's hands. Both men left a saloon at Brule in an intoxicated condition and Sevela was found the next morning at the rear of Govin's house, with his skull fractured. It is alleged that a fight occurred between the men.

CHIPPewa FALLS MOURNS DEATH OF C. A. STANLEY.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is universal gloom here over the sudden death at Boyd, Wis., of Hon. C. A. Stanley of the Stanley Manufacturing company of this city, who expired suddenly of heart failure, after a long illness in an automobile with his family.

The deceased was born at Barnaboo, Wis., in 1849, and came to Chippewa Falls engaged in mercantile business with his brother, Emory Stanley, and Mr. Skinner. After disposing of his interests in that business, Mr. Stanley took charge of the factory and with his father, F. G. Stanley, has since operated it.

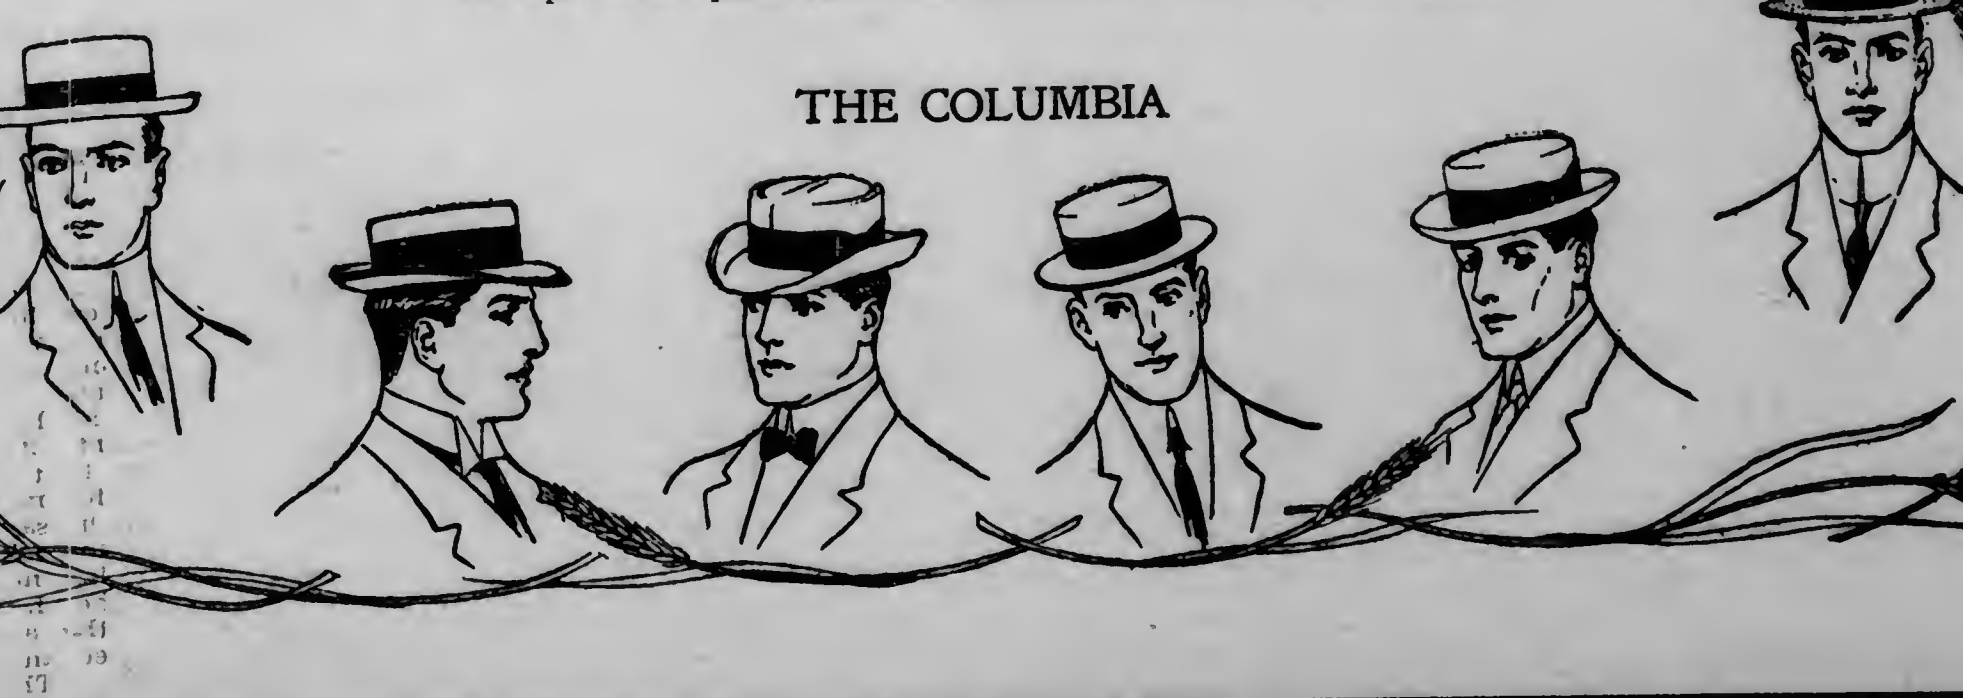

Mr. Stanley is survived by his father, F. G. Stanley and five daughters.

BELGRADE POSTOFFICE VISITED BY ROBBERS.

Belgrade, Minn., June 4.—The postoffice safe and that of Olson & Towells, the hardware firm, were blown open by professional Tuesday night and about $100 taken from the postoffice. The store safe had double doors, which prevented the thieves from getting anything there. The job was done with nitro-glycerine. The authorities have sent armed men to prevent future robberies.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH
RELIEVED.

Perhaps No Medicine in the World Has Relieved More Cases of Catarrh of the Stomach Than Pe-ru-na.

The Symptoms of Stomach Catarrh Are Heaviness After Eating, Belching Gas, Sourness of the Stomach, Sluggish Bowels.

SOME OTHER STARTLING TESTIMONIALS.

ALDERMAN GEORGE W. WEICK, 1474 South Seventh street, Denver, Col., Alderman Eleventh Ward, writes:

"I have used Peruna for catarrh of the stomach, and it has helped me wonderfully."

Chronic Stomach Trouble.

MR. SAMUEL A. SEAL, Route 2, Broadway, Tenn., writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to testify to the great good your medicine, Peruna, has done for me in a chronic case of catarrh of the stomach. I was confined to my bed for some time, and could not sit up. I had tried everything that I could find recommended for catarrh, without any benefit. I then tried two of the best physicians in Hancock County, and found they were doing me no good. I was gradually growing worse."

"Then a friend of mine, passing by, handed me one of your pamphlets, and seeing how Peruna was recommended for catarrh, I sent to Rogersville, Tennessee, next morning, a distance of about fifteen miles, and procured some of your Peruna, and began taking some according to directions, and after taking it a few days I began to get better."

"I continued using it until I was able to go to work on the farm again, and now I am in very good health and do work on my farm."

"I do honestly believe your great medicine, Peruna, saved my life, and I cheerfully recommend it to like sufferers. You are at liberty to publish my testimonial, and I truly hope it may be a benefit to some one."

Catarrh of Head and Stomach.

MR. FRANK RICHTER of 309 East Second street, Winona, Minn., writes: "As a remedy for catarrh I take pleasure in recommending Peruna for catarrh of the stomach. I know what it is to be afflicted with this awful disease, and consider it my duty to say a word in behalf of the remedy which gave me such relief."

"Peruna cured me, and I know it will cure any one who suffers from this disease. It gives me great pleasure to testify to the curative effects of this medicine."

"Peruna is a well tested and frequently used remedy, and for catarrh of the stomach it is unsurpassed."

"My catarrh was principally located in my head and stomach. I tried many remedies without success. I tried several doctors, but they were unable to cure me. I read of Peruna in the papers, and five bottles cured me."

"Almost from the first dose Peruna will relieve symptoms of stomach catarrh. Peruna at once sharpens the appetite, increases the digestive powers, and gives renewed strength."

"COFFIN NAILS" FOR "LADIES"

Three Damsels Enter Tobacco Store and Purchase Cigarettes.

A Superior street cigar clerk was given a rude and distinct shock yesterday afternoon. Cigar clerks, as the rule, are not easily shocked, but a episode occurred so suddenly, and was of such an unusual nature, that no one could really blame the man behind the counter for being non-plussed for the moment.

Three girls tripped into the store and calmly, even casually, asked for "ladies' cigarettes." The clerk was too dazed to come back with a ready response, but the sharp remark that no one could really blame the man behind the counter for being non-plussed for the moment.

It seems that in wicked little old New York it is a custom for some members of the tender sex to puff the insidious weed. In fact, the custom grew so threatening that Alderman "Little Tim" Sullivan was induced, for the moral welfare of the city, to introduce an ordinance forbidding the smoking of the weed by women in public.

The three girls were evidently from the precincts of "Little Tim's" hall-walk. It is believed that they were members of a company that played in this city yesterday. They must have run short of a supply of the particular brand for which they were in quest, for they knew exactly what they wanted.

It wasn't long before the counter was strewn with various brands of the weed. The fair damsels examined the stock that was placed on the counter. "Ladies' cigarettes" are evidently a scarce commodity in Duluth, for with frowns of disapproval they re-examined the large assortment.

Finally a compromise was made on a Turkish importation. It was not the right kind, mind you, but was the nearest thing they could get in the province, for away from New York one must suffer inconveniences.

Committee Named to Perfect Plans for Art Society Exhibition.

A meeting of the Duluth Art association was held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. building to perfect plans for the exhibition of the Minnesota State Art society which will be shown here June 20 to July 7, under the auspices of the Duluth association.

Committees were appointed last evening to have charge of the various work in connection with the exhibit. C. H. Bassett will be chairman of the committee appointed to have charge of the decoration and furnishing of the rooms in which the exhibit will be shown; Mrs. H. C. Marshall will have charge of the entertainment of the art commission; Dr. J. B. Weston will be in charge of the assistants who will preside at the rooms during the days of the exhibit, and B. F. THE ANNUAL REPORT OF
THE JUVENILE COURT

Statistics Show Importance of New County Institution.

Judge Ensign Had 228 Children Before Him Last Year.

Some idea of the wide scope and the importance of the work of the juvenile court of this city and county can be gathered from the annual report of the clerk of the court for the year ending June 1, and which has just been issued.

During the year, by reason of talks given on the work of the court at public and semi-public meetings, the people generally have learned much about the great work that is being accomplished, but there are a great many matters of human interest that rarely come to the notice of the public by reason of the safeguards thrown around a court by the law to prevent publicity, which might at times defeat the purpose of the court.

"The report for the year ending June 1, 1908, follows:

New classes will be organized on June 8th and 15th, and at regular intervals during the summer. Those who may wish to take up a special course in shorthand, we have arranged for a special session from 8 to 10 o'clock, Monday, June 8th, and Tuesday, June 9th, daily.

States government officials, was filled with difficulties. The party got there at last, however, and Mr. Flynn was given the opportunity of seeing how they make the moonshine stuff right within shouting distance of the federal authorities.

BANKS MUST PAY INTEREST

All But National Depositaries Must Settle for Using Funds.

Washington, June 4.—Under the terms of the new currency law banks in which the funds of the government are deposited must hereafter pay interest for the use of such funds. An exception is made in the case of those banking associations designated as national depositaries, in which funds are placed strictly for the use of the government's expenses. There are outstanding about $72,000,000 of government funds on which interest must be paid by banks, and by an odd coincidence, a similar amount rests in depositaries not subject to the tax.

It was stated at the treasury department yesterday that not only would the tax be charged on all deposits of government money made in the future, but the tax would be payable on funds already deposited in banks from the time the law became effective. The rate of interest chargeable is to be not less than 1 per cent, and as much more as the secretary of the treasury may deem proper. For the present, however, the probable rate of interest will be 1 per cent per annum.

J. K. Flynn Has Introduced New Plan Among Southern Lumbermen.

J. K. Flynn, a former resident of Duluth, who has been in the South during the past winter instructing the southern lumbermen in the art of utilizing the pinewood stumps for making turpentine, returned to this city today.

Mr. Flynn invented a device for making use of the turpentine that is in the pine stumps, and says that he found many converts among the southern lumbermen, who before the introduction of his device had considered the stumpage as useless.

Mr. Flynn says the use of the pine stumps will prove a great saving, as it has been proven that they can be used for the manufacture of marketable turpentine. He says further that the discovery will result in the clearing of vast tracts of land that heretofore have been left out over once.

The experience of visiting a whisky still was one of the results of Mr. Flynn's visit to the moonshine country. The primitive place was located in a tamarack swamp and the tortuous route to the place where the whisky was manufactured in defiance of the United States government officials, was filled with difficulties. The party got there at last, however, and Mr. Flynn was given the opportunity of seeing how they make the moonshine stuff right within shouting distance of the federal authorities.

BANDS MUST BE SILENT

May Only Play for Funerals and Religious Services.

Their Use for Advertising Purposes Frowned Upon.

No more will the merry minstrel band torture the strains of "Way Down South in Dixie" from the wheezy horns in front of the Lyceum theater.

No more will a trombone and a bass drum do violence to the strains of "The Good Old Summer Time" as an advertisement for a summer excursion or a dance at the Armory.

No more will the merry circus parade wend its way through town to the strains of "Cheer, Cheer, the Gang's All Here."

Capt. A. G. Fiskett, as acting chief of the police department, today issued an order prohibiting band music on the streets, except in cases of funerals or religious services.

Music may have charms for savages, but for civilized beings the captain thinks the quality of the music extracted by long-winded bandmen from brass instruments isn't edifying or entertaining so it must be hushed.

The law is aimed at the parading of bands for advertising purposes. Circus and minstrel parades will come under the ban, and in the future, the band wagon will be as silent as the white cat's paw.

Anything about steam calliopes, so they probably do not come under the order.

ARE GREAT TRAVELERS

Charles C. Cokefair Met
Forty Duluth People
While Abroad.

European Hotels Feel the Decrease in Trade
From States.

"So many people travel nowadays, that I don't believe that anything I might tell would be of interest," said Charles C. Cokefair, who has just returned with his son from New York, after months abroad, yesterday afternoon when asked about his trip.

"Europe is an old story to so many, that it takes a Mark Twain to tell of travels and make them interesting. Why this winter we met thirty-five or forty Duluth people on the other side. There seemed to be more people from Duluth than from any city of its size in the states. It is remarkable the number of Duluth people who travel every winter.

"It is very marked, the way in which travel from the states to Europe has fallen off this winter. Duluth seems to be about the only city in the country whose citizens have not curtailed their pleasure trips. In the southern countries along the Mediterranean, there seem to be more tourists from Germany than any other country, where before there were more from the states. The hotels there feel, very keenly, the slackening of American trade.

"One thing, especially," laughed Mr. Cokefair, when urged to tell about his trip, "and that was the great security of good barbers in foreign countries, particularly in Italian cities and Cairo. In Cairo they have no head rests on their barber chairs, and in Italy they are not much better. There is no chance for a comfortable shave. The barbers use dull razors, which take off most of one's face with the whisks. When your shave is over the barber sometimes rubs the wet end of a towel over your face, but more often you have to wash your face yourself. A man who is unable to speak the language of the barber who shaves him, has no chance at all. He never knows what will be done to him next."

Mr. Cokefair and his party first went to the Mediterranean sea, where they visited most of the great cities. They were eighteen days on shipboard crossing the Atlantic, and going through the canals of the Mediterranean. From there, they cruised the Mediterranean, visiting Athens, Naples, Rome, Monte Carlo, Florence and other coast cities. Then they journeyed to Paris and later, after visiting other places in France, crossed the channel to London. They spent some little time in England before sailing for home from Liverpool.

W. T. Ward of Dyersburg, Tenn., writes: "This is to certify that I have used Orino Liniment Fruit Syrup for chronic constipation, and it has proven, without a doubt, to be a thorough, practical remedy for this trouble, and it is with pleasure I offer my conscientious reference." Sold at all druggists.

JURY CONVICTS ARCO OF LARCENY

Chisholm Man Found Guilty of Stealing
Quarter of Beef.

John Arco was convicted of grand larceny in the second degree by jury in Judge Ensign's room yesterday afternoon. Arco is accused of breaking into a car at Chisholm, some time ago, and with stealing a quarter of beef, the railway company's special agent testified that he caught Arco and the other man in the act of carrying away the beef and ordered them to halt. They dropped the beef and ran, but the special agent caught Arco and turned him over to the authorities. Arco was defended by Austin Lathrop.

T. A. MINTYRE IS EXAMINED

Tells Commissioner of Many Transactions
Made by Firm.

New York, June 4.—Thomas A. McIntyre, senior member of the firm of T. A. McIntyre, stock brokers, now in the hands of a receiver, was examined before United States commissioner Glick yesterday. Mr. McIntyre testified that he assigned three seats on the New York cotton exchange and his own life insurance policy to a customer named Krause, who had loaned securities to the T. A. McIntyre company and had demanded their return.

Mr. McIntyre said also that he had given C. M. Warner of Syracuse a mortgage for $75,000 on his house to secure Mr. Warner for some securities which Mr. Warner had loaned the firm and on which the firm had raised money.

Account No. 275, which appeared on the books of the firm, Mr. McIntyre said, was a speculative account for all the members of the firm and he said all had a right to buy or sell through it.

In reply to questions about the sale of securities held on loans he said: "I decline to answer because my reply might tend to incriminate or degrade me. If I told the truth it might make trouble for me."

Mr. McIntyre said, however, that he did give the orders to sell securities placed with the firm as loans. He said that the loan clerks had charge of these matters. The securities, about which he was being questioned, Mr. McIntyre said, he did not regard as loans.

Mr. McIntyre was repeatedly advised by his counsel not to answer the questions, but declined to be sworn to tell the truth about his firm. The hearing was adjourned until Friday.

KILL DUCKS ILLEGALLY

Game Authorities Will Make Example of the Offenders.

Birds Said to be Killed by Park Point Residents.

If the duck shooting on the lake and the bay shores of Minnesota Point is not stopped immediately the persons who are indulging in that questionable sport will get into trouble.

This is the chief of Deputy Game Warden Green who has been camping on the trail of certain persons who are said to have been making a practice of getting out early in the morning and taking a few shots at the wild ducks that have dropped down in the bay or the lake on their way to the northern inland bodies of water for the summer.

To carry out his threat of making trouble for the lawbreakers, Mr. Green has appointed two special agents whose duty it will be to keep an eye on the alleged violators of the state game laws and the very next infraction of the same will be followed by an arrest, the game authorities claim, even if the officer has to patrol the beach all day to catch the offenders when they make a landing. The names of several suspects have been handed to the deputy game warden. The canons of that has been going on along the beach during the early morning hours has not only been annoying to the police, but also to the residents of Park Point, but those who are fair minded sportsmen have become very indignant at the lawless practice that is said to be carried on and they propose to see that a stop is put to it.

The wild ducks, it is claimed, settle down on the bay and the lake just about dusk and the hunters by getting out in boats before sunrise the next morning have managed to kill quite a number of the birds. This practice is in violation of the state game laws and the persons doing it will, if they are caught, be liable to a stiff fine, possibly imprisonment.

A man who is in perfect health so he can do an honest day's work, and who is necessary, has much for which he should be thankful. Mr. L. C. Rodgers of Brantford, Pa., writes that he was unable to work, but he couldn't stop over to take his own shoes. Six bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made a new man of him. He says, "Success to Foley's Kidney Cure." Sold at all druggists.

DIRECTORY OF AMUSEMENTS

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

LYCEUM—Mack-Leone Players, in "Billy's Little Love Affair."

PLEASING SHOW.

"The Ham Tree" Amuses Large Audience at the Lyceum.

McIntyre and Heath never fail to amuse. The Duluth public is no different from the public anywhere else in that it likes to be amused. All this explains how it happens that "The Ham Tree," a new and original comedy, produced at the Lyceum last evening, was greeted by one of the largest audiences of the season. It is the first good show of the kind Duluth has had in some time, and as it is about the last big road attraction booked for the Lyceum this season, the theater-goers' interest is in the company succeeded in keeping the audience in a laughing humor all the time they were on the stage. Their peculiar brand of humor seems to be original with them, and it always is successful in bringing a laugh. Their facial expressions alone are enough to succeed in this worthy object. Particularly is this true of McIntyre in the character of Alexander Hambleton, who is lured by Henry Jones, portrayed by Heath, to forsake a comfortable job in a lively stable for the uncertainties of the life of a minstrel man on the road.

The company is a large one, with its same old swing and go to the songs of general chorus work. The chorus, advertised as the prettiest in the world, hardly comes up to the press agent's promises in this regard, but there are several good looking girls in it. The men also pass muster. Both the men and young women seem to have been selected partly because of their activity on their feet, and partly because of good dancers is the result.

Frank O'Brien played the part of Sherlock Baffles acceptably. Phil W. Smith did very well as Ernest Everhart, manager of the minstrel troupe, and sang a number of solos in a pleasing voice that called for encores. Arthur Barry was sufficiently English in appearance to take the part of Lord Spotcash, and carried it off with credit, and Otto T. Johnson was sufficiently stupid as his valet, Jeanne Fowler made a stunning Mrs. Nickelbacker and Carolyn Gordon was attractive as her daughter.

The chorus was well trained and contained some good voices.

"The Ham Tree" was in Duluth for only two performances, yesterday afternoon and evening.

REDUCTION IN STEEL PRICES

Still the Leading Topic Among Manufacturers and Others.

New York, June 4.—The Iron Age says: The full significance of the concerted reduction in the price of steel bars and small shapes cannot yet be measured. It will probably lead to readjustments of such collateral lines as bands and merchant steel. Many in the trade regard it as the forerunner of lower prices along the whole line of finished products. The fact that the large steel interests are still in conference in this city is worthy of mention in this connection.

The developments in the steel bar trade have been precipitated by the fear among the larger interests that too large a share of the pending season's business of the structural iron and steel makers might go to those who have not co-operated in the price maintenance policy. These important season contracts are usually made for the requirements for a year beginning on July 1, and cover a large tonnage. Another factor which has come up for discussion among the leading interests is the differential of $2 per ton on bars which is given by some to a few of the largest producing houses in the country. There has been uneasiness for some time past in the structural trade, due to the fact that fabricators have been taking business at prices so low that they seem to be backed by special figures on the plain structural material.

After the rush of buying in the pig iron trade throughout the country the markets have quieted down.

The blast furnace statistics collected by the Iron Age show that the output in May was 1,100,000 tons as compared with 1,100,000 tons in April, the merchant furnace product declining from 1,100,000 tons daily in April to 1,000,000 tons daily in May. Productive capacity, however, appears to be decreasing further, there having been active on May 1, 145 furnaces with a weekly capacity of 26,574 tons, as against 141 furnaces and 26,534 tons capacity on June 1.

PROPOSED UNION

Of Presbyterian Churches Has Been Abandoned for the Present.

Pittsburg, June 4.—The proposed union of the Presbyterian and the United Presbyterian churches, or at least to bring the two denominations into closer relations, which has been before the general assemblies of both organizations for some time, has been abandoned for the present.

At the closing of the session of the general assembly of the United Presbyterians here, last night, a report commending such action was adopted.

KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTO.

Boy Has Narrow Escape, His Bicycle is Demolished.

A West end boy, Harry Anderson, 14 years old, was struck by an automobile and knocked down on Superior street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues west, shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The boy was unhurt, but the automobile was badly smashed. Three boys and two girls occupied the machine, but their names could not be learned.

Anderson did not seem to be so hurt as the approaching automobile, even after the driver blew the horn. The car and wheel became so badly entangled that the machine had to be backed up before the mess could be straightened out.

BARS KISSING ON SUNDAY.

"Committee on Oysters" Will Pass on Measure in Louisiana.

Baton Rouge, La., June 4.—Legislation of prodigious importance was yesterday foreshadowed in the house by notice from Mr. Copper of Rapides Parish of his intention to introduce a measure providing that he who kisses a wife who owns or any other person's—on Sunday shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. The bill may go to the "committee on oysters and oyster loves."

SAYS TAFT SPOKE TRUTH, BUT SPOKE TOO BLUNTLY.

New York, June 4.—Hamlin Garland, author of "Ulysses S. Grant, His Life and Character," published in 1898, said last night at the Players' club of Secretary Taft's remark upon Gen. Grant's early life in his Decoration day address at Grant's tomb.

"He admittedly took them from my book on Gen. Grant and I can vouch for everything it contains. I traveled 3,500 miles to get the facts."

"I must say, however, that the secretary's remarks were blunt under the circumstances. He undoubtedly meant to show the great side of the man in overcoming early habits. His intent unquestionably was kindly, but perhaps the point he wished to bring out could have been gained in a more delicate way, especially as Gen. Grant's son stood beside the secretary in the tomb."

FLOOD CONDITIONS IN MONTANA UNCHANGED.

Helena, Mont., June 4.—Despite the efforts of the railroads to relieve the situation, flood conditions throughout Montana remain practically unchanged. No trains have arrived at Helena over the Northern Pacific for several days from either direction, and none are expected here today. Great Northern trains are moving, but with more or less delay.

After one day of sunshine, rain began falling again yesterday, and it might reach Helena, Governor Norris said twenty other heavy rainstorms, at Livingston, walked fifteen miles over Bozeman mountain, where several washouts have occurred. They were brought the rest of the way by special train.

LA CROSSE PLUMBERS' SHOPS ON OPEN BASIS.

La Crosse, Wis., June 4.—As the result of the strike of the union plumbers, every plumbing firm in La Crosse yesterday was declared an open shop, and the bosses announced that they would make no more contracts with the union. The announcement has precipitated a war between the plumbers' firms and the local trades unions. Several non-union plumbers have been assaulted on the streets.

WOMAN'S NIGHTMARE

No woman can be happy without children; it is her nature to love them as much so as it is the beautiful and pure. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass is so fraught with dread that the very thought fills her with apprehension. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either very painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend prepares the system for the coming event, and it is passed without any danger. This remedy is applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the crisis with but little suffering.

Write for book containing information of value to all expectant mothers.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

GRAND JURY
SOON OVER

Session of Polk County Body Expected to Ad-journal Thursday.

Several Indictments in Minor Cases Are Being Looked for.

Crookston, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The grand jury will return the batch of indictments found today, inspect the jail and court, and adjourn after only four days' work. Indictments are expected to be returned against young Schuler and Johnson, the two boys who entered the rear of the Smith grocery, smashed the safe, and stealing the cash box, took it to the city limits, and breaking it to pieces, secured $25 in cash, leaving a considerable amount in checks, which were recovered when the box was found, two days afterwards, under the Northern Pacific bridge. The boys also entered the Guarantee Clothing store, entering with a key through the rear door, and stole seven suits of clothes, valued at $17 each. They will probably be held guilty and take their medicine.

Other looked-for indictments are against William Schuler, for stealing a grip from the Great Northern station here, and against James Murphy and Albert Johnson, for the robbery of Carl Zimmerman, at East Grand Forks, in May.

Clara Hanson paid a fine of $10 for disorderly conduct in East Grand Forks and was released from jail.

Judge Watts will have the court cases all cleared up by the end of the week, and the petit jury will assemble, next Monday, and take up a light calendar. The June term of court promises to be one of the shortest in the history of Polk county.

GOVERNOR WILL INSPECT PRISON

Michigan Executive to Look Over Institution
at Marquette.

Marquette, Mich., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Marquette and vicinity will extend the glad hand to Governor Fred Warner and party on the occasion of their visit here, Friday. While the affair will, in a sense, be a political affair, Chairman MacPherson of the Republican club, having general charge, citizens generally, regardless of politics, are expected to greet the executive and bid him welcome.

It is expected the governor and party will arrive from Ishpeming on a morning train and be received to the normal for an inspection.

About 11 o'clock the party will proceed to the state prison, where they will be served to a party of about fifty. The guests will include the state entertainment committee, and the officers and ward committee of the prison. The governor and his party will spend a good share of the afternoon at the prison, which will be thoroughly inspected. Governor Warner will have the advantage of his present trip to look over all state institutions in a thorough manner.

In the evening Governor Warner and his party will be entertained at a reception to be held at the Marquette club. No formal program will be given, but it is probable that there will be some impromptu remarks.

OBJECT TO BOARD WALKS.

Indignant Crookston People Tear Up Objectionable Walks.

Crookston, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Something of a sensation was caused yesterday afternoon, when William Lowe, W. E. Slocum, Louis Rivas and Mrs. W. F. Arnold hired a large crew of men and in a few minutes tore up the 24 feet of board walks in front of their residences on Bridge street. Jerome's addition. The parties all have fine residences and for two years have been trying to get the city to tear them up. This they were unable to accomplish, because there was a factional fight between the people of that addition regarding the height of the sidewalk grade to be established by the city engineer. The sidewalks mentioned above are near the approach to the bridge over Red Lake river from the addition, and those residing on the higher grade wanted a grade

Tired and Weak
Easily Worried

Frequent headaches.
Indigestion and loss of appetite.
Lack of energy and ambition.
Irritable temper and sleeplessness.
Low spirits and discouragement.
What hosts of women who are suffering from such symptoms could lift themselves from this low level of health and know the joy of healthful living by use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills.

This great restorative cures by forming new, red corpuscles in the blood, and thereby giving to the richness which is necessary to sustain the body in health and vigor.

Bleak mind and gentle in action Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are peculiarly suited to the needs of women and is wonderfully successful in helping them through the critical periods of life. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase, Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Portrait and signature of the famous Receipt Book author, A. W. Chase, M. D., on every box.

Mrs. Scott Jones, 284 West 2nd Street, Iowa, Ind., writes:

"My head, heart, nerves and stomach were all out of sorts. I was weak, thin, bloodless, nervous, and had no digestion but could not sleep. The benefits of using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills were wonderful in my case. I was practically a wreck but the old symptoms are gone now."

established a foot above the present sidewalk, which would leave the properties of the four mentioned above, as well as others, apparently in a hole. The matter will now, without doubt, be fought out in the courts.

LAKE STILL HOLDS BODY.

Remains of Victim of Drowning Cannot be Located.

Marquette, Mich., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. Cleary of the life saving crew, T. J. Mearney and a number of others who had been searching for the body of Gus Varobrook, drowned Saturday last above Theveny's quarry, arrived in the city yesterday noon, but reported that they had no success. The lake was dragged near the scene of the fatality Monday, but without results. The work was difficult, owing to the rough bottom, the grappling hooks frequently catching on obstructions. The search for the body will be continued today, another party having gone up the lake last night. Today it is planned to use a device by which the bottom of the lake can be scanned, and it is hoped that if the body is resting anywhere near the scene of the drowning it can be located.

BRAINERD ELECTION DATE.

City Council Changes It From June 16 to June 23.

Brainerd, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council at its last regular meeting changed the date of the special election from June 16 to June 23.

The city tax rolls were allowed as follows: City officials, $283.33; electric light, $444; police, $350; fire department, $149; firemen, $320.50; street employees, $271.63.

STRUCK DOWN BY NECKYOK.

North Dakota Russian Farmer Is Murdered by Neighbor.

Bismarck, N. D., June 4.—A Russian farmer, named Michel Sommerfeldt, living sixteen miles east of Napoleon, this state, was killed Monday evening by a blow from a neck yoke in the hands of Henry Hermann or one of his two sons, names unobtainable.

It appears that Sommerfeldt was putting out gopher poison near the house of Hermann when the latter, who was moonstruck and was knocked down, whereupon his husband and sons attacked Sommerfeldt and in the confusion a blow with a neck yoke was struck by one of the Hermanns.

Sommerfeldt was not thought to be badly hurt and was taken to his home, but he expired soon after and neighbors arrested the Hermanns and they are held on the charge of murder. An inquest was held Wednesday night, but owing to the distance from town the result will not be known until later. It is said all the men had been drinking.

NEW FIFTY MILE ROAD
IN WISCONSIN APPROVED.

Madison, Wis., June 4.—Attorney General Gilbert has approved of the articles of incorporation of the Oshkosh Winneconne & Waupun Railroad Company of Oshkosh, which intends to build a road from Oshkosh to Waupun, through Oshkosh, Winland and Winneconne in Winnebago county. Poypsippi and Bloomfield in Waushara county and Fremont, Waupun, and Lind in the state of Wisconsin. The company has a capital of $100,000. There are five directors: George M. Bray, E. H. Steiger, Elmer Leach, Edward W. Murphy and L. J. Monahan, all of Oshkosh.

OLD ST. PAUL RESIDENT.

John Kerwin Dead of Paralysis in Seventy-Seventh Year.

St. Paul, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Kerwin, a resident of St. Paul, died at his home, 966 Central Park, after an illness of several weeks, having been in the hospital for some time. He was 77 years old.

Attacked by paralysis a year ago, he died rapidly after a second stroke this week.

Mr. Kerwin, a native of Ireland, came to St. Paul in 1857, when he was 25 years of age. During the greater part of his life he was engaged in the agricultural business.

He survived by five children, his wife having died last September. The daughters are Mary Kerwin and Sister Mary Aurelia of the Visitation convent, and the sons, Mr. J. J. Maloney, P., and Thomas H. Kerwin, are all residents of this city.

The funeral services will be held Friday morning. The aged pioneer will be buried in the city cemetery.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

The Spooner Schools End With an Excellent Program.

Spoooner, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The closing exercises of Spooner public school, given on Friday evening at G. O. T. hall, was very enjoyable. The following program was given: Hoelcher's orchestra; recitation, "Welcome," Walter Moss; song by school, "Columbia," recitation, "Dandilion," Stella Michael; orchestra, "The Star Spangled Banner," recitation, "Hood," boys' chorus, "Dixie Land," recitation, Gena Scramstad; chorus by school, "Star Spangled Banner," recitation, "Schoolroom Trials," Helen Minick; solo, "Sweet and Low," Charlotte Luke; recitation, "Luther," Rang; pantomime, "America," Mabel Whaley; recitation, Theresa Moss.

NORTHERN BALL GAMES.

Spoooner, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Baudette nine played with the Spooner team here, Sunday afternoon. In the first half of the game both teams played excellent ball, while the last half was disastrous to the Spoonerites. Score, 8 to 17 in favor of Baudette.

Batteries: Baudette, Grumbo and Jereon; Spooner, Dick, Fajze and Phil Stensing.

The Rainy River nine from Rainy River, Ont., played here on the Rainy River diamond, Sunday afternoon. Rainy River coming out victorious, 12 to 0.

Batteries: Rainy River, Monroe and George Lamb; Pitt: Carey and Ferrier.

Two hope, near here, destroyed Sharvey's heavy barn, with eighteen horses and other property, also the harness shop belonging to Weckach & Norberg. The total loss will probably reach $2,500.

TWO BADLY SCALDED.

Employees of Rainy River, Ont.,
Sawmill Are Injured.

Spoooner, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—David Bell and Sumbly, employees of the Rainy River Lumber company's mill at at Rainy River, Ont., were working on a steam pipe, leading from the boiler to the mill, early in the week, when an elbow broke and steam was forced out at a great pressure. The men, to escape being cooked to death, had to run through the scalding steam, which was the only way out. Both were badly scalded, especially their lower limbs, and they are now in a critical condition.

QUICKSAND REMOVED.

Difficultly in Rabbit Lake Shaft Has Been Overcome.

Aitkin, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mining men here from the Rabbit Lake mining district on the Cuyuna range say the shaft that was choked up with a rush of quicksand recently is pretty well cleared again, but it is in bad shape and will not be used for mining, but will be used for lowering timber and handling the pumps and a new mining shaft will be put down a short distance from the present location. The work has been done at Rabbit Lake this week and this being the case the track will not be built to the shaft until another season. While this outlook is disappointing it must be remembered that opening a new mining district is a slow business and too much must not be expected. The positive knowledge that the iron exists there in almost unlimited quantities, and that work is progressing day and night in development, should be sufficient assurance that the ultimate outcome will be all that has been hoped for.

LOGGER IS MISSING.

Crossing River on Log, He Was Probably Drowned.

Aitkin, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is a man missing from the Fred Blair driving crew, under circumstances that make his companions fear the man is drowned. Two of the men were about to cross the river on one of the logs when the log started on ahead, expecting his companion to follow on another log. When the first log started on ahead, he turned around to see how his companion was coming and saw the log but the man was missing. The log had been seen since. His name has not been learned here.

DROWNS AT ST. MARTIN.

Eight-Year-Old Boy Loses His Life
While Fishing.

St. Cloud, Minn., June 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The 8-year-old son of Peter Dold of St. Martin was drowned Friday. The little fellow, together with some other boys, was fishing and fell out the boat into six feet of water. The swift current took the lad down the stream and he disappeared before help could reach him. The report was immediately sent to the farmers of that vicinity, who worked for several hours before they found the body.

PROMINENT ST. PAUL MAN
HANGS SELF IN PARLOR.

St. Paul, Minn., June 4.—George Henry Ranney, secretary and treasurer of the Southern-Liberty company, was found dead, hanging in the door of his parlor in the Avenue hotel last evening. Mr. Ranney was 40 years of age. He was a brother-in-law to Judge J. W. Willis of this city.

TO SUBSCRIBERS:

It is important when desiring the address of your paper changed to give both old and new addresses.

TAFT'S POPULARITY.

The Chicago Evening Post, which is one of the most ardent newspaper champions of Secretary Taft, says that his victory—the assumption that he has any victory still has to be forced in view of the continued menace of the third term idea—is a popular victory, and that it came about as a result of the outpouring of a popular fervor in his behalf. It says:

"The reason is that the people have done it. Nor has the victory had the element of uncertainty added to its attainment by a spectacular and elaborate campaign. Never since political warfare in the United States took on the character of a systematized business has a candidacy for presidential nomination been conducted with more simplicity and restraint or less machinery and expenditure of money. The support which the people have given Mr. Taft has been absolutely spontaneous."

No deliberate misstatement of the facts could be more complete than this. The Post is not given to deliberate falsification, so this amazing utterance may be set down to the abandoned fervor of its advocacy of the Taft candidacy.

The real truth is to be found in the exact opposite of all these statements. The people did not do it; never has a Republican candidate secured a nomination with less popular backing or more popular apathy. The officeholders did it, and back of that Roosevelt did it—and the doing of it was the most remarkable achievement of his marvelous career. Of course this is all based on the assumption that it has been done, and that an outburst of Rooseveltism and of a desire to win does not sweep Mr. Taft off the boards at Chicago June 16.

The campaign for Taft has been elaborate, it has been conducted with much machinery, and it has cost much money. Mr. Taft's brother is said to have furnished the funds—Taft has nothing himself after many years of public service—and estimates of the money spent thus far run from several hundred thousands to a million.

Says the Indianapolis News, in comment upon the extraordinary statement of the Chicago paper: "It is doubtful whether as much money was ever spent to bring about the nomination of a candidate as has been spent to bring about the nomination of Mr. Taft. Certainly there never has been a campaign that was more liberally and more extravagantly financed. It is charged that the trusts have contributed generously to Mr. Taft's cause, and that more money is looked for from that quarter. Secretary Martin of the American Anti-Trust league has recently had something to say of an alleged contribution of $250,000 from Andrew Carnegie. But wherever the money has come from, it is certain that there has been no lack of it. The expenses incident to the conducting of the Taft campaign have been enormous. We suppose they have been met. So much for the money side of the question."

If Mr. Taft is nominated it will be by the sheer force of money and administration influence. He may, during the campaign, develop popular enthusiasm for himself; but he does not have it now. Indifference has characterized the attitude of the rank and file of his party toward him, for Roosevelt is the man they want.

A REAL HERO.

A man does not need a gaudy uniform to be a hero. More often the uniform of the hero of modern life is a suit of overall, well marked by the stains of toil. An example of this happened in St. Paul yesterday, and the story was related in The Herald last night.

John McGorthey was working in a gas-compressing plant when a gas stop on a nearby well fell to the floor, and the escaping gas rushed out, met the flame of an adjacent burner, and became ignited. There was imminent danger of an explosion which would have blown to atoms all the workmen who were near. Without a moment's thought McGorthey thrust his naked hand into the flame and turned off the gas by means of a safety cock. A terrible accident was averted in the nick of time, but McGorthey was taken to a hospital with his arm burned almost to a crisp and his side literally cooked. He saved his fellow-workmen, perhaps at the cost of his own life, because his condition is critical, certainly at the cost of terrible suffering.

This is the stuff of which heroes are made. Readiness, courage, quick thought and quick action are the qualities of heroism no less than of capacity for successful endeavor. In the crucible of deadly exigency manhood is tried as by fire, and the real stuff emerges pure gold while the dross perishes. The man who thinks first of duty, and who considers others before he thinks of his own comfort and safety, is cast in heroic mold, whether he bears a sword or a spade, or whether his uniform be of tinselled blue or of toil-stained denim.

THE TRUST STALKING HORSE.

It is to be hoped that selfish interests will some time learn that they are engaged in dangerous business when they trot out the Constitution and make a beguiling out of it every time they have occasion to frustrate a progressive move that comes from the people.

This repeated use of the Constitution will be likely to breed in the popular mind an impatience that may replace the old-time reverence for that document with a new hatred which it does not deserve.

For instance, there is the proposal that the government establish forest reserves in the White Mountains and the Southern Appalachians. The senate, last year, passed the bill providing for this without opposition, but the house, because of Speaker Cannon's senile objection to anything new and popular, has stood in the way of its further progress. The bill died in the house again at the recent session, and it will be blocked there so long as Cannon holds the place of power.

The object of this measure is twofold: to create forest reserves where they are needed, and to protect navigable waters by conserving the forests which steady and equalize the supply of water. The opponents of the bill have raised the issue that it is unconstitutional, because the Constitution gives the government no right to buy land for forest reserves. These people do not deny the government's right to take action for the preservation of waterways, but they assert that this feature of the proposition is merely lugged in to give the measure a show of constitutionality.

This merely shows to what lengths selfish opposition to measures for the common good will go. The purpose of the Appalachian bill cannot be assailed; it offers results valuable to the nation and its people all out of proportion of its cost. The direct attack being impossible, the indirect method is taken, and in nine cases out of ten, when selfish interests pursue the method of indirect attack, they trot out the Constitution, as though they thought that immortal document were especially invented for their benefit.

The Constitution was not invented for the protection of selfish interests. On the contrary, it was invented for the people, and it gave form to a government designed to produce the greatest good for the greatest number. No more shameful use of it could be made than to bulwark special privilege against the advance of popular interests. If those who make this use of it do not look out, they will destroy themselves by destroying popular respect for the Constitution.

The Constitution was made for man, not for man the Constitution. If at any time it becomes clearly evident that the Constitution is so inflexible that it stands rigidly in the way of progress, it will be changed. The more it is used to protect special privilege and selfish interests and to stay the advance of progress, the sooner the desire to change it will come. And if it does today imply that property is greater than humanity, it will not imply anything of the sort when it is changed by the people.

HOW THE WIND IS BLOWING.

Just a straw, wafted hither in the current of the day's news, to show which way the business wind is blowing:

New York, June 4.—President Underwood of the Erie railroad issued instructions yesterday that all the road's locomotive and car shops be placed on a 40-hour basis. It is the intention of the company to once again begin repairing all equipment which has been idle by reason of lack of business. The resumption of work will give employment to several thousand men.

This is what all the railroads should have been doing during the depression. No matter how dull things were for a time, every railroad manager knew that it was only a breathing spell, and that industry would soon be resumed at greater speed than ever before. It was and is the duty of the railroads to prepare themselves to facilitate that new burst of energy which is generating, so that they may help it forward by their readiness, rather than hold it back by their unpreparedness. Mostly, however, they sat back and complained that the president or the people or somebody had destroyed their prosperity, and waited with their repairs and extensions until traffic gets so heavy that there will be no time for such things.

Now they are getting at it. The return of activity has begun already, and the railroads are beginning to prepare for it now that it has come. By giving employment to thousands of men, the railroads will start normal consumption of the nation's products, enabling factories to resume at full blast. This will provide more railroad business, and enable the railroads to give employment to still more men, whose wages will flow into the reviving currents of trade.

It has only been a shower after all.

A YELLOW JOURNAL.

Congress has adjourned, but the Congressional Record still comes to our exchange table, bigger and bulkier, if not better, than ever.

This happens because Seneca E. Payne, the Republican leader of the house—that is, he is dignified by the title of leader and is allowed the exclusive privilege of making the motion to adjourn, though Speaker Cannon is still the real leader if not the real house—secured the adoption of a resolution five days before the close of the session giving general "leave to print" to all members from that day until five days after the adjournment.

If a newspaper did as much "faking" in preparing its reports of congressional sessions as the Congressional Record does every day, it would be condemned as a "yellow journal," and would forfeit its right to the confidence of the public.

The Congressional Record, which purports to be an accurate transcript of the proceedings of congress, is a shameful, pitiful, miserable fraud. Its fraud is petty, it is true, but it is therefore less worthy of the important body which it misrepresents. Its deceptions fool nobody, and the only damage from them is that they cost the people a lot of money and sully the integrity of congress, which stoops to a pitiable deceit with the mistaken idea that it is bolstering up the political fortunes of its members.

The Record is not only not a fair report of the proceedings of congress, but it is used to squander the people's money for petty political trickery. It costs money to print it, it costs money to distribute it, but it costs a lot more because the members are privileged to reprint voluminous extracts from it, consisting of speeches that they never delivered, and to mail them free to as many addresses as they please.

It is a small deception, but those who will cheat in small ways are likely to cheat in large ways if they see a chance. Perhaps it does not follow that a congressman who would circulate at government expense a speech that he never delivered and perhaps never even wrote, would be so scrupulous as to refrain from doing so, but it is no credit to him and no assurance of his integrity.

The thorough unreliability of the Congressional Record is not so great an evil as the shameful subservience of congress to Aldrich and Cannon, nor does it cost the people so much; but it is shameful, and it does cost money. The Record ought to be an accurate report of the deliberations of congress, and it ought to be nothing else. If it is continued only at the expense of this deceit, it might as well be discontinued altogether.

The fact that the blanket leave to print was extended at the instance of the Republican majority does not mean that the Democrats are guiltless. To their credit be it said that Minority Leader John Sharp Williams protested against it, but members of the minority are taking advantage of it, and seem to be contributing their share of the volume of words that burdens the Record.

General Apathy seems to have assumed command of the Republican governorship campaign.

HOTEL GOSSIP.

There is nothing like a change of abode for experience. One day this week the name of a man was found on the pages of the registers of the four large Duluth hotels. At one of the hotels the traveler took breakfast. It couldn't have been because he did not like the hotel, for he left after the morning meal, for at two of the other hotels he paid his bill after the breaking of bread.

At the fourth hotel the stranger remained all night. Thus in one brief day he had become acquainted with four of the leading places of food and shelter for the out of town visitor. But this example is not the usual course pursued by the habitual traveler.

There are certain travelers who swear by the St. Louis. The Lenox also has its clientele of lodgers, who hit straight for that hotel when they strike the Zenith line. The Spaulding has its regular patrons, who would no more think of going to any other hotel than to the Lenox, and think of deserting a comfortable abode that they have learned call home. The same holds true of the McKim.

It is a peculiar thing about travelers that they become attached to a hotel and follow the fortunes of that house while they are away from it. There are travelers who have been coming down the ranges for years who consider the St. Louis their home while in Duluth. They know all of the clerks, the waiters, the bar-tenders, and the names of the employees around the hotel, and they know the ins and outs of the business as well as the home. They know the hotel as well as their own home.

The Chicago Evening Post, which is one of the most ardent newspaper champions of Secretary Taft, says that his victory—the assumption that he has any victory still has to be forced in view of the continued menace of the third term idea—is a popular victory, and that it came about as a result of the outpouring of a popular fervor in his behalf. It says:

"The reason is that the people have done it. Nor has the victory had the element of uncertainty added to its attainment by a spectacular and elaborate campaign. Never since political warfare in the United States took on the character of a systematized business has a candidacy for presidential nomination been conducted with more simplicity and restraint or less machinery and expenditure of money. The support which the people have given Mr. Taft has been absolutely spontaneous."

No deliberate misstatement of the facts could be more complete than this. The Post is not given to deliberate falsification, so this amazing utterance may be set down to the abandoned fervor of its advocacy of the Taft candidacy.

The real truth is to be found in the exact opposite of all these statements. The people did not do it; never has a Republican candidate secured a nomination with less popular backing or more popular apathy. The officeholders did it, and back of that Roosevelt did it—and the doing of it was the most remarkable achievement of his marvelous career. Of course this is all based on the assumption that it has been done, and that an outburst of Rooseveltism and of a desire to win does not sweep Mr. Taft off the boards at Chicago June 16.

The campaign for Taft has been elaborate, it has been conducted with much machinery, and it has cost much money. Mr. Taft's brother is said to have furnished the funds—Taft has nothing himself after many years of public service—and estimates of the money spent thus far run from several hundred thousands to a million.

Says the Indianapolis News, in comment upon the extraordinary statement of the Chicago paper: "It is doubtful whether as much money was ever spent to bring about the nomination of a candidate as has been spent to bring about the nomination of Mr. Taft. Certainly there never has been a campaign that was more liberally and more extravagantly financed. It is charged that the trusts have contributed generously to Mr. Taft's cause, and that more money is looked for from that quarter. Secretary Martin of the American Anti-Trust league has recently had something to say of an alleged contribution of $250,000 from Andrew Carnegie. But wherever the money has come from, it is certain that there has been no lack of it. The expenses incident to the conducting of the Taft campaign have been enormous. We suppose they have been met. So much for the money side of the question."

If Mr. Taft is nominated it will be by the sheer force of money and administration influence. He may, during the campaign, develop popular enthusiasm for himself; but he does not have it now. Indifference has characterized the attitude of the rank and file of his party toward him, for Roosevelt is the man they want.

A man does not need a gaudy uniform to be a hero. More often the uniform of the hero of modern life is a suit of overall, well marked by the stains of toil. An example of this happened in St. Paul yesterday, and the story was related in The Herald last night.

John McGorthey was working in a gas-compressing plant when a gas stop on a nearby well fell to the floor, and the escaping gas rushed out, met the flame of an adjacent burner, and became ignited. There was imminent danger of an explosion which would have blown to atoms all the workmen who were near. Without a moment's thought McGorthey thrust his naked hand into the flame and turned off the gas by means of a safety cock. A terrible accident was averted in the nick of time, but McGorthey was taken to a hospital with his arm burned almost to a crisp and his side literally cooked. He saved his fellow-workmen, perhaps at the cost of his own life, because his condition is critical, certainly at the cost of terrible suffering.

This is the stuff of which heroes are made. Readiness, courage, quick thought and quick action are the qualities of heroism no less than of capacity for successful endeavor. In the crucible of deadly exigency manhood is tried as by fire, and the real stuff emerges pure gold while the dross perishes. The man who thinks first of duty, and who considers others before he thinks of his own comfort and safety, is cast in heroic mold, whether he bears a sword or a spade, or whether his uniform be of tinselled blue or of toil-stained denim.

JOKER SUEDED BY VICTIM

Roy Lats Wants $500 Damages for His Nervous Shock.

Claims Initiation Chair in Lodge Room Contained Explosive.

Claiming that he has suffered a serious shock to his nervous system, as the result of a practical joke played on him in one of the local lodge rooms of the city, Roy Lats, a tailor, employed by Heistand & Lipman, has served papers on Joseph Sosnovsky, a clothing merchant on Fifth avenue west, in a $500 damage action.

The case is one of the most unique in some particulars that has ever been started in this city.

Lats, who is about 40 or 45 years old, claims that he received notice to attend a lodge meeting in Kalamazoo hall, the evening of March 22 last. He claims that he went to the hall, but found that another lodge, known as Hebrew City lodge, No. 337, of the Order of B'nai B'rith, had possession of the room for the evening.

According to Lats he found several men in the room whom he knew, and they invited him to come in. Sosnovsky, who is said to be treasurer of the Hebrew City lodge, is alleged to have insisted that Lats sit down for a time, instructing him to seat himself in a certain chair belonging to the order.

Lats claims the chair contained within the seat thereof "a certain explosive substance, so situated, constituted and contrived as to explode through the sitting down of a person thereon."

It is claimed that Sosnovsky, with the purpose of injuring the person of Lats, invited the latter to sit down in the chair, and that the plaintiff, in ignorance of the dangerous character of the piece of furniture, took a seat. It is further alleged that the explosive substance became busy, and that the chair collapsed, causing Lats to become precipitated on the floor in a violent manner.

The plaintiff claims that by reason of the explosion and the fall, his nervous system has received such a shock as to greatly hinder and disable him in the pursuit of his occupation. Lats is represented in the action by William Marx.

Expenditures of Over $100,000 Recommended for Grand Marais.

Proposed to Build Breakwater and Dredge Harbor Basin.

Copies of House Document No. 323, containing the report of the preliminary examination of Grand Marais harbor, Minn., with a view to rebuilding the entrance piers and of enlarging the basin, together with plans and estimates by Maj. Graham D. Fitch of the local United States engineers' office, have been received here. The reports were made in compliance with the river and harbor act of March 2, 1907.

Grand Marais harbor has been improved by the construction of a short pier or breakwater on each side of the harbor entrance and the excavation of a portion of the harbor area to a depth of sixteen feet at low water. The further improvement now proposed and recommended by the local office consists in the reconstruction of the east breakwater with a view to affording better protection, the removal of the existing east breakwater, and dredging to a depth of sixteen feet of an additional area of about twenty-one acres; all at an estimated cost of $117,350. The plan has been submitted, as required by law, for consideration and recommendation by the board of engineers of the harbor and harbor district. The board is expected to meet on June 10, and its first and last of the notes noted under the construction of a new east pier, and the depth proposed by the district officer, sixteen feet at mean low water, is sufficient to accommodate the requirements of the board. The board is expected to meet on June 10, and its first and last of the notes noted under the construction of a new east pier, and the depth proposed by the district officer, sixteen feet at mean low water, is sufficient to accommodate the requirements of the board. The board is expected to meet on June 10, and its first and last of the notes noted under the construction of a new east pier, and the depth proposed by the district officer, sixteen feet at mean low water, is sufficient to accommodate the requirements of the board.

In his report, Maj. Fitch says: "The amount of commerce transacted at this harbor is not large. When compared with some other harbors on the lake, and taking into account the tributary resources, it is not likely to reach any great proportions in the near future unless it should become a shipping port for iron ore. There has been, however, a general increase with time, particularly during the last five or six years. "As a harbor of refuge, Grand Marais is a valuable asset to the lake. It is a rugged coast between Agate bay and the international boundary. The importance in this respect probably equals that of providing for the local commerce. The vessels making use of this harbor are mainly coasting steamers doing business between Duluth and the north shore, and Port Arthur, Isle Royale and numerous small landings along the north shore. These points, used and barges engaged in towing logs, hauling cedar, and heavy loads of lumber. The harbor is engaged in the lumber business between the north shore and the south shore. Often these vessels have lain in this harbor for safety from storms when to be outside might have been disastrous. "In view of what precedes, I am of the opinion that the east breakwater should be rebuilt, giving it a location which would start at the extreme end of the rocky point and having a direction turned more out in the lake about 45 degrees from its present direction, a length of about 200 feet and a width of about 400 feet. This location would give a symmetrical form to the breakwater, and such that the vessels from northeast would be able to pass the east breakwater, outward to a certain extent and past the west breakwater, and waves from southwest storms would be in a similar manner deflected by the breakwater. The westerly portion of the breakwater, without undergoing the reconstruction from northeast storms which is needed for business purposes, and all portions of the harbor would share alike in that respect. "The light-house and fog signal would, of course, have to be transferred from its present position to the new breakwater, and the old east breakwater should be removed. This could be done by a dipper dredge having a dipper armed with teeth, and at a moderate cost. "I am further of the opinion that the harbor basin should be enlarged by dredging out the westerly portion of the harbor and around the outer margin of the present basin, as close to the shore line as possible without unduly encroaching on the shore, and to the same depth as the present dredged basin, so as to give a clear depth of sixteen feet at low water. "This would increase the area of the basin to about fifty-five acres, or a little more than double the present basin. The bay is small at best, and the shore line is so much as possible of this area should be deepened and utilized for anchorage and commercial purposes. "It would also recommend that a sea wall be built for a distance of 400 feet, more or less, along the low neck of land on the east side of the harbor. This strip of land is only 200 feet wide at its narrowest point. It consists of a loose beach gravel, and the storm of Nov. 28, 1905, washed over it and carried gravel into the harbor, extending the shore line about twenty feet into the bay."

Some Improvement in Iron Trade Noticed Last Month.

Cleveland, June 4.—There has been some improvement in the iron business during the past two weeks, but it has not been felt in lake trade and no material change is looked for until the latter part of the month. Coal is moving pretty freely, but there is no demand for tonnage in other lines.

closet to hide the murder and to give the appearance of suicide. It has been positively learned that a vest button was found in the closet where the body of Mrs. Grunert was discovered, matches the buttons on the vest that Paul Krause, a former husband of the woman, said he wore on the day of the tragedy. There is one button missing from that vest.

BREAD ON WATER IS RETURNED

Iowa Hermit Enriches
Those Who Showed Him Kindness.

Waterloo, Iowa, June 5.—Gregory Grey, a hermit who lived near La Porte for fifty years, at first with his mother, and since her death, twenty years ago, residing alone, died yesterday, aged 89 years. Just ten minutes before he expired he affixed his signature to a will which bequeaths all his property, estimated at $50,000, to a poor family who befriended him and in his later years showed many kindnesses towards him.

Among his possessions is a 240-acre farm in Spring Creek township, which is stocked with cattle and horses. Having no kin and being informed by his physician that he had only a few minutes to live, Grey made a will, knowing that his wealth otherwise would revert to the state.

No one seems to know just how wealthy Grey was at the time of his death. He lived a solitary life, and there are those who believe that he has great wealth hidden in his humble domicile.

DAUGHTERS WILL FINISH HALL. Washington, June 5.—Continental hall, the home of the Daughters of the American Revolution in this city, will be rushed through to completion, a loan of $200,000 having been negotiated with which to carry on the work of finishing the building.

WILL BUILD COURTHOUSE IN 200 WORKING DAYS

Langquist & Illsley Will Begin Work on Contract June 15.

Two Shifts of Men Will be Employed by Contractors.

Langquist & Illsley, the Chicago firm of contractors, who were awarded the general contract for the St. Louis county courthouse, will start work on their contract Monday morning, June 15, according to the present arrangements. The contractors are shipping their working equipment to this city, and unless some unforeseen delay occurs, it will arrive and be unloaded at the site of the new building before the date set for the starting of the work.

The contractors have 200 working days in which to build a courthouse that will cost the people of the county about $1,000,000.

Under the terms of the contract, the

KEEN SUFFERING

Rheumatism Developed Burning,
Painful Sores on Legs—Tortured Day and Night—Tried All Kinds of Remedies to No Avail—Wife Had Debility and Pains in Back.

BOTH USED CUTICURA AND ARE WELL AGAIN

"My husband had been a great sufferer with rheumatism for nearly fifteen years. At first it was in his bones, but after a while it was in the flesh and finally running sores broke out on his legs, from below the knees to the ankles. There are no words to tell all the discomfort and great suffering he had to endure night and day. He used every kind of remedy and three physicians treated him, one after the other, without any good results whatever. So one day I happened to read about Cuticura Remedies. I asked him if he would not try them. 'No,' said he, 'it's no use, I've spent enough money now.' The next day I ordered five dollars' worth of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. He began to use them without confidence but after three weeks all the sores were dried up. The burning fire stopped, and the pains became bearable. After three months he was quite well. Two years later the pains and sores came back after he had been working hard and had taken cold. But as soon as he used Cuticura again it cured him. Two years ago I used Cuticura Pills for general debility. They did me a great deal of good and made me well. Three months since I had pains in my back and Cuticura took them away, too. I can prove this testimony at any time. Mrs. V. V. Albert, Upper Frenchville, Me., July 21, 1907."

A Single Treatment

Consisting of a warm bath with Cuticura Soap, a gentle application of Cuticura Ointment, and a mild dose of Cuticura Resolvent or Pills, is often sufficient to afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure of torturing, disfiguring eczemas, rashes, itchings, irritations, and inflammations of the skin and scalp, from infancy to age, when all else fails.

Cuticura Soap, 25c; Ointment, Resolvent (60c), and Pills (25c), per box of 60, are sold everywhere. Write for circulars to The Cuticura Medicine Co., 137 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass. Sold Free, Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

new courthouse must be under roof by Jan. 1, 1909, and must be completed and ready for occupancy by Oct. 15, 1909. This means that the new courthouse will be about a year and a half from the present time. The announcement that the courthouse will be built in a year and a half instead of four years, as has been freely predicted about the courthouse, will be something of a surprise to a great many of the local people who have not had occasion to observe the methods that are employed by contractors in erecting some of the large business and public structures of the county.

Double Shifts. Although Langquist & Illsley are allowed 200 working days to erect the building they will really crowd 400 days into the 200. The contractors expect to put two shifts of men and teams on the work. One shift will begin work at 4 o'clock in the morning and work until noon when the second shift will go on. The contractors expect to keep up this gait throughout the period of their contract, and it is probable that they will have the courthouse ready by the time set.

This sort of contract work will be something unique in this part of the country, where construction work with two shifts of men, or the crowding of two shifts of work for one day, is unknown, particularly in the construction of buildings.

Langquist & Illsley have erected some of the largest office structures in Milwaukee, where they employed the same tactics, it is said, establishing quite a record for rapid construction work.

The Chicago contractors will bring their own equipment and experienced men to have charge of the work, but they intend to use local labor. The working of two shifts will employ a large number of men for the coming year. The general contractor expects the excavation for the foundations.

THE EXHIBITION WAS TOO MUCH
Corset Demonstration Objected to by the Doctors' Wives.

Chicago, June 5.—"Pie on the naughty corset model and lie on the peering doctors."

When the exhibit in connection with the medical convention opened at the armory last Tuesday, the wives of the visiting doctors, who were invited to the exhibit, kept tugging them toward one part of the big hall, where a delighted circle of women, dressed in the latest fashions, were gazing and ungrudgingly her- self with modern whalebone, steel and silk combination.

"Ah," cried the medical men and their eyes flashed. "I sniffed the medical men's wives, and their eyes flashed, too. Unbiased observers noticed the difference in the kind of flash. They also noticed that while Mrs. Beson, who was calmly attending to her corset demonstration, none of the doctors looked at her corset or asked a single question about it.

"Come away! Come away!" urged the wives impatiently. "The exhibition is innocent. This is no place for you. She ought to be ashamed." "Looks good to me," muttered a meek looking little doctor, as his Amazon helpmate whisked him along. Then he got indignant enough to speak up in protest. "Why, there's nothing indecent about that corset demonstration," he insisted. "Look at the charts on the walls. Look at those jars. They've got things on exhibition in them that I never saw in a hospital!" "as and those things in the jars are not alive," said his wife significantly.

Then the doctors' wives got busy. They went to Manager Brain. They got him in nothing at all. He descended upon Venus.

"I'm afraid you'll have to modify your demonstration somewhat," he said to Mrs. Beson, with a glance of lingering and admiring character at the corset. "Not that I object—I should say not—but from the register of the assembly—must consider the ladies."

"I also am a lady," said Mrs. Beson, "but I don't desire to see the exhibit well put up a screen." So the screen was put up.

PARIS, June 5.—Paris is sweltering in unprecedented heat today. Yesterday the thermometer registered 91 degrees in the shade, and this record was equaled by noon today.

WILL HAVE BUSY TIME

School Board Will Begin Its Session at 6:30 P. M.

Will Consider New School and Repairs to Old Buildings.

Members of the board of education will meet this evening at 6:30 o'clock. From that hour until the high school commencement program begins in the assembly hall, the directors will have plenty to do. There is much routine business to be considered by the board tonight.

One of the most important matters will be the size of the new Hancocks Main school, which is to be built this summer on the site of the present structure, Tenth street and Twenty-third avenue west. The board is undecided as to whether to make it a six-room or an eight-room building. The arguments are in favor of the larger building for the reason that it can be heated as cheaply as a six-room affair. Whichever way it is decided, the board will likely make arrangements this evening to have work on the building begun as soon as possible, as it is the desire of the members to have it ready for occupancy by the opening of the fall term of school. The old building is a shabby affair and is considered somewhat unsafe.

A lengthy report from the committee on the maintenance of buildings and grounds will be heard, embodying recommendations for necessary repairs and improvements at the different schools during the summer vacation. The committee has looked into the fire danger in the buildings and many suggestions to lessen the danger will probably be authorized.

The board will also make arrangements for the school elections, which will be held in July. Notices will be sent out to voters asking them to make nominations of candidates for the three places on the board made vacant this year by the expiration of the terms of Directors Letourneau, Cobb and Campbell. The nominations are made by voters' petitions, which are submitted to the board for placing on the official election ballots. The voters select the men they want to serve, from the ballots, at election time.

After adjournment is taken this evening, the members of the board will attend the commencement exercises in the assembly hall.

COUNCIL ENDS ITS SESSIONS

Samaritans Dispose of Business and Leave the City.

The Imperial council of the Modern Samaritans closed its eleventh annual session yesterday afternoon and brought to a close one of the most successful meetings the order has ever held.

Several important amendments to the constitution were adopted, among which was that of placing the members of the Beneficent degree, which are the women members of the order, on the same basis as the male members if they so desire. Provision, however, was made in the organization of new councils in the future that they may be composed of both men and women.

A proposed amendment to the provisions of the constitution relating to the payment of dues was adopted, but no material change was made. Under the present constitution salaries are payable after three years of continuous membership.

A very important amendment was introduced looking to the addition of an old age disability benefit, providing that after a member had attained the age of 70 years, one-tenth of the amount of the benefit certificate should be paid per year for a period of ten years to the member, or if death should occur prior to that time, the balance remaining unpaid would be paid to the beneficiary. This, however, was referred to the committee on constitution and laws to make a thorough investigation and report at the next annual session.

One of the most important changes made in the constitution was that regarding payment of assessments by members of subordinate councils.

Heretofore, the assessment was due on the first day of the month, and if it was levied and did not become delinquent until the last day thereof. Under the new provision payment of all assessments must be made in advance.

The last business of the session was the election of three members to serve on the executive board for three years, and election of officers for the Imperial council. John Christie, C. E. Lovett and W. A. Hicken were elected as members of executive board for three years. The regular officers of the Imperial council who will serve for the ensuing year, who were elected yesterday and installed by Past Imperial Good Samaritan George H. Crosby, were as follows: John Christie, Imperial good samaritan; C. E. Lovett, Imperial vice good samaritan; W. A. Hicken, Imperial scribe; O. F. Collier, Imperial treasurer; W. H. Salter, Imperial medical director; A. E. Manus, general counsel; C. E. Bombach, Imperial high priest; C. E. Lovett and H. Achenbach, Imperial auditors; M. H. Hanna, Imperial chief messenger; Curtis

M. Johnson, Imperial junior messenger; Soren Magnusson, Imperial marshal; August Houthwaite, Imperial centurion; H. G. Hodge, Imperial watchman.

The majority of the representatives from outside the city left for their homes on the afternoon and evening trains, and the others will leave today. They were all enthusiastic over the reception and entertainment furnished by the members in the city, especially the banquet at the Commercial club and the boulevard drive. The latter was one of the features of the entertainment.

Officers and delegates attended the meeting of Alpha council last evening, when the initiation work was performed by the Beneficent degree and by the escort, who also presented a very creditable fancy drill.

DEMAND IS IMPROVED

First Canteloupes of the Season Are on the Market.

The volume of trading on commission row showed an improvement this week, although the fluctuations in prices from the week previous were not great. The better weather caused a larger demand, in almost every line of goods. Michigan street oranges. Green stuff has been coming in more freely and Duluthians have been buying it more readily.

By reason of the better demand, prices for the given stuff have not gone off as they were expected to do because of the advancement of the season and more liberal receipts.

All of the green delicacies of the season are coming now in carload lots. Strawberries are nearly as common as dandelions and radishes, young onions and lettuce are to be had in any quantities desired, at the same prices as last week.

The banana market has weakened in the face of the generous receipts, the price per pound here going off from 4 cents to 3½ cents. Bananas have been coming in on every fast freight and weekending of the market was inevitable. The quality of the fruit is excellent, the commission men say the demand is quite firm. It was not a lack of demand which put the prices for bananas off when everything else on the street was holding steady and unchanged or advancing.

The first canteloupes of the season have arrived and they are in fine condition. They do not come in bulk, all furnished together. There is every reason to believe that the demand will be heavy. The canteloupe season is at hand and with two cruises and the Fourth of July coming, it is plain to be seen that the local consumption of canteloupes will not be light. Yesterday canteloupes vaulted to $3.75 and $4 a box.

Strawberries remain about unchanged from last week. Arkansas berries are coming much more freely than they were. Other states are beginning to make contributions to the market, but for the last week or two, Arkansas berries have been furnishing most of the stocks offered here.

Oranges remain unchanged from a week ago. They are still coming in fair quantities, despite the fact that the season for them is nearly over. The California market is selling from $5.75 to $4 a box. Lemons are offered at $1.50 a box.

Grape fruit receipts are getting lighter, but the price still remains at $1 a case. Lettuce is a trifle easier, but the other green vegetables remain unchanged. The demand for them is very firm and it has maintained last week's level of prices despite the large receipts.

Sauerkraut is no longer offered along the street. Its season is over and it has departed, not to return again until late next fall.

New potatoes are coming in a little more freely, but they are still high. The price is $2 a barrel, the same as last week. Old potato stocks are being cleaned up as rapidly as possible, but there is still a good supply of them left. Old potatoes are unchanged from last week.

Butter and eggs have not undergone a variation in price since a week ago. In the butter market, country prints are to be had on the row at 22 to 26 cents, and the other grades are on the same basis as they were. Fresh eggs are 15 to 16 cents.

Cheese is a little off, nearly every grade being a little cheaper than last week. Full cream twins are offered now at 12 cents to 14 cents, and Wisconsin flats are 13 cents to 14 cents.

Poultry still refuses to climb down from the high perch it has roosted on for the last month. The market for chickens is still 15 cents and ducks are 15 cents. Turkeys are 18 to 20 cents.

In the fish market, the supply of lake trout is more plentiful and the price has been marked off a cent. Lake trout is now quoted at 10 cents.

Pork has been a little scarce for several days. The local packing houses have not been able to fill all of their orders for it, but otherwise meats show but slight change.

UNCLE SAM BLEED ON BUILDING SITE

Scandal Threatened Over the Postoffice Site at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 5.—One of the biggest scandals in years is threatened as a result of the purchase by the government of the sixteenth street site for a post-office. The purchase was made by Leslie M. Shaw when he was secretary of the treasury. Suit has been entered by Wise & Miner, attorneys, against Lemmon & Armstrong, a brokerage firm, for their share of the commission on the deal. They declared that if this case comes to trial, the whole story of how the government was imposed upon will be brought to light.

Against the advice of the chamber of commerce and the business interests of Pittsburg, Secretary Shaw selected the site, which is in no manner suitable as a location for a postoffice. It is far away from the city in a locality that never will be a business section. The price for the site was a trifle over $300,000. Real estate men declare that the government was "done" for $300,000 on the deal.

Several persons who allege that they were to receive money for "influence" in making the sale have not been paid, and they threaten to make a fuss about it. At the head of the list is said to be the name of a prominent man, and opposite it the figures $15,000. This is the highest amount paid to one man, and it runs down to $50, which is said to be a press agent for booming the site.

THEY LIKE STILLWATER. New Minister and his Wife Pleased With Town.

Stillwater, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several weeks ago the congregation of the First Presbyterian church of this city extended a call to Rev. John McCoy of Eau Claire, Wis., to become pastor of this church, the pulpit of which has been vacant since the resignation of Rev. S. J. Kennedy last February. Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. McCoy were here. While in the city the new pastor and his wife were guests of Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Clark. They were shown around the city, through the church and the manse and visited many points of interesting surrounding the town.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McCoy expressed themselves as delighted with the appearance of Stillwater, and laid especial stress on the character and beauty of the homes of the city.

SHRINERS PARADE CALUMET. Notable Procession With Governor Bringing Up Rear.

Calumet, Mich., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wednesday afternoon's parade of the Shriners of Ahmed Temple was one of the best ever seen in Calumet. There must have been at least 300 members in line. The Calumet & Hecia band headed the procession. One of the features of the parade was a number of candidates for initiation into the mysteries of the order, holding unto a rope. There were a number of Arab chiefs riding in "horseless" vehicles and the Arab band with flageolettes, drums and other features along with the grotesque Arab costumes worn, made the parade most interesting.

Bringing up the rear of the parade was Governor Fred M. Warner, in pector W. H. Thielman, Adj. Gen. Cox, and other members of his staff. After parading Red Jacket, the procession wended its way to Laurium, and back to the Light Guard armory, where the business session was held. In the evening the Shriners were entertained at a banquet in the Red Jacket town hall followed by a grand ball in the Light Guard armory.

FEAR INITIATIVE MIGHT HURT PROHIBITION CAUSE. Grand Forks, N. D., June 5.—Before adjourning its annual convention here, the Red River Valley Baptist conference adopted a resolution favorable to the building of a ginkhal at the University of North Dakota, the same to be conducted along the lines of Wesley college. The conference also went on record as opposed to the Ueland initiative and referendum bill, on the ground that the bill will be detrimental to the prohibition law of North Dakota.

The following officers were chosen: Rev. F. E. R. Miller, Grand Forks, moderator; Mrs. N. J. Nelson, East Grand Forks, secretary; Rev. J. N. Start, treasurer; Rev. J. K. Fairchild, Cavalier, secretary.

1675 ESTATE OF TRUST.

Fifty Years Must Elapse Before Mitchell Property is Divided.

Negaunee, Mich., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fifty years must elapse before the estate of Capt. Samuel Mitchell, the pioneer mining man of the Marquette range, who died recently in Chicago and was buried here, where he had lived for years, be divided among his heirs. The estate aggregates $1,000,000.

Surviving him are the widow, eight daughters and one son. They will continue to live on the property. Eventually the entire holdings will go to the grandchildren, but not until about 1910 shall they reach the age of 21.

The will vests the title in three trustees, namely, John H. Kellogg, banker of Chicago, William H. Watts of St. Louis, Mo., and Thomas Pellego of Negaunee, Mich. An annuity of $6,000 is added to the estate. The day after this is paid it is directed that the re-maintaining the same income be divided between the surviving children—Jardo Saunderson, Philadelphia, Pa.; Lillian S. Adams, Nagaunee, Mich.; Rose A. Drake, Nagaunee, Mich.; Samuel J. Mitchell, Marquette, Mich.; Bertha C. Greene, Milwaukee, Wis.; Anna P. Wilson, Cleveland, Ohio; Fannie W. Olson, Myrtle L. Mitchell and Ida May Perkins, all of Nagaunee, Mich.

The final partition of the estate shall not take place until the death of Capt. Mitchell's widow; the death of the last surviving child, until the youngest living grandchild shall have attained the age of 21 years.

Predicted They Will be Unusually Active This Season.

Due to Heavy Rains—Woodticks Are Out in Force.

Mosquitoes will be exceptionally numerous this year in Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin, say the vacation experts. The unusually rainy weather of the last three or four weeks has filled all the swamps and holes in the low stretches of land with the stagnant water that is necessary for the growth of the larvae. As it takes only six days for a mosquito to hatch out, it may be easily seen how rapidly the little pests are multiplying. It is a little early in the season for mosquitoes in the immediate vicinity of Duluth, but as the weather grows warmer they are beginning to appear in large numbers.

All this means a disagreeable time of it for the summer campers, unless they seek the sandy regions west and south of Duluth, where the water sinks into the ground as soon as it falls. But if they go there they will be pursued by woodticks. These pernicious little pests are already out after their prey in several of the resorts which are popular with Duluthians, notably Solon Springs and Gordon in Wisconsin, and Moose Lake and Duvernois in Minnesota. Perhaps pernicious is pretty strong to use in connection with the name woodtick, but those who have had experience with the things search about in their minds for the strongest expressions at their command in speaking of them.

Early campers say that they never before saw woodticks so numerous as they are this summer. They are found in greatest numbers in a sandy scrub oak country. People who returned to the city Sunday night and Monday found the few days spent at some of the popular resorts within easy distance of Duluth have been picking off woodticks ever since.

One particularly attractive girl has the record of seven ticks in two days since getting back to town. Woodticks are not found in the immediate vicinity of the lake. The season for them will be over within three or four weeks, for they seem to be shorter lived than the mosquitoes, which generally manage to stick on the job until very late in the summer.

W. J. BRYAN WILL RETURN MONEY

On Proof That Ryan Contributed to the Nebraska Campaign.

Lincoln, Neb., June 5.—In a statement given last night to the Associated Press, W. J. Bryan replies to an article appearing a week ago in a New York newspaper, charging that Mr. Bryan was the beneficiary of a campaign contribution made by Thomas F. Ryan.

Mr. Bryan said:

"I have just read the story, charging, first, that my brother-in-law, Mr. Allen, chairman of the Democratic state committee, had a conference with Mr. Sheehan, in 1906, in regard to the campaign fund.

"Second, that Mr. Sheehan, as Mr. Ryan's attorney, secured from Mr. Ryan $20,000 for the Nebraska campaign.

"Third, that Mr. Bryan made the contribution to secure my open and unequal support of Judge Parker.

"Fourth, that to dispense the source of the contribution, Mr. Ryan gave the check to Mr. Sheehan, and that Mr. Sheehan gave his checks to Mr. Allen.

"Chairman Allen and Mr. Dahlen, the Nebraska member of the national Democratic committee, has already denied the charges, and stated that the only money received came from the national committee, but I desire to add the following statement:

"Will Return Money.

"Mr. Allen says that he never saw either Mr. Sheehan or Mr. Ryan, and I have no reason to doubt his word. If Mr. Ryan contributed to the Nebraska campaign, it was not with my knowledge or consent. While I had but a remote personal interest in the Nebraska campaign that year, I am interested in Nebraska politics, and am also interested in the national politics, and I am not willing to be, in the slightest degree, obligated to any favor-seeking corporation. If, therefore, the newspaper making the charges will secure from either Mr. Sheehan or Mr. Ryan a statement, or prove in any other way, that Mr. Ryan gave to Mr. Sheehan, to any one else, or to the national committee, any sum whatever, with the understanding that the sum would be used in the Nebraska campaign, I shall see that the amount is returned to Mr. Ryan.

"As to the charges that my support of Judge Parker was purchased, I only need say that I announced my support of Judge Parker immediately after the St. Louis convention, and until the polls closed, I had opposed his nomination, but he had no more loyal supporter during the campaign. I was in correspondence with him, and both on the stump and with my pen rendered all the assistance I could. While this same newspaper was selling its columns to the Republican committee, to be used in caricaturing Judge Parker, my paper was urging his election.

THE AUTOMOBILE

Chug-Chug Wagons Are
New Pleasure for Wealthy Indians.

Bartlesville, Okla., June 5.—With his long, coal-black hair straggling to the edge of town, which was the subject, a few months ago, of sensational litigation and an investigation by the department of the interior.

In every section of the United States in which there is an Indian reservation, the story has been told of the Indian who, upon receiving a large sum of annuity money from the government, bought a tuxedo, whose plumes had caught his fancy, and, looting his family of squaw and paposes in it, started for his wigwam on the plains. Whether the story is true in every instance or not, it is true in a general sense, as illustrating the Indian's lack of thrift and his disposition to buy anything that takes his fancy.

It is a far cry, however, from the time of the plains Indians and the chase to this time of Cherokee Indian civilization and automobiles bought with the wealth that came to the tribe from the holdings of land producing enormous quantities of petroleum. The accident of a lucky oil strike on the allotment has made him one of the singular figures of this section. When the lands of the Five Civilized Tribes inhabiting the then Indian Territory were allotted in severalty six years ago by the Dawes commission, Sam Bobb's guardian had filed him on an eighty-acre tract, near where Bartlesville was later located, but his filing was contested, on the ground that an-

RESULTS ARE SURE

The Saturday Herald has the largest circulation of any paper in Minnesota outside the twin cities. It furnishes the Saturday night and Sunday reading for the greater part of Duluth and the range towns. It is the Sunday paper in the towns of Northern Wisconsin and Northern Michigan. If you have an announcement to make that you want every one in this territory to know of, trust it to The Saturday Herald.

other member of the tribe had made a prior improvement. Rival oil companies backed the rival claimants, spending thousands of dollars, for the allotment was estimated to be worth $200,000 or more because of the oil believed to be under it—a supposition since borne out by the drilling of wells. Bobb won the contest, and the big touring car he now supports is one of the evidences of his great wealth. He has abandoned the company for the equipage of fashion, and wears a mask to protect his eyes from the dust, instead of wearing spurs on his heels.

WEARS METAL SURLICE INSTEAD OF NIGHT DRESS.

Paris, June 3.—A girl named Mile. Rodinet of Langres shot her mother through the heart with a revolver a few nights since. She suffered from religious mania, and believed it to be her duty to inflict personal suffering on herself in atonement for the sins of humanity. To this end she wore a sort of metal surlace instead of a night dress, and slept in a coffin.

The other night she told her mother she was very ill, and asked her to go for a doctor. Mme. Rodinet went out, but returned before she could have been as far as the doctor's house.

"She has deceived me," her daughter said, as she re-entered the house, and, taking a revolver from her coffin bed, shot her mother. The police found twenty-five cartridges in a pocket of the murderer's dress.

RAIL PRESIDENT RESIGNS.

Benjamin Thomas, Angry at Criticism, Quits Chicago Roads.

Chicago, June 5.—During a stormy session of the board, lasting the greater part of the day, Benjamin Thomas emphatically resigned as president and general manager of the Chicago & Western Indiana Railroad company and of the Belt railway of Chicago.

Mr. Thomas' resignation was unexpected and was given while angered over criticism of some of his operating methods of the Belt railway. The directors, who were present, declared that there was nothing in the criticism which called for Mr. Thomas' resignation and that his action was regretted.

Austin, Minn., June 5.—The correct name of "James Montague," who shot and killed Camden of Chicago Wednesday night in Minneapolis, is James Flood, and he died at Austin until recently. His parents now live in Lyle, nine miles from Austin. He was subject to fainting spells and several times had threatened to commit suicide.

NAPOLEON Drank 10 Cups
of Coffee a Day

In executive capacity Napoleon was the greatest the world has ever known. When under the tremendous strain of planning his campaigns and directing his forces in battle, Coffee was his mainstay. He is said to have averaged ten cups of this beverage a day. It cleared his mind and strengthened his body and held him to tasks that would have killed an ordinary man in a short time. He liked strength in his coffee. Bell's Coffee has strength, richness, and a delightful flavor that puts ginger and spirit in your day's work. Bell's Coffee costs only 20c. a pound and is the equal in every way of most 30 and 35c. kinds. Possibly your coffee experience makes this appear unbelievable. ### You'll Like Bobby Burnit (crack polo player and clubman). You'll like the cheerful way he exchanges his father's money for business experience, at a quarter of a million per experience.

You'll like his friend and side-partner, "Biff" Bates, learned in the science that has to do with uppercuts, left-jabs and wallops. And you'll like Agnes Elliston, in whose care Bobby's father left three million for Bobby to spend (and in whose care Bobby had long since left his heart).

But you'll like best of all old John Burnit, whose kindly spirit pervades the story, and whose shrewd letters of advice always reach Bobby just after he has made a particular ass of himself.

Read The Apperod Addition (in this week's SATURDAY EVENING POST). It's by George Randolph Chester, whose Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford stories were called the best business stories of the year. The Bobby Burnit series of stories (of which The Apperod Addition is the second) is better.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

(Continued from page 1.) that Mr. Roosevelt with his son, Kermit, would sail from New York for Cairo in April, 1909—just as soon as the necessary arrangements for the departure could be made after the 4th of March. It is the desire of the president to bring back at the end of the year from the wilds of Africa specimens of every kind of animal to be had on the Dark Continent. He will visit no other country, it is said. The outfit for the expedition has been obtained on reaching Africa, but an active correspondence in this connection already is under way. The desire of the hunting party—number of guides and retainers, animals, etc., has not been determined. It is the desire, however, will take with him an assortment of arms which he will require in the variety of expeditions. This outfit will include of course, guns of the highest power. During the absence of Mr. Roosevelt in Africa, Mrs. Roosevelt and other members of the family will remain at the family home at Sagamore Hill, Oyster Bay.

It is believed that he took the name of Montague from the program of a theater where he attended a performance Wednesday evening just before he committed the murder, as one of the actors playing there is named Montague, and Flood seemed uncertain how to spell the name. That Flood is mentally weak and is a degenerate of the worst type is certain, and his tendency to crime has been enhanced by reading cheap, sensational literature and attending theatrical performances of the same character. His family lived in Austin for a number of years and were highly respected, but suffered misfortune.

NORTH DAKOTA PARDONS. Bismarck, N. D., June 5.—The state board of pardons has commuted the sentence of Seth Hartzell of Langdon in the penitentiary on a five-year sentence for manslaughter, and he will be free December 1, instead of some time in February. A pardon was also granted to ten years in 1906; also Wilfred Le-Brandt and L. Westcott of Devils Lake, the latter being a murder case. Erick Mattison of Ward county was also pardoned for assault.

WORKS ALL DAY.

And Studies at Night on Grape-Nuts Food.

Some of the world's great men have worked during the day and studied evenings to fit themselves for greater things. But it requires a good constitution generally to do this.

A G. A. man was able to keep it up with case after he had learned the sustaining power of Grape-Nuts, although he had failed in health before he changed his food supply. He says: "Three years ago I had a severe attack of stomach trouble which left me unable to eat anything but bread and water."

The nervous strain at my office from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. and improper food caused my health to fall rapidly. Cereals and so-called "foods" were tried without benefit until I saw Grape-Nuts mentioned in the paper.

"In hopeless desperation I tried this food and at once gained strength, flesh and appetite. I am now able to work all day at the office and study at night, without the nervous exhaustion that was usual before I tried Grape-Nuts."

"I would not have been a living skeleton, or more likely a dead one by this time, if it had not been for Grape-Nuts."

"There's a Reason."

TRYING TO STEAL CROWN OF JESUS

Man Caught in Act of Robbing a New York Church.

New York, June 5.—In the very act of trying to break off the crown of the image of the infant Jesus, in the church of the Most Holy Redeemer, in East Third street, early today, Reno Bach, who had no home, was caught by Capt. Shaw and two detectives of the Fifth street police station, who had been summoned by Father Englehart of the church.

The crown at which the man was working is said to be worth about $2000, being of gold, with jewel decoration. Bach secured in the case to the police and when asked for his reason, said: "Oh, the church has got more money than I."

He was locked up, charged with burglary. Bach said he entered the church early yesterday afternoon, and hid himself in the shadows of the altar, almost midnight in the hollow of the statue. Then he made straight for the poor boy, he said, but when he found an iron casing under the wooden sheathing, which was the point of break in, but he had succeeded in setting off the burglar alarm in the rectory next door, with which the box was connected.

THE DAWSON MASSACRE

Milvern Harrell of Lockhart, Tex., Only Living Participant.

His Memory of His Terrible Experiences Still Faultless.

Lockhart, Tex., June 5.—Milvern Harrell, who lives on a farm about ten miles south of Lockhart, is the only living survivor of the Dawson massacre. He is 33 years old, but his memory of his terrible experiences is still as faultless as though the events happened but yesterday. In March, 1882, Gen. Rafael Vasquez, with a force of 700 Mexicans, captured San Antonio, Colima and Refugio were captured about the same time by small bands of Mexicans. These invading forces held the towns but a short time and they retired beyond the Rio Grande to evade an onslaught by the Texans. At that time Texas had been a republic for six years, but Mexico still laid claim to this domain. In September, 1882, Gen. Adrian Woll and a force of 2000 Mexican troops appeared unexpectedly in front of San Antonio. The military authorities at San Antonio sent runners to all parts of the state to notify the people of the invasion. He said the other day:

"I was living in 1882 in a bend of the Colorado river, half a mile from where West Point now stands. Messengers had rushed through the country, reporting that a force of Mexicans were in possession of San Antonio. Settlers were hurrying forward, singly and in small troops. These had overtaken or had been overtaken by others until a band of fifty-three men had gotten together and were marching for the relief of the place. The only organization affected was on the road about dark between Gonzales and Seguin, when Dawson of La Grange was chosen captain by the men.

Caldwell Commanded Force.

"Col. Caldwell was in command of a small force of Texans near San Antonio, and he had directed that when Dawson's men reached the Colorado creek for them to take a path to the right. On reaching the place, Adria Miller and a man named McCready were sent forward to locate Caldwell. McCready, becoming sick, returned and Miller proceeded alone. Going over a hill, he ran back and reported that Caldwell's men were surrounded by the Mexicans and were being slaughtered. Dawson's men rushed forward to the place indicated by Miller, but to Mexicans were in sight, and from the appearance of the grass, which was two or three feet high, had not been there. "Presently, however, the Mexicans were seen approaching in strong force. It seemed that they were on their way to San Antonio, and as we were between them and the city, our little band had to either fight or retreat. Dawson suggested that we withdraw to a clump of trees some distance away, but a few of the old men complained at this, saying that they had been trying to overtake the Mexicans and now he wanted to retreat. "The Mexican cavalry, which numbered about 500 men, were sent forward.

"When the Mexicans had us completely surrounded they began firing on us. The fight lasted only a few minutes. Most of our men were killed. I think thirteen of our men were wounded. I received several saber cuts in the back, and my uncle, Norman Woods, had his skull fractured. My grandfather, Zeke Woods, 82 years of age, was killed in this fight.

"The wounded Texans and Mexicans were taken to San Antonio and placed in a building that had been temporarily arranged for a hospital. Gen. Woll retreated in a few days, and took us with him into Mexico. Having noticed that the soldiers played cards a good deal, and satisfying ourselves that their guns were unloaded, one bright moonlight night, after the guard had passed the door, we slipped out and ran around the house toward the river. My uncle, Norman Woods, was easily retaken, but a man named Patton, myself and McCready ran on. We did not go directly to the river, but hid in a shallow place to cross.

"Captured in House of Refuge.

"As Patton was the oldest of the three, he selected a place where the river was narrow.

"A sandbar lay out in the water a little distance, and a high bluff arose on the other side. After wading past the sand-bar, Patton suddenly stepped into deep water, and, swimming forward, called to us to come on, that we could swim over. The water was icy cold, and we had been confined until we were weak. We had gone only a little distance when McCready called to us that he could go no further and sank. Patton and myself swam on.

"Leaving the river and going upon a hill to get my location, I saw a house in the distance, and went toward it. A Mexican, seeing me approaching, came down to meet me. When he drew nearer, I recognized him as a Mexican I had known at San Antonio, and with whom we had traded. I went to the house with him, where he had a big, bright fire burning. A bed was prepared, and I slept from 7 o'clock in the morning until 2 or 3 in the afternoon, and on awakening I saw four Mexican soldiers in the room. They had been scouring the country in search of us, and had come to the house where I was. Of course, they carried me back with them.

CURIOUS HORSESHOES.

London Globe: In Ireland horses are shod with sheep's horn, while in the Sudan they are shod with camel's skin.

A German not long ago invented a horseshoe of paper, prepared by saturating with oil, turpentine and other ingredients. Thin layers of such paper are glued to the hoof till the requisite thickness is attained. The shoes thus made are said to be durable and impenetrable by moisture.

GAMING IS PARIS CURSE

Premier Is Determined to Suppress Horde of Paris Clubs.

Niece of the Goolds Dies in Poverty in Hospital.

Paris, June 5.—The suicide of a Japanese officer, Maj. Ideko, who drowned himself because he had lost money, confined to him by his government, at gambling tables in Paris, has once more drawn the attention of the authorities to the many gambling clubs in the capital. These clubs are very difficult to suppress for the simple reason that all Paris clubs pay an enormous tax (about 40 per cent of the membership fees) to the French government. But efforts are being made to suppress what is known as the "mixed" club, in which men and women meet to gamble, and in which the play is not always conducted fairly.

The gambling fever runs very high in Paris, and women of all ages are greater gamblers than the men. In a club which was recently raided the police made their entry at the very moment when the belle of a well-known actress was a stake of $400 on the roulette card. She had lost all the money she had with her, had exhausted her credit with the club, and put her jewels on the table, hoping that her luck would change. It did, for, thanks to the opportune entry of the police, she kept the jewels.

Until quite recently servants were great offenders. They had their clubs where baccarat and other games were played, and the play ran till late. The cook of a prominent Parisian resigned his position because he had been fined $200 for club one evening. A week later he returned to the same house as a second cook, having lost all his money in the meantime.

M. Clemenceau, the premier, is determined to do his best to put a stop to excessive gambling in France, and has tried, but with little success, to make it difficult so far as the law which allows water places to run baccarat tables. A watering place in a very desirable position, and the little town of Enghien, less than a quarter of an hour by train from Paris, has, on the strength of a little spring of water with a touch of iron in it, its casino, which considerable sums are lost and won every week.

Niece of Mrs. Goold Dies. Miss Isabelle Grouin, who was the niece of Mrs. Goold of Monte Carlo, tragically died in the public hospital at Monaco. Miss Grouin was an innocent sufferer from the crime of her uncle. She was a very young girl when her father and mother were already dead, she was taken charge of by the Goolds, who treated her more or less as their own daughter, though she frequently complained of the harshness of her aunt toward her. After the crime had been committed, the Goolds traveled to Marseilles, leaving her alone in the house, and she only heard of the tragedy when the police came to search the apartment.

Her aunt wrote to her from her prison in Marseilles, to tell her that she might still have her plan and any furniture needed to supply her wants, but rather than do so Miss Grouin refused to accept the money. The magistrate a hundred franc banknote left her by her aunt, and she used the money in her possession, because she thought it might have been part of the proceeds of the crime.

She tried to earn her living by accepting the position of a hotel proprietor at Monaco. Though the notoriety of the crime caused her considerable annoyance and suffering still, throughout the trial she never said a harsh word about her aunt and visited both her aunt and uncle in prison before and after their condemnation, every day, or as often as she was allowed to see them. They had no longer any means left, so she used to send them the money for their living as she could to enable them to purchase some extras above the prison fare, for health, however, declined, and latterly she often complained of the injustice done to her by certain persons.

She had a presentiment that she would not long survive the terrible ordeal of the crime, and what she had seen and heard at the trial constantly preyed on her mind. She had been offered a position in England, but was unable to leave Monaco, owing to her feeble health, and a few days ago she was admitted to the public hospital, where she died.

Women as Drivers. Not content with being cab drivers, two women have made further inroads on man's domain, and have qualified as drivers of taxicabs. Their example will no doubt be followed soon by others. The pioneers are Miss Goby-Pohlen and Madame Decourcelles, who have already been seen on the boulevards in the Champs Elysees, and in the Bois de Boulogne, handling and steering with as much "masculine" as male chauffeur, and getting any number of passengers. Miss Goby-Pohlen, who is justly, is decidedly handsome, fair-complexioned, with a pair of pretty blue eyes, and a generally engaging appearance. Her outfit consists of a beige tailor-made dress, with a long gray "cache-poussette" coat, but the most original feature is her hat of soft felt, with a wide brim, such as a Western ranchman or cowboy might envy. She wears it slightly tilted to one side, so, which considerably adds to her dashing appearance when she sits at the wheel.

In an interesting interview just after she had landed a pleased passenger in front of a restaurant in the Bois, she said: "I have always been of a sporting turn of mind. I cycled as soon as I was able, and simply adore riding on horseback, but not in a long habit."

"What other sports do you fancy?" queried the interviewer.

"I am fond of shooting, and love long walks. I also did a lot of angling and sea fishing, and in Algeria I rode on camels. Seven years ago I learned to drive a small Daimler machine, and have driven a good deal since. My ambition is to steer a fast racing automobile. I would cut a fine figure, I assure you."

Showing Her Love by Shooting.

M. Charles Lerche, a "lyric artist," whose name has been widely illustrated by his sister-in-law, Augustine Lerche, one of the most joyous comic actresses in Paris, was walking home the other day when he met his wife, also an "artistic" person. There would have been no cause for alarm in the meeting but for two reasons. One was that divorce proceedings were pending between them. The second, and more immediately apparent reason was that she carried a dainty revolver. M. Lerche murmured something and made off. His wife went after him and fired twice, one bullet hitting him in the shoulder blade. Police and the usual crowd came, and the husband was taken to the hospital, where his wound was found to be insignificant, while the wife was led off to the police station. There she said that she had shot her husband out of jealousy, but was deeply sorry, and promised never to carry a revolver again. She was let out on a revolver again. She was let out on a revolver again.

Her husband in the meantime had also gone home. He was not vindictive, but forgive him. Her desperate affection had touched him deeply, even though the bullet which took him in the shoulder had not hit an inch. "Come to my arms!" he cried, and embraced her. He had not a word to say about the shooting. The next morning he went to the police and withdrew his complaint against her for having shot him. Then he called on his lawyers, and stopped the divorce proceedings.

POOR BLOOD

THE CAUSE OF ST. VITUS' DANCE

Building Up the Blood by the Tonic Treatment Is the Best and Surest Way of Curing the Trouble Beyond Fear of Relapse.

St. Vitus' dance may appear at any age, but it is most often met with between the ages of 6 and 14.

The most frequent cause of the disease is poverty of the blood, called by the doctors an anemic condition. It is therefore a striking example of a nervous trouble that is caused by poor blood and cured by building up the blood.

St. Vitus' dance occurs most often in the spring months, between March and July. This is probably because the young sufferers have been confined indoors during the winter, without sufficient exercise, and have been under mental strain in school. Under these conditions the blood becomes impoverished, fails to carry nourishment to the nerves and the child begins to show listlessness and inattention. Then it becomes restless and twitching of the muscles and jerking of the limbs and body follow.

A remedy that cures St. Vitus' dance, and cures it so thoroughly that no trace of the disease remains, is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The cures effected in such a severe nervous disorder show the power of these pills in strengthening weak nerves through building up the blood, a principle of wide application in many forms of nervous trouble.

Miss Fay Tatman of Crooksville, Ohio, is now a china decorator in one of the potteries in that place, and the fact that she is able to follow this occupation is proof that she is free from the slightest trace of St. Vitus' dance. She says:

coedings. Now, the couple will live happily, at least for a time.

Mme. Maeterlinck's Protest. Georgette Leblanc, the actress and singer, who is Madame Maurice Maeterlinck, has mother wit, and a natural admiration for her husband. She was on tour lately in a provincial town, where the local company "supported" her in one of Maurice Maeterlinck's plays. But the support was weak and halting. The poet's lines were mangled, and several characters seemed unable to understand what they were saying. Madame Georgette Leblanc sought out her manager, and spoke to him.

A writer like Maurice Maeterlinck should be treated with more respect. "Madam," he answered, "Mr. Maeterlinck is not the first to suffer. Sophocles, Moliere and Racine are daily murdered in the same way."

"Possibly, but they are not murdered alive, at any rate."

The local company made an effort, and the vicarious sufferings of Madame Maeterlinck on behalf of her husband were slightly allayed.

UNEXPECTED OUTCOME

Of the Discoveries Made in the Roman Forum.

Rome, June 5.—A peculiar and unexpected outcome of the discoveries made by Commander Boni in the Roman Forum, especially the discovery of the pre-Romulan "Sepulchrum," is the addition of about five centuries and a half to the age of Rome. The ordinary calculations, following the classical writers Dionysius of Halicarnassus, Titus Livius and Varro make out that last year, or the year of foundation of the city by Romulus, and the day of foundation corresponds to the first of April. But in consequence of Signor Boni's discovery, which is a very respectable authority is pushed back, and, according to a recent calculation, Rome has now entered on the three thousand two hundred and seventh year of its existence.

This is confirmed in a general way by the inscription on the "cippus" found beneath the black stone in the Forum, which contains fragments of a law of the kings of the seventh century. B. C. and which presupposes a very long evolution of social and political life, just as the discovery of the first construction of the Forum down to the brownish-green virgin clay, on which the first constructions were placed, suggest the remains of many centuries of history.

ENGLISH ROADS IN DISTRESS

Motor Cars and Industrial Depression Cause of Low Earnings.

London, June 5.—The Southern railway companies of England are passing through a period of stress almost unprecedented in the annals of railway enterprise. William Forbes, the general manager of the London, Brighton & South Coast railway, informed a representative of the Daily Telegraph that in the thirty-five years during which he had been actively connected with railways he had not known such serious depression as that with which they were at present facing. Whereas but five years ago the Brighton company had carried over 57,000,000 passengers, last year this number had been reduced to 48,000,000. Of the 9,000,000 passengers they had lost, 7,000,000 were third-class passengers; 1,500,000 were second-class and the remaining 500,000 first-class. There had been no fewer than 5,000,000 suburban passengers less in 1907 than in 1902, due mostly to competition by trams and motor cars. As regards their freight traffic, there was the same unfortunate story. They had been steadily losing ground during the last five years, and in the last twelve months had carried 500,000 tons less than they did five years ago. He attributed this fact to the severe industrial depression all over the country. Ordinarily, at this time of the year, there were from twenty to twenty-five ships per week putting in at their wharves on the Thames; now the number was reduced to three or four. There was a noticeable reduction of activity among large coal consumers, among builders and among many of the largest employers of labor, and this reacted adversely on the railway companies.

With reference to working expenses, Mr. Forbes had the same story to tell as the Great Eastern Railway company. Coal was dearer, and nearly all railway stores had appreciated in price. To meet this double evil of depreciation in receipts and appreciation in price of commodities, it was necessary to rigorously economize wherever possible. The story of the conjoint company, which serves the southeast coast, is no better. Decrease upon decrease has been added with a depressing regularity to the returns of the Southeastern & Chatham railway, until today it reaches a net diminution of $35,000 for the present half year. It is here that the competition of the trams has been most severely felt. As a prominent official of the company pointed out, most of the suburban area served by this company has a veritable network of tram lines, Deptford and Westcombe Park, Newcross and Lewisham, Nunhead and Catford, Battersea, Clapham, Loughborough and Denmark Hill, all are easily and quickly accessible by road, and at a price with which the railway can not compete. "We no longer convey the hundreds of thousands who annually visit Peckham Rye and Nunhead cemetery. The dense population of Hithergreen prefers the tram ride, which takes them through Ladywell to the various bridges, and so, in one way and another our receipts are falling with monotonous regularity." They had even lost 50,000 of their workmen passengers in the last twelve months, he added.

FOUND THE GOWNS Of Mrs. Frank Gould and Farmer Will be Rewarded.

Philadelphia, Penn., June 5.—Mrs. Frank Gould's gowns, lost from the top of her automobile Sunday while on her return to New York from a visit to George A. Hahn, at Alhambra, were found by W. S. Stradling, a farmer of Morrisville, and returned to her. He will receive a substantial reward.

YOUNG BRIDE KIDNAPED. By Jilted Suitor and Her Mother, Charges the Groom.

Alton, Ill., June 5.—Mrs. Mamie Grace Mayberry, aged 19, is alleged to have been kidnaped fifteen hours after her marriage, by Edgar Suttles, aged 22, her rejected suitor. A warrant was sworn out against Suttles by the husband. He alleges Suttles seized her by the throat on the street and threatened to kill her if she did not accompany him to her mother's home. The bride's mother, Mayberry charges, favored the other suitor and aided in the kidnaping. Mayberry claims his bride was locked in her mother's garage. Suttles recently came here from Ellsberry, Mo. Mayberry is a Macoupin county farmer. His bride postponed the marriage several times after Suttles arrived. Deputy Sheriff Crowe declined to serve the warrant as Mrs. Mayberry stated she married Mayberry to be rid of his importunities and denied Suttles abducted her.

LIVELY IN THE SECOND

Hot Congressional Fight Promised There, Says Mankato Editor.

Three Candidates Want the Task of Opposing Hammond.

Politics is beginning to assume a lively aspect in the Second congressional district, according to Joseph E. Reynolds, editor of the Mankato Free Press, who is here as a delegate to the imperial council of the Modern Samaritans.

For congressman from the Second congressional district W. S. Hammond, the present congressman, who was elected on the Democratic ticket, will be a candidate for re-election, and Gilbert Guterson of Lake City, Paul Ewart of Pipestone, and J. F. McCleary, who has returned to the district, will be candidates. Mr. Ewart is assistant United States attorney, while both Mr. McCleary and Mr. Guterson have a strong following in the district, according to Mr. Reynolds.

Mr. Reynolds says McCleary has many friends, and if Guterson and Ewart divide the votes in the main part of the district, McCleary is likely to receive the nomination. Hammond is making a strong effort to be returned to congress, and while the fight among the quartet of candidates has just started, it promises to be extremely spirited. The aspirants are really getting down to hard campaigning.

"The people down in the Second district are rather inclined to show a preference for Joel Heatwole as the Second of the district," says Mr. Reynolds. "Jacobson has not many supporters in the Second district. The impression prevails there that Young could poll a stronger vote than 'Jake' could."

"As a choice of the announced candidates that are in the field, the present time, the voters of the Second have thus far shown a liking for Heatwole. Ewart should come into the field as an active candidate for governor."

Should Johnson be a candidate for re-nomination for governor the voters in the southern part of the state would flock to his support. It is like the Southern vote for Andrew Jackson in the old days, he says. They are solid for Johnson down there and they think him the greatest man in the United States."

VITAL POINT FORGOTTEN

When England's Criminal Court of Appeals Was Created.

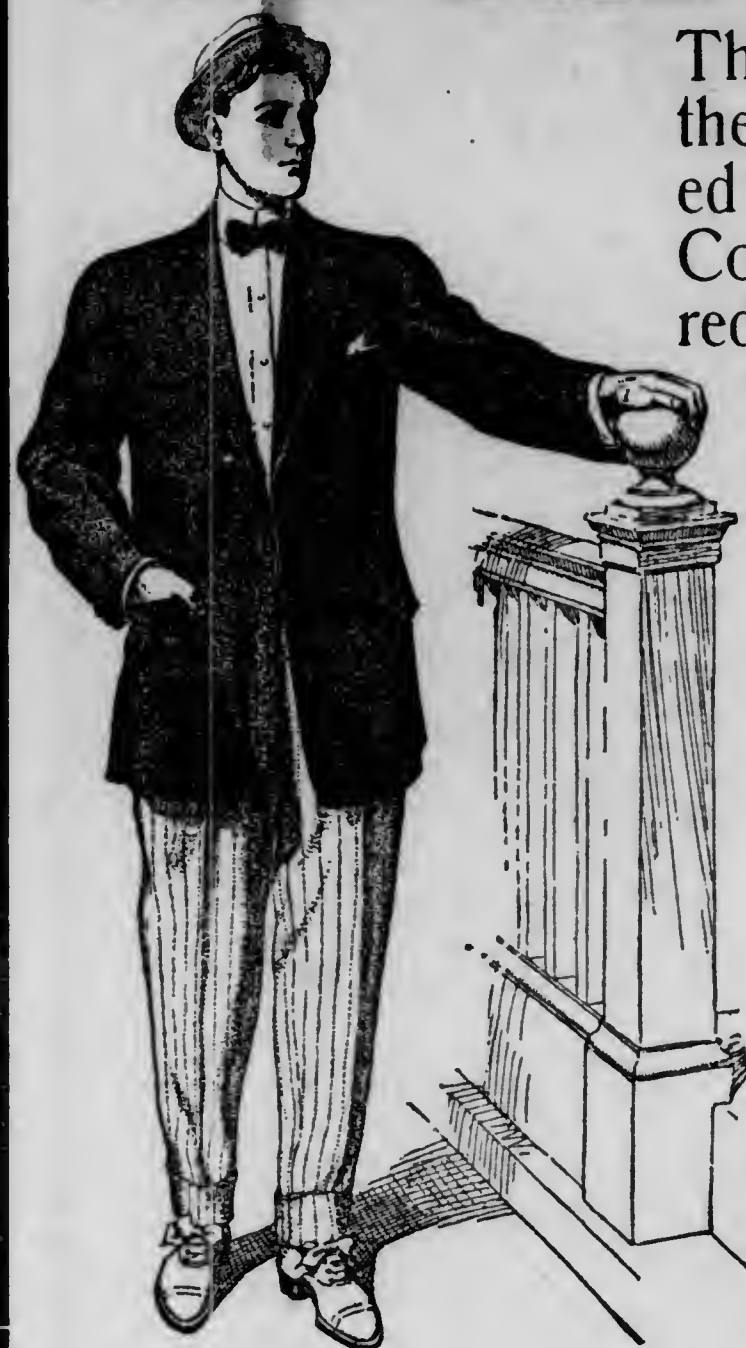

New York, June 5.—A London cable to the Sun says: It took the better part of a thousand years to get a criminal appeal court established in England, and now it is found that a stupid omission in the law made the new court responsible for one miscarriage of justice, with any number to follow. "There is no provision in the act for ordering a new trial upon reversal of a conviction," it is said. The trial court erred in the conviction of the prisoner has to be set free.

TO RAISE VEGETABLES.

Unemployed Get Thirty Acres From National Tube Company.

Lorain, Ohio, June 5.—The National Tube company has come to the help of the unemployed heads of needy families by giving the use of thirty acres of land for raising garden truck. Each man was given half-acre plots already plowed, the locations being drawn by lot, and the assignments were under direction of the Associated Charities, who also furnished the seed. The plan is followed out to give the unemployed work and to better conditions among the poor the coming winter.

NATION IS ORGANIZED

National George Junior Republic to Spread Throughout Country.

Every State May Have Democracy to Straighten Young Lives.

New York, June 5.—With California, New York, Connecticut and Maryland as its original states, a national republic of boys and girls has been founded in this city. The Plymouth Rock of this young nation lies at the George Junior Republic in Freeville, where New York's strayed youngsters have reclaimed themselves for fourteen years, and "Deadly" George, who has proved its Columbus, will be its Washington. That every state in the older Union may eventually have the same sure means of turning its young incorrigibles into good citizens is the plan of the national association, which has just been formed to stand behind this juvenile United States.

Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Illinois are already planning state colonies to join the National George Junior Republic, while a dozen other states have applied to be represented, each after the life and representative self-government of any American town.

At the first meeting of the adult organizers of this national movement, William R. George—"Daddy" to over 500 useful young men and women, and to the idea which has straightened out their crooked starts in life—reported his four original states to be reorganized and ready as a basis for the new nation. Pioneering from coast to coast, Mr. George has settled a band of young colonists in California, near Los Angeles, and the way for West Thirty-sixth street by 300 shouting friends and a brass band when the police arrived.

Working their way to self-support and respect, some 200 boys and girls, less than 18 years old, are today enrolled as citizens in this four-state nucleus of the national junior republic. Each of them has gone wrong in the outer community and is learning, for the first time, the satisfaction of getting on the right side of things in their own little democracy. As judges, jury, police, public prosecutors and legislators, they hold the fate of their fellows and the young commonwealth entirely in their own hands. As foreman, skilled laborers or apprentices in the farm, furniture factory, bakery, printing plant and laundry, these youngsters are finding out that they must do work and reap its reward, or loaf and starve. In all the fourteen years of the parent republic in this state, few of the many hundred junior "citizens" originally sent there as incorrigibles, have failed in the end to see the point and impress it on those who followed.

The fine art of leaving absolutely alone the young wills to work themselves right has proved a rare gift, and today the adult sponsors for the national republic movement are searching high and low for just the right men for the hard positions of superintendents. The California colony has been placed in charge of a graduate of the original republic, and other such trained workers are to be produced by practical experience in junior republic work. As the new states are taken in, a colony of selected "citizens" of the George Junior Republic here will be put in training on an adjoining farm at Freeville to eventually blaze the trail to the new territory as a nucleus for its newly instituted boy and girl state.

BRIDAL PAIR MOBBED

By Noisy Friends and Police Escorted Them to Boat.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 5.—Frightened by the noisy demonstration of friends at their wedding, Charles W. Crawford of 1353 West Forty-sixth street, and his bride, Miss Katherine Lavello, of 222 Tilmann avenue, rode to the D. & C. boat on the river front under police protection. The couple were spirited from the home of Rev. Francis Moran, 302 Bridge avenue, immediately after the wedding. They were being escorted up West Thirty-sixth street by 300 shouting friends and a brass band when the police arrived.

RAIL RATES NOT TO BE INCREASED

Roads Fail to File Notice With Interstate Commerce Board.

Washington, June 5.—The railroads have given up their protest of a general increase in rates.

At the interstate commerce commission it was announced that the expected notice, which the railroads in trunk line territory had indicated they would file, of a general increase of rates to take effect July 1, had not been filed. The date for filing it must be thirty days in advance of its taking effect.

It was announced that no such filing had been made and the commission had received no notice that it is to be expected. Therefore the new rates cannot take effect July 1.

The announcement made by the railroad traffic managers at their recent New York meeting fixed July 1 as the date. Immediately following that announcement a great volume of protests went up to the railroads, to the commission and even to President Roosevelt, who was said to have tentatively agreed that the advance might be made.

Soon after this protest became so serious the department of justice began its suit against the New Haven merger and immediately following this interstate Commissioner Clements gave out an authorized statement that the commission had not only not agreed upon permitting any general advance of rates but that it would be much more likely to prosecute the roads under the anti-trust act if such a raise were undertaken than to acquiesce in the advance.

These utterly unexpected manifestations of hostility are credited to the interstate commission offices with decision. The railroads not to make the advance. Business conditions have been improving, and political conditions are also supposed to have played a part in the matter, it being desired not to stir up special antagonism to the roads at this time.

AUTHORITIES ARE PUZZLED

Over Case of Affinities Who Came to Get Married.

Boston, Mass., June 5.—With a certified check for $5,000 in her pocket-book, and a signed contract between four parties, Mrs. Julie Wackerman, a rich Bavarian widow, reached Boston, accompanied by her tall, handsome daughter, Louise. At the pier they were met by Anthony Van Dervoort, the well-known Berlin pianist, and his wife.

They wanted to hurry right off, but Immigration Commissioner Billings called all four into his office. There they revealed the most astounding "affinity" case that the government officials has ever been connected with. Mrs. Wackerman assured the commissioner that the $5,000 cash was to be given to Mrs. Van Dervoort, and a life annuity of $50 per month, and, in return, Mrs. Van Dervoort was to divorce her husband, who was to marry Louise. The other three nonchalantly admitted the truth of this. Van Dervoort displayed a signed, sealed and recorded contract made in Germany, whereby the parties bound themselves to carry out this agreement.

Mrs. Van Dervoort seemed the most pleased of the party as the story was told. She was perfectly willing, more than willing, she assured the authorities, to give up her husband.

"They love each other. They are real affinities," she said over and over again. "They can't wed at home, so we come to this free country, where they can be made one."

Two authorities hardly know what to do with the case. It does not seem strictly legal, yet there isn't any direct law to cover the subject, Commissioner Billings said. So he took a nominal bond of $100 from each of the four to appear later, and communicated with Washington, asking if he should deport the affinities.

BANDS CAN PLAY ON WEEK DAYS

The wording of the original order issued against band playing on the streets gave a wrong meaning to it. The intent was not to stop the playing of bands of week days, but only on Sundays, and accordingly the wording was changed to better suit the purpose. It now reads as follows: "Hereafter all bands shall be strictly forbidden to play on the streets of the city on Sunday, except for funerals or religious purposes. All playing which appears to be calculated to attract attention for advertising purposes is strictly prohibited." Even under this wording, the last sentence would indicate that band playing is prohibited every day in the week, but the intention is to stop them only on Sunday, and this intention will be followed by the patrolmen and others whose duty it is to see that such instructions are obeyed.

COPPERS RISE DURING SESSION

Copper stocks were weak during the early part of the session today, but toward the close they began to show improvement, and at the end of the session had risen a point or so over the opening prices. North Butte opened at $65, advanced to $66 and closed at $66.25 bid and $66.50 asked. Amalgamated opened at $65.25, declined to $64.75, rallied to $65.50 and closed at $66.50 bid. Greene-Canaan opened at $7.75, advanced to $10, declined to $9.62 1/2, rallied to $9.87 1/2 and closed at $9.62 1/2 bid and $9.75 asked. Butte Coalition opened at $23.62 1/2, declined to $23.50 and closed at $23.50 bid and $24 asked. Calumet & Arizona opened at $107, declined to $106 and closed at $106 bid and $107 asked. Anaconda opened at $41.50, declined to $41.25, rallied to $42.50 and closed at $42.50 bid. Superior & Pittsburgh sold at $12.25 and $12 and closed at $12.12 1/2 bid and $12.37 1/2 asked. Globe sold at $5 and closed at $5 bid and $5.12 1/2 asked. Red Warrior was $1.25 bid and $1.37 1/2 asked. Mowatt 35 cents bid and $1 asked. Calumet & Arizona $7 bid and $7.25 asked and Copper Queen of Idaho 85 cents bid and 90 cents asked.

LAW UPHOLD.

St. Paul, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a three to two vote the state supreme court has upheld the constitutionality of the law passed at the last session of the legislature, which provides for the separation from cities containing 10,000 inhabitants or less, of upland agricultural lands included in the corporate limits of such cities. Chief Justice Start wrote the opinion, and Judges Brown and Elliot concurred. Judge Lewis wrote a dissenting opinion, which was concurred in by Judge Jaggard.

FOUND A FORTUNE.

William McCarthy, driver of a city sprinkling wagon, picked up a pocketbook containing $1,200 in money and a diamond stud valued at about $1,000 on the old carnival grounds at Twelfth avenue east and Linden road yesterday. The pocketbook was but partly exposed. McCarthy noticed it, kicked it out of the ground and was overcome by a display of wealth. The money had probably laid there for a number of years, and there is likely to be no claimants for it at this time.

Label League Dance.

The Women's Union label league, No. 230, held a very successful hop at Fairmount Park last evening. A large automobile party added interest to the occasion. Refreshments were served and La Brosse's orchestra played a very satisfactory program. The next social function of the W. U. L. will be held in conjunction with the Retail Clerks' union on July 13. The next regular meeting will be held in Kalamazoo hall, on June 13.

BELMONT BETTER.

Hempstead, L. I., June 5.—O. H. P. Belmont, who is critically ill with appendicitis, was reported to be slightly better today.

Alex Cullyford, who is one of this year's graduates in the mining course at the state university, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cullyford of West Fifth street. Judge and Mrs. Page Morris left Monday night for St. Paul. Judge Morris will hold a term of court in St. Paul and may be absent several weeks. Mrs. Morris will be absent a week or ten days as a guest at the Hotel Aberdeen. Selected real estate mortgages for sale. W. M. Prindle & Co.

Dog Catcher Proposed. On account of the numerous complaints against wandering dogs, an ordinance may be introduced in the council next Monday night, placing the canines on the same basis as cows, and investing the poundmasters with the authority of dog catchers also. The proposed ordinance will require a special fee for dogs which are to be allowed to run at large, and they will be doubly tagged.

Assault the Charge. John J. Sheff was arraigned in the municipal court this afternoon on the charge of assault. He is one of the men claimed to have been implicated in the fight on West Michigan street, last week, when five men were cut with a razor.

County Attorney Ill. While trying the case of N. M. Nelson, the land locator charged with swindling Rev. J. O. Kling, the West end minister, in a land deal, County Attorney John H. Norton became suddenly ill this afternoon, and the case was put over until Monday. Mr. Norton's illness is not thought to be serious and he was able to go home unassisted.

Get Jail Sentences. The five men who started a fight on St. Croix avenue Wednesday night appeared in police court yesterday afternoon and were sentenced to serve fifteen days in the county jail. Their names were given as Mike Saar, Charles Wilberg, Ed Heino, Frank Maki and Matt Hill.

Korhonen Is Insane. Mike Korhonen of Virginia, who was sent to the county jail to serve a ten days' sentence for disorderly conduct, was examined in the probate court yesterday, and was found to be insane. Korhonen insists on singing, yelling, dancing and talking to himself, and at times has violent fits in which he is regarded as dangerous.

Two Sewer Contracts. At the regular meeting of the board of public works this morning bids were opened on two small sewer jobs. C. L. King, with a bid of $750.30, was lowest on the contract for constructing a sewer on Huron street from Twenty-ninth avenue west to Twenty-eighth avenue west, and M. Fitzgerald was low with a bid of $437.00 for the building of a sewer on West Fourth street from Ninth avenue to the Eighth avenue west sewer.

Zenth Choral Club. The Zenth Choral club is making good progress under the direction of Prof. Land, and a small but capable organization is being built up. The purpose of the club is to attract and train good amateur singers in choral work.

Confirmation Services. Confirmation services will be held at Temple Emanuel this evening and Rabbi Leikowitz will deliver a sermon on "The Jewish Contribution to the World." There will be a special musical program.

Wife Alleges Desertion. Little May Williamson, aged 21, has started divorce proceedings against Chester A. Williamson, aged 28, on the grounds of desertion. The parties reside at Chicago. Mrs. Williamson claims they were married at Hesperia, Mich., Dec. 9, 1905. She asks for her maiden name of Cleveit.

Claims Deed Was Void. R. L. Kraus has started an action in the district court to recover $1,000 from Peter O. Lee. Mr. Kraus claims that he paid Mr. Lee the amount named for a deed to some lands in section 35, 38-7, Lake county, in 1905, but has since learned that the defendant had no right or title to the property and could not legally make the transfer of title. The plaintiff now wants his money returned.

Married by Judge. Marguerite Smith and Francis Davis were married in police court yesterday by Judge Windom. They had been arrested on a statutory charge. They expressed a desire to be married, and the judge performed the ceremony, promising to suspend sentence. The judge said they had been living together for two years.

Hearing on June 6. George B. Chamberlain, charged with the embezzlement of $27.50 belonging to A. M. Belfany of Baudette, Minn., was arraigned in police court yesterday, and his examination was set for June 6. Robert Marcuse, wholesale liquor dealer, started garnishment proceedings against him in municipal court yesterday, also.

Claims Breach of Contract. Claiming that D. A. Peter still owes him $7.50 for work and material furnished on contract last January, Thomas Thorburn, a local contractor, has started an action in the district court to recover the amount.

Alumni Banquet. The annual dinner of the alumni of the law department of the state university will be held June 10 at Minneapolis, and an action in the district court to recover the amount.

Civil Service Examinations. Civil service examinations will be held in the council chambers in the city hall next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. There will be an examination for applicants to the position of assistant librarian in the public library, as well as for applicants for positions in the police and fire departments of the city. There are a number of vacancies in both the police and fire departments.

Damages Case on Trial. The $5,000 personal injury case of Robert Altavaser against the Duluth Crushed Stone company is on trial in Judge Canty's room. It may not be finished today, in which event the trial will be continued Monday.

Trial Nearing End. The trial of N. M. Nelson, who is accused of swindling Rev. F. O. Kling out of $100 by locking him on a worthless timber claim, is likely to be finished in Judge Ensign's room today. It is understood that as soon as the state finishes its case, the defense will ask for a dismissal of the indictment on the ground that it is factually impossible that two or three important words needed in the document were omitted. H. B. Fryberger is defending Nelson.

To Open Bids. The board of fire commissioners is holding a special meeting this afternoon to open bids for the addition to hall No. 3, located at the corner of First avenue east and Third street.

S. W. Hill Sues Max Shores. S. W. Hill has started suit against Max Shores for $8.50 alleged to be due as payment for lumbermen's wearing apparel furnished on Feb. 21 last. Only last week Mr. Hill and Mr. Shores settled out of court a suit that had been brought by the latter against the former for an amount almost exactly similar.

TO EXAMINE PUPILS' EYES.
Parents, N. D. June 6—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo pupils of the city schools must undergo a physical examination in the future with special emphasis on the eyes. This is the decree of the board of education and the new ruling becomes effective with the beginning of the next school year. The city schools are also overcrowded and the board finds it necessary to increase the number of rooms.

Erie's Prices Satisfy
Because they are always reasonable. Good goods, reasonable prices, holds old customers and brings in new. Exceptional values tomorrow.

CREDIT MEN HOLD MEETING

Duluth Jobbers Elect Delegates to the National Convention.

The regular monthly meeting of the Jobbers' Credit association of Duluth and Superior was preceded by a dinner last night in the new cafe of the St. Louis. About fifty members of the association were present.

Following the spread, the business meeting was held in the convention room on the second floor of the hotel. The following delegates and alternates to the convention of the National Association of Creditmen at Denver June 22-25 were elected: A. B. Cross of F. A. Patrick & Co., R. W. Higgins of Kelley-How-Thompson company, J. O. Lenning of Wright-Clarkson Merchandise company, H. A. Sadgwick of Marshall-Wells Hardware company, W. I. Prince of the City National bank, J. F. Larson of the Twoby-Elmon Merchandise company and E. L. Cass of the Bank of Commerce of Superior.

Several short talks on trade matters were given by members of the association and resolutions of condolence were passed on the death of E. W. Parsons.

CHICKEN CASE IS APPEALED

Chisholm Dog Had a Hankering for Pedigreed Hens.

John Portloger of Chisholm objects to paying the judgment of $18 rendered against him in the municipal court of Chisholm, in favor of Thomas King, because the defendant's dog killed some twenty-three of the fancy chickens owned by King. Portloger has filed notice of an appeal to the district court. According to the complaint the dog belonging to Portloger broke into the King chicken-coop and chased and bit twenty-seven chickens valued at $34. Of these twenty-three are claimed to have been killed at a damage of $18 and King wants an extra $2 each for the damage done to the other four that survived the attack.

HOTEL ST. REGIS, NEW YORK

The Acknowledged Leader

MODERATE RATES

New York has many famous hotels, but the St. Regis, at Fifth avenue and Fifty-fifth street, easily outranks all others. It has become the acknowledged leader, not only in the "city of great hotels" but in the world.

Those who have experienced the joys of living in this home-like and refined hostelry do not need to be reminded of its superlative attractions. But many people who frequently visit New York have been denying themselves the pleasure of what might easily have been theirs under the mistaken notion that Hotel St. Regis is a place only for the very wealthy or the ultra fashionable, and that "common people" would feel out of place within its portals. The truth is the St. Regis is a place where all good people feel at home. With all its beauty and comfort-giving appointments, there is entire absence of exclusiveness.

You may live at the St. Regis for a day or a year confident that everything possible will be done to make your stay agreeable and as fair a reckoning as at any high class hotel.

In the matter of both restaurant and room charges there is moderation. To dine at the St. Regis costs no more than at other first-class hotels, while a large outside room may be had at $4 a day. The same with private bath at $2 (36 for two people), or a parlor, bedroom and bath at $12.

TOSSED BY TWO TRAINS

West Duluth Man Hurdled Back and Forth Between Them.

Hit by One While Trying to Dodge the Other.

Two passenger trains early this morning played battles and shuttles with A. Abrahamson, a laborer, who lives at 21 North Sixty-fourth avenue west, finally dropping him half dead between their flying coaches. Abrahamson on his way to work this morning at about 6:30 o'clock, dodged in front of a train coming from Duluth at the Central avenue Northern Pacific crossing. His attention was evidently entirely absorbed in avoiding the west-bound train, for he failed to notice the Great Northern passenger from St. Paul speeding eastward. With head turned watching the train he had just escaped, he walked right into the oncoming engine, and was hurled back against the train his attention had been fixed on. When picked up, he was lying unconscious, with his head but a few inches from the rails the west-bound train had just passed over and nearly twenty feet from the place the passenger locomotive had struck him, which was plainly marked by the contents on his lunch pail. His head was resting on the tie in a pool of blood, which was spluttering from the side of his head. His ear was almost severed. He was carried to the station and from there on a stretcher to the Duluth hospital, where an examination showed that his jaw was broken and his back badly wrenched and bruised.

STEP IN

And hear Pryor's Band play "Kentucky Rag" and the "Ruy Blas Overture." The way Ade Jones sings "All She Wants From the Iceman Is Ice" is the richest yet. Be sure to listen to the Hayden Quartet sing "Summer-time." All are 9c June Victor Records.

Will Visit Sweden.

Several West Duluth families are about to leave for a trip to Sweden for the summer months, which are the finest of the year in Sweden. Among those who will start in a few days are: Mrs. Josephine Haglund and Mrs. Ida Olin, who will leave Monday for New York, where they will take the steamship Baltic for Sweden; Mr. and Mrs. Matmarus and their two children, who also leave Monday, and will sail on the steamship Oscar II; and Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Tingvall and two children who start tomorrow afternoon for New York, where they have transportation on the Oscar II.

West Duluth Briefs.

West Duluth lodge No. 158 will hold a Memorial day meeting Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
Room 3 of the Onesta school has not had a family member in the school term of 1908.
The Young People's society of the Emanuel Lutheran church will meet this evening. The meeting was to have been held last evening, but due to the commencement exercises it was postponed.
Mrs. E. P. Dooker, has gone to Winning, Minn., for a visit.

WILL HOLD EXERCISES IN AFTERNOON HEREAFTER

Schoolboys Will Have No
Opportunity to Repeat Rowdiness.

Young Hoodlums Throw Rocks Through Window of Car.

"I shall recommend to the board of education that no more eighth grade graduation exercises be held in the evening, but that they shall be held in the afternoon."—R. E. Denfeld, superintendent of schools.

This statement was made by Mr. Denfeld to a reporter for The Herald today and was prompted by reports which reached him of the participation of many school boys in the disorders which occurred on the streets after the eighth grade graduation exercises last evening.

A mob of boys hurried rocks at a street car at Second street and Third avenue west after the exercises last night and Mrs. C. F. Sheldon of 132 East Third street, and a narrow escape from injury by the falling glass.

In the crowds which committed the disorders, were high school boys, some of the youngsters who have just completed their eighth grade studies, and many hoodlums who have no connection whatever with the public schools.

"Whether the school boys were to blame for the breaking of the car windows or not, last night's trouble has demonstrated to me that it is unwise to hold the eighth grade exercises in the evening," said Mr. Denfeld, "and I am going to strongly urge that they be held in the afternoon hereafter."

The plan of each school holding its own graduation exercises has occurred to me, but I hardly think it would be feasible. At the Central high school we have the only auditorium of any size in the schools and I think that if the exercises were held there in the afternoon, there would be no trouble.

"There was no disorder on the school grounds last night. It all took place after the boys had left the immediate vicinity of the high school. It arose, I imagine, from the efforts of the high school boys to make the freshmen."

"I think that the parents are in a measure to blame for the disturbances which occurred last evening. They should have better control over their boys than to let them create trouble in the school or on the school grounds, they were kept strictly."

"Many of those in the crowd which was reported to have thrown the rocks and so forth, I believe do not attend the public schools and are persons we know nothing about."

Sophomores and upper classes swarmed about the entrances of the school last evening at the close of the graduation exercises. In each crowd of shouting, shouting boys stood a good-natured officer of the law, trying to keep track of the boys as they darted here and there in the darkness.

When the sub-freshmen tried to leave the building, they were snatched almost from their parents' grasp and hurried away into some dark and secluded corner there to be put through a course of grouting. On Lake avenue, the wall that borders the high school terrace was lined with youngsters, and the other side of the wall was also well guarded so that there seemed no possible escape for the timid offspring of the grades. When one of these unfortunate was spotted a mighty shout went up "Grab him," "Pull him out," "Don't let him get away," and the trembling youngster would be yanked from the sidewalk to the top of the wall or out into the street, to be hustled to some dark alley for his course of treatment.

Second street, in front of the school, was jammed for half a block. Parents clinging to their children almost had to fight their way through the crowds of boys. Though the boys were noisy and loud in their threats, it seemed to all to be harmless play. There was no undue roughness. In the alley between Second and Third streets, little knots of lancers "horsed" unwilling boys in short trousers. "Sing," "Make him dance," "Make a noise like a nut," could be heard in most every corner that was shielded from the electric light.

The crowd of young hoodlums attacked a street car at Third avenue west and Second street about 10 o'clock, smashing windows with stones, and slightly injuring one passenger, Mrs. C. F. Sheldon, of 132 East Third street. She was sitting in the car and was cut, though not seriously, by flying pieces of glass. Her dress was ruined and she was put in the hospital.

The boys pursued the car as it slowed up for the corner and jerked the trolley off the wire. When the conductor attempted to recover the trolley rope, the car was towed away and the men on board were taken to the police station. The women passengers were naturally frightened, and the car was a scene of wild excitement for a time. The gates of the car were opened and the men on board were taken to the police station. The women passengers were naturally frightened, and the car was a scene of wild excitement for a time.

The police were seen on the spot but there was no one in sight to arrest them. The throwing of the rocks, part of the gang of young roughs surged about the car windows and threw small rocks of floor over the men and women inside. Everybody in the car was literally sprinkled. When the volley of rocks came there was a rush for the back platform and a wild scattering of boys when the men began to alight. The floor had driven the passenger from the windows before the rocks were thrown, or more serious injuries would have resulted. The car was taken out of service for the day, so badly was it battered up.

There a line of boys who made up the crowd. The students from the western portion of the city graduated last night, but it is claimed part of the gang last night was made up of the high school students, who have been parading the street for the last three nights.

At C. W. Ericson's Tomorrow

You will find men's summer suits at $15 and $18 that cannot be equaled elsewhere under $20 and $25. Stunning styles and patterns for extreme and conservative dressers.

PRIVATE INSTRUCTION

In English branches, including reading, writing, spelling, letter writing, composition, etc., will be given at the Duluth Business University during the summer months. Age or lack of early education, all advantages should prevent none from attending, as the instruction can be strictly private if desired.

Oriental Opera Company.

Sunday afternoon the Oriental Opera company from New York, under the direction of W. E. Silberman, will produce the operatic drama, "The Republic," in five acts. The text is in the German language. In the evening the same company will produce "The Deserted Father," a comic opera in five acts. Both operas will be given at Flanagan's hall.

CONCERNING WOMEN

At the bi-monthly meeting of the Women's Council, which was held this morning at the clubhouse of the library, the matter of changing a nominal fee for the vacation schools, which will be maintained during the summer, was discussed at length. Heretofore the school for domestic science has been open to all children without any fee, but the enrollment of several of the members of the Council was that the children might better appreciate what was being offered them if there was a small price attached. After lengthy discussion, it was decided to leave with the committees in charge of the cooking, sewing and manual training schools the matter of a tuition fee.

Mrs. William White, chairman of the domestic science committee, reported that Mrs. Emily F. McCurdy, who had been engaged for the job, had recently sent her resignation, as she has been installed as supervisor of the domestic science work of the Moline public schools, and will be engaged in arranging the equipment there during the summer. The committee is now considering the application of Miss Martha Whitman of Plattville, Wis., who is a graduate of Stout Training school and who has been on the faculty of the state normal school at Plattville. Miss Whitman will probably be engaged for the Duluth summer school, the matter to be decided by the committee members. The manual training school will open as has been previously announced, Monday, June 15, at the Central high school. George Gregory has been engaged as instructor.

Mrs. M. Kelly was named by the Council as treasurer, to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. E. V. Markell, who resigned. The report of the treasurer showed a balance in the treasury of $22.28.

The reports for the Art school, which is a part of the Council work, showed a balance on the right side of the ledger. The first three months of the first term are drawing to a triumphant close, and it will be unnecessary to call on the fifteen guarantors, who pledged $25 each for the support of the school, if the funds were not necessary to call on the fifteen guarantors at the end of the spring term.

Mrs. S. Woodbridge reported to the Council the work thus far done by the Playground association, and spoke of the interest of the representatives in the Council in the work. Twenty members present became associate members of the Playground association, and the matter will be presented by the Council members to the club women of the city.

The following resolutions were presented by Mrs. E. W. Matter, and adopted by the Council:

Whereas, The Woman's Council is in hearty sympathy with Mayor Haven and the Play Grounds association in their effort to procure a set aside spaces of ground for use as public breathing spaces and playgrounds, and Whereas, Unimproved streets and avenues in many cases have served these purposes, and as the need for such spaces will become greater with the growth of the city and the increasing value of land, and

Resolved, That the Council shall petition the city of Duluth not to permit streets and avenues to be vacated without the public good clearly demands it, and

Resolved, That the secretary be instructed to send a copy of these resolutions to Mayor Haven, to the city clerk and to the Play Ground Association of Duluth.

A motion was made that the park board be requested to take what action is possible against the advertisers of the city who have placed objectionable advertising along the boulevard. The council is much interested in keeping the roads about the city free from painted signs and is desirous that city ordinance now on the books may be enforced to this end.

Forward Guild.

A meeting of the Forward Guild of the First Presbyterian church will be held tomorrow afternoon, at 3 o'clock, with Miss Burris of 122 East Superior street, Mrs. Florence Porter will talk of the Bethel work. This meeting will be the last of the year and a large attendance is desired.

Third Year Students Entertain in Honor of Graduates.

The annual junior-senior reception, the most important event of the social year of the high school, took place last evening at the ballroom of the old Masonic Temple. The party this year was along simpler lines than heretofore, but the graduates and their hosts, the members of the third year class, enjoyed the affair immensely. The hall was decorated in school pennants, and La Fosse's orchestra played the program of dance music. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Clark, Miss Wells and Miss Moulton, and Messrs. T. P. Phillips and D. C. Sprague. Among the dancers were:

Informal Afternoon.

Mrs. S. E. Atkins and Miss Margaret Ryan entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Atkins, on South Fourth avenue, in company with Miss Jessie Campbell. The decorations were in pink and white and ten guests were entertained.

Personal Mention.

Miss Margaret Ryan will leave tomorrow for Minneapolis, where she will attend the commencement at the university and be the guest of friends for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Silberman will have as their guests for the summer the Silberman's niece, Miss Eira Simon, of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Grant, whose wedding took place Wednesday at Calumet, are the guests of Mr. Grant's sister, Mrs. E. A. Silberman, of 422 East First street. They will remain until the first of the week.

Mrs. R. E. Denfeld and Mrs. W. J. McCabe left today for Minneapolis, to attend the commencement exercises at the State university. Miss Margaret Denfeld is among this year's graduates.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Buxton and children have gone to their summer home at Decwood.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Markell have returned from a three-weeks' visit at Mount Clemens, Mich., and are in their new home at 2215 East First street.

Miss Hulda Wallace of East Sixth street is visiting friends at St. Paul.

OVER-EDUCATED.

Training of American Woman Often Along Wrong Lines.

Discussing the problem of overeducation of the American woman, Margaret E. Sangster, in the Woman's Home Companion, asks and answers the question, "What Is Education, After All?" "It is not ascertaining how to make the best use of the powers, how to arrange one's stores, how to exert a sweet, quiet and fragrant influence throughout life, over all whom one meets? If an advanced education does this for me, then it is the education I should seek. If not, then I must not allow time enough for seed time and harvest. Mothers are in despair if daughters occasionally drop out of school for six months of a year. We are much too apt to insist on putting all our children, irrespective of their natural bent, through the same educational factory. We do not make sufficient allowance for temperament and tendency, and thus it comes to pass that some of us carry burdens, beneath the weight of which we are crushed."

LINGERIE PILLOWS.

New Ideas for Summer Covering of Cushions.

A new and pretty idea for the making of lingerie pillows is to cover them first with flowered silk or satin with a very open net or thin muslin having an open design. The lingerie pillow proper has been popular so long that some variation on the original idea was bound to appear for this summer's refreshment. And now pillows are a lot easier to make than were the lingerie cases which have been popular so long because there is not nearly so much hand work on them. And yet they retain the most important feature of the other lingerie pillows, which is the possibility of frequent laundering, for they can have removable outer covers, which can be put into the tub whenever desirable, leaving the under cover fresh and spotless.

The under covers of these new lin-

Quite inadvertently during the week it was mentioned in this column that pie plant pie was pie plant pie and one would think that that would be about the last thing on earth that would be disputed, but a small squall of protest gerie pillows are made of flowered silk, which should be of rather distinct design and vivid coloring, in order that the best effect may be produced. Then the outer covers may be made of fine wash net or thin batiste, nainsook or linen.

If the design for the under case is a wreath of vivid pink roses, for instance, Valenciennes may be set in the outer cover or muslin. Pieces of net lace or open work may be set in at some places on the pillow, so that the design shows through, but if a very thin dotted Swiss or embroidered or figured Swiss be chosen this is not necessary. The sheer embroidered net also be used as a cover directly over the wreath, but it should be of a design to harmonize. The sheer embroidered Swiss would allow the wreath to show through sufficiently without any insertion.

A design of red roses on the under covers would also show through sufficiently well. Tulips, large green leaves, pinks, chrysanthemums—all these designs are good if the outer cover is to be without insertion. To make the pillow attractive, however, the outer cover should be of net or of very sheer material if it is not to have insertions.

GOING AFTER FACTORIES.

Commercial Club Committee Will Prepare Data on Duluth.

The Commercial club committee on manufacturing held its first meeting yesterday at the rooms of the club. The object of the committee is to promote the interests of the Duluth manufacturers, and at the meeting yesterday the members of the committee resolved that one of the best ways to accomplish this would be to visit home industries in every way possible.

Data on the importance of Duluth as a manufacturing center will also be prepared and sent to manufacturers and in every way possible the desirability of Duluth as a place for the establishing of factories will be placed before those who are looking for a city to locate in.

THE CAMERAPHONE.

New Invention Combines the Phonograph and Moving Pictures.

Manager C. A. Marshall of the Lyceum has arranged for a most novel entertainment at the Lyceum. It is the talking, singing and dancing, moving picture, which is now running in the big Auditorium theater in Chicago and filling that great playhouse several times each day at cheap prices.

The cameraphone is the most novel modern invention and is a great sensation wherever it has been presented. Through the use of the cameraphone the light and sound waves of motion pictures and the phonograph are synchronized into a motion picture effect that sings, dances, talks, laughs and so human that it is startling. Different subjects of a humorous, religious, educational and dramatic nature will be presented with a change of bill each week. Prices will be very cheap and lovers of new pleasures will see in Duluth and Superior the first and only machine that has successfully united the phonograph and the motion picture. Further announcements will soon be made as to correct dates, prices, etc.

IRON ORE STRUCK BY WELL-DIGGERS

Considerable Excitement in Polk County Over Find Made.

Climax, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The people in this vicinity are greatly excited over the discovery of iron ore there. Hans Berg, a well digger, in sinking a shaft for an artesian well, when down a distance of 20 feet, struck something his drill would not penetrate. After working vainly for a few days samples were taken from the end of the drill and forwarded to the North Dakota agricultural college for analysis and it was pronounced a high grade of iron ore. Parties from Fargo have secured options on some of the land very quietly and will begin the sinking of shafts at once in several localities in the hope of finding ore nearer the surface, as it would cost a fortune to mine the ore at the depth it was found by Mr. Berg.

CROPS SHOOTING UP.

Crookston, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—During the last four days one could fairly see the crops in the Red River valley shoot upward. The spring generally has been damp and cool, and the tendency has been for all grain to take good root and as a result a good foundation for a crop was established. The weather for the past few days has been warm, yesterday being the warmest day of the season, the thermometer registering 84 degrees, and everything is growing wonderfully.

WOULD REJECT BRIDGE.

Thief River Falls, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Engineer Turner, consulting engineer for the city council, recommended that the new steel bridge across the Lake River on Bridge street be not accepted. The bridge carries an enforced cement floor and as it was partly put in while the weather was cold, it became frozen before it had time to dry thoroughly

DEMAND STILL GROWING THAT JACOBSON DECLARE VIEWS UPON THE ISSUES

Many Friends Anxious to Know Where He Really Stands.

Fact That Corporate Interests Support Him Causes Suspicion.

Democratic Convention Not to be Held Until About Sept. 1.

St. Paul, June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The pressure upon Jacobson for a declaration upon the issues which are confronting the state is continuing to grow. Many of those who have been Jacobson's friends in the past, because of his indefatigable work for the people and against the corporate interests, people who have at all times had implicit confidence in him, are now anxious to know where he really does stand. He points to his record, and they thought at first that this was enough. But when they noticed that the political leaders, the representatives of the corporate interests that had fought him for years and supported him, they wanted an explanation. Jacobson's friends know that these politicians do not favor the measures that Jacobson has been working for during the past years, and the question now confronting his former friends is, does he still stand for the things he has stood for? If he does, why are the professional politicians

OF WASHINGTON

Desired for East Front of the Capitol at Washington.

Washington, June 6.—One of the subjects that will be brought before congress early in the next session will be a proposition to provide a suitable statue of Washington, for the east front of the capitol. In view of the removal of the Greenough statue, which presents the "father of his country" in the scant and unnatural attire of a Roman statesman, from the plaza to the Smithsonian institution. Representative McCall, chairman of the house committee on the library, has introduced a bill providing for a replica of the statue of Washington in the capitol, which stands in front of the capitol, so that presidents, in delivering their inaugural addresses, stand at the feet of the first president. This proposition is objected to by many senators, who prefer having a new work, and not merely a replica. The idea of placing an heroic statue in bronze in a conspicuous place on the plaza, representing Washington in the act of delivering his inaugural address, is finding many supporters in congress, and they will urge an appropriation for that purpose before adjournment. With the removal of the Greenough statue, there will be no other of Washington in the vicinity of the capitol, except a plaster replica of Houdon's work, which stands in Statuary hall, the original being at Richmond.

MORE POWER FOR THE APPRAISERS

New Law Will Materially Assist in Settling Import Disputes.

Washington, June 6.—The procedure in cases of dispute in the classification of imported goods have been considerably changed by the law passed at the last session of congress which constitutes the board of appraisers as the first customs court of appeal to which may be taken matters of value and classification of imported merchandise. The new law gives to this board the power of a court which heretofore it has not possessed. A bad feature of the old system, it is said, was that only part of the evidence in a case would be heard before the board. The case would then be appealed to the courts and a large amount of useless evidence taken so that when the case was tried in the courts the new evidence made new facts and often new results. The new law makes it obligatory to have all of the evidence presented to the board of appraisers, so that when an appeal is taken to the courts, the case is tried upon the record that is made before the board, and no evidence can be taken. It also gives the board the power to call witnesses and to punish for contempt, which, up to this time, it never has had. It is expected that the new system will be a great improvement over the old one, and that it will save much time in the final decision of customs cases.

PARIS QUIET ONCE MORE

Excitement Over the Shooting of Dreyfus Rapidly Subsiding.

Clemenceau Government Will Not Revive the Old Issue.

Paris, June 6.—The excitement produced by the attempt to kill Maj. Alfred Dreyfus, last Thursday, by Louis Glogori, during the ceremonies attending the placing of the body of Emile Zola in the National Pantheon, is rapidly subsiding. It is now apparent that the Clemenceau government does not intend to play into the hands of the Nationalists by reviving the old issue, of which the country is weary, and the Republican press generally is cooperating with the government by minimizing the importance of the outrage, by refraining from speculation as to whether or not there was a plot behind it, and by ignoring the vapors of the Nationalists press.

M. Maura and Daudet of L'Action Francaise, evidently are disappointed that they were not hailed up to explain their statements in this journal, that "a resolute patriot" had visited them and offered to kill Dreyfus, but that his proposal was rejected. M. Maura today published another violently worded editorial article.

CANNOT USE PHOTOGRAPH

Of a Person for Sale or Advertising Without Consent.

New York, June 6.—A person has the right under the constitution to prevent the use of his photograph for purposes of advertising, sale or trade, according to a decision handed down by the appellate division of the supreme court. Helen Wyatt, who brought suits in the name of a guardian because she is under legal age, sued two stores for $5,000 each for displaying for sale, without her consent, her photographs, on some of which had been written "Miss Wyatt."

NEARBY FIRE CAUSES PANIC IN N. Y. HOTEL.

New York, June 6.—Alarmed by the clanging of fire bells and the smoke which poured into the windows, more than a hundred guests of the Hotel Albert, at Eleventh street and University Place, were routed from their beds early today. Scarcely attired, many of them rushed down the stairs carrying their clothing, suit cases and trunks along with them, only to be assured in the office that the fire was in a building next door and that there was no danger. The blaze, which started in the cloak factory of Carl Feinreich, was extinguished with a loss of $5,000.

Spurns Gold of Wealthy, But Operates on Poor Children.

Dr. Jansen of Germany Restores Hearing of Chicago Children.

Chicago, June 6.—Spurning the gold of millionaires, Dr. Albert Jansen of Berlin, one of the greatest eye and ear surgeons in the world, operated yesterday out of pure mercy and without price on two unfortunate waifs of the tenements.

The skill of the famous surgeon, for which the wealthy men and women of Chicago in vain have begged and pleaded with offers of fortunes, and which at last was given for nothing, resulted in two cures. The children, who had been deaf, were made to hear.

Dr. Jansen came across the sea to attend the recent sessions of the American Medical association.

The children upon whom Dr. Jansen operated and to whom he restored their hearing are Willie Simpson, 8 years old, and Marion Stuhler, 3 years old.

The operations were performed at St. Luke's hospital in the presence of Chariton, Iowa, June 6.—Head Banker C. H. McMiller of the Modern Woodmen of America has filed a claim for $350,000 against the F. R. Crocker estate, Gulf Coast National Bank, which is rapidly subsiding. It is now apparent that the McMiller government does not intend to play into the hands of the Nationalists by reviving the old issue, of which the country is weary, and the Republican press generally is cooperating with the government by minimizing the importance of the outrage, by refraining from speculation as to whether or not there was a plot behind it, and by ignoring the vapors of the Nationalists press.

Pathetic Incidents in the Wreck on Electric Road Near Annapolis.

Cars Come Together on Curve While Running at High Speed.

Eight Persons Are Killed and a Score Badly Injured.

Annapolis, Md., June 6.—Eight dead and nearly a score badly injured is the toll taken by the second serious accident within two months on the Annapolis Electric railway, which occurred last night at a point between Camp Parole and Best's Gate, two small stations about two and three miles respectively from this city.

A special carrying no passengers, from Annapolis for Washington, and a regular car from Baltimore for this city, well filled, while traveling at about thirty-five miles an hour, met, head-on, on a curve, which prevented the motormen seeing each other's cars until too late to avoid the catastrophe. The road is a single track one, on the Annapolis branch, and a confusion or

KING EDWARD IS OFF FOR RUSSIA

Royal Party Leaves Port Victoria Bound for Reval.

Port Victoria, Eng., June 6.—The royal yacht, Victoria and Albert, with King Edward, Queen Alexandra, Princess Victoria and a large suite on board, left here at daylight this morning for Reval, Russia, by way of the Kiel canal. The king's new yacht, the Alexandra, will join the party at Brunsbuttel, Prussia, and will be at the disposal of the royal party in the Baltic.

St. Petersburg, June 6.—Emperor Nicholas and other members of the imperial family, accompanied by a numerous suite, will leave Reval at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, for Reval, to meet and welcome King Edward and Queen Alexandra.

The Russian Imperial yachts Standart and Polar Star, escorted by the cruiser Almaz and four torpedo boat destroyers, will arrive at Reval early in the morning of June 8.

New York, June 6.—Five persons suffered severe injuries at Brooklyn last evening when a large gray cat ran wildly through the street, attacking every one it passed until it was killed with a club. All persons who were bitten were advised to seek the Pasteur treatment. The cat's body was turned over to the health authorities.

MRS. PEARCE FOUND GUILTY.

Denver, June 6.—After being out twenty-four hours, the jury in the case of Mrs. Leonora Pearce, charged with robbing Mrs. Harriet Crowe, an aged and blind woman of $16,000, using the latter's belief in spiritualism as her method, yesterday brought in a verdict of guilty.

Accident in Wisconsin Central Tunnel Has Fatal Result.

One Man Killed and Second May Lose His Eye.

Killed—Tom Maki. Injured—J. Harji. Cause—Dynamite explosion.

The unexpected explosion of a charge of dynamite in the west end of the Wisconsin Central railroad tunnel, caused the death of Tom Maki, a drillman's helper, and burned and bruised J. Harji so badly that he may lose his eyesight.

The explosion took place at a little before noon. The drill runner had just completed drilling for a blast, which was to be set off during the noon hour.

Right beside the hole he had just finished, and almost at an intersecting angle to it, was another hole, which had been drilled the night before, and which, unknown to the driller, contained a charge which had not been exploded. Before charging the hole he had just drilled, the driller put on the blower, a contrivance to clear the dust and broken pieces away. By mistake, he applied the blower to the charged hole, and the force of the compressed air exploded the dynamite.

There were ten to fifteen men at the end of the tunnel at the time, but fortunately none of them were seriously injured, except Maki and Harji. The injured man was taken to St. Luke's hospital.

Just how serious his condition is was not known this afternoon, but it is feared he may lose the sight of one eye. The body of the dead man was taken to Durkan & Crawford's undertaking rooms. His body and face were badly mutilated by the explosion.

As soon as the smoke of the explosion had blown away a party of workmen rushed to the end of the tunnel, where the accident occurred. They found both men stretched out on the rock floor partly covered with the debris from the blast. They were carried to the shaft and hoisted up as soon as possible. A physician was called and Maki was pronounced dead. He must have died almost instantly.

All work on the tunnel was shut down for the afternoon and the men dismissed for the day. This afternoon all the men present in the tunnel at the time of the explosion were requested to attend an investigation which was held at the old street car power house, to fix the blame for the accident.

Expires From Heart Disease in Front of the City Hall.

"First Citizen," of Whom People of Marquette Were Proud.

Biography Reads Like a Tale of Romance and Adventure.

Detroit, Mich., June 6.—Peter White of Marquette, one of the most prominent men in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, and a pioneer in the copper and iron development of that country, dropped dead here today in front of the city hall. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of death.

Romance and Adventure. Marquette, Mich., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—A biographical sketch of Peter White reads like a tale of romance and adventure. He came to the upper peninsula when the region was a wilderness, and so indelibly associated in his name with the Marquette iron range that a review of the settlement and progress of the district would be a review of this pioneer's life in it.

Young Peter was nine years of age when his parents moved to Green Bay, Wis., from Roue, Canada county, N. Y., the place of his birth in October, 1839. He was 15 years old when he was one of the great discoveries of copper in Houghton county, Lake Superior, reached civilization. The extravagant accounts of the imagination of the boy, he dropped his books, put away from him and started for the promised land, it was not until some years afterward, however, that he saw the region of the red metal, and in the meantime the iron district had claimed him.

A voyage by water brought the lad to Mackinac Island, from which point he made his way to the Sault. Here he endeavored to take passage for the Copper country on the ill-fated craft, Marquette. He had no money with which to pay his passage, however, and the captain refused to permit him to work his way, an exceedingly fortunate decision for Peter, for the boat was lost with all hands on that very trip and was never heard of again.

Young White returned to Mackinac, shipped there on the schooner, and for a time as a member of the crew and made a few trips in her between Detroit and the Sault before the craft was finally

COLORADO MINES DAMAGED BY FIRE

Gold King at Gladstone and Porter at Durango Injured.

Silverton, Colo., June 6.—Fire last night destroyed all of the buildings of the Gold King mine at Gladstone, nine miles from here, causing a loss of $150,000 and endangering the lives of the entire night shift in the mine and men sleeping in the bunk houses. The machinery was disarranged by the fierce heat and the air fans put out of commission. All of the men were rescued, and the only accident occurred to Henry Sanger, who was perhaps fatally hurt by jumping from the second story of the bunk house. The fire originated in the terminal house of the mine and is attributed to incendiaries.

Porter Mine Damaged. Durango, Colo., June 6.—Thousands of dollars of damage was caused by fire at the Porter mine, six miles from this city, early today. No one was injured. Practically all of the buildings were destroyed. The origin of the fire is not known.

BLOOD ON FLOOR AND CLOTHES

Furnish Further Evidence Against Slayer of Mrs. Grunert.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 6.—A Daily News special from Appleton, Wis., says: The discovery of human blood, clots on the floor and side walls of the little closet where the lifeless body of Mrs. Minnie Grunert was found, Wednesday, and the discovery of coagulated blood on the suit of clothes that Paul Krause, the dead woman's divorced husband, testified that he wore on the day of the tragedy, are the striking additions made today to the chain of circumstantial evidence that corroborates the suspicion of District Attorney Rooney and other authorities that Paul Krause is the slayer of his former wife. In addition, it is learned, also, that the surgeons who last Thursday performed the post mortem examination of the body of Mrs. Grunert, will testify before the coroner's jury, next Monday morning, that Mrs. Grunert was dead when her body was hanged to the backrack hook, and it is also stated that they will testify that there was contusion about the head and a blood clot on the brain sufficient to cause death.

A FEELING OF SECURITY.

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs.

Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy. The same strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root. Swamp-Root is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs. It is not a stimulant and is taken in tea-spoonful doses.

It is nature's great helper in relieving and curing kidney, liver and bladder troubles. A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

VALUES INCREASING.

W. C. Sherwood Takes Profit of $10,000 on West First Street Corner.

Some idea of the increasing values of West First street property can be gained from the figures involved in the sale of the southeast corner of Fourth avenue and West First street, which has been consummated this week by a transfer running from W. C. Sherwood, a well known local real estate man, to the C. P. Realty company, represented by C. P. Criss & Co.

Mr. Sherwood is said to have purchased the property from James A. Potter about a year and a half ago, for $10,000. The office of C. P. Criss & Co. is at the corner of Fourth and West First streets. The consideration in the sale to the C. P. Realty company is said to be in the neighborhood of $20,000, netting Mr. Sherwood a profit of $10,000 on the investment for the eighteen months that he owned the corner.

An offer of $22,000 cash for the property is said to have been refused for the corner last summer.

JOHNSON SENTIMENT.

Robert Hayden Says Governor is Popular in East and South.

Robert Hayden of Minneapolis, formerly a business man of this city, has returned from a business trip through the East and South. Mr. Hayden says that the sentiment for Governor Johnson is growing throughout the South and that the opinion is rapidly gaining ground that Johnson would be a stronger candidate than Bryan.

Mr. Hayden had an excellent opportunity to study the conditions of the country and says that everywhere he traveled he found Johnson sentiment. This was especially true throughout the New England states.

In the South the feeling is growing that Bryan cannot possibly be elected. The Southern voters have a most cordial feeling for Johnson.

CONFUSING QUESTIONS

United States Attorney Puzzles Applicants for Citizenship Papers.

New Naturalization Law Has Many Pitfalls for Unwary.

"Would you be willing to die for your country?" demanded United States Attorney Sweet, who represented the government at the hearings for admission to citizenship, as an applicant in the district court this morning.

"I don't understand the question," responded the applicant, a settler in one of the county's outlying districts, as he stirred uneasily under this line of questioning.

"Suppose you should break out between Minnesota and the United States, for whom would you fight?" was another of the searching questions propounded by the representative of the government.

The applicant hesitated some time and then announced that he was "against war."

Another of the applicants who was asked by the United States attorney whether he would fight for his country is said to have answered that he did not know, that he did not have his life insured.

When the court convened to attend to the applications for citizenship papers this morning there were forty applications on file. Of these eighteen were admitted to citizenship by the noon recess, ten applications were refused because the applicants failed to answer questions satisfactorily.

THE POLICE COURT GRIST

Picturesque Array of Characters Brought Before Cutting.

George G. Chamberlain Accused of Defrauding His Employer.

A crazy man, with an imaginary $10,000 lawsuit on his hands, a woman arrested because of her picturesque array of property, and a man who has been making an easy living by letting a woman pay all his running expenses, comprised part of the police court grist before Judge Cutting this morning.

Besides these characters, George G. Chamberlain appeared on the charges of having appropriated $252 of his employer's money to his own uses. The date for his extradition was set for next Wednesday morning.

"Yesterday was my birthday, judge, and I was celebrating," said Mr. Chamberlain, with tears in her eyes. "If you will let me go this time I will sign the pledge."

Mary has been in police court several times, and the judge could not see where she was deserving of any leniency. Testimony showed that in returning to Superior yesterday she became abusive on the car, and hurled out a bunch of epithets that the judge made a full note of.

The conductor hailed a policeman and had her arrested. She was given twenty days in jail as a reformatory term.

Nick Swanson was charged with trespass. It developed that he had visited a house in the West end and made himself generally troublesome. He said he had large sums of money coming, as he was involved in a law suit which would bring him in $10,000. The police said he was crazy, and as it appeared that drink had brought him to this condition, it was believed a month in jail would work a cure. He was given twenty days or a fine of $25. In this condition, he was unable to pay his fine.

Evidence introduced in the case of Tobias Abrahamson tended to show that a woman of doubtful reputation had been living with him, and was fined $25, with an alternative of thirty days in jail.

George G. Chamberlain was arrested earlier in the week charged with having appropriated $252 of his employer's money. This money was collected by him from men who owed Belfamy. Chamberlain claims that for the last two years he has been in the habit of paying traveling expenses from money collected, later making an accounting. He says that in this particular instance he has been unable to see Belfamy for some little time, and therefore has been unable to straighten up accounts. He insists that there was nothing out of the way about the transaction in this condition, it was held next Wednesday. Bail was fixed at $400.

No Need of Suffering From Rheumatism.

It is a mistake to allow rheumatism to become chronic, as the pain can be relieved by the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is a powerful remedy for all kinds of rheumatism, and is sold in all drug stores.

Bridge Approach Damaged.

The recent heavy rains caused the approach to the Clouet river bridge on the Miller trunk road to become washed out. The approach is now being repaired by the city engineers.

Repairs Trolley Poles.

The street railway company has a crew of men at work repairing the trolley poles in various parts of the city. The poles are painted every few years to prevent rust, and are now being repainted.

New Roads Legalized.

At the meeting of the county board yesterday afternoon a resolution was passed legalizing the road from the old logging camp to the new logging camp, and the two will return to Duluth about June 15.

Will Expel Road Funds.

Several road appropriations have been made by the county board from the special road fund, but the improvement of highways in the various commissioner districts. $2,000 has been set aside for the improvement of twenty-two roads.

Delegate to Convention.

Harry Miles left last night for Buffalo, N. Y., where he will act as delegate to the national convention from the Key Stone Guard of Duluth. Mrs. Miles, who has been in England, will meet him in Buffalo, and the two will return to Duluth about June 15.

PERSONAL

Mrs. P. E. Progeau and Miss Gladys Helms have returned from a three weeks' visit at Chicago City, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Jure of Two Harbors were the guests for several days during the week of Dr. and Mrs. P. E. Progeau of 205 East Second street.

George Tofford of 34 South Sixteenth avenue left last evening for Minneapolis for a few days' visit with his brother.

W. J. Sullivan, mining engineer for the Wisconsin Mining company at Neshanic, Wis., is spending a few days in the city.

George M. Russell of Minneapolis, a prominent contractor, is registered at the Lenox.

Frank Ellorby, building inspector of St. Paul, was in Duluth today.

Garry Burpee of Skibo is at the McKinley.

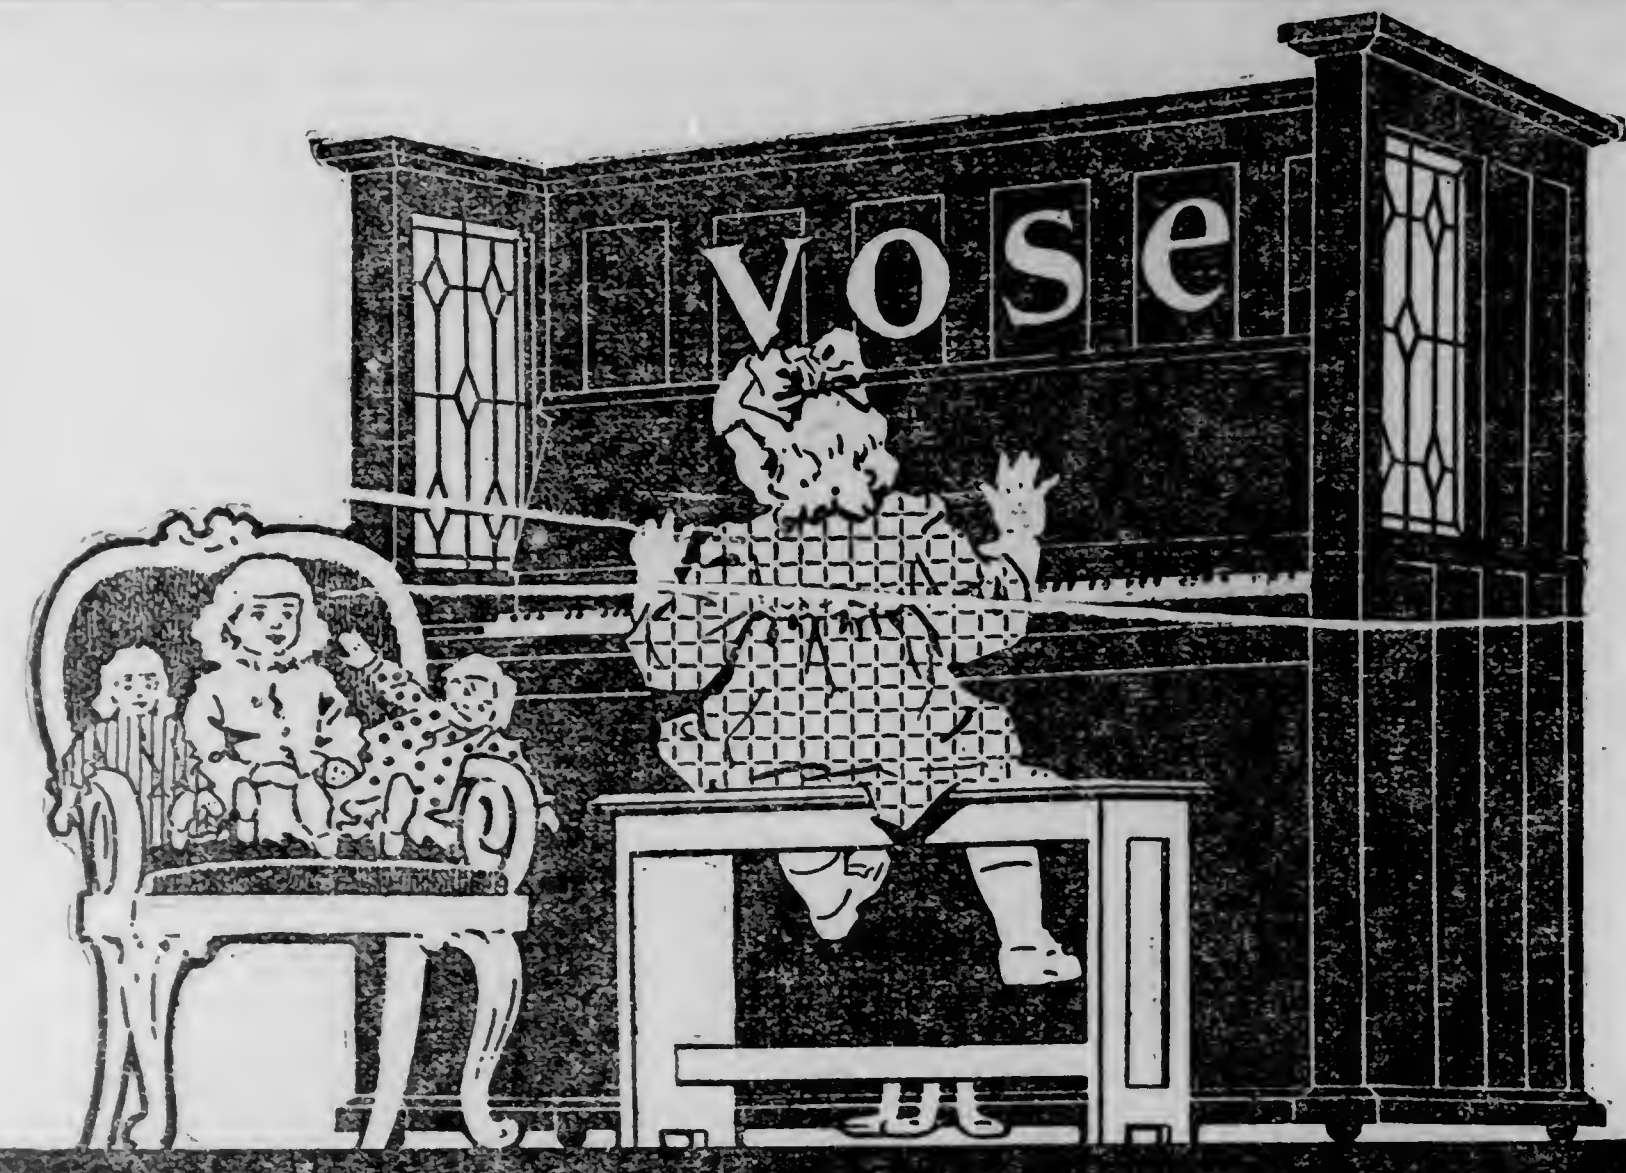

Mrs. Edmond Love of Hibbing is at the McKinley.

It would be strange, indeed, if not one merchant in Duluth today had anything important to say to you.

so ardent in their support of him? Or has he been induced and is preparing to stand on the issues now before the people? Jake's friends have a hard time believing that a man who would not make an ordinary every-day political trade of votes to get the gubernatorial nomination two years ago would now suddenly turn over and stand for things that his enemies have wanted. Yet if he still stands for what he has stood for, why, they ask, does he not dare to come out and say so publicly? Jake has many admirers who would want to support him if they were assured that he still stands for the things that they want. But they are disappointed to know why a man who has always been ready to talk and never afraid to tell where he stood, should now so suddenly assume the characteristics of the clam and remain mum on state issues.

Governor Johnson still maintains the attitude he has previously taken, that he is not a candidate for governor and that, in the event he fails to land the nomination for president, he will not become a candidate for governor. The governor is sincere in his declaration that he does not want to be a candidate again.

The governor's friends, which means the whole party, and then some, have not given up hope of getting his consent to run again. They are anxiously in favor of giving him another term, and it is probable that when the state convention meets, they will state him by acclamation, and then adjourn without giving him time to refuse. They believe they can persuade him that it is to the best interests of the party, as well as of the state, that he should accept another term.

However, the Democrats are not making any plans as yet. Their convention will probably be held about two months after the Republican convention, which will bring the time somewhere near Sept. 1. They are waiting to see what the Republicans are doing, and to be prepared to take advantage of any mistakes the Republicans may make, either in their ticket or their platform.

There is quite a boom for Harry Lund of Minneapolis for congress from the Fifth district. Lund is a young attorney, and is well known in the Mill City. He is a Swede and is a good speaker and has taken a prominent part in politics for a number of years. He would make a good run if he would file for the nomination.

A. W. Thompson of Preston is in St. Paul assisting in promoting E. T. Young's campaign. Thompson is the man who was deputy state auditor during Trevelyan's first term, but was not reappointed at the beginning of the present term. Now he is a candidate for representative from Fillmore county and also a candidate for state auditor in 1910. And his activity for Young for governor is said to be part of his campaign for state auditor, though the experienced politicians have a hard time figuring out how being for Young now is going to help his candidacy for auditor. If the two are tied up, Young must be surprised to find the friends of Odin Halden working for Jacobson's nomination.

Two Minnesota congressmen have been enrolled among those who take stand against the domination of Speaker Cannon in congress. C. E. Lindbergh of the Sixth district has taken the stand against the domination of the Republican majority on the currency question, and on other measures. And now C. R. Davis of the Third district is back and says that it would be better if some one else than Cannon were speaker of the house, for Cannon obstructed the reform legislation which the president wanted passed.

Senator Clapp has returned and in an interview he defends the currency legislation passed by congress. He declined to answer questions, however, regarding other features of the session just closed. He chooses his own subject for an interview.

Joel Heatwole promises that there will be no cut and dried program at the Republican state convention. He says he is going to have the county question settled by the convention itself and not by any program previously arranged by the political leaders. And further he says it is going to be settled while the delegates are all in the room. He chooses his own subject for an interview.

M. W. Savage, one of Hennepin county's candidates for governor, made a proposition to the other candidates, which, however, did not meet with much favor. He proposed that the governor all have their names printed on the ballots and the county convention instruct for the one who got the most votes in the county. He would have only one set of candidates for delegates from each precinct, doing away with all scraps for delegateships. The other candidates have not paid much attention to the proposition, although S. P. Suiter replied that he considered the plan impractical and hinted that it was a scheme to advertise Savage.

HUSBANDS SNATCHED BY DEATH FROM SIDE OF WIRES IN TROLLEY CAR ACCIDENT

disregard of orders is said to have been the cause of the wreck.

The dead are: WILLIAM L. NORTON, Baltimore, Md.; J. W. McDANIEL, Baltimore, Md.; GEORGE WHITE, Baltimore, Md.; JAMES O'NEAL, of New York state, motorman of one of the wrecked cars.

POLICEMAN SHUBERT, employed by the railway company.

ROTH SLAUGHTER, aged 12 years, daughter of W. E. Slaughter, general traffic manager of the road.

An unidentified woman, in ball costume, possibly a Miss Harris of Philadelphia.

Many Pathetic Incidents.

Peculiarly pathetic incidents marked the wreck. Schultz, McDaniel and Norton met death while sitting by their wives, who did not know of their losses until after being taken to the hospital. Traffic Manager Slaughter, one of the injured, was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition. When his senses returned he was told that his daughter had been killed at his side. Mr. Slaughter is seriously hurt.

Many of the passengers on the special from Baltimore were coming to this city to attend the graduation ball at the naval academy. A few of the passengers caught a glimpse of the other car as it approached and rushed for the rear of their coach. Perhaps that saved some lives. A moment later, and before the other passengers knew what the momentary confusion meant, there was a terrific crash, and men, women and children, torn, bleeding, dying and dead, were piled in the splintered and twisted wood and steel of the two cars, one of which was thrown entirely from the track, as was the body of the other. As quickly as possible the dead were taken from the wreckage and laid beside the track, to be afterward moved to the station here, while the injured were put on a car and brought to the Emergency hospital, where preparations for their reception had been ordered by telephone.

The authorities of the naval academy, who were on duty at the time, sending an ambulance, cots and orderlies to help care for the wounded.

On April 12 a collision between two cars of the Washington, Baltimore & Annapolis railway occurred at Crownsville, about a mile from the scene of last night's accident, and five persons were badly injured. The road has been closed since Feb. 7, on which date the line between Washington and Annapolis was opened, and the car was run to Baltimore March 13.

Hospital Crowded.

The Annapolis Emergency hospital, where the injured were taken, presented an unusual scene. There was not an available foot of space that did not have a cot occupying it, on which lay some man or woman suffering from innumerable cuts and bruises. In one room a woman writhing from pain and in entire ignorance of the fact that her husband lay a corpse in a nearby undertaker's establishment.

Discussing the cause of the accident, J. J. Doyle, manager of overhead wiring, thinks the orders were misunderstood. He said the original instructions were for a meeting of the two cars at Best's Gates, but these were countermanded by orders to stop at Camp Parole. Motorman Wadsworth of the north car, which was a special from Annapolis for Washington, said:

"There were no passengers aboard the north car, which was a special from Annapolis for Washington, said."

defies the government to prosecute him. "Once before," M. Maurras writes, "following the publication of articles in which I defended Col. Henry and Dreyfus, the government announced its intention to prosecute me; I am still waiting."

The doctors have not been able to locate the ball in Maj. Dreyfus' arm, and say that possibly it has been ejected by the action of the muscles. Friends of Grogot, however, advance the theory that he used wax pellets instead of bullets. The pellets were invented ten years ago for use in practice with duelling pistols.

When they are fired at a distance of twenty paces they produce an abrasion of the skin, but are otherwise harmless. Some newspapers today say that neither the revolver nor any cartridges were found after the shooting.

In addition to the correspondence of certain generals on technical subjects found yesterday when the authorities searched Grogot's belongings there were seized also a memorandum book, which, it is intimated, contains important information.

twenty-five Chicago physicians and surgeons.

The two children had been deaf from babyhood. Abscesses had formed in their ears and destroyed their hearing. Marion Stuhler was entirely deaf. Willie Simpson could distinguish a very loud noise, like the crash of a bass drum, if it occurred close to his ear.

It was impossible for the fathers and mothers of these children of poverty to gain an audience with the world famous Berlin surgeon. But they wrote him two pathetic letters, in which they told him of the great affliction that had befallen their little ones and begged him to cure them.

EXPLOSION ON U. S. CRUISER

Four Men Killed on the Tennessee by Bursting of Steam Pipe.

San Pedro, Cal., June 6.—A terrible accident occurred on board the United States armored cruiser Tennessee yesterday while the ship was steaming at nineteen knots on a speed trial off Point Puenene, Cal. A steam pipe in the starboard engine room bursting under 235 pounds pressure, killing four men and injuring ten others—all of those in the compartment at the time. The explosion, the cause of which is unknown, occurred only a few minutes after Admiral Tiel Schiro, Capt. F. B. Howard and Chief Engineer Robertson had left the engine room on a tour of inspection. Four of the men were killed instantly and two of the injured are expected to die.

BISBEE WAS A REAL SPENDER

Los Angeles Man Made "Scotty" and Others Look Like Pikers.

"They're saying now that Scotty, the cowboy, miner and coin slougher of Death Valley, who did all that high and lofty spending awhile back, has turned into a tightwad," said a man from Southern California, to the Los Angeles Times. "I don't know whether the story is true or not, but I do know that twenty years or so ago Scotty's shakedown on himself, if confined to some Western city, would have created so small a ripple that nobody would have known anything about it except the beneficiaries of his blowing-off his. The swamps of the just-gone boys from the camps upon the big Western towns used to be so common that nobody paid any attention to their whims. We saw a lot of Scotty's way of blowing it off in Los Angeles. But I am here to say that Scotty never did do the real burning money stunt that were pulled off for example by Judd Bisbee when Judd, about twenty years ago, pulled into Los Angeles from the Sonora country, in Old Mexico, with a bundle that bulged out all over him. Judd, after fooling around with grubstake all the way from the foot of the country to Central America, was one of the first Americans to land right on the high grade pay dirt in the English kind of mine, especially the English kind of mine, and he was quick to get to the Sonora country. Judd allowed them to sink a hole in his patch of dirt, and then they came to him with a first offer of $200,000 spot cash. Judd took it. They'd have given him $500,000 just as easily, for Judd's plot was one of the richest pieces in Sonora—they taken millions out of it since—but Judd Bisbee was all for the quick stuff, and he bit on the first bid.

"They gave Judd $500,000 in gold and a check on the Bank of California for $500,000. Judd slouched around the Sonora camp with the boys for three or four days before starting for Los Angeles. A mine company was stopping at the Los Angeles hotel when Judd got here. Judd foregathered with the trouper and their manager, spun him a hard luck story. Then Judd bought up a whole theater at which the comic opera was due to play during the next week, and had the announcement printed in the Los Angeles papers that the show for the week was going to be free and on him. The theater was packed and jammed with hilarious no-pay audiences every night during the week, while Judd sat in a box eating handfuls of gold at the funny bits at the stage who happened to tickle his sound vibrations. At the window of each act, every night, Judd would rise to his box and invite the whole audience to the bar attached to the theater, and the big raft of extra barkeepers employed for the week were instructed to let every man who walked up have everything that he asked for, from a glass of champagne to a quart of the blue juice. Probably that week's entertainment of the comic opera outfit and the people who attended the shows sent Judd back a good $500,000 if not more.

"At no stage of the wild did Judd Bisbee's blow-it-in scheme take the form of buying, say, extras for the show. He was probably the most unselfish money burner that ever lived out of a camp. When he arrived in Los Angeles he started himself to one suit of store clothes, but never during the two months that his Sonora claim was lashed did he fall into such a frivolity as a laced shirt. He stuck to his blue flannel shirt with the black tie, nor did he renounce stuffing his store pants into his boots.

"However, the drink champagne cocktail, he would say, holding up his glass, 'and I reckon I better lay up enough of it to last me. I sure will be plenty of time to lick up the red pizen o' the plain people when I get through dervishin' around here.'

"Judd wasn't a gambler at all. Short-circuits who saw what a good thing he was as a spender tried to ruin him by inviting him into poker games, and the fare bank men fruitlessly sent their most accomplished runners after him. But Judd never was so seized that he didn't turn down these overtures. 'I reckon, boys,' he would say, 'I can't play with you. I've got to get a little play just to pass the time, but I can't play off fast enough without muddin' up as in another man's game. This here game that I'm playin' now's my own, and so I won't have no holler a-comin' when I get through and wake up without a stack o' white.'

"After blowing the comic opera bunch, Judd next conceived a violent sympathy for the ladies of bums with which Los Angeles was infested at that time. He made arrangements with a crafty caterer to have the bums fed. The caterer put up a huge eating tent and a spaulder cook tent on a lot on the outskirts of town, and contracted with Judd to feed every bum that swung along at the rate of $1 a day per man for three months. Judd provided scores of kegs of beer every day for the bums, who flocked to the eating tent from all over California, and by the thousands. Big detachments of police had to be sent out to keep the bums in order. This bum benevolence of Judd's lasted for the rate of $1 a day per man for three months, when the police closed it down on account of the disorders and depredations of the beer hordes. Feeding and beer for the bums cost Judd $100,000 for the fifteen days denied Judd's roll to the tune of almost $100,000.

"Judd's next bit of lavishness broke up discipline at the military post near

ACTION IS POSTPONED

Board Wants Time to Consider Horace Mann School Question.

Will Circulate Petitions to Nominate New Board Members.

The board of education, at its regular June meeting, held at the high school last evening, failed to take any final action on the proposition of a new Horace Mann school, and the matter will be disposed of at a special meeting, to be called by the president.

A delegation from the West end, headed by Alderman Peter Olson, was present to impress the members of the board with the needs and the needs of the residents of the Horace Mann district, but the alderman's eloquence and that of his fellow delegates did not secure a final decision in the matter.

The discussion of the topic took up most of the time at the meeting, which was called at 6:30 to enable the members of the board to conclude in time to attend the commencement exercises of the high school. Members of the board discussed the matter pro and con and Directors Washburn and Cobb announced themselves as unwilling to make final disposition of the matter last night, so a motion to further consider it at a special meeting prevailed.

Director Washburn brought up the question as to whether the site of the present Mann building was the proper place to build a new building. He declared himself opposed to a plan to put a big school on a small lot, past the street cars were going to run down a steep grade.

It was mentioned that the attendance at the Mann school was not very large at the present time, but Director Cobb said he thought it would be a good thing to build a large Mann school to relieve the congested conditions in the Lincoln and Adams buildings.

"I do not believe in sending children to school in a dungeon, and that is practically what the Mann school is, said Mr. Cobb. The Lincoln school is filled up with some of the basement rooms that are being used for class rooms are half underground and get precious little ventilation or light. I think it would be better to make the children walk a little farther, to light airy school rooms."

Director Stevens wanted to have a four-room building erected for the Mann district if not also could be taken for them. Director Washburn at this declared himself opposed to the "sticking up" of little buildings in every part of the town, and President Coddington called attention to the fact that the small buildings here and there were a disgrace to the city.

Director Moe made an eloquent plea for immediate action on the part of the board and strongly urged the erection of a suitable new building to be erected at once to replace the "ramshackle structure" which is in use at the present time.

Mr. Moe predicted a great growth for the West end, and said that many working people were buying homes there, and that more would follow. He said that the present building was a disgrace to the city and that it was a disgrace to the city to have such a building in the heart of the city.

Some members seemed in favor of a new building, some of it a six-room building, some eight rooms and some ten rooms, but it became apparent that the board were settled last evening, the board members would miss the graduation program, so it was decided to waive the question until the special meeting, which is to be held soon. Before it meets, the board will have a building and ground committee will confer on the subject and inspect the Mann site.

The board authorized the expenditure of $2,543 for repairs on the different schools, the work to be done during the summer vacation. This was recommended by the committee on the maintenance of buildings and grounds and the improvements include everything from the grading of a school yard to putting on new door knobs.

The committee recommended the expenditure of $2,543 for repairs on the different schools, the work to be done during the summer vacation. This was recommended by the committee on the maintenance of buildings and grounds and the improvements include everything from the grading of a school yard to putting on new door knobs.

Resolutions, presented by Director Washburn, were adopted, authorizing the circulation of petitions to the voters to make nomination of candidates for the three places on the board made vacant this year by the expiration of the terms of Directors Le Tournement, Cobb and Campbell, and designating the polling places and voting clerks for the school election, which will be held on the third Saturday in July. The voters will circulate petitions, nominating men desired for school directors, and the names will be placed on the official ballots.

Another resolution offered by Mr. Washburn and passed by the board, provides for the printing on the ballots, the question of whether a nine months or a ten months school year is desired by the people of Duluth. The voters will indicate their preference by marking "yes" or "no."

Director Stevens objected to this resolution on the ground that it was uncalled for, and that he had heard nobody ask for a ten months school year. Mr. Washburn said that he was not particularly in favor of ten months, but that it would do no harm at this time to find out what the people wanted, and the resolution prevailed.

The board was authorized to secure bids for the furnishing of school supplies for next year, the same to be approved by the committee on schools and teachers before they are submitted to the board for awarding.

Supt. Denfeld recommended to the board that the eighth grade graduation exercises be held in the afternoon instead of the evenings hereafter, but the board decided to take action upon the subject later on.

The superintendent's report showed a gain of 142 in the total enrollment of the schools over the month of May last year. The total enrollment May 10 was 12,138.

No action was taken on the invitation of the National Educational association to have representatives from

IMMENSE POSSIBILITIES OF THE WHITESIDE

WE HAVE hundreds of feet of underground developing work, representing an expenditure of thousands of dollars. The ORE IS THERE—right in SIGHT—thousands of dollars worth of it—and only needs to be taken out and milled, and OUR MINES SHOULD BE LARGE PRODUCERS THAT SHOULD MAKE A SMALL FORTUNE FOR EVERY STOCKHOLDER HOLDING A FAIR SIZE BLOCK OF THE STOCK. Were we to estimate in round figures what we actually believe our mines will produce in a few years' time, we are fearful that the figures would be so large that we might be suspected of stretching our imagination beyond reason.

NEVERTHELESS, the possibilities exist for enormous profit. We can see no good reason why we should not be on a regular large dividend paying basis before many months have passed. When all conditions and possibilities pertaining to The Whiteside Exploration, Mining & Milling Company are carefully considered, it must be admitted to be one of the safest, most permanent and most profitable INVESTMENT propositions one is likely to encounter in a life time.

JUST THINK—SIXTEEN (16) CLAIMS, comprising 320 acres of highly mineralized ground, located in what will be, without doubt, the richest mining state in the country, and contains high-grade ores in immense quantities.

Consider that a large amount of developing work is already done and ore shipped from one (1) property and ore, on the dump, and ready for milling, from another. Consider that you are being offered this GRAND OPPORTUNITY for the purpose of raising additional funds to continue development work and install a ten (10) stamp mill and other necessary machinery to put the company on a DIVIDEND PAYING BASIS.

Consider that this offering of STOCK will not remain open long, as it is selling rapidly.

Consider all these things and we are sure you will agree with us that it is an extraordinary opportunity and one you should GRASP QUICKLY.

COMPANY is being subscribed for at a most remarkable rate by CONSERVATIVE INVESTORS, many of whom are well versed in mining and know the great value of our properties. It is not a question of how much stock we sell, but how soon we will dispose of the present allotment.

INVESTIGATION OF THE PROPOSITION

Only tends to create a demand for the stock. In these days of careful scrutiny of a proposition by investors it is only a proposition of real merit that will find a market for its stock. We are proud to say that The Whiteside Exploration, Mining & Milling Company's stock is meeting with popular approval, and we are confident that it will be only a matter of a very short time when we discontinue the sale of STOCK and list it at par value ($1.00 per share) on the leading mining exchanges.

It is therefore essential that you enter your order without delay and thus reap the benefit of the present low price.

A delay of one (1) day may mean the losing of this exceptional opportunity to you.

Our advice to you is to make your application at once.

CASH OR PAYMENTS—We make the price of the STOCK low on small allotments, just to continue quickly.

Once we get our mill installed the stock will be advanced to par, at which price we will not be required to sell much to assure a steady prosecution of developing work.

NEW ORDINANCE VERY UNPOPULAR

Cass Lakers in Mass Meeting Ask Council to Reconsider.

Cass Lake, Minn., June 6.—(Special to The Herald).—After one of the most enthusiastic and exciting public meetings ever held in Cass Lake, the citizens of the town decided to appoint a committee which should call on the village council and request them to reconsider a recent ordinance passed by that body.

About three weeks ago the village council passed an ordinance requiring all saloonkeepers to pay a license of $750 per year. The license fee heretofore has been $500. The ordinance also forbids the granting of any license except to those at the present time in the saloon business and should any of those quit they could not again embark in the saloon business so long as the number of saloons was in excess of ten. This ordinance caused considerable discussion, both as to its merits and demerits. A petition requesting the council to reconsider their action and signed by eighteen of the respectable men of the town was presented to that body, and last night a meeting of the Commercial club was called that every one might give his opinion. The meeting was attended by about four times as many men as were members of the Commercial club, which resulted in changing it into a mass meeting.

After several spirited addresses on both sides of the question a vote was taken as to whether or not the council should be asked to reconsider their action as to limiting the number of saloons. There were but six votes in favor of the ordinance. A vote was then taken to determine whether or not the six who desired to increase the license fee. There were but six votes difference between the two opinions. The six majority were in favor of leaving the license at $500.

A committee will appear at the next council meeting and present the vote of the citizens.

NO PLACE TO HOLD SERVICES

Endion Methodists Cannot Start New Church Before Securing Hall.

The prospect of having no place to hold services during the time the new church is being built is the only thing that is retarding the work on the new Endion Methodist church.

The officers of the church are all ready to let the contract for the foundations, but they are waiting until they can arrange for some place to hold services. Owing to the fact that the new building will probably not be completed until late in the winter, a lease of several months will have to be secured on some suitable hall.

Mr. Lidman owns some land on the northeast arm of Turtle River lake, across the lake from the village of Turtle River, and he is enthusiastic in his praise of the quality of the soil and the excellent climate and the fishing and boating as a summer resort.

LEADEN MISSILES NEARLY HIT HER

Austrians Shooting at Rats Almost Strike Aurora Teacher.

Aurora, Minn., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—There came near being a serious affair in the schoolhouse Thursday evening. Miss Curtis, the primary teacher, was sitting at her desk writing a letter, when a bullet came whizzing by her head and imbedded itself into the casing beyond. A moment later another bullet passed through the plate glass window in the school hall way. An investigation, Friday, showed that the bullets were fired by Tom Hurdinich and Matt Kascetz, two Austrians, living at the rear of the schoolhouse. The men were fired by the teacher, who was sitting, and the place the bullet struck, it is estimated that the bullet passed about a foot in front of her head.

TRUE BILLS FOUND.

Grand Jury at Grand Rapids Returns Indictments.

Grand Rapids, Minn., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge McClenahan has been holding district court here this week. A grand jury was sworn and put to work while the court has disposed of several civil cases. The grand jury has returned some indictments. True bills were found against William Platt for larceny in the second degree, against John Bray, grand larceny in the second degree (Bray is alleged to have robbed a drunken lumberjack in the saloon of Keo Leroux last winter). Against Fred Van Vorsten for grand larceny in the second degree, against Josephine and Katherine Pouti for assault in the second degree. The jury also returned indictments against a neighborhood quarrel in which the Poutis are alleged to have severely injured Mrs. Nick Wagner. County Commissioner James Pasard, J. P. Sundoff and Morris O'Brien left Thursday morning for a road inspecting trip up the Blackfork road, where they will inspect a piece of that road running from the Johnson ranch to Macoun's place. They will also confer with the town board of the town of Balsam relative to some matters connected with the Clearwater bridge.

WATCHMAN USED HIS GUN.

Drives Away His Alleged Assailant at Stephens Mine.

Aurora, Minn., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Evelith Delemeter was arrested at the Stephens mine Thursday night for entering the mine office and assaulting the night watchman, E. E. Kyler. The men had had some previous trouble and Delemeter, it is claimed, entered the office late in the matter. After hitting Kyler, the latter pulled his gun and drove Delemeter out and the latter fled. Delemeter is now in the hospital of St. Paul. Williams, who is a witness, the case was adjourned June 10, and Delemeter placed under bonds of $50 to keep the peace.

KILLED BY CAVE-IN.

Fortunati Rost Loses His Life in Rust Underground Mine.

Hibbing, Minn., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fortunati Rost, a miner employed by the Steel corporation at the Rust underground mine, was instantly killed by a cave-in yesterday. The dead man was 41 years of age. The funeral will be conducted Sunday morning by Rev. Bernatto at the Italian Catholic church.

Hibbing, Minn., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—George A. Markham has returned from St. Paul, where he has been for the past three weeks conferring with his partner, Mr. Miles. The intended building idea has been abandoned by Mr. Miles, and it is understood the lots are for sale. Mr. Markham is going to enter the mercantile business at an early date.

C. E. MILLER ACCEPTS.

Duluth Orator to Address Virginians on the Fourth.

Virginia, Minn., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—In response to an invitation from Secretary Bickford of the committee arranging the Fourth of July celebration, Clarence B. Miller of Duluth has consented to deliver the oration in Virginia on that day. It is also expected to secure the Third Regiment band of Duluth to furnish the music on that occasion. The celebration fund is steadily growing. Messrs. Kennedy and Laviollette have over $1200 on their lists and the mines, mills and railroads are yet to be heard from while the city council will also make a liberal donation.

LOVE HIGHWAYMAN WORKS IRON JUNCTION SALOON.

Iron Junction, Minn., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—A lone highwayman, his features hidden behind a dirty handkerchief and his right hand holding a formidable revolver, revolver, held up Lawrence Nicks' saloon here late Thursday night, compelling the proprietor and two others to hold up their hands while he helped himself to the contents of the cash drawer. He got only about $5 for the daring risk he ran. As the hold-up was going through the cash register, Proprietor Nicks took a chance and dropping his hands from the place, he pulled first by the robber going dangerously close to his head. Nicks' nerve feat probably scared the robber, for he scrambled after pocketing the few dollars in the register without going through the men in the saloon. The authorities were promptly notified and an effort is being made to run the

Work Done in Manual Training Department of High Order.

The Girls Are Taught Sewing, Cooking and Household Economy.

Ely, Minn., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The public schools of this city have grown far beyond what would ordinarily be expected when the growth of the city itself is taken into account. The school enrollment has trebled in the past few years, while the population of the city has remained almost at a standstill. This seems strange, but is not so much so when it is explained that the families constituting the main part of the population are young, and that while the total population is not changing much, the children are arriving at school age at the rate of about 400 per year.

Manual Training.

Unlike many of the schools that have inaugurated this work, the school district adopted the policy of making this work a very comprehensive. Most schools in the state and country outside of the large cities, provide for a total of five or six years of instruction in this work, in which the major part of the exercises consists of whitening, paper cutting, clay modelling, weaving and a similar amount in cabinet making. After deciding to put in this work here, the district set about installing a well equipped carpenter shop, with all the tools and equipment found in the best schools of this character in the country. A machine shop, equipped with wood lathes, iron lathes, drill presses, band saw and scroll saw, a tip saw and other equipment. A horse power Morse gasoline engine furnishes the power. The students are given four years' training in this work, and have the opportunity of carrying all the mathematics, sciences, history and languages required for admission to the University of Minnesota, to which the Ely high school is accredited by the state high school board. The work done by the boys in this department is of a high order and requiring much careful labor. Writing desks, dining and center tables, cases, beds, dressers, Indian chairs, sewing cabinets, towel rollers, umbrellas, trunks, suitcases, etc., are turned out which would retail generally from $1 to $20 or more, according to the material and finish. These are made of quartered oak, plain maple, birch, cherry and soft woods. Between five and ten thousand dollars have been invested in the equipment of this department.

Domestic Science.

In the department of domestic science the girls are taught plain and fancy sewing, all classes of cooking and household management. The course consists of a four years' course in these two branches of domestic science, and in addition the pupils are required to carry sufficient correlated work for admission to the best colleges in the country. In cooking, attention is given to the baking of various kinds of bread, etc., roasting, broiling, boiling and frying of meats,

RAPID GROWTH OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS AT ELY

Total Enrollment in the High School About One Hundred.

Work Done in Manual Training Department of High Order.

The Girls Are Taught Sewing, Cooking and Household Economy.

Ely, Minn., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The public schools of this city have grown far beyond what would ordinarily be expected when the growth of the city itself is taken into account. The school enrollment has trebled in the past few years, while the population of the city has remained almost at a standstill. This seems strange, but is not so much so when it is explained that the families constituting the main part of the population are young, and that while the total population is not changing much, the children are arriving at school age at the rate of about 400 per year.

Manual Training.

Unlike many of the schools that have inaugurated this work, the school district adopted the policy of making this work a very comprehensive. Most schools in the state and country outside of the large cities, provide for a total of five or six years of instruction in this work, in which the major part of the exercises consists of whitening, paper cutting, clay modelling, weaving and a similar amount in cabinet making. After deciding to put in this work here, the district set about installing a well equipped carpenter shop, with all the tools and equipment found in the best schools of this character in the country. A machine shop, equipped with wood lathes, iron lathes, drill presses, band saw and scroll saw, a tip saw and other equipment. A horse power Morse gasoline engine furnishes the power. ## RECENT PROCTOR EVENTS OF NOTE

Personal and Social Items Gathered in the Adjacent Suburb.

Proctor, Minn., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be no services in the M. E. church Sunday morning on account of the absence of Rev. C. W. Ramsdell.

The evening service will be held at 7 o'clock in the church. Mrs. M. Scanlon, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Hasset, for some time, returned to her home in Marquette, Mich., last week. Mrs. Hasset accompanied her.

H. G. Gildeman, John Murray and Pat Lounsbury will represent the Proctorok fire department at the state convention at Mankato, June 8.

Mrs. John S. Brown entertained the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church Thursday afternoon. They will next meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Paul.

H. G. Gildeman and family with the exception of Ethel and Arthur will leave for White Bear Lake, where they will visit relatives.

Joseph Proffitt and family had planned to leave last Monday for Ironport, Mo., but their son Harry was taken sick with the measles and on his account their departure will be postponed for a week or ten days.

Ray Dulley, until recently a stenographer in the railroad offices, left today for Golden, British Columbia, to take a position.

Mrs. E. S. Davis has returned from an extended visit with relatives and friends in Neenah, Wis.

Mrs. S. B. Powers was pleasantly surprised at her home Wednesday evening, by a few of her lady friends. Progressive chess was played. Mrs. J. W. Rehbein winning the first prize and Mrs. Bert Simkin the consolation prize.

J. H. Kemp, a bill conductor returned to Proctor Wednesday evening, after spending most of the winter.

Albert Steger of Eau Claire, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Skinner.

Fred Benson, an engineer returned to Proctor Monday from Saskatchewan, Canada, where he has been living on his homestead all winter.

Miss Myrtle Doyle has taken a position as clerk at L. Young's ice cream parlor.

Miss Ella White Wood is spending a few days in West Duluth with her aunt.

A. Alexander, a brakeman returned to Proctor Monday from Lower Michigan, where he has been spending the last six months.

Allan Clausen of Bay View Heights has resigned as conductor on the Duluth belt line and has resumed his duties as foreman on one of the switch engines at the ore docks. George Maxwell has taken the position on the belt line.

William T. Budge has taken a position as fireman in the power house.

quette, Mich., into one of the new company houses.

George Kunz, a fireman, returned to Proctor Monday from a six weeks' visit at White Bear, Minn.

Carl Wolfe, butcher at P. G. Luger's meat market, was taken ill suddenly last Friday night and underwent an operation. At the latest report he was getting some nicely.

The crew on the air train finished up its work Tuesday morning at Burnett. All the ore cars have been inspected and are now ready for business.

Earl Burkett of Bay View Heights and Leslie Kraus of Proctor have been added to the call-boy's list in the engine department.

The latest reports from Ed Vivian of Hancock, Mich., who was taken home suffering from rheumatism, say that his condition has not been changed yet.

Evidently all those that had leaves of absence until June 1 waited until the last moment to report, for Monday the old-timers drove in town in swarms. Most of them were able to go to work, there being twenty crews now on the board, but the rest are hanging around until the rush begins.

Ransom Tupper, an engineer, returned to Proctor Monday from Superior, Wis., where he has been spending the last two months.

Engineer J. Maxwell returned to Proctor Monday from Superior, Wis., where he has been spending the last two months.

William Hawley, an engineer, returned to the latter part of last week on an extended trip to Los Angeles, Cal. He reports a splendid trip.

Louis Shovin has taken a position as driver for N. Landry.

Miss Harold Shovin, who has been attending school in Fairbault, Minn., the last nine months, came home Tuesday to spend the summer vacation with her parents.

Mrs. M. L. Rappold entertained twenty-five young people last Friday from 4 to 10 o'clock in honor of her daughter Margaret's fourteenth birthday. Music and games furnished the entertainment of the evening and the delightful luncheon was enjoyed by all.

The next dance Modern Macabees will give a card party and ice cream social in the village hall (Wednesday) evening, June 17. Four prizes will be given.

L. J. Higgins, who has been a student at the Northwestern university in Chicago the past winter, has returned to Proctor to spend the summer with his parents. Mrs. William Houde has been ill the past few days at her home.

DETECTIVES HELD AT BAY

Four Robbers Barricade Farm House and Defy Arrest.

One Killed By Officer Who is Himself Wounded.

Pittsburg, June 6.—A tragical sequel to a number of hold-ups and robberies in this vicinity, occurred about 10 o'clock this morning at Elizabeth near here, when County Detective John Englar shot and killed one of the four men barricaded in the farm house of John Patterson, a wood chopper near Elizabeth. Detective Englar was himself shot in the wrist and side and is in a critical condition. Patterson is under arrest, but the three companions of the dead man, armed with rifles and revolvers are holding in check a large posse of officers and citizens from Elizabeth.

Word of the shooting was received at the county detective headquarters and an automobile, carrying six officers, was started immediately for the scene. Upon their arrival it is expected a desperate battle will be fought. The name of the man killed is said to be John Trevers.

All the men are alleged to be implicated in the hold-up and robbery of the Monongahela Consolidated Coal & Coke company's general store last Thursday morning. The robbery was committed by two men, who were masked and on horseback, and who, after robbing the store, galloped through the mining town of Boston firing revolvers right and left.

It is also intimated that the men are implicated in the hold-up and robbery of a Pittsburg Railway company's street car at Boston, some weeks ago, when two masked men, at the point of revolvers, robbed eleven passengers and the crew and fled.

The men were traced to Patterson's house by Detective Englar, by means of following horse tracks over over isolated country roads and fields since Thursday. Patterson was arrested early today and after taking the time to call Englar went back to the house to watch for others. In the meantime, the four men had reached the house and were surprised by Englar. His command to surrender was met by a fusillade of shots.

NEARLY 60,000 ARE EXPECTED

To Attend Meeting of Educational Association at Cleveland.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 6.—Thirty-thousand members of the National Educational association have signified their intention of being present at the convention of that organization to be held in this city June 22 to July 2, inclusive. The attendance may swell to 60,000 or more.

One of the problems that the local educational authorities have had to deal with is the furnishing of dilapidated water. It is estimated that over thirty thousand gallons of water will be required. Fifty tons of ice a day will be required to keep the water cool.

The national spelling bee to be held in Rockefeller park and the reception to be conducted in the university circle in which 500 boys will sing, three bands play and thousands of electric lights furnish illumination, are features to be given.

DULUTH CITY CLUBS

Duluth is well endowed with social organizations and its clubs play an important part in the program of the community and in the pursuit of its pleasures.

There is scarcely a business or professional man in Duluth who is not a member of one or another of the good clubs and many hold cards in several of them. Every organization has its sphere and purpose, and that all of them have prospered is attested by the handsome club houses which they occupy and the length of their membership lists.

The Commercial club, which occupies the upper floors of a building on Superior street between Fourth and Fifth avenues west, is under its scope and influence, perhaps, than any of the other clubs.

Its membership list includes the names of all the prominent business and professional men of the city and it embodies a purpose deeper than furnishing a lounging and eating place for its members. The Commercial club is always carrying on a well conducted business campaign in the interest of Duluth and St. Louis county. Through its public affairs committee, its secretary and other officers, the club considers many matters of vital importance to the community and is unceasing in its efforts to bring new industries to these shores, to aid those already here and to generally act as a combined consulting engineer, counsellor and press agent for the town.

The social side of the Commercial club has not been forgotten, however, for it boasts a full equipment. There are billiard rooms, card rooms, lounging and reading rooms, and a well appointed cafe and private dining rooms.

The Kitchi Gammi club occupies the two top floors of the commodious building on the northwest corner of Third avenue west and First street, and is purely a social organization. Consistent with its organization, the membership consists of the older business men of the city and affords them a splendid place to meet or entertain their friends. Its rooms are handsomely furnished and, in fact, it has all of the attributes of the exclusive gentlemen's club.

city which is to bear her name, and wherein she will play all of her metropolitan engagements. It is expected that Miss Elliott will open the house in January with a new play. The Shuberts are interested with her in this new enterprise.

The newest household and Adams and Howard show, "A Modern Cinderella," was given its try-out last week in Milwaukee, and made a decided hit. It likely will follow "The Honeymoon Trail," at the La Salle, in Chicago, when that place wears out its welcome. Sallie Fisher and Jack Barrymore are the hits of the bill, and both seemed heavily, according to the Milwaukee verdict.

"The Lady From Lane's," a musical comedy by Broadhurst, at the Kerkers, was produced last week in Chicago, and made a go. Winona Winter, last season with Hattie Williams, was the brightest feature of the show, and made an individual hit.

Out of the failure of "His Honor the club. Not a few of its members live at the Kitchi Gammi club.

Duluth has three splendidly housed and equipped clubs which are dedicated to out-door pleasures particularly. These are the Duluth Boat club, the Duluth Yacht club and the Northland Country club. All of them have large membership lists and are in a flourishing condition. Their names explain the purpose of these organizations.

The Boat club and the Yacht club are located on the bay side of Park point. Nearest the aerial bridge is the Boat club, which occupies a large clubhouse, bathhouse and a cafe. Every year a rowing crew representing the club is sent to the Northwestern regatta and its members take a keen interest in water sports of all kinds.

Every summer day and evening finds a host of its members enjoying themselves at the clubhouse on the bay. It overlooks or at the branch club at Spirit lake. The club also maintains a pavilion at Oatka beach. Improvements and additions to the club's property are constantly being made.

Sailing is the particular hobby of the members of the Duluth Yacht club, which has its clubhouse and docks at Fourteenth street, Park Point. The yacht club has some fast boats and this summer is having a big regatta built, which will be entered in the races for the Nutting cup. The yacht club's home includes a clubhouse, a cafe, a dancing pavilion and complete boat-houses.

At the country club, between Lake-side and the East end, golf is the principal sport and topic of conversation. The links are good and every nice day during the summer sees a large number of the golfers out. Tennis and other lawn games find favor there too. The clubhouse is appropriately rustic in appearance, but inside is as cozy and comfortable as anyone could wish.

During the year, the country club is the scene of some brilliant social functions. Besides those mentioned, there are a number of other and less pretentious clubs, devoted to art, music, or social purposes, and they all add to Duluth's growing reputation as a city of clubs. There has been talk of forming a University club here, but it has never been actively taken up.

Mayor in Chicago, it is said there will develop a new team known as Barry and Fay. The sons of the old-time performers who came together in that show were Bobby Barry and Hugh Fay, and they will perpetuate the name in teams that were established forty years ago by the late Billy Barry and Hugh Fay.

Meers Cohan and Harris, it is said, will have a Havana theater in connection with the Grand opera house when the lease of that property in New York is turned over to them. In these they will play attractions for brief returns to New York after they have had their original run there.

May McKenzie, the chorus girl friend of Evelyn Thaw, and who has been in retirement ever since the Thaw tragedy developed, is to return to the stage this season, and will be in the "Follies of 1908" when it blossoms forth in New York soon. Miss McKenzie was last with the Weber show and has been abroad studying and doing some newspaper work for the past year.

BEING A CHORUS GIRL MEANS GENUINE WORK

Her Life is Far From Being the Joyous Holiday Imagined by the Uninitiated.

The average working girl who never imagines the chorus and does anything that you might call "work," can get one of the best pictures of the "other side" from Susan Manager Sohike's "uniformed" chorus—girls who are dressed especially for their work in short black skirts, black stockings and black blouses, declares the Chicago Tribune.

Here at the Whitney opera house the plumed hat, the gold braid, the floating automobile veil, the gay blouse, and the gay little black skirt that formerly kept the chorus girl in her own character even when she was reviewing are absent.

"I must see their feet, so that I can tell what everybody is doing," explained Mr. Sohike, "and the best way of doing this and getting some uniformity of effect is to put the girls in 'gym' dresses. It is better and less expensive for them, too, for if they fall down over anything or have to climb on top of things, no matter how rough the work, or how they have to train, they haven't any frills to pull out or things to get dirty and tear."

This is the explanatory side to how the girls of every become personification of the black clothed and shivering little maids of work when seen on the cold stage with the disconcerting effects of sleeky black clothes and hair which doesn't show the disfigurement and brushing traces which belong to the chorus girl of the night.

Anybody might "be the worse" for wear, however, who gets down at 9 o'clock in the morning and does not go home until an after-theater rehearsal has been finished at night. This is the case each day and every day when there is a new production to put on, with the old one still running evening performances and matinees. Even with a "loaded" chorus—regularly engaged for the year with girls that would seem to go out of town—the working hours are 16 a day under these conditions.

In a special case of this kind, rehearsal begins at 9 o'clock in the morning. At noon there is an hour for lunch, or perhaps a little more. Then there is training until 5 o'clock—several training days.

"I thought you were singing a love part here," shouted Manager Sohike the other day, jumping up on the stage and stopping the "Lovey" song by frantically waving his arms and flourishing his baton. "Well, then, can't you look happy about it?"

"There is a legend around the theater that you can't get any good work out of a chorus girl unless you swear at her."

There used to be another legend that you couldn't train animals unless you starved and beat them," said Mr. Gerson. At the same time, he said, the other day the most popular number was given by the "chorus girls trained with kindness," who have never been sworn at.

It is the claim of Manager Green that girls employed at this theater never have had a home—first to put the gym suits on, second to take them off to go out to lunch, third to put them on again and fourth to be fitted and get ready to go out to dinner.

"Up all in," said one girl, dropping on the floor.

"No rest!" said another, getting up from the same position.

"Won't you have this seat?" said the occupant of the only chair in the sewing room.

"O, we wouldn't know how to sit in a chair—we are not used to it," said the rest of the "fair phantoms," sprawling over the floor.

"What are you hats to be?"

"Broad, brimmed yellow satin poke bonnets," answered the wardrobe woman.

"O, lovely! I love poke bonnets," squealed everybody.

"Pink silk," said another girl, poking into a box. "O, lovely soft silk," cooed the girls, smoothing out the new pairs of long, soft fleshings.

Good natured and jolly over her things is the chorus girl in spite of the time. Instead it means waiting your turn to be fitted. Standing up and being pinned into a little satin coat of many seams—not only having your own plans put in for you, but some extra ones in case you should need an understudy, and the understudy should be fat or short waisted, where you are thin and enthusiastic, and he gets the work out of them that way, said Manager Gerson, "and you can see what a nice and jolly little crowd they are."

He gets the work out of them," says Manager Gerson. He does indeed. It is the little white flyers in the realm of dress and gown who leave all other tourists far behind somewhere in space when it comes to a run in the hard working life.

It was 5 o'clock and some of the "fair phantoms" and the "dancing sunbeams" were dismissed on this same afternoon after working all day on the opera. Others were held to duty.

"Let's see how you fit in the alrshup," says the stage manager. "Begin, get in. Next, next, next."

Six little maids obediently came forward, one at a time, hopped over the sides of the basket which forms the car of the alrshup, and sat down taller fashion with their legs and feet stowed away in the bottom somewhere.

Ordinarily this would not be called work, except when you have been doing acrobatic stunts all day—like it is diversion compared to what comes after. For when the chorus girl finally is dismissed she trots on five flights of stairs—of six—it seems like eleven. Anyway, it is to her dressing room, which is in the top tier above all the other tiers, and she climbs it four times to change her costume during each performance.

"You never see a fat girl in the chorus—I suppose it is the way they work that keeps them so nice and slender," said a girl who was not used to it, said the rest of the "fair phantoms," sprawling over the floor.

"What are you hats to be?"

"Broad, brimmed yellow satin poke bonnets," answered the wardrobe woman.

GRANT NOT A DRUNKARD

Duluth Veteran Hotly Denies Statement of Secretary Taft.

W. H. Smallwood Knew
Famous General During His Army Career.

Capt. W. H. Smallwood, a Civil war veteran, who served four years during the War of the Rebellion, a prominent worker in G. A. R. circles, and a well-known Duluth attorney, this morning vigorously refuted the statement made by William H. Taft, charging Gen. U. S. Grant with being discharged from the service of the United States army because of drunkenness.

Capt. Smallwood was intimately acquainted with Gen. Grant. His acquaintance at old Fort Vancouver, which is situated just across the Columbia river from Portland, and extended until Grant became president, when the acquaintance was renewed.

Capt. Smallwood was in charge of the land office at Fort Vancouver when Grant resigned from the army, and he says that to the best of his knowledge, and to the knowledge of men who served under Grant and were his personal friends, drinking had nothing whatever to do with his leaving the army.

Mr. Smallwood not only denounces Mr. Taft's utterance, but he also states that it is an untruth. He says that Grant was a temperate man. He does not claim that Grant never took a drink, but he says that as long as he was at Fort Vancouver he never saw Grant under the influence of liquor, and he believes no one else ever saw him in such a condition.

"In those days," said Capt. Smallwood, "it was the custom among army officers to drink more than they do today. In fact, in those days the custom of drinking was much more general than it is today. Grant took an occasional drink, but he was very good reasons to believe that he was never under the influence of liquor. I have personally investigated those charges, which were made long ago, and have never found anyone who knew Grant who did not deny the charge."

The officer mentioned in the article charging Grant with being a drunkard was Col. Harney, who, at the close of the Civil war was a brigadier general. He was in command of Fort Vancouver at the time Grant was quartermaster there, and for some reason took a personal dislike to him. Whether this had anything to do with Grant's resigning his commission I cannot say. But that intemperance had nothing whatever to do with Grant leaving the army I am certain.

RESULTS TELL

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results in Duluth.

Results tell the tale. All doubt is removed. The testimony of a Duluth citizen can be easily investigated.

What better proof can be had? James Root, railroad engineer, formerly living at the corner of Michigan street and Twentieth avenue, Duluth, Minn., says: "I cannot do otherwise than endorse and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. The benefit I derived from the use of this remedy several years ago has proved satisfactory and lasting. When I got my first box I was in a bad shape. I was suffering from severe pains and soreness in the small of my back and through the hips. The kidney secretions were unnatural and contained a heavy sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills brought relief promptly, and as I have stated, this relief has been permanent. I also used Doan's Ointment for itching hemorrhoids, and the relief was prompt and effective. This remedy brought just as prompt and lasting relief as Doan's Kidney Pills. I told of my case in a testimonial given over six years ago, and I am glad to confirm that statement."

Stuking is about to be resumed at the shaft on the Globe property, under the option to the Copper Range, which company will continue sinking to an additional depth of 150 to 200 feet, where further investigation will be made of the Baltic vein.

Private advances are to the effect that within a few days the Superior and the Ojibway the Kearsarge lode is well mineralized, in this respect comparing favorably with the average of the Copper belt on the neighboring properties. The development of this lode is of a different character of a material character, for which reason a broadening interest will be lent to its affairs.

Consistent improvement has marked the development of the Superior since passing the third level. Drifting is now in progress at the eighth level, which is the lowest level yet reached, and one that will show creditable results. The development of the Kearsarge to the ninth level, from whence a cross-cut should reach the vein next month. The developments can not, however, have a favorable bearing on the Superior; indeed, the consistency of the veins with values of depth in the latter.

The principal vein measures 10 to 15 feet in thickness. The ore runs 35 ounces silver and 5 grammes gold to the ton. The company has shipped some good ore from its property in the Oaxaca district. This company is also developing the San Antonio mine, more important of which are the Rosario and El Carmen. ## Pretty Things for Little Girls to Make.

There is a unique phenomenon called "the Cracker Cushion," and any little miss handy with the needle can make one to hang over her dresser. It is made in this way: Take two squares of white or cream with, say, 8 by 8 inches, and close three of the sides as in making a cushion cover, leaving one side open in order to put in the "filling." Then lay inside several thicknesses of quilt cotton batting, being careful to keep the padding of a uniform thickness. When about the third of an inch thick overcast the edges of the open side together (using light blue or pink floss for the seam), and then tack through it as you would tack a doll's quilt, leaving no silk ends to show at the places tacked, for these little indentations are to resemble the dents in a soda cracker. After the "cracker" is duly tacked and pressed flat and of uniform thickness all over put it in a moderately hot oven and allow the surface to become browned. It will look for all the world like a big, toasted cracker. Then attach a ribbon loop to one corner—the loop to harmonize with the floss used at the seams and tacking—and hang on a brass-headed nail over the dressing table. The pins are to be stuck into the seams, edges, and never through the sides of the cracker. This phenomenon will be found very dainty and unique.

A Button Box for a Little Girl's Work Box.

So many little girls have no place in which to put stray buttons away and carelessly let them lie about loose in work basket, dresser drawer and thread box. Now, any orderly little miss wants to know just where to lay her fingers on a button whenever she needs one to sew on a garment. She should not have to hunt first in one place and then in another for a button, but be able to go directly to a certain receptacle and put her hand on the very button she wants. Let her get an empty cigar box and put into it two little wooden partitions. If she is handy with a knife and tacks and hammer she will find the partitioning no trouble at all. When the partitions are firmly fixed line the three sections or "rooms" of the box with dark red cotton flannel, pasting it in with library paste or some good preparation of light glue. After the flannel has dried—for the flannel should be closed till it is so—dash the box by covering the outer surface with a bit of fancy material, anything to your taste. Some prefer a pretty paper covering and others use cloth, such as satin, canvas or denim of cheery color. Then put in your buttons, using one section for small buttons, one for medium-sized buttons and the third for large buttons. In this way the little owner will never have to go a button-hunting, for she'll have them safely housed in her button box and tucked away in her work basket.

The Bear's Dilemma.

Old Bruno came a-down the street, Led by his keeper-man. They met a Teddy Bear and boy, And how the whole four ran! Old Bruno thought the Teddy Bear Alive, and he did fear That he might have his eyes destroyed Should that bear come too near. And Teddy bear had never seen A bear so big and black, And so he ran for dear skin's sake And never once looked back. And keeper-man and little boy Could not laugh else but in vain, And both did laugh with all their might, For they thought it jolly fun.

"Where would my little son like to go?" asked mamma, who was setting the table for supper. "I'd like to do—to—w-y, I'd like to do to the moon," said Bobby, the moon being as easy of access, in his mind, as was papa's office three blocks away. "Well, we'll see if papa cannot take you for a ride to the moon as soon as supper is over," said mamma, putting Bobby's little blue china mug and milk set on the table. "And maybe papa can think of some other place to take Bobby, too," she added. And just then in came papa, and in another minute he had been told of Bobby's wish. "Well, we'll try going to the moon just as soon as the horse has had his supper,"

Little Gertie's Birthday Surprise.

BY MAUD WALKER.

It was Gertie's birthday. It was her third birthday. She had had just two birthdays in all her life before this one. She was very little, you see, was she? Well, Gertie's mamma and grandmamma decided to give the little girl a party by way of celebrating this wonderful third birthday. They arranged to have it on the big porch which ran all the way across their big country house and so long that to Gertie it meant a whole city street or a country lane, whichever way you was playing. Now, although Gertie's papa and mamma owned a home in the city, they had not lived there since Gertie had come to them, for they thought a city an unwholesome place for a little girl. So mamma and grandmamma remained in the country with rations Susan, the housemaid, was requested to take her over to the Smiths, who lived on an adjoining farm. There were but two little Smiths—Bonnie and Gertie, both of them, and both of them were just as little as Gertie. Bonnie, aged four, and Gertie, aged two. And Gertie did love to play with "the Smith kids," as Susan called Bonnie and Gertie. And Susan was instructed to invite Bonnie and Gertie to the party, and was told to bring them home with her and Gertie. But she was cautioned by mamma not to tell the little ones that it was to be a party, but to whisper it to their mamma, who would dress them in their party-best for the grand occasion. You see, had the party been mentioned to Bonnie and Gertie, they could not have kept the jolly news from Gertie; then it would not have been a surprise to her at all.

As they turned into the crossroad they saw papa coming toward them.

Gertie and papa went to the city every Monday morning to attend to his business and did not return till Saturday afternoon. And what a joy time Gertie did have when papa came home! She would run down the lane to meet him and he would perch her on his shoulders and carry her to the house, saying that he would take her to the city with him. And such stories as papa would tell her in the evenings before mamma put her to bed! And in little paper bags and boxes from every conceivable corner of coat and vest. Oh, it was such a joy to have papa come home, and Gertie, as well as mamma and grandmamma, looked forward to Saturday afternoon with great anticipation. And as luck would have it—so said the cook Nancy—Gertie's birthday came on a Saturday, and a Saturday afternoon at that. And the party for Gertie was to be given till a o'clock, the hour that papa usually arrived. And it was to be a surprise to Gertie. And mamma and grandmamma remembered how much they had enjoyed surprise parties when they were little girls. So, in order that Gertie should not know about the preparation, Susan, the housemaid, was requested to take her over to the Smiths, who lived on an adjoining farm. There were but two little Smiths—Bonnie and Gertie, both of them, and both of them were just as little as Gertie. Bonnie, aged four, and Gertie, aged two. And Gertie did love to play with "the Smith kids," as Susan called Bonnie and Gertie. And Susan was instructed to invite Bonnie and Gertie to the party, and was told to bring them home with her and Gertie. But she was cautioned by mamma not to tell the little ones that it was to be a party, but to whisper it to their mamma, who would dress them in their party-best for the grand occasion. You see, had the party been mentioned to Bonnie and Gertie, they could not have kept the jolly news from Gertie; then it would not have been a surprise to her at all.

If you don't want to be spanked just you run for dear life towards the house. Gertie, laughing so that she could hardly run, did the best she could with her chubby little legs, and started to run from her great, tall papa as fast as she could. But papa overtook her very quickly and spanked her too, counting "One, two, three and four to grow on!" But, of course, the spans didn't hurt Gertie a bit, for the little girl only laughed and laughed. And then papa took from his pocket a handkerchief, saying: "We are going to Fairland now, but the fairies won't let us in unless Gertie's eyes are blindfolded. So, in order that she may see some wonderful things we must shut up her pretty blue eyes for a few minutes." Then, Gertie eagerly consenting

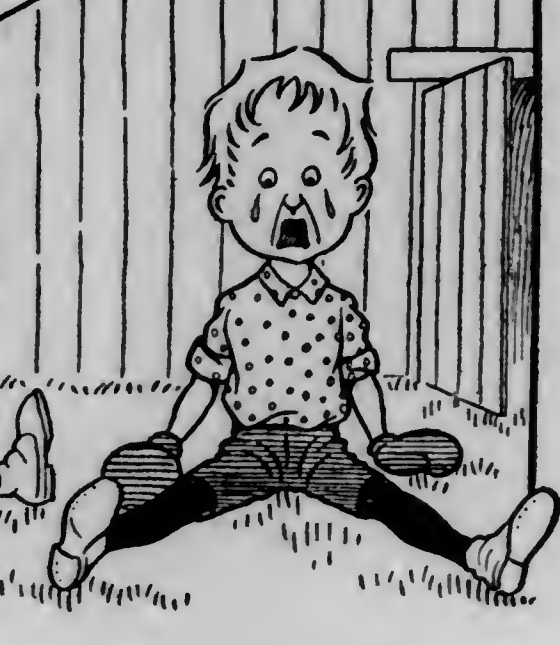

As they turned into the crossroad they saw papa coming toward them.

Well, it was truly a great Fairland that Gertie viewed, and for a few minutes she did not know that she stood on the porch of her own home. She held a place with rugs and carpets strewn all about, and tall pillars twined with vines and flowers. These pillars supported the porch roof, of course. And all around the top of the dower-decked place hung Chinese lanterns and flags. And jumping and dancing about like little elves and fairies were a dozen of Gertie's dear little playmates from the surrounding farms and country villas. But most wonderful of all, on a long table to the right of the steps were displayed a most delightful assortment of gifts. There was a huge Teddy Bear, a tiny white rabbit (not alive, but made of wool and stuffed just like Teddy Bear), a fine doll with very yellow curls, which were as smooth as Gertie's curls the minute her mamma had finished combing and curling her, another doll—one unde of rubber and grinning so funny that to look at her would make the saddest person laugh. And there were boxes of bonbons, nuts, popcorn and rusks. And there were ever so many things more, but it would take too long to name them, for we must hurry and get to something else.

There were two boys (Twist you and me) Who prize-fighters were Did long to be. So gloves they got And went together Behind the barn To fight each other. One made a lunge And hit his foe;

The foe returned The forceful blow. Then both fell flat And cried with pain, And declared that they'd Ne'er fight again. They rose as friends And walked away, And have not fought Since that sad day.

Well, the something else was this: On the left of the porch steps was another long table, and it was spread with the daintiest linen and pretty paper napkins, and little plates and spoons were set round the edge of it, so Gertie knew at once that there was to be a nice luncheon. And there was one, too, for pretty soon grandmamma got all the little ones quiet, enough to be seated in their respective places at tables. And mamma, papa, grandmamma, Susan and Nancy waited upon them, passing dainty sandwiches and the sort of grownups, but the very kind that little folks may eat all they want of and not be made ill, cakes and—listen—the loveliest ice-cream you ever tasted. And in the middle of the table stood the great birthday cake holding three candles—one candle for each birthday Gertie had had. And after the luncheon, of which papa, mamma and grandmamma partook, too, there were games on the lawn till the evening. And as soon as it began to grow dusk papa lighted all the Chinese lanterns and Gertie and all her little guests screamed and clapped their hands with delight.

"When I was a little girl I thought it was Fairland real and true," declared Gertie to Toodles Smith, whose little chubby hand was in her own; for Toodles was so much overcome by the sight of the lanterns that he sought out Gertie to stand close to her, so that nothing unreal—such as fairies who carry one away—might happen to him. "Was it Fairland?" he questioned, a big lump of candy in his round cheek. "A place where your papa can take you on his shoulder," explained Gertie. "Ain't dis wonderful, Toodles?" And little Toodles, his mamma coming at that moment to take him and his little sister home, said: "I guess so, Derr. But it's offal sleepy, mamma, an' I want to do home." And then, as the clock struck 8, the party—the greatest and grandest surprise in Gertie's short life—came to an end. For the mamma and papa had to go to bed, and the guests, and Gertie was left to entertain her new playmates, and to talk over the wonderful event with papa, mamma and grandmamma.

When Bobby Went A-Traveling.

BY TIMOTHY TURNIPS.

Bobby had been sick with the whooping cough and, of course, he had been kept in the house very closely. And one evening he told his mamma: "Mamma, I wish I could do a traveling." "Where would my little son like to go?" asked mamma, who was setting the table for supper. "I'd like to do—to—w-y, I'd like to do to the moon," said Bobby, the moon being as easy of access, in his mind, as was papa's office three blocks away. "Well, we'll see if papa cannot take you for a ride to the moon as soon as supper is over," said mamma, putting Bobby's little blue china mug and milk set on the table. "And maybe papa can think of some other place to take Bobby, too," she added. And just then in came papa, and in another minute he had been told of Bobby's wish. "Well, we'll try going to the moon just as soon as the horse has had his supper," laughed papa. "And now, come on Master Robert, and get busy at the table, for your old horse is starving." So saying, papa sat down at one end of the table (it was papa who was playing he was Bobby's horse) and mamma sat down at the other end, and Bobby—Master Robert, as he liked being called—sat at the side of the table. Then the three ate supper and talked about the moon, the ocean filled with great fish, and the mountains, where bears and tigers, and ever so many sorts of wild creatures lived, for Bobby loved to hear papa tell him of the wonderful world of which he knew so little as yet. And then after supper papa said: "Come, Master Robert, it's time to be starting to the moon if you want to get there tonight. Your horse is rested and ready, and stands at the door of the inn for you. Pay your lodging and supper bill and get you off." Then mamma came forward and said: "Being the hostess of this inn I shall collect your bill, if you please. You owe me two kisses for lodging, two kisses for your supper, and two kisses for stabling your horse. Now, my boy, how many correct change, sir?"

And Bobby, laughing so that he almost had to cough, said: "Now, I've got my change." Then he kissed mamma six times, counting the kisses off on his fingers, and it took all of one hand and the thumb of the other. "Oh, you do not nearly all my change," declared Master Robert. "Now, how will I pay the man in the moon for my supper?" "You've had supper once today, sir," explained mamma, "and you've had back again to eat to sleep in my inn. So, you see, you'll need no money to spend while on your journey." Then the horse became impatient, standing on hands and knees, as he was, so Master Robert jumped on his back and trotted off, going all up and down the hill, through the sitting-room, into the parlor to the piano, which was the moon, and then he came back and stood at the door of the inn, where he was waiting for him; and she said: "What, Master Robert, the Great Rider

So Master Robert jumped on his back to the moon, have you returned so soon?

And Bobby almost fell off his frisking horse, for the horse kicked so high, and the rider tumbled so lowly, that they rolled over together on the carpet, and that was all that saved Master Robert from falling off. "I had a nice trip to the moon," he declared, as soon as he could get out of the arms of his struggling horse. "Papa's a fine horse, he is." "And will take you to the moon every night," declared papa, catching Bobby in his arms and rolling him over and over till that little chap cried out: "Nough, papa!"

The Story of Bonnie Prince Bouncer.

BY WILLIAM WALLACE, JR.

Bonnie Prince Bouncer lay stretched on the big front porch, evidently thinking very deeply about something, for in his great serious eyes there gleamed a look almost human and of a pathetic nature. Every little while he would turn his head to glance down the street. Then he would softly whine, a whine that sounded very much like a child's cry of sadness. A few moments before the opening of this story Bonnie Prince Bouncer had had a most affectionate little master, Freddie Strong by name. But suddenly one day Freddie failed to come out to play with Bonnie Prince Bouncer, and the poor doggie knew something had gone wrong with his loving and frolicsome young master. And several days later Bonnie Prince Bouncer was taken into a little bedroom—where he had been in many times before, and which he knew to be his young master's—and where he beheld Freddie lying among the pillows very ill. Indeed, the sick boy paid little attention to his playmate, and only held out a weak, white hand to him, saying: "Poor old Prince Bouncer, how long have you been waiting for me to play with you now. But maybe he was just a little sick, and he would be all right again in a few days. And then Freddie lay very quiet, and Bonnie Prince Bouncer knew that his mother had died. Bonnie Prince Bouncer never again spoke to his dear old doggie, for one week later he passed from this world, and Bonnie Prince Bouncer was left alone in the world. And he carried from the house one day, a box which was followed by Freddie's mother and father, and Bonnie Prince Bouncer knew something terrible had happened, and he went out to his stable and found the manger and lay there for two whole days, grieving over the absence of his master. Somewhere he knew that Freddie would never return to him. And so the days and weeks and months wore away, and Bonnie Prince Bouncer grieved in his own dumb way as deeply as did the parents and friends of the departed little boy who had been the joy and sunshine of his home, where no other child had come to share the love of his parents and of Bonnie Prince Bouncer.

And on this morning of which I write Bonnie Prince Bouncer lay on the porch in the sun, his mind seemingly busy with serious thoughts. After a little he arose and walked off down the street, following a road that led to the outskirts of town. He seemed to have a fixed place of destination, for he did not turn his head to the right nor the left, but kept straight ahead, walking faster and faster as he emerged from the busy thoroughfare into the quieter suburban road. And pretty soon he was going at a full trot, his tongue drooping easily from the side of his big red-lined mouth. He passed at the entrance gate to a large building which appeared to be some sort of public institution. There Bonnie Prince Bouncer stood, watching the great pillared doorway. After having waited some 10 or 15 minutes this door opened and out came a group of little boys, ranged in ages from 5 to 15. They ran into the wide-spreading green lawn and engaged in various games. But the doggie never returned. He was one little fellow who was crippled in his back and legs and who could not run and play as did the other boys. He stood on the steps watching his more favored comrades, a look of longing in his eyes. It was at this crippled boy that Bonnie Prince Bouncer looked, for something in his fair face and sunny curling hair resembled Freddie, who had gone away, never to return.

And as Bonnie Prince Bouncer watched the little boy who stood on the steps he must have made a very intense wish in his great loving dog heart, and that wish must have been wanted to the little crippled boy, for of a sudden he turned his face in the direction of the gate, and seeing Bonnie Prince Bouncer there, his almost human eyes brightened up and a smile played round his little mouth. "Oh, there is that beautiful dog that I used to see walking past here with such a handsome boy! But I wonder where his master is?" And the crippled boy came limping down to the gate, smiling at Bonnie Prince Bouncer and whispering gently to him: "Why, you are, old fellow," the boy said, thrusting his hand through the gate bars and shaking Bonnie Prince Bouncer's head. "But where's your young master?" Of course, Bonnie Prince Bouncer could not answer that question. But he wagged his tail and licked the hand of the crippled boy, trying to tell him that he wanted him for his master now. But the bell ringing in the tower of the big building called the crippled boy reluctantly away from his new-made friend, and Bonnie Prince Bouncer could do nothing but wait and wait. And wait he did till the noon hour. And when the crippled boy came out on the steps he saw him there. But he said not a word about the fine old dog to the other boys, who were so busy with their play that they did not notice the old four-footer at the gate. And then a great happiness happened to Bonnie Prince Bouncer. The crippled boy came to the gate, and when no eyes were watching him he softly drew the bolt, pushed the gate a wee bit open and slipped out. And what a fine half hour the crippled boy and the dog had together! They sat under the tall hedge that grew about the grounds of the building. Then they sauntered a little way down to a shady lane, and returned in time for the boy to go into the building when the bell rang again.

And so the days passed by, the crippled boy saving a part of his food every day to carry to his new friend, who spent most of his time sitting by the big gate and looking through the bars toward the great door, that remained closed so much of the time. But there came a time when another boy, and then another, and then dozens of them, saw Bonnie Prince Bouncer, and no longer did the little cripple have him all to himself. The gate was thrown open and the stranger invited to enter, which he did with a wagging tail and a happy manner. But no amount of coaxing from the other boys could induce him to leave the side of the grounds with his arm about his four-footed friend's neck. And then a man, had another, and still another, came from the building to look at Bonnie Prince Bouncer. "A fine dog," said one of them. "He's strayed away from home. We must keep watch of the strayed to see if he's one of the papers. He'll be advertised, no doubt."

And sure enough, one morning one of those men read a few lines in the newspaper which made him say to another man: "Our fine old dog that we found of Charlie Stephens is advertised here, and a reward offered to the person giving information concerning him." "Let Charlie have the reward," said the other man, a man with a sweet, noble countenance. "He had been playing with the dog for some time before the other boys saw him, and has been sharing his food with the animal. It's wonderful the affection that dog seems to feel for Charlie. Must look like an old master, I dare say."

"Why, you fine old fellow," the boy said, thrusting his hand through the gate bars.

PROMINENT among the interesting and picturesque present-day "old guard" of newspaperdom, which will soon be much in evidence on the "firing line" in the approaching presidential campaign, are a half dozen men who, from actual personal experience, know whether the pen is mightier than the sword.

Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal, a truly national character, who was 16 when he wrote his first widely copied editorial, and became so excited over his success that he couldn't sleep at night, was a staff officer for the Confederacy, and towards the end of the contest its Chief of Scouts.

Capt. Henry King, editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, was in the service of his country all through the Civil war. During that time he was on the staff of Gen. Grenville M. Dodge and James B. McPherson, and so was in the thick of the fighting. He started his newspaper career as an apprentice in a "country" office, and, barring the years of the Civil war, his whole life has been passed in newspaper offices.

Gen. Charles H. Taylor of the Boston Globe, whose first newspaper position was that of errand boy in Boston, enlisted as a private in a Massachusetts regiment when he was only 16, and during a charge on the Confederate stronghold of Fort Hudson was severely wounded.

Gen. H. G. Otis of the Los Angeles Times, who is proud of the fact that he gets out the bulkiest of all bulky Sunday newspapers, received promotion for gallantry displayed in battle both in the Civil war and in the Philippine.

Gen. Felix Angus, a power on the Baltimore American for the last forty odd years, was a dashing zouave under the third Napoleon and Garibaldi, in their battle for a united Italy, and a little later he was performing daring devil deeds on numerous Civil war battlefields.

And Harvey W. Scott of the Portland Oregonian, at 14 an emigrant farmer boy in Oregon, and today looked upon in that state as its leading citizen, as a private fought Indians in the widespread outbreak of 1855-57.

The war record of Gen. Angus, one of the comparatively few members of the "old guard" who is not a native of America, shows a thrill at almost every turn. As a member of Garibaldi's famous Flying Corps adventure was constantly his portion until the French and their Italian allies had won a united Italy. He dramatically began his defense of the North by saving the life of Gen. Kilpatrick at one of the first contests of the war, Big Bethel, June 10, 1861. For this bit of gallantry he was promoted to second lieutenant in Duryea's Fifth New York Zouaves, in which he had enlisted as a private at the outbreak of hostilities.

He was wounded three times, once when he led his regiment in a charge on Port Hudson and again by a saber during a hand-to-hand fight with the Texas horsemen in Western Louisiana. He volunteered to lead the charge at Ashland Bridge, and for his intrepidity in that thrilling work he received complimentary mention in the report of the general commanding. When the expedition to Sabine Pass ended in disaster, Angus, by this time having won a captaincy by his gallantry, was put in charge of the steamer Pocahontas and ordered to proceed to the blockading fleet off Galveston and notify them of the Federal failure. During the first night out the old hulk lay aground on an unlighted coast and when dawn came the artillerymen on board discovered themselves well within range of the Confederate shore batteries. Angus, quickly taking the situation, ordered the horses overboard, and though his own mount was a particular pet, overboard he went; and when all the animals had been cast into the sea to drown, the boats' bottom left its bed of mud and Angus took his command to safety without the loss of a single man.

All through Sheridan's campaign in the Shenandoah Angus displayed his accustomed gallantry. He was in the heat of battle in all the important contests as lieutenant-colonel and colonel of the Second Duryea Zouaves, which he had helped to recruit while waiting for his first wound to heal. Sheridan, when ordered by Grant to send his best infantry regiment to Port Delaware to guard the Confederate prisoners held there, sent Angus' Zouaves. Thus, when Angus was brevetted brigadier general of volunteers a few weeks before the war's close, he had clearly won the honor both in the Southwest and in the Virginia.

Late in 1864 Col. Angus married the daughter of the then senior proprietor of the Baltimore American. Shortly after the close of hostilities he resigned his commission and entered the business office of the paper. From that day to this he has been not only one of the leading newspaper men south of Mason and Dixon's line, but one of Maryland's most famous residents. As the head of a Republican paper in a state that has generally been strongly Democratic he has been compelled to take part in many hard battles; and his opponents admit that Gen. Angus has always been able to give as good as he received.

Today he is in his 63rd year, which milestone he will reach on the birthday of his adopted country. He came here from France, his native land, the year before the Civil war broke out, to take a position in New York. When Lincoln called for volunteers Angus had not yet got a good hold on the English tongue, but before he had been a "Yank" many months he was giving commands in a voice that had no trace of accent or doubt in it.

Before he went to Los Angeles and took hold of the struggling weekly that he has developed into one of the leading papers of the country, Otis got his newspaper training as foreman in the government printing office, as editor of the first Federal soldiers' paper, the Grand Army Journal, as Washington correspondent for an Ohio daily, and as head of a paper in Santa Barbara. He was one of the men who nominated Lincoln the first time, and he has been active in the councils of the Republican party since war days. Despite his three score years and ten he is exceedingly active and, like the old-fashioned editor, keeps his hand and eye on every department of his paper.

Capt. Henry King of St. Louis, the veteran editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, left a newspaper office to go to the war and when the war was over, although fortune pointed in another direction, it was to a newspaper office that he returned. There are many older editors than he, but few have been as many years of continuous service. With the exception of the four years in the army it has been practically lifelong.

He was but a small boy when he was apprenticed to the Quincy Whig at Quincy, Ill., and he stayed with the Whig until he became its editor. That is a habit of his. He stays. When the Civil war broke out he did not quit; he took a vacation, enlisted as a private in an Illinois regiment, got into the thickest of the fight before some people knew it had commenced, and stayed with the army until the shooting was all over and there was nothing more to be done. Then he returned to his job at Quincy.

After four years of war, however, Capt. King found the fine old Illinois town a trifle dull. He had been in the midst of alarms and rather liked them. Just about that time Kansas went into the alarm business in a large and exceedingly attractive way. King went to Kansas and grew up with it, stayed with it during its days of stormy politics, of ravenous grasshoppers, and withering droughts. He became the editor of the Topeka Capital, the most influential paper in the state, and was one of the most potent factors in the development of the lusty and ranker commonwealth. He would have been in Topeka yet, no doubt, but Fate had one more move for him, just one.

Fate in this instance was impersonated by Joseph B. McCullough, who invited Capt. King to become associate editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. That was in 1885, twenty-five years ago, and he is still with the Globe-Democrat, its editor-in-chief since 1897.

When McCullough died in that year there were many who said his place could not be filled; that his successor, whoever he might be, would rattle around in his chair like a ten-penny nail in a desecrated guard; but when Capt. King entered the vacant place he occupied it fully and completely.

The paper was not the same, for Capt. King is a man of strong personality and has ideas of his own; but it was none the less enterprising, forceful and brilliant, and he has kept it well abreast of the advancement of journalism.

He, like Otis, is a newspaper man of the old school who believes in moving forward with the times, and he wants to work the throttle himself. He dictates policies, writes editorials, orders news, glances at proofs, and personally directs every department of his paper. From noon to midnight every day of the year he is at his desk and busy. But his office door is always open and any man or woman or boy or girl who wants to see him may do so without the formality of a card. A certain sternness of countenance and parsimony of words are the safeguards of his time, but there are many who have found that his heart is as tender as a woman's and there are few men with a keener sense of humor.

Harvey W. Scott, at the age of 70, sound in body, in the intellectual vigor of 50, Harvey W. Scott, editor of the Portland Oregonian, continues to put his impress daily upon the great newspaper that he created. His vacation and his diversion are hard work. To this he has been trained since childhood.

At 14 he came "the plains across" from Illinois with his father, a farmer, he took a vacation, enlisted as a private in an Illinois regiment, got into the thickest of the fight before some people knew it had commenced, and stayed with the army until the shooting was all over and there was nothing more to be done. Then he returned to his job at Quincy.

Bemidji

Bemidji, Minn., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. W. Scott, a plumber, of Minneapolis, and Alex V. Ostrom, cashier of the Swedish National bank of Minneapolis, have broken camp on the island at the Turtle lake and returned to Minneapolis.

They had been there for a week cutting things into shape on the island for the summer.

It is their intention to return in about two weeks and spend the balance of the summer on the island fishing and boating.

T. C. Griffith, J. D. Taylor, A. Olson, A. Larson and K. Walsh were Grand Forks people who arrived here Tuesday night. Mr. Griffith is arranging for the annual cutting of his family and others will enjoy some fishing here.

W. A. Hoverson, a painter, a Schneider, Mr. Bloston and Sam Gill spent Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Holmes and their sons, William and Theodore, and Emma Schneider, a mail, arrived here Tuesday night from Grand Forks.

The Holmes family will spend the next month or six weeks at the lake.

HER SECURES DAMAGES

death of Her Son Killed While He Slept.

San Francisco, N. D., June 6.—(Special to Herald.)—After being out only an hour and a half, the jury in the case of Mrs. Du-risland vs. the Northern Pacific Railway Co. brought in a verdict of $10,000 in damages to the plaintiff as full damages for the death of her son, Hans Dryland, as killed while asleep in a cab in the city of San Francisco, about 10 o'clock last night.

The plaintiff claimed, through her attorneys, that she was solely dependent on Hans for her support and maintenance for the remainder of her life, but testimony which was introduced during the last hours of the trial proved that Hans was capable of supporting himself, and all living and any one of them was able to support their mother.

Shortly before the trial the young man had written his mother stating that he was going to San Francisco to make a home for himself and his mother, and on this letter the attorneys for the plaintiff based their case, for $30,000 damages.

MANY SALES OF DULUTH REAL ESTATE REPORTED

Davis Realty Company Buys Southeast Corner of First Street and Fourth Avenue West for About $70,000—Corner Likely to be Improved—Same Concern Sells Remainder of Crosley Park Addition at Handsome Profit—Sales in Both Ends of the City Are Quite Frequent.

Increased activity in local real estate circles has marked the advent of pleasant weather. During the week there have been some large deals closed, and a large number of lots have been sold for improvement, especially in the eastern and western ends of the city. There is every indication that this year will be a large one, the prospective builders coming mostly from among the rental classes. High rents, if they have their bad feature, are a good thing in one way, as many people who would be content to continue as tenants have practically been forced into buying their own homes, or have purchased lots with the view of erecting homes sometime during the year. That the demand for rental properties is not as active as it was a few weeks ago is demonstrated by the fact that there are quite a number of houses about the city on which the rents have been increased that are standing empty. In most cases the owners have lost more in rents than they will be able to make up at an increased rental for the remainder of the year, besides the new tenant, if one is secured, will generally insist on repairs and improvements that would not have been asked for by the old tenant, compelled to move because his rent was raised. The opportunities offered people of this city to own their homes were never better, and it seems to be a certainty that those who buy either improved properties, or lots for improvement, will get the advantage of lower prices this year that they will not hereafter be afforded. There is a tendency toward higher valuation of city property in ever locality and the opportunities afforded to buy this year before the general advance begins should not be overlooked.

Some of the details of the two large real estate deals made through the office of C. P. Craig & Co. last week, and announced in The Herald, are available this week. The sale of the southeast corner of Fourth avenue west and First street, from the Potter estate to the Davis Realty company, for a consideration said to be in the neighborhood of $70,000, has been closed. The buyer being represented by Mr. Craig. The corner is considered one of the most valuable on West First street. It has a frontage of 100 feet, on Fourth avenue. The ground is occupied at the present time by the Eclipse View company's building, and two dwellings facing the avenue. It is probable that the Davis Realty company will make a substantial improvement of the property in the near future, as the location and the proximity of the site to the proposed new courthouse, federal building and city hall makes it especially desirable for a fine business block. Within the next few years buildings with ample facilities for offices will be in great demand on West First street, particularly in the vicinity of the new public buildings, and for that reason the improvements in the locally mentioned will be made with a view of meeting future needs. Investors who realize the importance of the West First street sites will not, it is claimed, make the mistake of erecting cheap buildings, or those with foundations too light to permit of additional stories in the future. By this purchase the Davis Realty company now possesses two prime West First street corners, almost directly opposite the proposed new public buildings. The Winthrop building, erected by the realty company a few years ago, before any suggestion was made for the building of the new courthouse in that vicinity, or the grouping plan for Duluth's public buildings was even dreamed of.

The other important deal referred to last week was the sale of about 225 to 230 acres of Crosley Park addition by the Davis Realty company to a Minneapolis party. The realty company bought Crosley Park about three years ago. Some 550 lots have been sold since that time to various local people, and the balance has just been closed out to the Minneapolis purchaser at a price said to be at a satisfactory advance to the sellers over the price originally paid for the property. This deal was also handled through the office of C. P. Craig & Co.

The L. A. Larsen company reports the following sales during the last few weeks: A double corner on the upper side of East Second street, known as lots 19 and 20, block 6, Longview addition, sold to Gust Carlson of Hibbing for $4,000; lots 23 and 24, block 10, Chandler Park, for $1,750, to C. Anderson; lot 5, block 145, Portland division, to Anna Milberg for $400; a lot 33 feet by 100 feet on the west side of Thirty-ninth avenue west, above Fifth street, Hazelwood Park addition, sold to J. A. Severance, for $450. In Hazelwood Park cash sales of building lots have been made to the following persons: John Sorenson, Emil D. Kroebis, John Laves, and Gust and Nels Carlson. The aggregate consideration of these sales was $1,200 and the buyers expect to erect homes on these lots during the summer. Mr. Larsen says that outside of the Hazelwood Park district the buying of real estate is not confined to any particular section. There seems to be a general demand for property in all locations and the sales consist mostly of building lots and tracts of land. Money is easier than it was a while ago and good loans can now be had at 5 per cent and for medium security 7 per cent.

John B. Greenfield reports the following sales in Lakeside during the past two weeks: A double upper corner on Forty-seventh avenue east and Superior street from C. R. Haines to Gustava Strange, for $1,500; a new residence at 408 McCulloch street from I. Sjoberg to George T. Withington, for $3,800; lots 7 and 8, block 24, London addition to David Spence, Albert Gasper and Joseph Madigan, for $800; lot 11, block 55, London addition to Lyman Hurley, for $2,500; lot 12, block 4, London addition to Joseph Wotruba, for $350; lot 4, block 4, London addition to C. J. Longbotham, general agent for the Chicago & Great Western Railroad company, for $600; lot 4, block 42 to John Gowan, for $450. In practically every case of the sale of an unimproved lot improvements will be made this year, in fact, some of the purchasers have already started work on their new homes.

COMMODIOUS EIGHT ROOM HOUSE WHICH WOULD COST $6,800 TO BUILD

The above illustration shows a commodious and well arranged home of eight rooms. The exterior design is of good proportions and elegant appearance. The generous expanse of veranda, the broad windows, wide cornice, and general harmony of detail give the exterior its individuality. In the first story the arranged a living room, parlor and kitchen. The general effect of the plan is roomy, comfortable and dignified. The parlor and dining room are both large rooms. The kitchen and pantry are completely equipped. An entry with space for refrigerator connects the kitchen with the rear porch. The stairway is somewhat apart from the main living room, but conveniently located. The side entrance, accessible from the front part of the house and the kitchen, is also connecting to the basement, is a good feature, worthy of note. In the second story four well planned bedrooms, large bath room and ample dressing room are provided. The bedrooms are all situated in corners admitting light and air from two sides, and are all of good size. An easy stairway ascends to the attic which is left unfinished. The ceiling heights are seven feet, nine feet and eight and half feet. The floors throughout are of maple. The finish of the first story is oak and birch, and the second story pine. The dimensions are thirty-seven feet by thirty feet. The estimated cost including hot water heating plant and complete plumbing is $6,800.

Twelfth avenue east and London road, is expending about $5,000 in the improvement of the place. New foundations are being put in and the building will be veneered with brick or stucco. An addition will be built.

C. L. Rakowsky & Co. report the following sales in the past few days: Lot 81, East Seventh street, for $2,100; lot 5, block 145, West Duluth, Fifth division, for $1,375; the northern seventy feet of lots 14, 15 and 16, block 85, Portland, for $3,500; a lot on London road and Fourteenth avenue east, seven lots on East Sixth and several lots on East Eighth street. The firm has received earnest money on several properties ranging from $2,200 to $3,500 in value.

A. Terryberry, the architect, is preparing plans for a three-flat building for John Jensen on Sixth street near Second avenue east. The building is to be modern throughout and will cost about $3,000. Plans have been made for a house at Sixth street and Twelfth avenue east for J. D. Howard & Co. It will be a six-room structure with modern improvements. Plans have also been prepared for a handsome brick residence for Dr. H. B. Collins, to be erected on the corner of Twenty-sixth avenue east and First street to cost about $12,000. The structure will be constructed of pressed brick with Bedford stone trimmings, terra cotta tile roof and interior finish of oak, yellow pine and Western fir. Plans are being made by Mr. Terryberry for a store building for 26 T. Mallin on Superior street, between Fourth and Fifth avenues east. The building will be constructed of pressed brick and will have a frontage of fifty feet on the street.
